Kreps Wins Short Award; Poly Three Time Winner

Robert J. Kreps, senior mechanical engineering student at Cal Poly, has been announced as the winner of the Mac Short trophy of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

This marks the third consecutive year that Cal Poly's representative has won the award. David McKinley, now

Repetition Allowed For Some Courses

"Repetition of courses under PL550, usually not approved, are permissible in certain instances," the VA reported this week.

"Repetition of subjects within a course are permissible in the following instances:

"One. A veteran student completes a subject with the grade of 'D'. He will be permitted to repeat that subject for the purpose of raising his grade to at least the 'C' level so that he may pursue an advanced course which is a requirement of his degree objective.

"Two. A veteran who has previously received a failing grade in a unit subject will be permitted to repeat that subject if the school requires that a passing grade in the subject is necessary for the continuation of his elected course.

"Three. If a veteran has previously attended the school and has withdrawn from a subject prior to its completion with the receipt of an 'incomplete' as a result, he may be enrolled under PL550 for the same unit subject for an entire semester at the option of the school."

with Link Belt Co., San Francisco, won the award in 1953 with a paper on "Air Lubricated Thrust Bearing," and Stanley D. Adkins of Barium Products Co., Modesto, won in 1954, with "Torque Characteristics of Grease Seals."

The Mac Short award is given each year to the outstanding engineering student in southern California in memory of the late Mac Short, vice-president of Lockheed Aircraft corporation. Kreps, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kreps of Morro Bay, presented his paper at a banquet in the Roger Young Memorial auditorium before a closed hearing of 80 SAE officials.

Storage Tanks

Kreps spent over 400 hours and two years working on his paper "Heat Losses From Large Petroleum Storage Tanks." One hundred and twenty of these hours were spent making tests on the Standard Oil Marine Terminal tanks at Estero bay where he is employed.

Competing with Kreps in Los Angeles were a representative from Northrup Aeronautical Institute who presented a paper on "Crop Dusting" and a representative from Loyola university with a paper on "Education in Engineering."

Receive Trophy Monday

Kreps will go to Los Angeles May 9 to receive the trophy on a televised program in the Roger Young auditorium.

Kreps will graduate June 18 and will go to work June 20 for Standard Oil company at Kern river, a central district for the company. He is married and has two children.

Livestock Judging Goes Campus-Wide Next Thursday

"The 1955 All-College Livestock Judging contest will be held next Thursday, May 12," Chairman Dan Kennedy announced this week.

"Judging of the stock will begin at 1 p.m. with an oral reason session at 7 p.m. in the Administration building. Participation in the contest is open to all students on the campus excepting those who have participated in Intercollegiate Judging contests as members of the livestock judging teams.

"The contest is sponsored by the 1955 livestock judging team and will be conducted under their management. Three classes each of beef, cattle, sheep and swine will be placed by the contestants and they will be asked to give oral reasons to the officials on one class in each section.

"The National Block and Bridle club will award a key to the high man and high freshman in the contest. Stock canes will be awarded to the high individual in each of the three sections. Winners will also have their names engraved on the J. I. Thompson plaque as a permanent record of their achievement," continued Kennedy.

"The judging team," continues the chairman, "wants to take this opportunity to invite and urge all students who are interested, to compete in this extra-curricular activity. Participation in the past has usually run well over a hundred contestants."

El Rodeo Now On Sale In Ad. Bldg.

"Be sure to pick up your copy of El Rodeo today in the basement of the administration building," sales manager Don Nelson urges.

"Purchasers should bring their receipts, complete payment and obtain their copy before 5 p.m. tonight."

Although all copies of the book were printed on a pre-order basis, a waiting list will be taken of the students who wish to buy a book if any copies are left unclaimed.

After today, books must be picked up in the Associated Student body office, and they must be claimed before May 21.

Sked Changes

The following courses were inadvertently left off the summer schedule when it was published:

Four week term:
PSc 324 Inorganic Chemistry Lab 2 MWF 1-4 in Cr 8.
PSc 325 Organic Chemistry Lect M-S 7:30 in Cr 18, Lab MTW 1-4 in Cr 9.
Six week term:
PSc 4 Prep Chemistry M-S 9:30 in Cr 17.

Poly Royal Super Mustang of Week

Don Love, senior animal husbandry major from Burlingame has been named "Mustang of the Week." Love receives the award for the job he performed as general superintendent of the 1955 Poly Royal, said the selecting committee.

"Mustang Love started early last year preparing for the gala event of the year," said Carl Beck, advisor to the Poly Royal board. Beck continues, "Love used initiative and ingenuity in planning the Country Fair on a college campus, and by so doing, organized the smoothest and most successful Poly Royal ever held."

Prior to holding the general superintendent's position, the Outstanding Mustang held other positions on the board and was active in the Fall Leadership Conference last September.

FFA Judging Finals Here This Week Draws 1300

Activities of the California Association of Future Farmers of America this weekend have brought to Cal Poly more than 1300 FFA members representing 225 chapters in California.

Their activities include the state parliamentary procedure contest, state judging finals and the 27th annual convention.

In the parliamentary procedure contest, two teams from each of the semi-finals will be held this afternoon and the finals for the six surviving teams this evening. There are five officers on each team.

The annual state championship judging contests will be tomorrow. The following classes will be judged: livestock; dairy; poultry; milk and meats. Winners of these contests may compete in October in national FFA judging at Waterloo, Iowa or Kansas City, Missouri.

Annual Confab

The state executive committee of the FFA will meet Sunday in preparation for the annual convention, next Monday and Tuesday.

Highlights of the state conference will be talks by National FFA President Billy Gunter, Live Oak, Fla.; Vice-President Jay Wright, Alamo, Nev., who represents the Pacific region; the state Future Homemakers president, Rharrrell Burke, Butter Creek; the state Young Farmers president Vernon Pielop of Riverdale; California's state FFA president, Joseph Faure, Jr., Porterville; State FFA Advisor Byron J. McMahon, Sacramento; and President Julian A. McPhee of Cal Poly.

Awards Banquet

The convention will conclude with the awards banquet. The following honors will be announced: Star State Farmer, five regional Star State Farmers, state winner in dairy farming, farm mechanics, farm electrification, soil and water management and farm safety. Some 60 chapters will receive "Master Chapter" rating.

An honorary "State Farmers" degree vote at the 1954 state convention, will be formally presented to Glenn Stalker of the California Almond Growers co-operative.

Poly Representing Pakistan At Model UN This Weekend

Fifteen Cal Poly students left here Wednesday to take part in the fifth model United Nations conference being held this weekend at San Francisco.

Close to 60 colleges and universities are convening at San Francisco State college and the bay city opera house, each school "representing" a UN member country.

Cal Poly will represent Pakistan and will conduct itself through the numerous international issues in accordance with that nation's current United Nations policies.

The model UN is based on the actual United Nations and acts upon the same problems which today face the New York-quartered world peace organization.

Advisor Ralph Dilts cites the model organization as providing an opportunity for study of international relations and world affairs and a worthy experience in parliamentary procedure. He says the local delegates have been studying and preparing for its Pakistan role for many weeks.

Selective Service Test Given Monday

As has been the case in previous years, there will be a third administration of the Selective Service System College Qualification test in May—this year on May 10. The closing date for registration for this testing is May 9.

There were probably many students who let the registration closing date for the April 21 testing slip by without registering. This is their opportunity to take the test this year.

Applications may be obtained at the local draft board.

Fresno Bulldogs Favored In CCAA Track Meet Tomorrow

Coach Jim Jensen's spikesters travel to Santa Barbara tomorrow for a five way CCAA track meet with Fresno, San Diego, Santa Barbara, and Los Angeles state. The 14 man squad, short on manpower in some events, leaves today and will return home Sunday.

Coach Jensen is counting on the services of Rudy Brooks and Bob Heffren in the sprints, Pete Godinez in the hurdles, John Allen in the distances, and Ken Martin in the discus and shot-put events. Brooks broke Poly's century record with a time of 9.7 recently.

Godinez, a leading boxer on the Mustang team, started training late, but has rounded into shape for the meet. John Allen, a freshman who performs in the distance events, has shown steady improvement and can also be counted on for tomorrow's important CCAA meet.

Jensen picks Fresno as the team to beat, and added that the Bulldogs should capture top honors with very little trouble. Cal Poly's thinclads have made good showings thus far, despite their lack of manpower, and can be expected to go all out tomorrow.

Golfers Host SB

Hoping for a repeat win over the Gauchos of Santa Barbara, the Mustang golfers will host the Channel city divotmen this morning on the Morro Bay course. Play is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m.

In the last encounter with the Santa Barbarans the Green and Gold squad of Don Watts ran up the largest score ever made against an opponent, 54-0. The Mustangs also boast wins over Fresno and Los Angeles state.

Netmen To Fresno

Cal Poly's tennis squad will be going after their second win over the Bulldogs of Fresno state this afternoon when the Mustangs travel to the Valley city.

This encounter against the Bulldogs will be the last dual match for the Green and Gold before the California Collegiate Athletic association championships set for May 12-13 in Fresno.

Cal Poly downed Fresno state, 8-1, in a previous match.

Ed Jorgensen, Mustang coach, named seven men for the Fresno trip. They are Laverns Hobson, Charles Harber, Roger Hing, Javier Ascaruna, Vic Bowker, Lloyd Bush and Bill Barclay.

Chuck Davey of Michigan State won the NCAA boxing championship for four years.

Four of five defending champs fell by the wayside in the 1949 NCAA boxing tourney, one of the most hotly-contested tourneys in the 17-year history of the event.

Twin Bill With Aztecs Completes Home Play

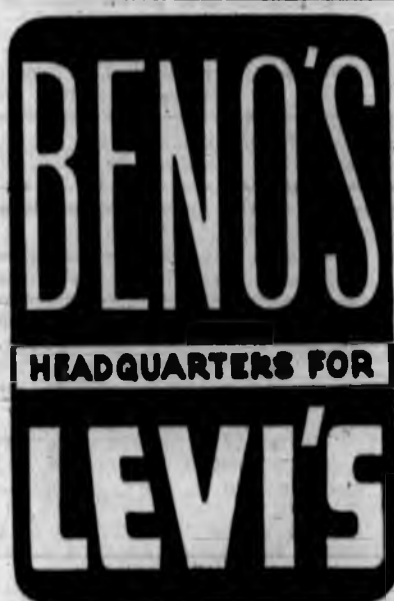

Lefty Ken Lee will get the nod in the opening game of the double header scheduled to get underway against the Aztecs of San Diego state tomorrow afternoon at 1 p.m.

Lee has been the only consistent winner the Mustangs have, with a record of five wins and two losses for the season.

The smooth working lefthander has a 2.50 earned run average and in over 50 innings of throwing he has struck out 40 men.

"As far as the second game is concerned we are still a little in the dark as to whom will start," said Mustang Mentor Lee. "We will most likely pick from Lefty Paul Patrick, and righthanders Ken Matson, Don Chambers and John Freddi," continued Lee.

Following the Aztecs tilts the Green and Gold baseballers will travel to Fresno on May 13 for a doubleheader to complete CCAA play. A return game with Westmont college is scheduled for May 20 at Santa Barbara to close the

COULD THIS BE YOU?—Why is it that ALWAYS after a coffee break the tables in El Corral look like this? This sloppy situation has rapidly gone from bad to worse. Whose fault is it—yours—the students. And not only the students either, employees and faculty are also responsible. In the next issue of El Mustang will be printed more pictures and stories explaining how you can help alleviate this unsightly, germ-spreading mess. (Photo by Latspeich)

Seniors, Don't Miss Out On Presents; Send Greetings

"Seniors, aren't you looking forward to all those nice presents you'll be receiving around graduation time?" asked Graduate Manager Harry Wineroth this week.

"We have now, just for the seniors, graduation announcements in El Corral," says Wineroth. "By sending these notices that you are graduating to all your friends and relatives, just think of all the lovely presents you will receive. And, you could send your prospective employer an announcement, telling him in a dignified manner that you will soon be available. It will show the 'doubting Thomas' that you really did go to college and are now graduating."

"They are on sale now in El Corral," reminded Wineroth, "but you must get them while the present supply lasts."

Poly Could Start United Nations

Cal Poly serves the world. Enrollment figures show that students come from 42 states and 37 territories and foreign countries.

Of the students coming from 54 countries in the state, those from Los Angeles county are the most numerous. San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Alameda and San Diego counties are also among the areas sending many students here. Spring enrollment figures show that 140 foreign students representing 80 countries are enrolled. Twenty-five of the foreign students come from Iran and 18 from Iraq.

Other countries represented are Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Columbia, Cyprus, Ecuador, El Salvador, Germany, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, India, Indonesia, Israel, Italy, Jordan, Lebanon, Liberia, Mexico, Nigeria, Pakistan, Palestine, Panama, Peru, Philippine Islands, Portugal, Sudan, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Seniors, the deadline for submitting applications for an activity key has been set for May 14, according to Charles Anderson, chairman of the committee.

Dr. F. B. Huft, professor of animal genetics in the poultry department at Cornell university, will speak to the Poultry club May 10.

JACK MIURA, FRED HANSEN, and GORDON ELLINGSON was San Francisco architect, Don

Guest speaker at the banquet was San Francisco architect, Donald Beach Kirby, who is also regional director of the Sierra Nevada district of the American Institute of Architects. Kirby spoke to the students on their prospects for a future in the architectural profession.

Many Winners Find Poly Royal Judging Events Easy Mark For Skill

Dairy Freshmen Win

Freshmen Cal Poly dairy husbandry students outdid the upper-classmen in booth competition during Poly Royal.

The first-year men, chairmaned by Xirakis Peterson of San Leandro constructed the booth judged the best in displaying dairy cattle breeds.

With a theme "Learning Here to Feed a Nation," the freshman booth emphasized the Holstein dairy cattle breed and dairy products.

Taking second place was a booth constructed by the junior class.

Pierce Champions

Pierce junior college walked off with the annual Poly Royal intercollegiate rodeo with a total of 708 points. Cal Poly took second place with 405.

Two Pierce cowboys, Erwin Neal and Ed Richardson were named the top all-around men.

In two special awards, Neal was given a trophy for scoring the most points in three events. Jerry Anderson of Cal Poly was high man in three roping events.

Finishing in order were: Cal Poly of San Dimas—102; Arizona university—72; Arizona state—40½; Fresno state—20; Cal Aggies—10 and Mt. San Antonio JC—0.

Results:
Hareback Riding—1. Ed Harrison (Cal Poly); 2. Neal (Pierce).
Hull Dogging—1. Pat Valladao (Cal Poly); 2. Dick Cropper (Pierce).
Cow Milking—1. Jerry Anderson (Cal Poly); 2. Ed Richardson (Pierce).
Hull Kidding—1. Don Switzer (Cal Poly); 2. Ed Richardson (Pierce).

Saddle Broncs—1. Ben Bedwick (San Dimas); 2. Neal (Pierce).
All Around—1. Neal (Pierce); 2. Richardson (Pierce).

Vegetable Winners

Three persons tied for first place in the Poly Royal crops judging contest.

Bart Fullagar of Chico, Mrs. C.

C. Hanes, Caruthers, and Audrey Benefield of San Luis Obispo were three-way winners. Bernice Taylor, Fresno, took second place honors. More than 175 contestants participated in the contest.

Swine Show Honors

Bill Retzer, San Leandro, won championship swine showmanship honors during Poly Royal. Retzer is a freshman animal husbandry major.

Retzer showed a Duroc gilt in the contest, which was held in a driving rain.

John Brock, Ojai, showing a Duroc sow, won reserve championship honors.

Don Bower of Shafter, a former

Cal Poly student, judged more than 20 entries.

Meares Topped Poultry

Forrest Meares of Bakersfield won top honors in the Poly Royal poultry show. His Barred Rock entry was judged the best bird in the show and also champion colored male.

Ed Agan, Pomona, won the honor of having the champion colored female with a Dark Cornish. Bill Miller of Orange showed the champion White Leghorn female.

Judge of the show was Jim MacIlraith of San Francisco.

Other results were:
Barred Rock Cookerels: F. Meares; S. Marvin (Greenish, Newhall); S.

Alan Gurling, Lancaster.
Carnish Pullets: Agan; S. Lee Wishard, Hawaii; S. Grant Miller, Fullerton; 4. Meares.
Leghorn, Young Pair: Miller; S. Rob Ryckebusch, Lancaster; S. Carlos Delameter, East Highlands; 4. Bruce Barnett, Fontana.

Anderson, Top Honors

Charles Anderson of Garden Grove walked off with top honors at the annual Poly Royal egg show. He won a gold cup for having the best display and his three dozen white egg entry was given a blue ribbon.

Paul Steele of Lindsay displayed the best three dozen brown eggs.

Other winners were:
34 os. white: I. Hittish Kubayashi,

Petaluma; S. Hub Low, Sacramento; S. Anderson.
