SAC Receives $700 Bill For Homecoming Pranks

Bonfire rally damages totaled $724.54. This was revealed in a statement issued to Student Affairs Council Tuesday night by Dean Everett Chaudler. Damaged and missing articles ranged from fire extinguishers to hub caps. The council took no action on the statement and referred it to the Advisory Commission, which consists of Student Body President, Ed McGrew, President McPhee, Dean Harold Hayes, a representative from each division council and two faculty members appointed by the college president.

Three hundred dollars was voted to pay the salaries of two assistant football coaches. The issue was defeated two weeks ago. Last week Varsity Coach Roy Hughes spoke to the council on the matter and this week it was passed.

The rodeo team schedule was approved by SAC. This year the team will travel to Tempe and Tucson, Ariz.; Pomeroy, Wash.; Pendleton, Ore.; Fresno and Canoga Park, Calif. Location of the national finals in June has not yet been determined.

Zell McClelland was appointed to the Awards Committee and Carlos Gonzales as Intramural Committee Chairman.

Forum Sponsors 'Poly Syllables'

The Writer's Forum, sponsor of "Poly Syllables," will hold its first meeting of the Fall Quarter at noon on Monday in Library 110, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, Faculty Advisor.

She emphasized that all students who are interested in the field of creative writing should attend the meeting, during which officers will be elected for the coming year. Relatively new on campus, the Forum meets to criticize student writing, and to discuss markets and marketing procedures.

"Poly Syllables," the literary voice of Cal Poly, is published quarterly by the Writer's Forum, under the auspices of the Associated Student Body.

AT THE BIJOU

Showing tomorrow night at the campus Bijou will be "Carmen Jones" starring Dorothy Dandridge and Harry Belafonte. The movie will be shown at 7 and 9 P.M. in the AC Auditorium.

Please Return

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of fire extinguishers borrowed during the Homecoming Bonfire festivities is asked to return these articles to the fire department. No questions will be asked, says Student Body President Ed McGrew.

Grab Your Guns For Poly's Annual Turkey Shoot

ROTC will hold its third annual Turkey Shoot Nov. 9 to Nov. 20. The shoot will be held at the campus rifle range and will be open Monday through Friday from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Although faculty and staff members may fire at any time, the range will be reserved for faculty and staff members only between the hours of 4 and 5 P.M.

In order to insure fair competition among firers, the following classes have been designated: male students, female students, faculty and staff, cadets on the rifle team, and all other cadets.

Tickets for the shoot are: students, 75 cents; faculty and staff, $1.00; and cadets, 50 cents. Tickets may be purchased from any of the members of the Military Department. Tickets also will be on sale at the rifle range and in the main office of the ROTC department.

A ticket entitles the shooter to 10 rounds of ammunition. Before the shooter may fire on a target for score, he must first perform a special feat in firing. This will consist of breaking a weighted white string. After breaking the string, the remaining rounds may then be fired at a target for score. The special feat may be fired from the prone position but when firing for score on the target either the standing, kneeling or sitting position may be used.

THE MONEY ROLLS . . . Tonight's the night Las Vegas comes to Cal Poly. The third annual Las Vegas Night will be at 8 P.M. in Crandall gym with all the excitement of the "Big City." College Union members are making last minute preparations to make this the best Las Vegas Night ever. Shown from left to right are: Patsy Rodriguez, Chuck Scurlock, Bill Beck, Dick Anderson and Julie Holmquist. (Photo Bureau—White)

El Rodeo Features Free Club Photos

"Club pictures will be taken Nov. 13, 17, 19, and 20 between 4 and 6 P.M. in either Library 114 or CR 6," Gerry Anderson, editor of El Rodeo, announced today. Mimeographed schedules have been distributed, but additional copies may be obtained at the El Rodeo office, Ag Ed 216.

Since the picture-taking involves nearly a hundred clubs, students are urged to be on time. The students are encouraged to bring any suitable props for the pictures.

Clubs do not have to buy space for their pictures this year. The Associated Student Body is subsidizing the organization section, and each club will have a free picture in the year book.

Need Substitute Teachers

J. N. Regier, Superintendent, San Luis Obispo City Schools, says he is seeking persons with provisional or regular credentials to serve as instructors in the elementary and secondary grades. The rate of pay is $18.75 per day. Interested and qualified persons may contact Regier.

Pranksters Cost Money

Because of a prankster, the Freshman Class treasury is about to suffer an $85 blow for the replacement of a borrowed mannikin used at the ASB dance sponsored by the Freshman class on Oct. 24. If you know the whereabouts of the "arms" or the "wigs" removed from the mannikin, please return them to the Student Body Office. No questions will be asked.

Russian Education Will be Book Topic

"The Challenge of Soviet Education" by George S. Counts—will be reviewed at the Nov. 10 session of Books at High Noon in Library 118C. The book, which tells what Russian education is really doing, will be reviewed by Edward Ernatt, English instructor.

The New York Herald review says: "It is a grim, masterful, fascinating book . . . the importance of this book is to those who want to—or must—understand the nature of the Soviet enemy. No diplomat and no reporter should be sent to Russia without it."

College Union Has Holiday Fun Plans

For those who have nothing to do on the academic holiday, Wednesday, Nov. 11, the College Union Board has mapped out three hours of free entertainment at 12:30 P.M. in Poly Grove.

The activities will begin with a go-cart race followed by an hour-long talent show. There also will be a fencing demonstration.

At the same time volleyball and softball games will be going on in the area of the Grove. A jazz concert and Hawaiian music will add to the festive atmosphere.

Ping Pong Tourney Finals Start Soon

Sign-ups are now being taken in the Student Body Office for the ping pong tournament Nov. 9-12 in the TCU. Playoffs will begin each night at 6:30 P.M. Anyone may enter the tournament.

All the equipment will be provided by the College Union Games and Hobbies Committee headed by Bill Hammatt.

There will be competition between men's and women's singles, mixed doubles and men's doubles.

Las Vegas Comes To Cal Poly

Las Vegas Night, College Union's biggest yearly event, will begin at 8 P.M. tonight in Crandall Gym. Don Roberts and Dick Robben are the emcees.

Bill Beck, Social Committee chairman, has announced that there will be a variety of fun and games. Mock money will be provided at the door for use in the games of chance.

Special attractions include music by a Latin-American combo and a novelty group, can-can dancers, change girls, a marriage mill, a jail, and a rinky-tink piano. Admission is free; refreshments will be sold.

In charge of entertainment is Chuck Scurlock; refreshments will be handled by Laurie Padgham. George Maybee is personnel chairman; Pat Chambers is in charge of the money; Dick De Field is the games chairman; and Lu Ann Peterson heads the decorations committee.

"Students interested in dealing should contact the social committee today or during the evening, as there probably will be opportunities for them to do relief or substitute dealing," Beck said. Dealers should wear white shirts, he added.

Soils Club Slates Annual Barbecue

The Soils Club will hold its annual fall barbecue at Cuesta Park Sunday, Nov. 8. Top sirloin steak, tossed green salad, chili beans and French bread will be served at 2 P.M.

All soils majors, faculty, families and their guests are invited. They may obtain tickets from Dave Ashbie, Fred Alexander, Mel Smith or the Soils Science office. The price for the meal is $1.75.

Hearst Castle Tour Slated By CU

A tour of Hearst Castle at San Simeon is the College Union Outing Committee's next project. The tour will commence at 1:30 P.M. Sunday, in front of Heron dorm.

Al McCoy, chairman of the event, has announced that the deadline to sign up is today at noon. The admission fee is $2.00. This includes bus fare and entrance to the grounds of the castle.

There are 40 seats on the bus, McCoy said.

NEW CAFETERIA . . . Weather and availability of materials will play an important role in the speed of completing the new cafeteria now under construction near the Science Building. Originally slated for completion by 1960 Fall Quarter, plans have been extended to November or December. (Photo Bureau—Read)

LIKE THIS . . . An old hand shows them how it's done. Keith Nielsen of the English and Speech Department and director of the Poly Players production of "Picnic" coaches Tom Crawford and Kathy Schnell through one of the scenes of the play. The dramatists will present the play Nov. 18 and 19 at 8:15 in the A.C. Auditorium.

Reserved Seats Placed on Sale

Reserved seat tickets for the remaining home football games are available to student body card holders at $1. Graduate Manager Bob Bostrom has announced.

Bostrom's announcement came after the Student Affairs Council voted to open the reserved sections, at a reduced rate, to students, faculty, or employees who have student body cards.

"This is an experiment," Bostrom explained. "This action does not affect the present rooting section."

Seats will be available in section "F" on the wooden bleacher side and in sections "L" and "J" on the steel bleacher side. Tickets must be purchased in the student body office prior to the game, Bostrom said.

State Vehicles At Poly Enjoy Perfect Safety Record

State motor vehicles operated by Cal Poly had a perfect safety record for the first six months of this year.

Driven an average of more than 6,410 miles each, the 41 State vehicles assigned to the college were accident-free from January through June, according to a summary report compiled by the State Safety Coordinator, Roger F. Sheldon.

Cal Poly motor vehicles were driven 222,222 miles in the six months period with no accidents involving death, personal injury or property damage. The record, vehicles per miles driven, was the best of any State college.

More than 2000 men have been graduated from Cal Poly with Bachelor of Science degrees or Technical Certificates.

Volleyball Tourney Enters Three-Way Tie

Chase Ramblers, Heron Hustlers, and the Spigot Six are tied for first place in the women's volleyball intramurals, according to Trece Carpenter, Publicity Chairman for WWA. The Osondallers were the team exhibiting the most spirit, she said, as they produced a rooting section with song leaders and card stunts.

Rebel Rousers defeated the Offbeats; Heron sunk the Outcasts; the Spigot Six downed the Osondallers; and in the last game, Chase Ramblers tripped up the Jasperson Jesters.

The event is sponsored each year by the Student chapter of the American Institute of Architects as part of their learn-by-doing education.

Future architects spend the day working to maintain and improve the department and then are treated to a chicken barbecue in Cuesta Park, with members of the A.I.A. and the upper class.

Clubs and organizations cover all departments and activities, and the opportunity exists for every student to take an active part in club life.

Mermen Dampen Diablos In First CCAA League Meet

Entering CCAA competition on a thunderous note, the Mustang water polo team rapped the Los Angeles State Diablos 18-6 in a home contest last Friday night. Sparked by frosh center-back Russell Poe's six point effort, the Mustangs affirmed their previously uncertain bid for the conference title.

Jumping off to an early lead, the Mustangs ended the initial period with six points while the Diablos gleaned only four. Poly put through seven more, to run up a halftime bulge of 13-2.

In the second half the outclassed Diablos let through five more Mustang goals, gaining only two for themselves.

The Mustangs will travel this weekend, playing St. Mary's of Moraga on Friday, and Cal at Berkeley Saturday.

Mustangs-Diablos In Rose Bowl For Tomorrow's CCAA Game

After a week of relaxation the Cal Poly Mustangs will jump from a tightly packed Mustang Stadium, the scene of their last encounter with Fresno State, to the wide expanses of the Rose Bowl tomorrow afternoon at 2 P.M. to meet another powerful conference foe, the Los Angeles State Diablos.

Currently tied for second place behind the high-flying Fresnoans, both the Mustangs and Diablos, with identical 2-1 league records, will be trying to stay in the race to the CCAA grid crown.

The Diablos, who file claim to the league's one-two punch in both rushing and scoring in the form of Joe Womack and Stan Wilkerson, also boast the league's number two men in both passing and pass receptions in Ren Hauerwaas and Dave Ross respectively.

While the Hughesmen were idle last weekend the Diablos enjoyed a field day, as they knocked over semi-powerful Mexico University 40-22.

When asked if the Mustangs have planned any special defensive weapon to halt Womack or Wilkerson, who between them have scored 96 points this season, Mustang Mentor Roy Hughes said: "I'm worried more about their interior line than any two individual ball players. After all, our major ground attack is dependent upon going up the middle, and if their line is as tough as it has been on certain occasions, we're in for a real battle."

Nebraska is believed to have the largest underground water supply of any state in the nation.

Money Explains It

To the Editor:

In reply to "Big Schools" discuss with the football schedule of this and past seasons, I believe a look at next year's slate is a pretty good answer.

Such formidable opponents as Brigham Young University, Bowling Green, and Montana State as well as our own CCAA opposition dot the schedule for next year, and San Jose State returns the following year. "Big Schools" must realize that the football schedule is growing with the school.

However, the hard true facts of the case boil down to the almighty dollar. Football teams don't travel for nothing. It costs plenty to send a team any distance and to house them, usually for two nights.

An example is the $8,000 guarantee it took to bring the Montana State team here for last year's Homecoming game. The money set aside for this in the athletic budget amounts to $12,000 for the entire year, so it's evident that such a sum doesn't go too far.

A look at Poly Stadium explains the Mustang dilemma. It's next to impossible to get more than 8,500 people seated comfortably, and with about 2,500 students admitted free, that doesn't leave many pay seats. You might also have noticed the lack of population in the reserved sections. Some gate figures may substantiate this reasoning—Long Beach, $2,000; Fresno State, $6,700, but how often do we have a crowd like that at the Fresno game?

For more figures, Poly received a guarantee of $8,000 to travel to Montana State this year, but the trip cost $4,700. That means that home crowds here not only have to make up for teams playing here, but also covers the losses incurred traveling.

Simple logic tells us that it costs considerably more to bring a big team here than it does one from a smaller college. Why should they play here for $8,000 when they can get $10,000 somewhere else? The larger stadium, planned here within a few years, will make possible to bring bigger teams here.

So the limited budget should explain the difficulty in scheduling. If you can't guarantee the big schools a big gate, they can't afford the trip.

Fly Invasion

Editor:

A friend and I have just finished another of our too often practiced ritual of "fly annihilation."

This evening we got to moralizing why it was necessary for humans as peaceable as we two to want to kill flies. But then why is it necessary for conditions on campus to provoke the huge numbers of flies which invade the living and eating spaces in, and around Cal Poly.

Couldn't a little hygiene relieve this situation?
