Famous Paintings On Display At Campus Library

"Art suffers most from people who don't notice it," said Dr. Bernice Loughran, education instructor, during an interview concerning the art display in the Library lobby.

Dr. Loughran explained that the display consisted of prints not usually found in the home. "These pictures were picked for their stimulation value. If a student notices our exhibit he may be encouraged to attend the Art Show at the Recreation Center on Santa Rosa Street on Feb. 10," she said.

Modern art ranges from realism, which shows the objects as they are through expressionism and abstraction to the non-objective which is a manipulated design that conveys ideas and emotions and usually doesn't resemble nature, said the instructor.

The artists, Boyer, Van Gogh, Roualt, Picasso, Gauguin, and Braque, represent the different artistic schools and have individual cards attached to their works with interpretations and meanings made up by art students in Dr. Loughran's class.

Roger Rodoni, A.H. major, expressed a desire to see prints by Charles Russell, cowboy painter. Richard Landru, EL major, showed interest in "Te Rorola" by Paul Gauguin.

WHAT DO YOU LOOK FOR IN A PICTURE? . . . Carol Jasper and Kay Hahnstadler are in the process of enjoying the current art display in the lobby of the library. This exhibit features paintings by Van Gogh, Boyer, Roualt, Picasso, Gauguin, and Braque. A card is attached to each painting explaining something about the artist and the picture.

Writers' Forum Meets Thursday

A newly formed literary group, Writers' Forum, will meet Thursday, Feb. 11, at 7:30 P.M. in Library 116, according to Forum president Art Vinsel.

The editorial staff of Poly Syllables, composed of members of the Forum will also meet Thursday at 11 A.M. at the office of faculty advisor, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, in the Math and Home Economics Building to discuss manuscripts.

Drama, Music Highlight College Hour Programs

Poly Players under the direction of Jan Ferry will present "The Vallant," a one act play during College Hour Feb. 11.

The prison scene between a girl and a convict is handled by Pam Reynolds and George Grealman. The Players will take this production "on the road." They will perform for the high schools in March.

A musical of varied styles will be presented at the Feb. 18 College Hour. The Women's Glee Club; the Majors and Minors, a barbershop group, and the Collegians will supply the entertainment.

H. P. Davidson of the Music Department is in charge of the Feb. 18 program.

Class Attendance Falls; Rain Does Too

The 3.5 inches of rain that fell in the San Luis area Feb. 1 resulted in slight damage to Cal Poly.

Security Chief C. W. Cockriel reported no unusual mishaps other than one car stalled in a flooded spot behind Vetville.

Maintenance reported mud washed from the Women's residence halls down the slope to the steel bleachers. Clean up is underway there and in other mud covered areas.

Dr. W. W. Armentrout, psychology instructor, reports a definite decrease in class attendance during the heavy downpour.

Ray Hesse, maintenance supervisor, noted that several soaked students were not making use of the mats at the building entrances and were stamping the mud from their shoes in the middle of the halls. "The 'Little Darlings' also stick their muddy feet on the chairs in front of them," he said.

Gateway Singers Return to Cal Poly

The Gateway Singers, popular folk song stylists, are scheduled to perform at Cal Poly Wednesday, Feb. 10 at 8:15 P.M. in the new gym, according to Kay Williams, activities adviser.

Tickets for the concert which is being sponsored by the Freshman and Sophomore classes, may be purchased in the AEB office for $1.25 for general admission. Freshman and Sophomores may buy tickets for $1.

The Gateway Singers, four young people with three instruments, sing the old and traditional folk songs from this and many other lands but with a new and present day setting and sound. Starting with a prison song from Texas, or perhaps a nonsense ditty from anywhere, going through a couple of dance songs from Mexico to Israel, and ending with the story of "The Rock Island Line" or the tale of "The Fox", the Group puts a unique, personal quality in all their songs.

The group was formed nearly three years ago when an advertising agency called and asked the three men to put on a western hill-billy show. They got together but decided hill-billy music was dead for them. However, their common interest in folk music started the Gateway Singers that afternoon.

Bridge, Music, PCI Mat Tournney Allotted $482

Allocations totaling $482.68 in the form of Finance Committee recommendations were approved by the Student Affairs Council Tuesday night, while one request, concerning a xerograph machine for the Associated Student Body, was referred to a sub-committee for further study.

Poly Band Director Picked for Concert

George Beatie, Cal Poly's band director, has been selected as leader of one of the two 120 piece bands that will be in the California All State Band Concert, March 6 in Campbell, Calif.

Beatie, who has been at Poly less than a year, was at Arroyo Grande for 10 years before coming here. He received his B.A. in music at the University of Calif. at Santa Barbara and his M.A. in Social science at Poly.

This is the first time there has been two bands in the concert which is being put on by the Calif. Band Directors Association. Rehearsals for the concert will be on March 4 and 5 with Al Wright, director of bands at Purdue University, leading the other band.

Poly Co-sponsors Chess Tournament

Hear ye! Hear ye! The ancient and honorable game of chess challenges all comers at the annual San Luis Obispo County chess tournament co-sponsored by the Paso Robles and Cal Poly Calissa Chess Clubs.

The tournament will consist of five games, two of which will be played on campus and three at the Civic Center Panthouse in Paso Robles. The Calissa Tournament Committee will determine all opponents. Final playoffs will be completed Sunday, Feb. 28, at 12:30 P.M. in Paso Robles.

Persons residing in San Luis Obispo County for more than 30 days, and all Cal Poly students, are eligible to enter the contest. Fees are $1.

Trophies and prizes for high score and game brilliancy will be awarded. There will be three levels of players: advanced, intermediate, and beginners.

For further information, interested students should contact J. Wm. Heine at LI 8-7246 on or before Sunday, Feb. 7.

Names of 36 outstanding seniors to receive special recognition were presented by the Awards Committee and approved by unanimous vote of the Student Affairs Council. (See page two.)

Presenting the recommendations for the Finance Committee, Chairman Ric Berndt explained a deficit in the Music Board of Control budget through unanticipated expenses encountered by the Band during the last football season. Chairman Berndt recommended that $186.68 be allocated from contingency funds to defray the added costs of travel, operating expenses and labor for lining the practice football field to enable the Band to practice halftime formations and stunts. The recommendation was approved.

In a second recommendation, the SAC approved a request for $200 to host approximately 25 coaches of visiting wrestling teams during the Pacific Coast wrestling tournament to be held at Cal Poly this year. The request was for lunch and dinner for each visiting coach.

A third request was from Bob Bostrom, Graduate Manager, for $425.10 to purchase a xerograph duplicating machine for the Associated Student Body. Mimeograph work is presently being done by El Corral, and it was felt by the graduate manager that when the A.S.B. office was moved to its new location, complications would arise in handling material between the office and El Corral. It was further believed that the machine would pay for itself in five years due to the amount of material processed by the A.S.B. office.

Lengthy discussion by the council was held over desirability of a xerograph machine (approximately $800) over a Mimeograph machine (approximately $600). A motion was passed by the Council to refer the matter to a sub-committee for further investigation. Sub-committee members are Bostrom, Skip Munsee, and Shirley Beana.

The fourth recommendation approved by SAC was from the College Union Board requesting $146 to be used to purchase supplies for the Cal Poly Bridge Club, now in a formation stage.

Collegians Dance Set for Feb. 12

Joe DeAngelis, social chairman of the Cal Poly Newman Club, has announced that Crandall Gym will be decorated in a Valentine's Day theme for the first Collegians dance of the Winter Quarter on Friday, Feb. 12 at 9 P.M.

Joe Shaw and Carol Rizzo are assisting with the decorations. Kathie Hamlett is in charge of refreshments, and Mary Corraia and Roger Vierra have been assigned special organizational tasks.

The dance, previously slated for tonight, will be replaced by a record dance in the TCU sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. Herman Farrough, president, is in charge of the platter party which will begin at 9 P.M.

Another record dance will be held in the TCU next Saturday, Feb. 13. It will be sponsored by the Freshman Class. Shirley Beana is in charge.

Campus Clinical Laboratory Performs Important Functions

"Our Clinical Laboratory, a very important feature of the medical program, is the most taken-for-granted department in the Health Center," says Dr. Earl D. Lovett, head of the new Cal Poly Health Center.

"Little does Cal Poly realize how fortunate it is to have a clinical lab and personnel such as it has."

Donald J. Curtis, senior clinical laboratory technologist, is in charge of the department. Curtis is the president-elect of the California Association of Medical Laboratory Technologists, and is the former director of the clinical lab at Atascadero State Hospital. He is past president of San Luis Obispo County Technologist Society.

"The basic function of the clinical lab," says Curtis, "is to aid the doctors in making and verifying diagnoses and to help them follow a patient's progress."

"We are equipped to do virtually all blood testing," Curtis explains. "RH factor, typing, checking blood sugar levels, and taking blood counts, to name just a few of the tests."

"Urinalysis is also an important job of our lab. Through this, it is possible to detect such diseases as diabetes," Curtis says.

The lab is equipped with scores of test tubes, pipettes, measuring devices, chemical agents, and serums. Microscopes, a bacteriological incubator, wet-bath, refrigerator, photometer, dry heat sterilizer, and centrifuge are also available for immediate use.

"There are about 400 procedures performed in this lab each week," concludes Dr. Lovett. "This figure includes, besides work in the blood chemistries and urinalysis, cultures, smears, basal metabolic rate (B.M.R.) tests, electro-cardiograms, antibiotic investigations and various function tests for organs such as kidneys and liver."

COMING TO POLY NEXT WEEK . . . The Gateway Singers are scheduled for another appearance in San Luis Obispo on Wednesday, Feb. 10 at 8:15 P.M. in the new gym. The popular singing group includes Travis Edmonson on guitar, Lou Gottlieb on bass, Jerry Walter on banjo, and vocalist Eimeris Thomas.

Out Of The Din

Dear Editor:
I attended a very fine and thoroughly enjoyable program last Saturday evening, put on by our foreign students, and fully expected to see some pretty nice coverage on this event in El Mustang. What happened?
I believe that all present will agree when I say that we are deeply indebted for an evening of both education and fine entertainment. The display tables were nicely set up and the floor show of highest caliber. Let's say a belated "thanks a lot" to the participants and do a better job of reporting in the future.
A Disappointed Reader.

on the alarming campus fashion trend may make some of the coeds in the tight jeans set realize just how ridiculous they look. But what about the male students in the ten-gallon-hat set? Do they think their style of dress is the coming thing in college wear? Granted, boots, tight jeans, sombrero and sideburns may be just the thing for doing the chores back on the ranch, but I can't see any reason for wearing this sort of costume to a college classroom.

I often think it is quite possible that the recruiters from industrial firms that visit this campus take home the wrong impression of Cal Poly. After seeing all the fugitives from TV westerns in the Ag & SS Building, they no doubt think that as soon as the student they are interviewing gets home, he will pop into his boots, ten-gallon hat, etc.

I wonder if the more habitual campus cowboys, usually seen drinking coffee in the El Corral with their sombreros pushed to the back of their head, have ever tried dressing like college students. You should try it fellows. You might like it.

ROTC Rifle Team Has Winning Record

Cal Poly's R.O.T.C. Rifle Team, winner of 9 out of 12 postal matches so far this season, is preparing for postal matches with the University of Arizona and the University of Kentucky to be fired this week end.

The R.O.T.C. Team has just finished firing the last stage of the 8th Army Collegiate Match. They are presently waiting for word about the results.

On February 13th, the Cal Poly R.O.T.C. Rifle Team will host Santa Barbara R.O.T.C. in a shoulder-to-shoulder match. The probable firing lineup for Cal Poly will include Gary Taylor, Richard Hardwick, Dan Susuki, Tom Gragg, Bob Orcutt, Dennis Monax, and Bob Brodie.

Mustangs Meet Matadors Tonight in Non-League Basketball Clash

After christening the new Men's Physical Education Building in the correct manner with an 84-68 win over Occidental College Tuesday, Ed Jorgensen's Mustang roundballers plan to make it two in a row tonight when they meet the Matadors of San Fernando Valley State College in the new plant at 8:15 P.M.

BARR'S

DRIVE-IN RESTAURANT

Tuesday's contest saw the Mustangs roar off to a comfortable 18-point bulge early in the game, stagger momentarily while the Tigers reduced the Mustang margin to five points, then regain a 80-89 halftime lead.

Second half play saw Jorgensen clear the bench, affording his reserves some experience "under fire" against the outclassed opponents.

While "Jumpin' Joe" Rycraw nabbed highpoint honors with 16 points, Jorgensen was especially pleased with the backcourt work of Dale Kuykendall, who tallied 11 markers during his abbreviated stint in the second half. "Kuykendall has come on strong in the last couple of games", said Jorgensen. "He's a real hustler."

The Mustang coach, who discovered a new combination while falling to Los Angeles State 108-106 in a double overtime affair last week, said: "The combination of Jim Clark and Kuykendall at guards; Mal McCormick at center, and Jerry Shackelford and Joe Rycraw at forwards looked mighty impressive in the last few minutes against the Diablos. We'll be seeing them together often."

Viv DiGiovanni, though used sparingly, showed flashes of former greatness grabbing 11 points, most of which came in the second half.

Tonight's Mustang-Matador contest stacks up as a carbon-copy of the Oxy battle. The Valley State's have dropped tilts to L.A. State 102-66; Redlands, 75-67, and Grand Canyon 78-71, while winning over Pomona 87-76, La Verne 75-65, and Cal Western 57-43.

Matador forward Jim Malkin will lead the State attack bringing his 18.4 point-per-game average to Cal Poly, along with center Bruce Powers' 10.4 average.

Joe Rycraw leads the Mustang scoring parade with 208 points in 15 games, for a 16.6 average, followed by Mal McCormick's 170 points and a 12.2 average.

In the rebound department, Rycraw has amassed a fantastic total of 170 carroms in the fifteen contests for an 11.8 average., McCormick again follows with 139.

McCormick leads in the free-throwing department, hitting 45 of 60 attempts, to date, for a 75 per-cent average, followed by Jim Clark's 19 of 28 attempts for a 67 percentile showing.

Leemen Face Cal Tomorrow Night In Crandall Gym

Expecting an 11 or 12-bout card Cal Poly boxing coach Tom Lee will send his proteges into the ring tomorrow night in Crandall Gymnasium against the University of California Bears at 8 P.M.

Although Lee knows little of the pending competition, he indicated that Bear Coach Ed Nemir will bring four outstanding pugilists to San Luis Obispo. Cal's standouts are heavyweight Jack Domich, 147 pounder, Dick Van Kessel, John Wylie at 165 and Don Ricci at 155 pounds.

Cal is a member of the California Collegiate Boxing Association formed last year, which also includes Stanford, Chico State, USF, Santa Clara, and Fresno State.

Lee pointed out that he has much respect for Nemir, whom he considers one of the top coaches in the nation. The Cal coach is second in the nation in years of service with more than 25 years activity topped only by Ike Deeter of Washington. Nemir is the only coach who has won both the PCI (continued on page 4)

Leadership, Responsibility Stressed at Ag Ed Banquet

"Men to Match our Mountains" was the title of the address given at the Annual Cal Poly Agriculture Education Club Banquet Saturday at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Presenting the address was Howard K. Dickson, supervisor of agriculture at Kern County Union High School District which governs seven high school Agriculture Departments.

In his talk to the future agriculture teachers of the state, Dickson stressed that leadership, responsibility, enthusiasm and the daily implanting of fresh ideas are essential for developing youth to meet the challenge of California's rapidly changing agriculture. He said that these conceptions can be created through Future Farmer club activities, suitable projects for every individual, and the determined effort of active minded agriculture teachers.

Rounding out the program was the presentation to outgoing president Charles Arosteguy by H. H. Burlingham, head of the Agriculture Teacher Trainer Department, and the installation of new officers.

The following are the AG-ED Club officers for the Spring semester: President, Leo Lamb; Vice-President, Logan Wilson; Secretary, Leo Scheuber; Treasurer, Jim Klaustermeyer; Reporter, Tom Bowles; Sentinel, Donald Kurts.
