All-Girl Club Meets In Try To Organize

"An all-girl club is needed on the campus," asserted Mary Brown, leader of 0*1 Poly's Young Farmer Talent Show, in a letter addressed to the Student Hotly office for auditioning talent for the show. King urges a large audience to participate in the show, which is scheduled for Thursday evening. The six best acts for the show will be determined within the next two weeks.

Led by King, the 0*1 Poly's Young Farmer Talent Show, 0*1 Poly's Young Farmer Talent Show, is a new organization that will be formed to promote the interests of the young farmers on campus. The organization will work closely with the Student Hotly office to ensure that the show is successful and that the young farmers are represented.

Budget Boys Get Braced For Reception

Preparation of the 1957-58 Budget — A $1,100,000 budget, with increased emphasis on scholarships and academic programs, was approved by the Associated Students at last night's meeting. The budget, which was submitted to the Associated Students by the Finance Committee, was passed without opposition.

The next meeting, which will be held next week, will be devoted to the budget committee and will include a vote on the budget. Attendees will be welcome to attend this meeting.

Security Offers Help (As Hub Thieves Grow

Following a recent wave of hub thefts on campus, Security Chief Bob King has announced that the campus police will be increasing their patrols. The increase in patrols was in response to several reports of missing caps and many more reports of pistons being removed.

Several reports of missing caps and many more reports of pistons being removed have been received, with reports received within the past two weeks. This is the only way the security department can be sure that all caps are accounted for. The increase in patrols will help to safeguard the caps.

Alien Registration Law

The immigration law, first introduced in 1917, applies to everyone who is not a citizen of the United States. It is a law that requires every alien who is not a citizen of the United States and who is present in the United States at any time to report his address to the Immigration and Naturalization Service at the place where he is employed.

The law is designed to prevent the illegal entry of aliens into the United States. It is also designed to prevent the illegal employment of aliens in the United States. The law is enforced by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, which is a part of the United States Department of Justice.

Play Tryouts Slated This Week for Poly's Big Production

Dorm Fire Started By Shaving Lotion; Damage Is Slight

A small bottle of shaving lotion that was recently returned to the dormitory was found to be the cause of a small fire in the dormitory. The fire was started in the room of a student living in one of the dormitories.

The fire was started when another student in the dormitory used a small bottle of shaving lotion in their room. The student then threw the bottle into the fire, which was quickly put out by the dormitory's fire department.

Space Travel To Be College Union Talk

Space flight and artificial satellites will be discussed Thursday evening by Dr. John H. Sharp, professor of astronomy at the University of California, Los Angeles. The talk, which will be held in the C. H. L. Auditorium, will be open to the public.

Dr. Sharp will discuss the current state of space exploration and the potential for future space travel. The talk will be held at 8 p.m. in the C. H. L. Auditorium.

Arthur C. Clark

Clark expects to cover possibilities for future space travel and the potential for future space exploration.

Thirty-nine Teams Open Intramural Cage Competition

A thirty-nine team entry represents a new record for Poly's Intramural Basketball Program, which began competition this week. TheWhitaker teams have been divided into four leagues with three leagues having six teams and one league having five. Each league represents a day of the week starting with Monday and running through into the Thursday league which is in competition Friday due to other gym commitments.

Team competition is confined to their respective leagues with no interleague competition until the playoffs. This gives each team a better program since the time element is a factor. The Intercollegiate Invitational, which was entered by the number of teams entered, all contests in the league will be played prior to January 1st, to allow for a complete competition by the end of the week.

The league is already in progress and those who enjoy basketball played in any form will find some free time to enjoy this game. The Cotton Candy competition should be keen. Every team that is entered will be able to complete its competition for the championship, with the loser receiving the nod at the 112 pound spot with most of his athletes having Style points for this weight. Poly's eight are all in the top ten players in this league and this year will doubtless be an exciting one.

In previous years the Intramural teams have played to practically an empty gym. It is hoped that this year will be different in this respect. The intramural league is not only for those who compete, but also for those who enjoy watching the games. Many of our students have been a great help to the league in the past and we would have a lot more support than we are having if we could have the support of our student bodies. The league will run approximately ten weeks. At that time, the winners of each league will compete in a two day play off to determine the champion of the play off. The winners will play the next day for the championship, with the loser playing a consolation game. Each player on the winning team will be awarded a trophy.

The league is already in progress and if you aren't on a team, come down and enjoy watching basketball as your roommate can. It is fun to be there and see how the game is played.
You Like El Mustang, Student Survey Shows

How would you edit El Mustang if you had the opportunity?

Chances are that the paper would remain pretty much the same, according to a survey recently conducted by Ag Journalism Major Jim Luther as a term project in his public relations class. Purposes of the poll were to determine reader opinions of El Mustang and general knowledge of the paper's function, and to present sample and editorial suggestions to people in positions capable of applying these suggestions to any problems.

As a class project it had to be connected with the staff of El Mustang. Of 1,100 questionnaires, 125 were returned prepared questionnaires on El Mustang's news coverage, editorial content, and financial requirements. Distribution of the questionnaires was divided between men and women students and among the three divisions according to their percentage of the total enrollment.

Answers to 13 specific questions on the poll determined the following:

- Why don't you write a personality of the week column for both student and instructor? How about a listing of well-known and interesting people from the campus and interviewing some of them for the answer?
- More pictures of events would be interesting; almost everyone has a visitor on campus.
- El Mustang does not contain material that the student should be interested in reading. You mean material has to be sent into the instruction office to be printed. Few papers are run this way!
- The majority read most of the newspaper, indicating it is good to the right level, and also feel that the quality of the week column for both student and instructor would be interesting; almost everyone.

Adding interest; almost everyday. How would you edit El Mustang if you had the opportunity?

The majority read most of the newspaper, indicating it is good to the right level, and also feel that the campus would not benefit from a semi-weekly paper instead of a weekly.

The newspaper could be improved, according to the majority, by better staff editing, fewer advertisements, and the list. The column "To the Editor" is widely read, and the majority feel most of El Mustang's Features, and many want to see more letters printed.

Most students don't know the importance of the Adelene, however, that the agricultural division is everywhere at the expense of the other. They feel that the paper is generally written in a light at the right level, and also feel that the following:
