

Preferential Voting System Gets Reporter's Once Over

By Don Upton

Why preferential voting? What is it? How does it operate? Preferential voting eliminates the need for a separate run-off election. So far, it sounds simple, but confusion often exists concerning the operation of the system and its effect on election results, if any. Preferential voting's influence on which candidate is elected is the same as the effect of a separate run-off election. The chief difference with preferential voting is, you're able to vote on one ballot as you would on two separate ballots if a run-off was held.

Basic to an understanding of preferential voting is the realization that a second choice for an office is indicated as if the first choice candidate had been eliminated and a run-off between remaining candidates was in progress.

Rules Spelled Out By Affairs Group

Voting rules and regulations, as announced by Election Committee Chairman Don Walker, after approval of Student Affairs Council Tuesday, include the following:

Vote for the candidate of your first choice by stamping an "X" in the first column following the candidate's name. For your second choice (the person for whom you would vote if your first choice candidate were not running) stamp an "X" in the second column following that candidate's name.

Mark ballots only with the rubber stamp provided in each booth. Marks other than those made with the rubber stamp will not be counted.

Presidential Aspirants

Don Conway

I hold that the so-called leaders and the go-getters who have been running the Poly campus for so long now are directly responsible for the appalling lack of student participation and interest. Briefly put, this ruling minority has formed itself into a CLAM, and as such, has neglected its responsibilities towards the inactive mass of the student body whom it claims to represent.

Now is the time for a change. A change which will bring forward the real leaders of the inactive students. Once motivated, these leaders (who for the most part are not in the active group) will rejuvenate the ghost of "school spirit" at Poly.

The very fact that I have been, until this election, inactive, will free me from the social ties which now hold the CLAM together, and so leave me free to return control of student affairs to the inactive majority of the Student body.

"Chuck" Cummings

What should you, the student, consider qualifications for ASB President? Do you believe a person that has a well-rounded knowledge of student affairs, who has been active in Poly Royal Homecoming, Orientation, Student Affairs Council and Finance Committee, has the necessary experience for the office?

Do you feel that the president is your personal representative to other colleges, the community, and visitors, and that his actions reflect the character of the entire student body?

In your opinion, should you, the student, have more direct representation on the Student Affairs Council?

If your answer to any of the above is yes, and you believe, along with me, that the mandatory student charge of fifteen dollars admission charge to the students at athletic events is necessary—per year is adequate, and that no then it is my conviction that I am your candidate for the office of Student Body President.

Steve Emanuel

Common sense derived from student opinion would dictate my position in handling your Student Body card money, if elected. Common sense backed by student budgeting experience tells me that your dollar needs to be carefully spent with overall goals in mind, and that since we all pay we should all have the opportunity to receive a fair return activity-wise.

My experience includes being a board business manager, where I evolved publications' budget, carried it through Finance Committee and SAC, and kept tab on spending these funds the following year. This is invaluable experience for any future Student Body president.

Other work has prepared me for this important job—being an SAC board chairman and representative on SAC, and El Mustang editor which has given me an insight into a great number of activities and their problems.

Your vote for Steve Emanuel will be a vote for all-campus representation.

Administration Moves

Kellogg Job for Maurer; Kennedy to Fill Vacancy

Dr. Robert L. Maurer, acting head of the Arts and Sciences Division, will become acting dean of the same division at the Kellogg-Voorhis campus, and Robert E. Kennedy, assistant to the president, will become dean of Arts and Sciences here, in an administrative reorganization just announced by President Julian A. McPhee. The changes are effective July 1.

Kennedy, who has served as assistant to the president since April 14, 1953, joined the Cal Poly staff in 1940 as a Journalism instructor, after graduating from San Diego State in 1938. He was the first Cal Poly faculty member to be granted a sabbatical leave, which he spent at Stanford University, obtaining a master's degree in 1940. His thesis was the basis for the establishment of the Agricultural Journalism Department here.

He served as head of the Journalism Department until 1950, and has been a member of the faculty and administrative committees, including the President's Cabinet and the President's Council.

Dr. Maurer who has been at Cal Poly since 1948, for five years has assisted Dean C. O. McCorkle as assistant administrator of the Arts and Sciences Division. He has also taught courses in English, education and psychology, and has been a counselor on the guidance staff, and served on numerous committees. (continued on page four)

Candidates for ASB Secretary

Bob Lewis

Bob Lewis, a math major from Oakland, is a candidate for ASB Secretary. The office of Secretary is one which he considers very important, and requires someone who has had experience.

Bob has participated vigorously in student activities here at Cal Poly. He has been Recording Secretary, and later, Chairman of the College Union Assembly Committee. At present, he is Secretary of the College Union Board and also League Secretary of the Cal Poly Trio Bowling Club (Bowling Club No. 2). If this is not experience, what is?

The Music Department's Home Concert will be broadcast over KATY Sunday, 2 p.m.

Bob Alberti

Bob Alberti, sophomore Electronic Engineering major from Rosemead, California, is a candidate for Student Body Secretary, 1957-1958.

Alberti has attended Cal Poly for two years and, during that time, has been highly interested in student government and campus activities. He has participated in the band, Collegians, Amateur Radio Club and Math Club.

Alberti is now serving as vice-chairman of Arrangements and Personnel for next year's Fall Leadership Conference. Attendance at this year's conference provides him with an insight into many of the phases and problems of student government and activities. His campaign supports the campus communications problem.

Gaye Lum

Gaye Lum, junior elementary education major from Bakersfield is a candidate for Student Body Secretary.

Gaye will represent coeds in student government and will help build a better student government.

At Cal Poly, she is secretary of Jespersen dormitory, secretary of Poly Chi, member of Rally Committee, Women's Glee Club and California Student Teachers Association.

At Bakersfield Junior College, Gaye was President of Associated Women Students, member of Lance and Shield (women's service society), and Alpha Gamma Sigma (honorary scholastic society.)

Veep Campaigners

Jim Johnston

In order to vote intelligently for any candidate, you must know his background.

I have been Boy's League President, Master Councilor of DeMolay, active in Hells Club, CFFA and the Ball Conservation Society of America.

I believe that the proposed form of student government is the best available, and that no student should have to pay over and above his student body card fee to attend college functions.

I hope that you, the student body, will give me this opportunity to serve your interests. However, regardless of your candidate, exercise your right to vote—Jim Johnston, Candidate for Vice-President.

R. E. Packard

"Why vote for me? Experience? Yes! I am now a representative on Student Affairs Council. In this capacity I have become familiar with student problems. I want to help solve these problems.

I am also Chairman of the Inter-Class Council, have served on various committees and am a member of IRE. Electronics and math are my majors. I am running for Vice-President. For those who are interested, I am supporting the new form of government. Come down to El Corral Monday morning from 8 to 10 and talk over campaign issues with me. I'll buy your coffee"—Roger Packard.

'Spring Fling', Concert, Jazz Highlight Weekend

By Polly Gadabout

Tonight's your last opportunity to catch the 16th annual Home Concert. It looks like I peeked through the right key-hole and around the right corners because this concert is just—well, it's just the best ever, that's all. It's at the high school auditorium and it begins at 8 p.m. Don't miss it—you'll be sorry if you do.

The Model United Nations sessions continue today and tomorrow at Stanford University.

"Mr. Roberts" is playing tonight at 7 and 9 p.m. at our own "Bijou." It's another College Union production.

"Spring Fling" Saturday Night
A California Student Teachers Association sponsored dance will be held tomorrow night in the gym from 9 p.m. to midnight. Music will be furnished by the Collegians.

There's going to be another jam session at the Temporary College Union Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Featured jazz artists at this jam session will be "The Charles Four."

Don't Forget Elections

Tuesday and Wednesday, April 16 and 17, are important dates to mark on your calendar—student body elections. You may vote for your favorite candidate any time from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday. Polls will be set up at the Library entrance and in front of the postoffice.

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, language expert, will be the guest speaker at the College Union assembly in Crandall gym Thursday, April 18.

More important dates to mark on that calendar—April 19, 20, and 21.

Commencement, Project Deadlines Next Thursday

Deadline for turning in senior projects and filing for commencement both fall on Thursday, April 18.

Seniors are urged to turn their projects in on time, for late projects, without special permission, will mean automatic failure.

Seniors may file their applications for commencement in the recorder's office. The recorder's office urges that seniors do so as soon as possible.

'College Jazz' Is Union Feature Next Sunday; To Record

The Charles Four, up-and-coming campus jazz quartet, will present its third jazz concert in the TCU Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The group, also noted for its off-campus engagements, is based on a theory of "jazz for college students as played by college students." Members of the group are Dave Stovall on alto sax, Dick Neil on drums, Jim Claps on bass, and Charles DiGangi on trumpet.

The concert will be recorded and played back on radio station KVEC at 11 p.m. Sunday night. Parts of the last concert, given two weeks ago in the TCU, were also recorded and have been heard on Wally Johnson's Cal Poly show on KVEC, according to DiGangi.

Modern (progressive) jazz is the main fare of the quartet. "We believe a lot of people are interested in this type of jazz, and that our audiences are growing larger," DiGangi said, adding, "The philosophy of the group is to present music that is interpretive of this college. We try to create an atmosphere and express the attitudes of

Monday Festivity

All Cal Poly students of the Jewish faith are invited to attend a Passover Seder next Monday night at 7 p.m. at the Grange Hall on So. Broad Street, according to Jerry Satuloff, president of the Cal Poly Hillel Club.

The holiday Passover commemorates the exodus from Egypt four thousand years ago and interested students are invited to attend this festivity.

Songleader Tests Set For Wednesday

Rally Committee Chairman Gary Garfield announced today that Song-leader try-outs scheduled for next Tuesday night have been rescheduled for 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 17 in the Women's Gym Annex.

All coeds interested in trying out should prepare a routine and be present at the tryout wearing shorts, according to Garfield.

Alice Reynolds, physical education instructor, and the Rally Committee will select the song-leaders for next Fall, Garfield said, and girls will be selected on their ability to attend all games in addition to their songleader ability.

The following girls have tried out thus far: Jane Randall, Marilyn Christensen, Claudette Fitzpatrick, Barbara Brower, Ruthie Holbrook, Val DeGeus, Elaine Lee, Greta Garton, Sue Raney, and Kathy Murray.

Standard Oil Gives Merit Certificates

Certificates of merit for recipients of $400 Standard Oil Leadership scholarships were presented to Frank Espinola, ag. education graduate from Los Gatos, and Joyce Jeffers, agricultural journalism major from Pismo Beach, by Sam Coull, district sales manager for Standard Oil Company, at a presentation luncheon Monday at the Motel Inn.

Coull also presented a check for $800 to Dean Everett Chandler for two additional scholarships for the 1957-58 academic year.

Representing Standard Oil, in addition to Coull, were R. L. Hunt, educational specialist from San Francisco, and H. A. Gaynor, regional public relations representative from Los Angeles. Eugene Rittenhouse, placement officer, accompanied Chandler.

Miss Jeffers is the first coed awarded a scholarship since Cal Poly became coeducational.

SPRING

"I beg your pardon, pretty Miss,
But would you give me one small kiss?"
"And why should I do such a thing?"
"Because, my dear, today it's spring
Because there's romance in the air
Because you are so very fair!"
"There's a lot in what you've said.
Okay, kiss me . . . go ahead."

Star Bear Rookie Back for Degree

Perry Jeter, former Mustang grid-great now with the Chicago Bears, resumes his studies here this quarter as he works toward a B. S. degree.

Perry is a well-known young man not only on campus but throughout San Luis Obispo county. He was an outstanding back on the Mustang eleven and worked hard for the success of the San Luis Obispo Little League. His biggest fans are the little guys he worked the hardest for while here at Poly.

During the early part of last year's professional season, Perry was sidelined with a broken bone in his ankle. The bone has healed nicely and should cause him no trouble at all as he makes his bid for a starting position on the Bear team.

While here at Poly for the spring quarter, Perry along with Stan Sheriff and Alex Bravo, will assist the Mustang coaching staff during Spring football practice starting May 1.

Six Polyites Cop Prizes in Drag Run

Six Poly students, among some 27 entries, took top awards at Sunday's drag races at the Santa Maria airport. Top time was posted by Doug King, ag. engineering major from Castro Valley, and Don Seoville, printing major from Sherman Oaks, in the dragster division. The team, driving a fuel dragster equipped with a 304 cubic-inch Merc. engine, averaged 123.88 miles per hour.

In the "A" altered division, Gary Boerman, mechanical engineering major from San Luis, driving a '33 Ford coupe with a Cad engine, topped his class with 113.20 mph.

Bill Lindsay, mechanical engineering major from Culver City, driving a '29 Ford with a Merc engine placed in the "B" roadster division with 101.12 mph.

In the sports car division, "A" class, Ken Tarbet, ag journalism major from Concord topped the division with 75.77 in his Porsche coupe. Also placing was Doug Gardner, mechanical engineering major from Las Vegas, Nev., in the BK class, driving his '57 Corvette at 100.00.

Horsehidors Face Gauchos, LA State in CCAA Contests

Riding on a seasonal record of 6-0, the baseball team under the guidance of Coach Howie O'Daniels jumps headlong into an action-packed weekend with three games on the home diamond. Today they tangle with the Santa Barbara Gauchos in a double header and tomorrow they face Los Angeles in a single game. All are conference tilts and action begins at 1 p.m. each day.

Today the Mustangs will be seeking revenge for a 5-4 defeat suffered at the hands of the Gauchos recently. The Poly nine has a 2-3 mark in league play. Their other two losses were dealt by San Diego State Saturday. The two wins came at the expense of LA State.

Outfielder Lew Gentry with a .404 percentage leads Poly hitters. Third baseman Owen Hand, out with a leg injury, follows with a .370 average. Catcher Art Dyer claims third position hitting .344, and Mike Tashima is hitting the horsehide at a .333 clip. Reserve infielder Dan Shaw has hit safely in seven appearances at the dish for a .420 mark.

NCAA Ring Finals On Coast in '58

The national intercollegiate boxing tourney is coming to the coast next year.

Following the national tourney held at Pocatello, Idaho last week, it was announced that the national college tourney will be held in Sacramento, March 27-29, 1958.

Poly's Coach Tom Lee states that in place of the Pacific Coast tourney held for numerous years at Sacramento, a California intercollegiate tournament will be held next year in San Jose.

The San Jose tourney would attract all the California schools. The northwest collegiate boxers would participate in an intermountain tourney.

Spikemen to Visit Gauchos Tomorrow

Going against one of Santa Barbara's toughest track teams ever, the Mustang spikemen will have their hands full in the dual meet on the Gaucho oval tomorrow.

In a meet at Los Angeles earlier this year with UCLA, Santa Barbara and the Poly crew, the Gauchos beat the Mustangs by 30 points.

Last week at Stockton Fred Ford showed promise as a sprinter. He grabbed third place in the 100 yd. dash and took second in the broad jump. Bob Haffron was runner-up in the 100 and 220 while Gordon Ustiek tied for first in the pole vault. Cliff Rolland ran a 51.7 quarter mile.

Preferential Voting . . .

of your candidate, in a three-way race, to select and vote for a second choice. Neither can it help him. Only the second-choice votes on ballots giving first-choice vote to an opponent can help your candidate—or hurt his chances of election. But it does give you a chance to help select the winner, in case your first-choice candidate is eliminated.

Voting for the same candidate for first and second choice has the same effect as not voting for a second choice.

Second-place votes will only be counted in case there is not a simple majority of first-choice votes for any one candidate. In this event the candidate with the least first-choice votes will be dropped. Ballots indicating the dropped candidate as first-choice will be retabulated, second-place votes counted and added to the remaining candidates' total first-choice votes.

Preferential voting can be compared with indicating preferences on a mail order for clothing. If you're given space to indicate first and second choice in color, for instance, and you mark both "blue" and blue is not available, you either don't get anything or take whatever is sent to you. In the same way, if you don't take advantage of the opportunity to indicate a second choice in the preferential voting system, you either get your first choice or you take the candidate others have chosen.

The particular system of counting ballots can be important in the operation of a preferential election. At Tuesday's SAC meeting the following rules were established:

1. Legal first choice votes for each candidate will be counted.
2. If no one candidate has a simple majority, the candidate with the least number of votes will be eliminated. (The simple majority was defined as one more than half the total number of ballots with valid first choices marked for a candidate.)
3. These valid second choice votes will be counted and added to the totals of the remaining candidates.
4. If one of the remaining candidates does not have a simple majority of the legal ballots cast (see Rule number 2), the next lowest candidate will be eliminated.
5. If, after the elimination of all but one candidate, this individual does not have a simple majority of the total legal ballots cast, (he will) be the officially elected person for the position, since there are no remaining candidates.
6. If a voter marks only a first choice and no second choice, the ballot will be valid. The first choice will be counted, and the ballot eliminated in the second-choice count.

These rules make it obvious that on the count of first choice ballots, a simple majority is necessary for election. However, when only two candidates remain, in effect, a plurality will elect a candidate.

Health Center Beds Restored to Budget By Senate Reversal

SACRAMENTO (CIP)—A $551,500 item for a health and infirmary building at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, is back in the state budget.

The Senate Finance Committee reversed a subcommittee's decision to trim the budget by that amount last week. The subcommittee wanted to remove the money which provides hospital beds for the structure.

Before coming to Cal Poly, he had been on the faculties of Ohio State University and Oregon State College. He has Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees from Western Reserve University and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Ohio State University.

President McPhee stated that Dr. Maurer's experience as assistant administrator of the Arts and Sciences Division here would be of tremendous value at the southern campus, which is destined to grow from a 100 student enrollment today to a predicted 12,000 students within 15 years.

At the southern campus, Dr. Maurer will succeed Dr. Kenneth Young, who has resigned to become dean of the college at the University of Alaska. Dr. Young has been acting head of the Arts and Sciences Division at Kellogg-Voorhis for the past year, and has been with Cal Poly since 1951.

No information was available on filling Kennedy's position.

Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-priced three? Chevrolet has laid the answer and the proof on the line!

First, Chevrolet won the Auto Decathlon over every car in its field, and over the higher priced cars that were tested, too. This rugged ten-way test (right, below) showed Chevrolet was the champ in handling ease, braking, acceleration, passing ability, smoothness of ride and other driving qualities you want in a car.

Then, Chevy won the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona (left, below) as "best performing U. S. automobile."

It's quite a feeling to know that you are driving a car that performs so well, responds so beautifully and is so finely built. You feel proud, of course. But you also enjoy a surer, smoother, steadier way of going, a keen cat-quick response of power, and the easiest handling you've ever experienced behind a wheel. Just try this Chevrolet (V8 or Six) and see!
