

Educational Equity Scholarships awarded

Ten underrepresented students were recently awarded $1,000 Educational Equity Scholarships for 1991-92, based on recommendations from Student Academic Services and University Outreach Services.

The scholarships, made possible by an endowment established in 1988, were offered to five Hispanics, three African-Americans, one Native American, and one Cambodian-American.

The endowment was created to enhance Cal Poly's ability to admit and retain qualified underrepresented students. An initial fund of $40,000 was created, and with the help of Cal Poly faculty and staff, the scholarship program now totals more than $150,000.

Contributions to the Educational Equity Scholarship program can be sent to the University Development Services office. Checks should be made payable to "Educational Equity." Employees can also contribute through payroll deduction. For enrollment forms or more information, call Eric Doepel, Annual Giving, ext. 6448.

Proposals may be submitted for mini-grants, quarter leaves and assigned time for 1992-93. Funding is contingent on the budget, which has not yet been set. Approximately $75,000 and a full year FTEF position for assigned time is hoped for, and awards will be conditional on the amount available.

Contact the office of Graduate Studies and Research at ext. 1508 for guidelines and application forms.

Professional Studies to be phased out

The School of Professional Studies will be phased out by Fall Quarter 1992.

The school's departments, Graphic Communication, Home Economics, Industrial Technology, Liberal Studies, Military Science, Physical Education, Recreation Administration, and Psychology and Human Development, will be moved to other schools. A decision about where the departments will go should be finalized in the coming weeks.

The School of Professional Studies was forced to take a 30 percent budget cut last year, making it difficult to retain a stable school, said Dr. Robert Koob, vice president for academic affairs.

All publications should be reviewed

Departments are reminded that all university publications (newsletters, brochures, etc.) should be sent to Darlene Slack, director of communications and special events, Adm. 413, for review prior to printing and distribution. For additional information, or to discuss a proposed publication, contact Slack at ext. 2696.

Deadline approaching for faculty grants

The deadline to submit proposals for the State Faculty Support Grant (SFSG) program is March 21. The grants support research, scholarship, and creative activities that help faculty remain current in their disciplines and gain knowledge to strengthen California socially, culturally and economically.

Planning issues topic of March 13 talk

Alex Hinds, planning director for San Luis Obispo County, will speak to area public administrators at a luncheon Friday, March 13.

Hinds will talk on "Planning Issues in Tough Times," at noon at Vista Grande.

Hinds came to San Luis Obispo County in June 1990, after working nine years in Lake County. A former Fulbright scholar, Hinds did extensive work in Ecuador.

Part of a series of public events, the luncheon is sponsored by the San Luis Obispo chapter of the American Society for Public Administration and Cal Poly's Center for Practical Politics.

The series is designed for public employees and staff members of non-profit agencies.

The cost of the luncheon is $7. For reservations call Dr. Dianne Long of the Political Science Department, ext. 2984.

Cal Poly to host ASPAC meeting

Cal Poly has been selected to host the annual meeting of the Association for Asian Studies Pacific Council from June 19-21.

Approximately 300 scholars from Asia and the West Coast are expected to gather to discuss research and issues on Asia.

Tetsuo Najita, president of the Association for Asian Studies, and Robert S. Ingersoll, professor of history and Japanese studies at the University of Chicago, will be the keynote speakers at a banquet to be held June 20.

Graduate students are encouraged to attend and present their work. Members of the Cal Poly community who are interested in presenting their research or attending the conference should contact

Barbara Mori, ASPAC '92 program chair, Social Sciences, ext. 2260.

Johnston receives ASI service award

Hal Johnston, a member of the Construction Management Department, has been selected by ASI Student Community Services to receive the Distinguished Service/Learning Award.

The award is given in recognition of outstanding commitment to community service.

Johnston was chosen because of his work promoting student involvement in academically related service. As senior project adviser, he encourages students to undertake service projects to fulfill the senior project requirement.

One such project resulted in the design and construction of a facility to house Red Cross volunteer dentists working in Encinitas, Mexico. A current project involves Johnston working with students and the San Luis Obispo Housing Authority to design and construct housing for low income families.

Substance abuse education, training

The Personnel and Employee Relations office is working with Student Affairs and Cal Poly's Substance Abuse Advisory Committee to set up campuswide substance abuse training for employees and students. When training dates are set, they will be announced in the Cal Poly Report.

In keeping with the university's commitment to provide education on alcohol and drug abuse, the CPR will occasionally publish statistics related to substance abuse.

According to data compiled by the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence, on average 100,000 people a year die from alcohol-related causes. About two out of every five Americans will be involved in an alcohol related traffic accident some time in their lives. The yearly death toll resulting from alcohol related traffic accidents equals 100 jumbo jet crashes or the entire population of San Luis Obispo.

Who, What, Where, When

Several members of the Speech Communication Department participated at the Western States Speech Communication Association convention in Boise, Idaho: James R. Emmel, professor emeritus, presented a paper, "Cultural Differences in the Communication Spectrum of Japanese and American Business Practices; Michael Fahs presented a paper, "Types for Voir Dire: Tools for Reducing Trial and Error;" David Henry presented a paper, "The President, the Press, and Propaganda: Desert Shield, Desert Storm, and Beyond;" Steve McDermott presented a paper, "Integrating Intercultural Instruction;" Alexis Olds presented a paper, "Self-Disclosure and Satisfaction with Sexual Communication;" B. Christine Shea presented a paper, "Anecdotal Ad Nauseum: An Argument Analysis of D'Souza Illiberal Education;" Raymond Zeuschner directed the Basic Course Conference.

Sidney Ribeau, School of Liberal Arts, was chairman of the Rhetoric and Cultural Diversity Panel at the Western States Speech Communication Association convention in Boise, Idaho.

Tim O'Keefe, Natural Resources Management, recently presented a paper, "La Grande Forestry: New Perspectives," at the Social and Recreation Research Symposium in Ontario. The symposium was sponsored by the U.S. Forest Service to demonstrate the growing importance of social forest values. O'Keefe was a special consultant to the Blue Mountains Natural Resources Institute at La Grande in eastern Oregon, where he advised Forest Service research staff about developing a series of field demonstration areas to illustrate the New Perspectives program.

Mike Malkin, Theatre and Dance, had an article, "Fool's Fire," on the puppetry of MacArthur award winner Julie Taymor published as the cover story in the March 1992 issue of Theatre Crafts.

Tom Eltzroth, Ornamental Horticulture, was featured on the program of the Cloister Garden Series held recently at Sea Island, Ga. He conducted a two-day workshop for professional horticulturists on garden photography, lectured on garden photography, and judged and presented best-of-show awards.

Van pool program

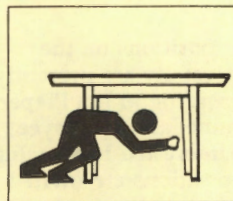

The university's van pool program is looking for additional riders in the Los Osos, north and south county areas. The monthly fee for participating in the van pool ranges from $25 to $35 depending on the distance. Drivers and alternate drivers, who ride for half price, are also needed. Those interested in participating in the van pool program, should call the Support Services Office at ext. 2234.

Beat the Quake! California Earthquake Preparedness Steps to Take

When an earthquake strikes

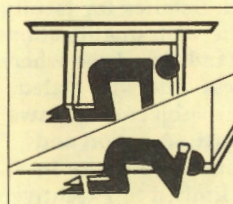

Duck, Cover and Hold

Whether you are in your home, a school classroom, a high-rise or another type of building, it is important to know how to protect yourself during an earthquake. Practice what to do during an earthquake and teach yourself and your family members to react automatically when the shaking starts. If you are outdoors when the shaking starts, get into an open area away from trees, buildings, walls and power lines. If you are indoors, follow the steps below:

DUCK

DUCK or drop down to the floor.

COVER

Take COVER under a sturdy desk, table or other furniture. If that is not possible, seek COVER against an interior wall and protect your head and neck with your arms. Avoid danger spots near windows, hanging objects, mirrors or tall furniture.

HOLD

If you take cover under a sturdy piece of furniture, HOLD on to it and be prepared to move with it. HOLD the position until the ground stops shaking and it is safe to move.
