Dr. Hornaday Will Speak At College Hour Thursday

Dr. William H. D. Hornaday, internationally known for his work in the field of human relations, will speak on "Our World Today" at the first college hour assembly of the year in Crandall Gym Thursday.

While attending Whittier College, Vice President Richard Nixon was Dr. Hornaday's debating-team partner. Dr. Hornaday's interest lies in psychology, philosophy and comparative religions. In his search for knowledge, he has made two extensive tours to the Orient and one to Central America. He has just recently returned from an extended trip to Europe.

Peace Leader

Dr. Hornaday's vast background and deep spiritual understanding have made him a leader in the area of universal peace. A dynamic speaker with a keen sense of humor, his audience senses humility in his conviction.

Dr. Hornaday's radio program, "This Thing Called Life," heard over KFI, Los Angeles, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 10:30 p.m., is rebroadcast throughout the world through the facilities of the Armed Forces Radio and Television Service.

Viticulture Class Makes Trip To Fresno Area

Sixteen students from Ralph Vorhies' viticulture class have returned from a field trip to the Fresno area.

The students were given an opportunity to observe grape growing, packing, and processing techniques at wineries, cooperative grape processing plants, and the USDA Grapes Experiment Station. The group also visited the grape exhibit at the Fresno County Fair.

Dairy Fieldman Joins Poly Staff

C. R. Robinson, widely known dairy field man has joined the staff of Cal Poly's dairy husbandry department.

Dean of Agriculture Vard M. Shepard announced that Robinson will substitute for Russell Nelson, senior dairy husbandry instructor, who is on a one-year sabbatical leave of absence.

Robinson is a former American Quernsey Cattle Club western regional field director. At the present time, he owns and manages Western Quernsey Service, a dairy promotional organization.

A graduate of Ohio State University, Robinson formerly resided in Sacramento.

Veterans Allowance Checks Due Here In Late November

Veterans who entered school during the month of September can expect their education and training allowance checks on or about November 20, announces the local veteran's office.

The office also announces the following actions on the part of the veteran and the school or training establishment are a prerequisite to the issuance of a veteran's first education and training allowance check for the fall, 1957 term:

Assuming the veteran had previously been issued a certificate of eligibility for training under the Korean GI Bill, each of the following actions must have taken place before a veteran may expect to receive an education and training allowance check. First, the veteran must have properly registered with the school in full compliance with all registration regulations.

Second, the school or training institution must have timely submitted an enrollment certificate to the VA. Third, the school must have promptly submitted to the VA a monthly certification of training signed by the veteran and his school, stating that he has been in class all month. The law allows the VA 20 days after receipt of certifications to get checks in the mail.

A delay in the submission of either of these documents may delay a student's education and allowance check. The enrollment certification should be submitted to the VA by your school at the earliest practicable date after the student's entrance or re-entrance into training. Monthly certifications of training must be promptly submitted to the VA at the end of September if the veteran's starting date was Sept. 19 or prior, or at the end of October if the starting date in September was between Sept. 20 and Sept. 30.

Ugly Man In Your Club? Enter 'Em

The closest thing to Frankenstein—that's the objective of the annual Cal Poly Ugly Man Contest being held this week on campus.

Sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity, as a fund-raising campaign for the permanent College, the Ugly Man Contest is open to all campus clubs.

Campus clubs are urged to sponsor the ugliest man in their department and join the festivities. Applications for the contest are available in the student body office, and must be returned by 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Candidates will campaign in costumes and will carry their own ballot boxes. Balloting goes like this: One vote costs one cent, five votes five cents, and so on. Ballot box stuffing is encouraged. A central voting booth will be maintained by the members of Alpha Phi Omega downstairs in the administration building.

The ugliest man will be presented for public view at the bonfire rally prior to the Homecoming game and will ride a float in the parade. The winning candidate and the sponsoring club will be added to the perpetual plaque.

New California Laws Are Put Into Effect

Of the 2,000 new California laws passed that affect every phase of life, there are two that are of special interest to Poly students.

1. If you are under 21 you are better off out of bars—namely because you will now be subject to a $100 minimum fine or even jail if you are caught drinking. This is true especially if you show a phony identification card.

2. If you have ever been convicted of drunk driving, be careful. You will go to jail if it happens again.

Group Starts Tutoring

Tau Sigma, the campus' honorary engineering fraternity, will sponsor a tutoring lab for all undergraduates.

The sessions will be held each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. in Classroom 15. Chairman of the project is Dallas Erdett.

The fraternity will hold an open meeting in the Science Building—time to be announced later—for all engineering students. Speaking on "Tips for Interviewing," will be Eugene Rittenhouse, placement officer.

Student Body Will Vote Tomorrow for Queen

Every Cal Poly student will have a chance to exercise his or her choice in picking a Homecoming queen as voting begins tomorrow at 8 a.m. and continues until 1 p.m. Thursday.

Election booths will be located in front of the Post Office and on the library lawn and will be manned by members of the Homecoming committee.

Finalists Named

Selection of the queen will be made from the five lovely finalists picked from a field of 80 candidates in the contest. The finalists are Nancy Krag, Deanna Larramendy, Jan Tedford, Helen Long and Barbara Unland.

Crowning of the queen will be done by last year's royalty, Barbara Foley, Stockton, at the Homecoming Ball Saturday night Oct. 26 in Crandall gym.

Miss Krag, 18, Arcadia, graduated from Arcadia high school in June. She is a Home Economics major.

Deanna Larramendy, 20, Ventura, is a freshman Elementary Education major having graduated from Ventura high school in June. She was recently elected secretary of her class.

Leadership Officer

Jan Tedford, 20, Saratoga, transferred here from San Jose State and is majoring in Elementary Education. She is secretary of her dormitory, and was also secretary at the Fall Leadership conference at Cambria.

Helen Long, 19, San Fernando, graduated from San Fernando high school in 1956 and is majoring in Elementary Education.

Barbara Unland, 18, Riverside, is an Elementary Education major and graduated from Polytechnic high school in June. She is a member of the Rally committee, the College Union Outlines committee, and the California Student Teachers Association.

Second Year

This will mark the second year that a queen and her court will be selected from Poly's own coeds.

The golden anniversary of Homecoming will be celebrated Oct. 25 and 26 here. Scott Reddington, a senior animal husbandry major, from Sheridan, Wyoming, is general chairman of the 15 student committees handling arrangements for the annual event.

The Cal Poly health center provides two full-time physicians and two full-time nurses and 24-hour medical service.

Sunday, Oct. 20, the Poly archers will travel to Santa Maria to enter the Central Coast Bowhunters' tri-monthly shoot.

Geodesic Dome Needs Heat; Students Seek Answer

Renewed activity on an authentic copy of architect Buckminster Fuller's famed geodesic dome, already built on campus, is under way.

Architectural and air conditioning engineering students plan to test proper heating, cooling and ventilating of the radical but comparatively low-cost and easily constructed type of building.

New Approach

The new approach is through a small, lightweight mockup of the six-ton tubular steel structure that now mounds itself on the parking lot of the architectural engineering department, which, incidentally, is believed to be the only completed genuine geodesic dome on a west-coast campus.

The framework of aluminum tubing, constructed last year, is now receiving final touches under the hands of three senior students with joint sanction of the air conditioning and architectural engineering departments.

Clyde Walters, who claims to have some workable ideas on how to lick the problem of comfort-conditioning the dome, with the

Insurance Available For Student Trips

Students now holding the regular $500 accident insurance policy sponsored by the Associated Student Body can be covered up to $100 by the addition of the trip insurance program, according to Everett M. Chandler, Dean of Students.

Such services include the coverage of any student group financed by the Associated Student Body; any recognized student group or organization; field trips or group activities sponsored by academic departments, and events sponsored by any of the above groups.

The insurance program also covers faculty, staff members, friends, and guests accompanying the groups.

Rates Listed

The rates for trip insurance, which provides up to $500 for each accident while on an official college trip and double coverage for certain specified serious injuries, are as follows: one day, 15 cents per member; two days, 20 cents; weekend (40 hours), 25 cents; three days, 30 cents; four days, 35 cents. Five cents will be added for each additional day.

Any form of travel is acceptable for coverage. The only limitation is a $1 minimum for each sponsored event. For instance, if only two persons were to sign up for insurance coverage on a field trip the rate would be 50 cents apiece although the trip was a one day affair.

Plane Crash Kills Cal Poly Student

An air crash has taken the life of one Poly student, and seriously injured another according to the California Highway Patrol. Dead is Ted Lee Lofgreen, 27, a junior electronic engineer from Riverside.

Joe F. Tilson, 25, an aero engineer from Shell Beach is in critical condition.

According to the CHP, the plane, a Piper Cub, hit a power pole, part way up Ontario Grade, on the Heller Ranch, about noon Sunday. The students were flying home after a weekend of marine training at El Toro Marine Base.

Cal Poly Students May Have Found Fountain Of Youth

It's a closely guarded secret at Cal Poly, but the mythical "fountain of youth" may have been found somewhere on the sprawling 8,000 acre home campus.

Pence De Leon, who over 450 years ago sought in vain for the fabulous fountain, would flip his "coffin" lid if he knew about the discovery of the youth restoring pool—he would, that is, if the Fountain has been found.

Fountain of youth, or no fountain of youth, reports from Cal Poly indicate that new students are younger than last year's students. The college's Health Service reports that the average of the 1,424 new students examined as Fall Quarter got under way with 19.8 years as compared with an average age of 24.09 years last year. Of course, there are more plausible explanations for the decrease in age of new students than a fountain of youth, but nevertheless the downward trend in college students' ages at Cal Poly is evident.

The average age of new women students is reported to be only 19.2 years.

I'M WRITING a new song: "Two Moons Over My Shoulder." Well, the Russians beat us to it, so now there are two "moons" in our sky. No reason for the Russians to brag about that little sphere up there, 'cause for a long time—even before Pres. McPherson's time—the planet Uranus has had four moons, Saturn nine moons, Mars two, and Jupiter 12!

SPEAKING OF STUFF out of this world, I wonder how long it will be before kids are raising their folks about being old fashioned because they (the parents) won't take a "hot" rocket to the moon for a weekend of visiting the cheese factories?

WE'RE GLAD, REAL GLAD!! At least I think most Poly students are glad they live in a section of the U.S. (the West) where the value of a Man is not measured on the bigoted rule of COLOR, CREED, OR RACE, but entirely on the rule of his individual merits as a human being.

We're glad we go to a college where educational opportunity is offered to all, where the competitive spirit is restricted to competition between minds or competition on the athletic field. We're glad that when classes started here this Fall, no picket lines were formed to prevent ANY student from entering. We're glad that no rocks were thrown, that no one was spit on, that no one was cursed at. We're glad!

LET'S HEND exchange students to LITTLE ROCK! Maybe we could teach the anti-integrators in the South some of the lessons in democracy we've learned here in California.

HEAR about the trouble Jack Hubbs got into with his wife Doris the other day? Seems Jack, a printing major, came home from a hard day in the print shop and remarked to the little woman: "Man, the coeds on campus sure are good-lookin' this quarter." The wife retorted cheerfully: "Yes, and the MEN are better looking too!" Jack dropped the subject fast!

HEARD a certain fellow on campus lost 25 smackers on the Braves, Yankee spree... wonder who the sad, broke guy is?

FOR THE PHILOSOPHERS: Somebody said that life is lived on an inclined plane, it's easier to fall down than it is to struggle upward!

NEXT WEEK: I have a sure-fire formula to make you an "A" student... also, I know the three things a gal likes best in a date!!?

Today Is Deadline For Driving Permits

Today is the expiration date for student temporary driving permits, announces J. H. Carrington, supervisor of transportation.

All students planning to operate state owned vehicles must obtain driving permits. Permits are good for one year providing the students' California state licenses are valid. Students possessing out-of-state licenses must obtain a California license before a student permit may be had.

Permits are being issued at the auto shop.

Gamma Pi Delta Plans Breakfast For Alumni

Gamma Pi Delta is sponsoring a breakfast for all former members of the fraternity, Sunday, Oct. 27 at 9 A.M. in the Anderson Hotel.

Don Freeborn, chairman of the breakfast committee, announced that Cal Poly administrative deans will be guest speakers. Those attending should notify Freeborn by Oct. 25, P.O. Box 1053. Members can bring wives or guests and the price is $1.25 per plate.

City Recreation Group Sets Badminton Program

Badminton anyone? The San Luis Obispo Recreation Commission has announced a badminton program to include Cal Poly students, staff members and their families. The group will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 P.M. on Tuesday and Thursday nights in the new junior high school gym.

Participants are asked to furnish their own tennis shoes, gym cloths and badminton rackets. Shuttlecocks may be purchased from the attendant in charge. Shower facilities are available in the gym. Instructors will be present to aid beginners.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Robert Adamson, extension 888, Cal Poly.

In November 1944, Cal Poly received as a gift from the Kellogg Foundation the Kellogg Arboreum Horse Ranch near Pismo consisting of approximately 800 acres.

Barbecue Highlights Crops Club Reunion

A barbecue will be one of the highlights of Homecoming for all Crops Club members and their guests. The annual affair will be held Sunday, Oct. 20, at Estrada Gardens. Chairman of the barbecue will be Laurence Marek.

Members will work on the club float Friday evening in the agricultural engineering building.

Also on the club's fall agenda is the annual Christmas party, Dec. 5.

Eight Poly Archers Win Tourney Honors

Eight Poly bowmen participated in the monthly San Luis Obispo Bowhunters tournament held recently in Santa Margarita. The college archers brought back four first places, as well as four runner-up spots.

Robert Hall and Bob MacInnes placed one-two in the 200 class, while Jack Widman was runner-up in the 250 class entry.

In the 150 class competition, Bob Stewart placed first; and Jerry Wisenor and Lew Kingston took first and second in the 100 class. Joe Inglen and Al Hutchinson swept the novice class, gaining first and second place honors.

WAA Notes

Girls' intramural volleyball started last night with games beginning in the gym at 7 P.M. Although teams have already been organized, anyone who wants to play can still come out and join the fun. The best way to get on a team is to contact your dorm representative. Representatives, as appointed last Wednesday, are Betty Joe Crines, Chase; Barbara Wright, Jeaperson; Terry Bauer, Heron, and Judy Lee, off-campus.

It was decided by WAA that all intramural participants should wear white gym suits this year, which will be furnished, along with lockers, by the PE department. White socks and tennis shoes will also be required. The suits and lockers can be checked out any morning at the gym annex.

Officers Elected

Women's Athletic Association officers and sports heads were chosen at the first fall meeting last week. Peggy McKnight now heads the organization as president, while Virginia Wilson, vice-president; Judy DuBay, secretary; Susan Atkins, treasurer, and Charlene Cobb, corresponding secretary, are the other executives.

Sports heads for the intramural sports program arranged by WAA are Betty Joe Crines, Fall; Nancy Parsons, Winter; and Sandy Tyler, Spring.

Is swimming your interest? The Interclass Swim Meet, an annual fall intramural event, which runs for two consecutive days with awards and trophies, will be open for the first time for both men and women. Sign-ups will be taken in the intramural office by Mrs. Reynolds.

Rain Postpones Colt-SJS Tilt; Will Play Friday

Last week's postponed Colt game with the San Jose State Frosh eleven has been rescheduled for this Friday at 2 P.M. The game will be played in Poly Stadium. Rain and wet grounds forced the Poly athletic department to postpone the tilt.

Colt coach Tom Lee was far from being disappointed over the contest being set back a week. Eleven members of his first year squad were shelved by the flu bug. Of that number, nine were first stringers.

The freshman team mentor has hopes of his crew being at full strength for the visiting Frosh outfit. Friday's game will be the only home appearance for Lee's Colts. In their only outing to date, the Poly squad earned a 12-12 tie with Fresno State's Bullpups.

Admission to the game is free.

West Coast institutions have won the national collegiate team tennis title nine out of the 11 years.

Poly Pounds Peps, 32-18; Faces Fresno Saturday

Caught with their pass defense down, Poly's Big Green pounded out a 32-18 conquest over the pesky Pepperdine Waves last Saturday night on the local turf. The Mustangs, throughout the evening, would take control of the ball game only to have the Waves' serial artist, Jay Roelen, complete passes beyond a napping Poly pass defense for touchdowns.

Roelen, the nation's tenth best small college passer, put on an air circus that gained 302 yards. His efforts were overshadowed by the running of Dick Mannini, Dan Delgado, and Walt Gurney; and the passing of Sir Robert Beathard. Beathard completed 12 of 18 passes for 156 yards, while the trio of leading rushers accounted for 381 of the Big Greens' 582 land yards with gains of 185, 122 and 74 yards, respectively.

Veteran halfback Jim Antoine was utilized solely as a flankman on Hughes' pro-type offense and turned in a creditable defensive job.

The Big Green line ran hot and cold against the Peps. Effects of the flu epidemic were yet visible. Biggest test yet for the Hughemen comes this Saturday night when the Mustangs host Fresno State. The FSC club downed S.F. State last Friday, 37-7, for their first win of the year, compared to three setbacks.

Dear Editor,
In today's issue (Friday, October 11) you ran several articles concerning the Homecoming and its activities. On page 1, and the dress of the dance was described as "semi-formal" and on page 6 the word "sport" was used. Please, oh please, tell us WHICH IS IT?

Veterans' Checks

object to enroll veterans it is in the best interest of the veteran to use his entitlement as soon as he can.

The practice of "saving" it and using it later when they will need it more is in the majority of cases not only ill advised but also unsound.

Cal Vet educational benefits usually are not authorized until all GI entitlement is exhausted or until after a determination has been made that the veteran is no longer entitled to VA Training Allowance.

The VA Office in San Luis Obispo at 864 Santa Rosa St. offers advice, assistance, and counseling to any veteran regarding both his Federal and State educational benefits.

Veterans Asked To Investigate Free School Services

"Veterans, it is in your best interest to use your free school entitlements as soon as you can," according to Howard Barlow of the San Luis Obispo Veterans Administration Office. "This is especially true if you are entitled to Cal Vet educational benefits. The practice by veterans of 'saving' benefits and using them later when there will be more need for them, in the majority of cases not only is ill advised, but also unsound."

By attending school "on his own" a veteran may be in the end depriving himself of a sizeable monthly check which he would receive if he had thought his problem out and chosen wisely.

The San Luis Obispo VA office is at 864 Santa Rosa Street, and offers advice, assistance, and counseling to any veteran regarding both his Federal and State educational benefits.
