

SAC In Long Session Discussing Budget; Campus Radio Included

By Carol Risse
El Mustang Staff Writer

Student Affairs Council pondered the 1961-62 budget for four hours and 40 minutes at this week's session and then decided to table the motion to accept the budget until next Tuesday.

The only action taken began when George Maybes moved to incorporate two changes in the proposed document which would increase the budget's expenses by allotting $800 to spring football and $800 to campus radio. The money would be drawn from the decreased expenses of basketball guarantees by $810 and the College Union Fine Arts Committee by $60. The remaining $780 would be derived in the amounts of $700 from last Saturday night's spring football game, which realized $875 gate receipts, and from College Union Spring Sing which would transfer $80 to the cause. SAC's vote was affirmative.

Victor Leedy moved to accept the proposed budget with the associated changes. Discussion ensued for 11 minutes after which time Vic Dolente moved to table Leedy's motion until next week's meeting. Fifteen yes votes smothered the possibility of having the budget accepted at this time, and the five no votes suffered a discouraging defeat.

Nearly two thirds of SAC waited in impatient anxiety for the campus radio issue which appeared on the last page of the budget.

Several possibilities for allocating funds to this cause were discussed during the past two weeks with the proposal that almost 10 per cent of two judging teams' budgets be reduced. Other suggestions circulated while Finance Committee and SAC tried not to hurt too many individuals, but the answer seemed to fall out of heaven when the unanticipated income figure from last Saturday night's football game was read.

It can be found in the budget that wherever an issue to insure safety is concerned more money is appropriated. Two hundred dollars has been recommended for ambulances in varsity and frosh football.

The greatest added expenditure in football next year is the training table, where the gridders are fed special meals. This expense has previously been maintained by the Boosters Club in the amount of $3,015.

Some groups were cut more than others and only one was deleted altogether, that being the Sailing Club. After much cogitation on the part of SAC the members will once again weigh the proposed budget on a whole scale and with the advent of Tuesday night, the student body should have a budget that is workable despite the difficulties faced because of the limited available funds.

Seniors Urged To Get Breakfast Tickets

Tickets are now available for the Senior Breakfast to be held Saturday, June 17, at 8 a.m. in the college dining hall.

Tickets are free for seniors and a charge of $1.50 for guests. Three guests is the limit until one week before the breakfast and then additional guest tickets may be purchased.

"Seating capacity is limited, so seniors are urged to get their free tickets now in the ASB Office," said Ken Fisher, chairman of Senior Breakfast Committee.

Pre-Scheduling Notice

Baxon Wraith, registrar, reports that there will be no pre-scheduling advisory meeting on Thursday June 8 as is stipulated on the college activities calendar. Anyone wishing to attend summer classes should contact his advisor or department head during their regular office hours.

Track Meet Aids Memorial Fund

Proceeds from the Golden West Invitational Track Meet to be held at Los Angeles State College June 17 will go to the Cal Poly Memorial Fund to aid families of those killed or injured in the Toledo air crash.

The meet, in its second year, is sponsored by the Monterey Park Junior Chamber of Commerce. Outstanding high school track stars from over the nation will participate. More than 100 participants are expected including 25 from out-of-state.

Jack Germain, general chairman of the meet, said this week that the mile run, will be known as the Stewart-Baughn Memorial Mile. The event is named in honor of Bill Stewart and Rod Baughn who were well known in the Monterey Park area.

Lee Foreman, student body president-elect, says, "This is a wonderful gesture by the Monterey Park J. C. and I know all the families will be appreciative."

$24 Million Plan Under Construction

Sidewalk superintending is a new unapproved course of study for students. Opportunity is unlimited for the college's 4,800 men and women students to study all phases of construction from placing concrete to interior decorating.

The six major buildings which are now in various stages of construction are part of the college's five year $24 million expansion program. Buildings under construction are the Engineering Building, the Food Processing Building, The Little Theater and Music Building, the Graphic Arts Building, English and Speech Wing to the Erhart Agriculture Building and a new college library wing.

The Little Theater and Music Building will be in full use next fall. The two-story music wing includes two classrooms, an instrument rehearsal room and individual group and practice rooms. Some are already in use. The 500-seat capacity Little Theater will feature a large fully-rigged stage, often described as a stage producer's dream.

The English and Speech wing of the Erhart Agriculture Building will be ready for occupancy in September. It will provide 11 lecture and special purpose rooms, a conference room and 82 offices.

Members of the Printing, Technical Journalism and Industrial Engineering Departments are looking forward to January 1962 when they are slated to take up residence in the new Graphic Arts Building.

The Cal Poly Foundation's campus store will also move into the new Food Processing plant next January. This one story structure will house facilities for milk, meat and dairy product's processing as well as fruit and vegetable canning and freezing.

In September 1962, the Engineering Building will open its classrooms and laboratories to students for the first time. It will provide complete facilities for the Architectural Engineering and Technical Arts Departments and will provide supplementary facilities for the Mechanical Engineering, Welding, Aeronautical Engineering and Metallurgical Engineering Departments.

1000 Students Participate In Spring Week Activities

With a college population of 4800 and a big spring week-end on the calendar, approximately a total of 1000 turned out for one event or another during the weekend. This does not include the football game. Opening event of the weekend was the Spring Sing with 600 to 700 students, faculty and towns people attending. Master of ceremonies, Roger Hills stole the show with his quick wit, guitar strumming and singing ability.

Highlights of the sing, and creating the largest audience reaction was Fremont Hall satirizing college life. "From the Swine Unit to the P in Stereos," was cleverly written and well presented. Fremont Hall won the production award for their presentation.

Wesley Fellowship singing "Go Down Moses," and winning the sweep stakes award for the evening, was quite impressive, and made an attractive appearance.

The beach party held Sunday was a success for the amount of people that attended. Not more than 100 people took part in singing, sailing and eating. Sailing was the most popular event of the day.

The music was fantastic, the decorations were good, but the attendance was poor at the first annual Spring Prom, sponsored by the Junior and Senior class. In Dave Pell's words, "It's been a great dance and a lot of fun and we enjoyed playing to this small, intimate group." Not more than 110 couples enjoyed the great music by Pell. Out in almost full force were members of the College glee who gathered around the musical group with their wives and dates to listen to the smooth music of the Octet.

"We felt the weekend was a success and didn't expect big attendance due to the holiday," says Arlene Vokoun, activities advisor.

PROPOSALS MADE

Final Examinations To Be Given Only At Scheduled Times

A special committee of the College Council dealing with irregularities during final examination week presented recommendations to the College Council for forwarding to President McPherson, reported the staff bulletin early this week. The recommendations which the council proposed are as follows:

1. It is the recommendation of the College Council that the administration reaffirm the importance of the final examination in the instructional program.
2. Final examinations should be given at scheduled hours. Those examinations given at other than scheduled hours cause considerable inconvenience to other instructors and also to many students.
3. The practice of giving final exams at the last class meeting should be prohibited except as presently authorized. This short-changes the student in terms of the class hours of instruction that he is entitled to receive.
4. The omission of the final examination should be prohibited as it deprives the student of that portion of the learning process that he should follow in preparing for the final examination by a thorough review of the quarter's work. This review is important in fixing the information in the student's mind.

Instructors were directed to check Section 604.1 of the Employees Handbook. The section reads, "Every instructor is expected to give a final examination as indicated in the handbook—final examinations are given in all courses and at the times designated on the schedule."

Library Hours During Finals

The library is again extending its evening hours for the convenience of students during the examination week.

Hours follow: On June 8, 9, 12 and 13 from 7:45 a.m. until midnight; June 10 from 8 a.m. until midnight and June 11 from 6 p.m. until midnight.

Students Suspended For Weekend Actions

Five students involved in various unwarranted actions two weekends ago were dismissed for the remainder of the school year following administrative action last week.

Four students involved in a serious incident at an approved off-campus housing unit were suspended. Two of the students lived at the house and the other two lived on campus.

Another student involved in a fracas at Cypress St., which caused injury to three students, was also suspended for the remainder of the quarter.

Final Schedule

Find your class time in the body of the table. At the top of the column is the day of the final examination; to the left is the time of the examination. For a three-hour course, such as a class Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 9 a.m. the time of the final is indicated as Monday, June 12, 7:30 through 9:30 a.m. In lab classes the final is given during the last lab period.

The following items should be considered when determining your examination hours:

1. One hour lectures are limited to one hour final examinations.
2. Evening classes as well as all Welding and Machine Shop will hold their finals the last class or laboratory meeting.
3. Combination lecture-laboratory classes will use their first meeting hour to determine the day on which the examination will be held.

In your opinion, what has been the most outstanding social event of the year, excluding Poly Royal?

Jerry Hayek, Physical Education, Junior, Alhambra: The home concert. I think the turnout and the music was real good. It was so crowded the gym seemed too small. I think they should have the home concert twice a year. This would build up the spring concert even more.

Bonnie Jean Johnson, Elementary Education, sophomore, West Covina: At the very beginning of the year when Chris Barber was here. Everyone was dancing and having a lot of fun. I would like to see him and other entertainers at Poly more often. Chris Barber really swings!

Colleen Cavanaugh, Elementary Education, sophomore, Monrovia: The home concert because a lot of people turned out. It's something the students did themselves. But I definitely think they should have the concert someplace more comfortable. Those gym seats became hard after a while.

Gloria Jannell, Social Science, sophomore, Santa Ana: The evening Cal Poly hosted the Limelights still impresses me as the most outstanding social event of the year including Poly Royal. What we need are more professional entertainers like the Limelights and Chris Barber. Big attendance for shows like those put on by such groups indicate this campus is appreciative of good entertainment with less emphasis on weekly and monthly dances, stumps, etc.

Gerrel Shepard, Home Economics, Junior, Tulare: The most outstanding event that I've attended was the dorm exchange party with Fremont Men's Dorm. The guys that planned it seemed to go all out and make the girls feel welcome.

Peace Corps Emissary Tells Goals, Hopes Of Program

SPECIAL REPORT

"We are not sending Peace Corps volunteers out for manual labor since the majority of these countries have a surplus of man power," said Paul Slawson, special assistant for the director of recruitment, when he addressed potential Peace Corps volunteers on campus last Friday. Slawson said that skills were needed in geology, civil engineering, farm management, chemistry, physics, English, vocational education, laboratory technicians, public health, recreation directors, athletic directors, and coaches, social work, home economics and construction work. "It is the aim of the Peace Corps to bring the middle level skill to underprivileged countries," Slawson said.

On the subject of Peace Corps examinations, Slawson said that two types are given, a teaching test to people interested in teaching and a skills test to others. After the examination those successful will be interviewed in Washington. Those selected will be sent to a training center for a period of three months for specialized training.

A person joining the Peace Corps will be under a two-year obligation when he or she enters the training center. When questioned on selective service deferment, Slawson answered, "We see no reason except for an emergency like Korea, why a Peace Corps volunteer would be drafted."

"We don't expect volunteers to live in a grass hut," Slawson said. "And the 'Ugly American' or American tourist type is what we are trying to avoid," he further commented.

When in the Peace Corps service a person will be given board and room by the government of the country he is living in. The volunteer will receive $5 a month in local currency and will sign a contract stating that he will receive no more than $100 a year from an outside source. The U.S. government will also bank $75 a month for the volunteer which will total approximately $1500 when he returns home. "It is our aim that while living in the country the volunteer will live in a modest manner," Slawson said.

Mustangs Upset Alumni 14-8 In Grid Battle

Cal Poly football rooters received a welcome surprise last Saturday night when the local varsity upset the Alumni 14-8 on the Mustang gridiron. The varsity, short of experience, but willing to tangle, jumped to a 14-0 lead over the graduates and held tight. The first touchdown of the season came in the third period on a 28-yard drive which was capped by a seven-yard pass for the six points. Jack Jordan pitched the scoring pass to fleet-footed halfback Bob Parker. John Panagakos came in to throw to Fred Whittingham for the two-point conversion.

Before the third quarter busser sounded the Mustangs again hit paydirt. Halfback Jim Fahey snagged a pass thrown by Alum Bob Beathard and rambled 60 yards for the score. The try for the extra point was no good and the Mustangs led 14-0.

At this point the Alumni squad showed a rascally dabble attack when Al Moriarty received a pitch-out from Bob Neal and tossed it long to Jim Cox. Cox rambled for a 65-yard gain before he was hauled down on the Mustang 16-yard line.

The Varsity then dug in and held the Alumni on the two and the Alumni had to try again from the 30. This time Neal hit Craig Brown for the score and Al Moriarty shot over the line for the two point conversion.

Both squads started off slow in the game and the Alumni was moving backwards until Freddie Ford broke loose with a long run to open up the game.

The varsity came close to scoring during the first half but they were stopped on the three-yard marker.

PE Department Offers Summer Swim Program

The Physical Education Department will again offer a summer swimming program. The program will include instructional classes for children and also an opportunity for students, staff and dependents to participate in recreational swimming activities.

William L. Miller, graduate Physical Education major, will be in charge of the natatorium under the direction of the Physical Education Department staff. The program will begin June 24 and will extend until Aug. 28.

All dependent participants (w/ten children) must have a 1961-62 Cal Poly swimming card. These may be secured at the natatorium on Monday, June 25, or at any time that the pool is in operation after this date. It is necessary that the parents secure the cards for their children. A child must be 48 inches in height before he or she may participate in the program.

The activities will be conducted under the following schedule: Monday and Wednesday, 10 a.m. to noon, lessons for intermediate and advanced swimmers; Tuesday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to noon, lessons for non-swimmers and beginners; Monday through Friday, 2 to 4 p.m. recreational swimming. The pool will not be open evenings, or on Saturday or Sunday.

Mercy Bowl Contestants Get Traditional Turkey Dinner

Contestants for the Mercy Bowl football game in Los Angeles Thanksgiving Day will put on the "feed bag" in the regular Turkey Day tradition.

Thanks to the generosity of Ed Crowley, general manager of the Sheraton West Hotel in Los Angeles, Bowling Green University and opponents—the winner of the California Collegiate Athletic Conference—will be treated to a full course Thanksgiving Day dinner following the contest.

The game is being held in Memorial Coliseum to raise funds for the Mercy Bowl Classic Fund. The ultimate goal is to raise $200,000 to take care of expenses of the Cal Poly football team players who lost their lives, and those injured in the Toledo plane crash Oct. 29. Crowley, who was a pole vaulter at Oregon and Stanford, has a special interest in the contest—he attended University of Oregon with Cal Poly Football Coach LeRoy Hughes.

Another surprise package recently arrived for participants of the Mercy Bowl contest—the donation of $600 (a block of 200 tickets) to the classic fund by the "Sportsmen of the South," a University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) booster group.

Continuing the work begun in "The Crisis of the Old Order" and "The Coming of the New Deal," volume three of the series is "The Politics of Upheaval."

Roscoe Drummond, writing for the New York Herald Tribune book review, says: "Professor Schlesinger writes for everybody. The experts agree that he's worth reading. What I want to add is that he's a joy to read. When I say Arthur Schlesinger is everybody's historian, I do not mean that he writes history made insignificantly simple. Rather, he brings significant history alive."

Everyone is invited to hear Perello's review at noon in the staff dining room Tuesday. This will be the last of the 1960-61 series of Books At High Noon.

You're needed...just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet...that of serving your country, when and where you are needed.

And the Air Force needs college-trained men as officers. This is caused by the rapidly expanding technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs. You have the potential to profit from advanced training...then put it to work.

There are several ways to become an officer.

First there is Air Force ROTC. Another program, relatively new, is Officer Training School. Here the Air Force commissions certain college graduates, both men and women, after three months' training. The navigator training program enables you to win a flying rating and a commission. And, of course, there's the Air Force Academy.

An Air Force officer's starting salary averages out to about what you could expect as a civilian. First there's your base pay. Then add on such things as tax-free rations and quarters allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay, and 30 days' vacation per year. It comes to an attractive figure. One thing more. As an officer, you will become eligible for the Air Force Institute of Technology. While on active duty many officers will win graduate degrees at Air Force expense.

Why not contact your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. 8C15, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.
