Big Crackdown Continues On 'Stickerless' Drivers, Sheriff's Office Helps

By JIM McLAIN, Editor, El Mustang

While the number of cars being parked on campus reportedly decreased day by day last week, Campus Security office sources reported Saturday that more than 1254 parking citations were issued to students and staff during that period. For the most part, tickets were given to drivers without the required parking sticker displayed on their windshield. A few others were issued for speeding and like violations.

Seven Delegates Go to San Diego For MUN Confab

Seven Cal Poly students will represent the Philippine Islands at the 12th Annual Model United Nations (MUN) conference at San Diego State College tomorrow through Saturday.

Headed by Technical Journalism major Neil Norum, Cal Poly's delegation will include Tom Gartland, Carol Hughes, Margaret McKnight, Patricia Owens, July Silva, and Edward York, all Social Science majors. Thomas Nolan, Social Science instructor, will be advisor.

A committee of instructors selected the seven delegates in February by competitive written and oral examination. Each member of the delegation will represent the Philippines on various MUN organs and committees. Nolan said that the students have gone through extensive preparation for the conference.

The group will leave at 4:00 a.m. tomorrow and will stay at the El Cortez hotel in San Diego. All MUN sessions and meetings will be held on the San Diego State College campus. 1000 students from 100 colleges and universities are expected to participate.

The Cal Poly delegates' trip is being financed by the Associated Student Body. Students interested in participating in next year's Model United Nations should sign up for the activity next Fall Quarter.

State Employees Host Atascadero Group

Members of the California State Employees Association will host a program of variety music featuring the music and drama patient group from Atascadero State Hospital, tonight in the Little Theater, at 7:30. The event is open to students college staff, other state employees and townspeople.

Raymond T. Hesse of the Cal Poly Maintenance Department handled arrangements with the hospital, working with Dr. Lee J. Sandritter, the superintendent, Marlon Henry, and Paul Johnson.

Enforcement of parking regulations became extremely strict this quarter as students were told that unless they purchased the required parking sticker, dismissal from college would follow their receipt of three parking citations. Students receiving two parking tickets would be put on disciplinary probation.

In order to enforce the new parking stipulations, the Campus Security Department has acquired the assistance of the San Luis Obispo County Sheriff's office.

Campus Security officials declined to say Saturday how many Sheriff's office personnel are involved in the new crackdown on "stickerless" parkers. They would neither confirm nor deny that this office is helping with enforcement of the regulations.

Sheriff's office sources report however that at least three special deputies are checking cars on campus.

Dean of Students Everett Chandler said yesterday that no action has yet been taken toward any students because of parking infractions.

While complaints are many among students, apparently not too many of them have reached administrative officials.

Many students are of the opinion that parking regulations are discriminatory, because students living in on-campus residence halls receive parking stickers when they pay their room and board fees. On-campus students who do not own cars, however, must pay the same fees.

Housing Coordinator Robert Bastron said that he had "not received very many" complaints on this issue. He emphasized the fact that on-campus students are allowed to park only in certain lots near the residence halls.

Students are again urged to either purchase parking stickers or leave their cars off-campus.

SPINK ATTENDS CONFAB

Bob Spink, graduate manager, returned Friday from the week-long National Conference of the Association of College Unions for staff members, held at Purdue University in Indiana. He was sent by the Associated Student Body.

Six Students to Try For Three Offices In ASB Elections

Six students will compete for three ASB offices in Student Body elections to be held next week. It was announced yesterday by Dave Hettinga, Election Committee chairman. Elections will be April 17 and 18.

Vic Dollento, a Dairy Husbandry major, Najib Hamdan, Fruit Production major, and Lee Dodge, a Farm Management major, are seeking election to the office of ASB President. Hamdan is from Beirut, Lebanon, and is the first foreign student in Cal Poly history to seek the office.

Jim Clark, a Business major and current Chairman of the Music Board of Control and Edmund Humer, an Aeronautical Engineering major will vie for the office of ASB Vice President.

Carolanne Rizzo, an English major long active in student government, is unopposed for ASB Secretary.

Campaigning is expected to be heated as competition is keen for two of the three offices. Most candidates spent all of last week laying out campaign strategy and obtaining signatures for their petitions.

All candidates met last night with the Election Committee to clarify campaign rules and present their platform. Actual campaigning got underway immediately following the meeting.

A "Campaign Carnival," where all candidates hope to meet the students and present their platforms will be held Saturday evening in Crandall Gym. A special assembly will be held Monday.

ASB candidates will participate in a special "Meet the Press" conference Friday at Noon in the Snack Bar.

Dumke Named State College Chancellor

After nearly three months of off-and-on discussion and debate, the State College Board of Trustees late Thursday named Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, former president of San Francisco State College, as chancellor of the California State Colleges.

Dr. Dumke succeeds Dr. Buell Gallagher, who resigned the chancellorship February 13 to return to his former position as president of City College of New York.

Dr. Dumke's appointment was recommended by a Trustees' subcommittee and unanimously approved by the entire Board.

Cal Poly President Julian A. Malhee, who was recommended for the chancellorship by San Luis Obispo County State Senator Vernon L. Hargrove, sent Dr. Dumke a congratulatory telegram Thursday.

"Just learned of your appointment to Chancellor," Malhee said, "congratulations and best wishes for the future for you and for all of our State colleges."

Public Relations Coordinator Howard West said that he "does not anticipate" any statement from President McPhee as to whether or how Dr. Dumke's appointment will affect Cal Poly.

Dr. Dumke's selection marks the end of a lengthy controversy which started with Gallagher's resignation in February. Some members of the Board of Trustees were ready then to give immediate approval to Dumke's becoming Chancellor, but Gov. Edmond G. Brown and various faculty and civic groups from throughout the state intervened and asked for a delay in the selection so that other recommendations could be heard.

Dr. Dumke holds degrees from Occidental College and UCLA and taught at both schools before assuming the San Francisco State Presidency in 1957.

He has authored several books on California history and was an alternate delegate to both the 1948 and 1952 Republican national conventions.

REHEARSING AND MORE REHEARSING

Home Concert Slated for Friday; Music Makers Polishing Numbers

BY DIANA YON, Staff Writer

Amid the heat of April, and that of growing tension and anticipation, campus music performers are polishing their numbers for the Home Concert, to be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in the Men's Gym. The concert, the highlight of the year for the Music Department, has been uppermost in the minds of all concerned—the Collegians, Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, the Majors and Minors, the Quartet, the Women's Sextet—and Harold P. Davidson, Music Department head.

"With extensive preparation being put into the concert, it is bound to be the best presented," Davidson said.

And the preparations have been extensive.

The first step was learning many songs, from which a select few were chosen by a vote of the groups in the performance.

The next step was rehearsing, rehearsing, and more rehearsing—getting all the bugs out of each number—and continued rehearsing.

Third, but certainly not least, came the extensive campaign to sell tickets. With students in the Music Department launching the sales, responsibility of ticket distributions is solely up to them. This week tickets are on sale in the downtown area, in the ASB Office, and all around campus from group members, for $1.25 adult admission, and 75 cents student admission.

This year there is an addition to the concert—a curtain. This curtain is unlike any other—because it will cut concert time—and sitting time—by 45 minutes, unless something drastic happens.

Graduate Manager Bob Spink's "Spectator Packs," consisting of a do-it-yourself blowup cushion and a pair of binoculars, will be on sale before and during the performance for $1 per pack. This is guaranteed to make the concert more enjoyable, says Spink. "Mine is still full of air—and I've been using it for a month—so they must be good," he added.

Dining Hall to Use Student Managers

Applicants for the new student dining hall managers' positions are being interviewed by Dr. Jules Stone, counseling center head. The student managers, both male and female, will take the place of those on the cafeteria staff who now hold the positions.

Student managers will have included in the daily duties such things as checking to see that all areas are furnished with rolls of foodstuffs, assisting students in finding seating, encouraging student suggestions on preferences of foods, checking to see that cafeteria property is not removed from the dining area, and maintaining order in their area.

All suggestions and ideas will be reported to the dining hall management where they will be carefully considered for action.

Jack Hertram, dining hall supervisor, said, "We hope in having student managers, the students themselves will feel more free to press their feelings and suggestions, and in this way we will be able to do our job better. We are also planning more barbecues as the weather permits."

Survey sheets being distributed to various parts of the campus are part of a program set up by the Saga Food Company which services campuses all over the state. These survey sheets will help in evaluating the foods preferred by the students.

Needed: Change In Attitude

Something is wrong with the attitude of the administration of this college.

In refusing a recent Student Affairs Council recommendation that the Cal Poly Parachute Club, Inc. become an approved campus organization, those who head this school, in our opinion, exhibited an amazing display of poor judgment.

Main reason for refusal was, "that the college could not stand the publicity which would be forthcoming in case there was a second accident related to air." This decision was made by the Executive Council, a group of high administrative officials who debated the issue at some length.

Of course there will be some adverse publicity should a second air accident occur. But will the organization's status as to whether it is recognized by the college really make that much difference? We doubt it.

The Cal Poly Parachute Club has done everything conceivable to insure its safety and that of the school. It has become a corporation, attained adequate insurance, and adopted stringent by-laws. The administration asked for this protection the first time the club applied for recognition.

This is more protection by far than that given to the football players who died at Toledo.

Too, should the group be discriminated against because of the tragedy that happened to this school? Is that event to have influence over every decision that is made here?

While the grave tragedy is not to be forgotten, it should not have the influence it apparently has.

The Poly Parachutists' question is to be studied presently by the Advisory Committee. We urge them to reconsider the Executive Council's decision and give the Poly Parachute Club a chance.

Poly Boxers Show Power By Winning Five Titles

BY BILL BROWN, Sports Editor

Before 2000 screaming fans Saturday night in the Men's Gym, five Mustang boxers won titles in the Pacific Coast Boxing tournament. Of the eight titles up for grabs, Poly mittmen won five and Chico State snared the other three. Winning Mustangs were Frank Godinez, "Cowboy" Clayton Ollar, Roy Scialabba, Hilmer Weyler and Gary Chilcott.

Selected as "outstanding fighter" was Roy Scialabba, and the "sportsmanship" award went to John Henry Rivers of Chico.

This was the first time the tournament, which featured 80 fighters was held at Cal Poly. Represented were boxers from Chico State, Santa Clara, University of Nevada, University of California at Berkeley, Stanford and Cal Poly.

First title win for Poly was Frank Godinez's victory over UCB's Dennis Natali in the 139 lb. division. "Cowboy" Clayton Ollar brought triumph number two for the Mustangs by stopping Santa Clara's Tony Giacalone in the third round of the 147 lb. bout.

Roy Scialabba won the 165 lb. crown by decisioning UCB's Rodger Kent and reversing a previous loss, which had been Scialabba's.

OUTSTANDING FIGHTER

only defeat of the year.

Registering the fastest KO of the tournament and garnering the 175 lb. title, Poly's Hilmer Weyler stopped Santa Clara's Ron Astbury in 1 min, 40 sec. of the first round.

Heavyweight Gary Chilcott with only one fight this year, defeated a tough Mike Dowling of Stanford to win the heavyweight title.

Coach Ed Jorgensen's netters dropped two vital tennis league matches to the Santa Barbara Gauchos and the L.A. State Diablos over the weekend. Even with the return of No. 2 singles man Pete Edwards, the Mustangs were overpowered, 7-0.

The double loss left the Poly team with a 2-6 overall record and a 0-4 in CCAA competition.

Mustangs 5-4 Win Snaps Loss Mark

Mustang baseballers returned from Santa Barbara after a three-game encounter over the weekend, winning one and losing two, but the lonesome win broke the squad's seven game losing streak.

In the first contest Friday the Mustangs dropped a squeaker 11-9. Leading 9-5 after six innings the Mustangs looked like winners, but a Gaucha homer in the seventh touched off a six-run rally to beat the Poly batmen 11-9.

The Mustangs came back to take the Gauchos 5-4 in the first half of a double-header Saturday behind the pitching of Ted Tollner. Star man at the plate was Lyman Ashley who belted three base hits.

In the second game the Gauchos outhit the Mustangs, winning 3-0, despite a fine performance by pitcher Dick Guerra who allowed the Gauchos only three hits.

The Mustangs now have a record of 1-8 in CCAA competition.

Golfers Drop Match To Mighty Spartans

Although playing one of their best rounds of the season, Mustang golfers still lost 38-16, to the San Jose Spartans at the San Luis Obispo Country Club course Saturday. The loss left coach Chuck Hanks men with a 3 win, 4 loss and 1 tie season record.

John Lotz, San Jose, took top honors with a round of 71. Close on his heels was Poly's John Callin who carded a 74.

def. Healey CP 6-4, 6-0; Garrigan SB def. Chau CP, 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles—Reid-Gaynor SB def. Batchelder-Edwards CP, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2; Hall-Garrigan SB def. Jacobson-Healey CP, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.
