Mock Disaster on Campus Will Stress Real Situations

Disaster strikes Cal Poly. Perhaps a building explodes, a bus crashes, fire guts a classroom. Could you help? Would you?

At 11 a.m. Thursday a mock disaster will hit the campus for Cal Poly's first exercise in facing this type of situation.

More than 80 mock patients will be treated for shock, burns, fractures, and other injuries at the football stadium.

The training program will involve the Campus Health Center, Security, R.O.T.C. and Red Cross. San Luis Obispo hospitals and police will be alerted for possible assistance.

Dr. Earl Lovett, Health Center medical officer, stressed realism as the keynote and success of the exercise. Throughout the day, as mock patients are cared for at the stadium treatment site, passers-by and students observing may be asked to help medical officials.

Wounds will be authentic looking with members of the Drama Club applying gruesome, realistic make-up to the patients.

Although about 100 persons will participate officially, Dr. Lovett explained that anyone might be asked to help as in an actual situation.

"The exercise will be good training and good experience for everyone on campus," said Lovett.

Chris Thorup to Review 'Red Ruby' Today Noon

Chris Thorup, senior Social Science major, will review "The Red Ruby," by Agner Mykle, today at Hooks at High Noon.

An epigraph says, "This book should be read twice because it has a message." Thorup says, "This is true, and it takes the two readings to get it."

The Swedish author has written two novels, translated into English, and widely read in the U.S.

PRESS OFFICERS ELECTED

Leading the Press Association next year will be Jim Grundman, president; Mitch Hider, vice-president; Esther Alexander, secretary; and Susan Tabbe, treasurer. Elections were Thursday.

SAC Eyes Long Talks

Student Affairs Council members anticipate another long session tonight in Lib. 114 at 7 as they have another "go-around" with incoming president Vic Dolente's reorganization plan. The following points of the plan remain to be discussed:

1. Election of Inter-class Council chairman
2. Election of Residence Hall Council chairman
3. Election of representatives at large

Added recommendations of the committee include a foreign student council, an off-campus living group council, SAC representation on the Executive Commission, and a committee for continuation of study of two and three branch systems for the future.

During the four and one-half hour session last week, SAC covered three out of 10 recommendations, including ASB Treasurer election, formation of a Board of Hearing, and divisional council representation, the only recommendation upon which any action was taken.

ASB President Lee Foreman will give a long-awaited report on the Advisory Commission's decision to refuse recommending to the administration that the by-laws of the Cal Poly Parachute Club, Inc. be approved so that the club may be recognized as an official campus organization.

On May 8 Foreman told SAC, "It was the general feeling (at a meeting of the commission May 8) that the refusal of the by-laws of the Cal Poly Parachute Club, Inc. apparently was made on value judgments of the Dean of Students with unanimous support by the Executive Council."

Sophomore Class Representative Joe Zallen said that SAC should organize a committee to again present the Parachute Club's petition of recognition to the administration.

Also on the agenda will be reports from Finance Committee, Charter Committee, Foreign Student Orientation Committee, and the Spring Awards Banquet Committee.

There will be a special SAC meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in Lib. 114 to discuss the budget.

'Systems Engineering Adviser' To be Featured at AIEE Meet

Kenneth Poovy, billed as an "adviser in systems engineering" at IBM, will speak to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers tomorrow, 7:30 p.m. in Ag. Ed. 128.

Refreshments will be served. All EE students are invited, the Student Associate branch of AIEE announces.

Interschool Boxing Faces KO at Poly

BULLETIN—The President's Cabinet took no action on the boxing issue Friday, but decided to defer the matter until their June 18 meeting, according to Dr. Dale W. Andrews, dean of the College.

Whether Cal Poly will participate next year in intercollegiate boxing was under consideration Friday afternoon when the President's Cabinet met to discuss the issue.

Dean of Students Everett Chandler announced Thursday that Physical Education Department Head Dr. Robert Mott, Athletics Coordinator Vern Meacham and the college medical staff are definitely against continuing intercollegiate boxing.

The Dean said he used to be an avid boxing supporter, but now his views have changed. His reason, "Over a period of four years, boxers take a number of pin pointed hemorrhaging hits which could easily lead to serious and permanent injury."

Chandler also stated that no money has been appropriated for boxing in this year's budget, but money could be taken from the ASB contingency fund if the college officials decided to continue with the sport.

Band Concert Set For Friday Night

Cal Poly's 54-member Symphonic Band will wind up the season with a formal concert Friday with George C. Beatie, directing.

Scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre, the concert will be high-lighted by excerpts from the Academy Award winning motion picture, "Westside Story" and "American Civil War Fantasy," a composition recalling many of the melodies popular during that time, and much of its drama.

The spring concert is expected to become an annual feature of the spring season at Cal Poly according to Beatie.

It climaxes a schedule of appearances that has seen the band play before audiences in Avenal, Lemoore, Coalinga and Atascadero, in addition to concerts at Hancock Junior College and Santa Ynez High School this spring.

Tickets for the May 25 event are priced at $1.25 each for adults and 75 cents for children.

Poly Group Tours Top Dairy Farms

Students enrolled in the Purebred Herd Management class toured five of the top dairy breeding farms of the nation last Friday.

The group was under direction of Harmon B. Toons, head of the Dairy Department.

Objective of the field trip was for students to observe how successful dairy farmers operate.

The first scheduled stop was made at the Lavaca Farm in Hughson. The second stop was at Ralph Woodridge's farm in Oakdale; the third stop at James Pappa's farm in Modesto, the fourth stop in Arlinda at Wally Lindskoog's farm and the fifth stop near Turlock at Charles Crivelli's Quernsey farm. Final stop was at the Brown Swiss State Sale at the Turlock Fairgrounds.

Business Practices On Farms Praised

"A person may find dairymen claiming they have enough hay to make a profit, but accounting will prove this not to be true," said Russel T. Swendsaid, agricultural accountant at the annual Farm Management banquet. Swendsaid said good accounting will show considerable difference in individual dairymen or other farmers' ability to make money.

"Bankers are not interested in getting their money back, per se," Swendsaid said, "but are more interested in judging businessmen who have demonstrated the ability to make a profit. These people represent excellent customers for the banks."

"Foolish income tax reporting also has proven costly to some farmers," stated the veteran CPA official. "Some farmers have been content with a cheap, fast job of reporting and have lost valuable legal deductions thereby. Sometimes farmers have been fool-hardy enough to maximize deductions every year, only to find themselves involved in terrible legislation which could not be covered by compensating costs. Farm Management Club Scholarships and awards were also presented during the banquet. James D. Clark, FM sophomore from Parris, and William H. Adams, FM freshman from Morgan Hill received scholarships. Leonard E. DeRuitter was the Master of Ceremonies for the gathering of 95 members and guests.

Humorous and musical entertainment was provided by the Tequila Valley Boys, a Farm Management group, headed by James Whyland.

CSEA Elects New Officers For 62-63

The California State Employees Association (CSEA) recently elected new officers and chose Chester Bishop of the Mechanical Engineering Department as president and Emmett Bloom of the Animal Husbandry Department as vice president.

Paul Kenyon of the Business Department is the new secretary, and Mary Lee Green of the accounting office is treasurer. Delegates to the General Council are Fred Bowden and Warren Anderson, both from the Electrical Engineering Department. Dominic Perello, Social Science instructor, is a candidate for Regional Director of the CSEA.

Sophomores Set Annual Class Fete for Sunday

On Sunday the Sophomore Class will hold its end-of-the-year class banquet in the Staff Dining room at 6:30 p.m. Highlighting the banquet will be a panel discussion.

Class card holders will be admitted free. Tickets are available from Roy Killgore in Shasta, Scot Addler in Fremont, Jana Mosgar-Zoual in Santa Lucia, or at the ASB Office. Admission for non-card holders is $1.

The panel will discuss public welfare. Two Democrats and two Republicans will participate.

Home Economic Majors Plan Senior Breakfast

All Home Economics majors are invited to attend the annual Senior Breakfast at the San Luis Obispo country Club, Sunday, June 3 at 9:00 a.m.

Bus transportation will be provided to and from the breakfast, which will leave Santa Lucia Hall at 8:15 and College Way at 8:20.

Tickets are $2 and may be purchased in room 225 Santa Lucia, or room 225 Trinity Hall.

'62 College Annuals Now At ASB Office

Students who have reserved copies of the 1962 El Rodeo are urged to pick up their books as soon as possible. Those who have not already paid for a copy may have their names put on a waiting list and obtain their copies later this week. Price of the yearbook is $6.00.

Dramatists Will Put Two One-Acts on Boards; 'Monkey's Paw,' 'Bowler Hat' Bow Thursday

Two one-act plays will be presented this quarter, sponsored by the College Union Drama Committee. "The Monkey's Paw" and "Man in the Bowler Hat" will be given Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Cast for "The Monkey's Paw" includes Rodger Hille, a sophomore Printing major from Sacramento, who will portray Mr. White, a man in his middle sixties. Judy Mebane, a sophomore Journalism major from Bakersfield, will portray Mrs. White, also in her middle sixties. Gary Webb, sophomore Technical Arts major from Santa Monica, will be Herbert White, the son.

Dave Harper, junior Social Science major from Lompoc, will act as Sergeant-Major Morris, with Rich Saylor, a sophomore Architectural major as Mr. Sampson. Kathy Harper, a Journalism major from Ben Lomand, is stage manager. The play is being directed by Keith Nielson of the English and Speech faculty.

Setting for the play is the outskirts of Fulham, the eastern swamp end of London, in an old-fashioned cottage. The story centers around superstition, belief in the supernatural controlling human destiny and its influence on human nature. A cockney accent will be carried throughout the play.

Hille and Mebane were paired in a Winter Quarter play last year, "The Beautiful People," as brother and sister. Now they are paired again as husband and wife, and change in age from their late teens to their middle sixties.

The "Man in the Bowler Hat" cast includes Lonnie Allen a senior English major from Selma, as the hero; Derek Mills, a junior English major from San Luis Obispo, as the villain, Bob Sanders, a sophomore Electronics Engineering major from Carmichael, as the bad man; Rae Colvard, a sophomore Social Science major from San Luis Obispo, as Mary; and Billie Carr, a sophomore Social Science major from Bakersfield as the heroine. Millie Manning, a major from Ingewood, is stage manager for the play. It is being directed by Jack Hyams, a Printing major from Albany.

"Veteran Cast"
This situation farce revolves around the Rajah's ruby and a mistaken identity of who has what and where. The original English setting will be transposed to the central California scene.

All of the actors, with the exception of Miss Colvard, Harper, and Saylor have been in previous campus plays. Mills and Miss Mebane portrayed the rolls of Mr. and Mrs. Keller in the Fall Quarter play, "All My Sons." Webb, Sanders, Miss Carr, and Miss Manning all appeared in last quarter's play, "The Male Animal." Hille also appeared in "All My Sons."

Besides the two plays the two nights of entertainment will also include a modern dance by Judy Arnold and Billie Carr, to music from the "Westside Story."

Cardinal Key Taps FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK Nineteen Members

Nineteen women students were tapped last week for membership in Cardinal Key, upper division women's honor and service society. The novices will recite initiation pledges at a banquet on Wednesday 8 p.m. at This Ole' House.

A grade point average above that of the college's average, and outstanding record in co-curricular activities, and good citizenship are the requirements for considering potential members. The group performs such services as ushering, charity drives, and hostessing various school events.

The initiates include: Annarac Arjo, Jackie Paul, Joyce Potter, Shirley Dublin, Mary Hallahan, Carol Ann Rizzo, Libby Hatch, Sandy Thixton, Prudence Brown, Judy Ryman, Sondra Shaw, Leslie Gunke, Carole Pickens, Joanne Armstrong, Betty Gallband, Mary Kell, Iris Koluveck, Sally Plumer, and Coralee Swanson.

A slate of new officers will take over when they are installed at the banquet. They are: President, Toni Kelley; Vice President, Pam Lettow; Secretary, Irmales Wiggins; Treasurer, Janice Leonard; Historian, Jan Rhoda.

COMPLIMENTS TODAY

This is to be something different. While we may raise a little Cain with those students who would rather see editorials in the student newspaper only when something is to be criticized, we have decided to do some complimenting today.

After hearing the Music Department's Home Concert recording, we wonder if the student body realizes how fortunate it is in having such talent as the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and the Collegians so readily available. The Collegians, for instance, are probably one of the best college dance bands in the country. Their music compares very favorably with that of many of the nation's leading dance bands.

The above organizations are a tribute to themselves, to Cal Poly and to Harold P. Davidson, Music Department chairman, who organized these groups and taught them the music he loves so well.

Others deserve complimenting too. SAC, for instance, for taking up the ASB Reorganization Committee's plan for a revised student government and giving it a complete hearing, even though discussion sometimes ran in circles.

We also thank the Grounds Department for finishing the landscaping of the Graphic Arts Building. It looks as though we're in here to stay now. Incidentally, the Grounds workers do a great job everywhere on the campus which is a showplace for visitors.

Lastly people who read this before you did deserve a word. These are the students who do the production work on El Mustang. Printing is a big job, and as far as we are concerned, the Printing Engineering and Management Department handles it well.

Was this wasted space? We don't think so.

—J.Mc.

Poly Alumnus Former Grid Star Returns as Mentor

A former Poly athletic star today is the new football coach for freshman and also new instructor in the Physical Education Department.

Victor A. Buccola, ex-star in football, boxing and track in the early '50s, will take over his new posts next Fall. Coach Tom Lee of the freshmen will be added to the varsity grid staff, following a number of successful yearling sessions. Lee's new job is considered a promotion.

Buccola is now head football coach at Mark Keppel High in Alhambra and formerly was at College of Idaho and Caldwell as head track and boxing coach and assistant varsity football coach.

He was a member of the '58 Poly grid which went through a nine-game season undefeated and was co-captain the next year. While a student at Poly he was active in student government and was a member of the ROTC. He holds both a bachelor and a master's degree from Cal Poly. He is married and has two children.

Paper To Increase To Eight Columns

In order to keep pace with increased campus enrollment, El Mustang will expand to an eight column newspaper next fall. It will continue to be published twice a week.

The expanded size is preparatory to future plans for a daily campus paper, according to Clyde Heester, head of Technical Journalism.

Student Wives Club Installs New Officers

Newly-elected officers of the Student Wives Club were installed by outgoing officers recently at a luncheon when outgoing officers were presented tokens of appreciation. Mrs. Julian McPhoe was a special guest.

Outgoing officers are Mary Jane Moffet, president; Mariynn Norton, vice president; Jan Ogle, recording secretary; Roberta Cooper, treasurer.

Officers Elected By Poly Phase Club

Newly elected officers of the Poly Phase Club were installed at a banquet held at the Golden Tee Restaurant.

Heading the club next Fall will be Russ Mitchell, president; Jens Hansen, vice-president; Loren Bowman, treasurer; Fred Ervast, secretary; Dave Blahon, social chairman; Tom Cree, historian; and Bill Zuber and Lamont Youngborg, publicity chairmen.

Kennedy to Speak for ABM Banquet Saturday

J. Russell Kennedy will be the featured speaker at the Agricultural Business Management Department annual banquet on Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in the Staff Dining room.

"Are You Prepared?" will be the topic.

Kennedy is general manager and executive vice-president of Calcot Ltd., a cotton grower's cooperative with headquarters in Bakersfield.

Articulation Team Counsels Jaycees

An Articulation team traveled throughout the northern part of the state last week giving counseling and guidance about Cal Poly's four-year curriculums to students at seven junior colleges.

Members of the team were Curriculum Coordinator J. Philip Bromely, Animal Husbandry instructor Emmett A. Bloom and Roy E. Anderson, head of the Business Department.

The team conferred with staff members and students at Sacramento City College, Yuba College in Marysville, Shasta College in Redding, College of the Siskiyous in Weed, Lassen JC at Susanville, Sierra College at Rocklin, and American River JC at Sacramento.

Varsity-Grads Tilt Scheduled Saturday

The second annual Varsity-Alumni football game is scheduled Saturday at Mustang Stadium, with many of Poly's all time football greats out to avenge last year's 18-6 varsity victory.

This year's team is being organized and captained by Carlos Gonzales, '59 and Carl Bowser, '60.

Last year's Alum team was a reunion of the 1958 Mustang squad with 17 of the 80 alumni from that Championship team. Many will be back.

Among the former Mustangs playing this year are Ted Tollner, Skip Stratton, Rodger Kelley, Bob Johnson and Fred Brown of the 1961 team; Russ Woods represents the 1960 team. Boxcar Cooper, a 800 pounder, will be back from the 1959 team.

Bob Heathard, Claude Turner, Willy Hudson, Rich Max, John Allen and John Madden from Poly's CCAA championship teams of 1957 and 1958 will also appear.

Bud Chadwick of '52 '53 and '54, and Jim Cox of '54 and '55 will be back. Cox was a star pass receiver.

Musti Award In New Home; Trinity Tops Spring Sing

By MITCH HIDER, Staff Writer

A colorful and fast-moving, Broadway-styled song and dance medley by 41 Trinity Hall coeds brought down the house and brought home the Musti Trophy at Cal Poly's 1962 Spring Sing, Friday in the Men's Gym.

Entries in the sing this year involved nine clubs and dormitories and nearly 800 participating students. An audience of about 800 watched division awards go to Tenaya, men's division; Santa Lucia, women's; Wealy Fellowship, mixed; Hillel, specialty; and Trinity, production.

Student Body President Lee Foreman announced the winners as College Union Chairman Jack Kayes presented the trophies.

Pat Palmer, Trinity coed and director-writer of the winning entry, accepted the two trophies for her residence hall.

As the program began, master-of-ceremonies Paul Jacob introduced each entry which responded with a snappy refrain from backstage. Sequoia Hall began the competition with a quintet singing "Moon River." Tenaya Hall's barbershop crooners provided two trim tunes—"By The Light of the Silvery Moon" and "Roll Jordan

Roll." In the setting of the Geneva Conference, Rally Club donned international costumes and sang an original, "Break Down That Iron Curtain."

Last year's Spring Sing winner, Wesley Fellowship, sang "Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God" and quickly changed the mood to do "Banana Boat Song." Bridge Club's entry, a barbershop quartet neatly trimmed "Kentucky Babe" and "Naughty Lady of Shady Lane."

After intermission, Trinity Hall opened with a high-stepping "Hey, Look Me Over," "You Can Catch A Man With A Gun," "My Momma Done Told Me," "Anything You Can Do," and "We Enjoy Just Being Girls."

Six Hillel Club members internationally flavored the evening with "Heaven," "Vh Mosha," "Harvaoh Iinjan," "Go Down Moses," and "Artsa Alinu." Fourteen Santa Lucia coeds dressed in pastel shades provided "Sound Of Music," and "My Favorite Things." Tenaya Hall entertainers appeared as black-faced minstrel singers to close the competition with "Charlottown," and "O! Arks A Movin'."

The entries in Men's, Women's, Mixed and Specialty divisions were judged for singing, appearance, and arrangements. In the Production division competition the winner was determined by singing, choreography and attire, and audience appeal.

Printing Students View 'Cold Type' Composition

Twenty-five members of the Printing Department made a field trip to the Bay Area last week to observe cold type composition, a photo reproduction process of printing.

The group visited General Converting and Laminating Co. and Standard Register in Oakland, Security Lithograph, San Fernando, and the San Rafael Independent Journal.

A combination banquet and seminar with Poly Printing alumni in the Bay Area concluded the two-day excursion.

Draft Boards Need Class Rank Records Office Urges Deferrees

All male students with draft deferments who want end-of-the-year class rank and standings (Form SSS 109) sent to their local draft board should contact the Records Office before May 31.

The Records Office emphasized that deferments are granted on class standings and students should keep their draft board up to date.

Six Electronic Students Awarded $1310 In Scholarships by Engineering Groups

Six Electronic Engineering students have been presented scholarships by the electronic industry totaling $1310. Awards were made at the tenth annual IRE banquet last Wednesday.

The scholarships were awarded on the basis of scholastic achievement, need and participation in campus activities. The scholarship competition was open to all Electronic Engineering students.

The banquet, which was held in the staff dining room, attracted 180 IRE members. William J. Miller, president of the Western Electronics Manufacturers Association (WEMA), was speaker. His topic was "Personal Pioneering."

Scholarship presentations were made to Donald Olsen, David Swanson, LeRoy Faust, Robert Goldsmith, Victor Wallace and Donald Beck.

A $250 scholarship by WEMA was presented to Olsen, a junior EL student from Santa Maria.

Swanson, a freshman from Eureka, was also recipient of a $250 WEMA scholarship.

A $250 Neely Enterprises scholarship went to LeRoy Faust, a Bakersfield sophomore.

Robert Goldsmith also received a Neely scholarship of $250. He is a sophomore from San Luis Obispo.

The Hewlett-Packard Company of Palo Alto gave a $60 scholarship which was presented to Victor Wallace, a freshman from Fresno.

Donald Beck, now a senior at San Marcos high school in Santa Barbara, was presented the final $250 scholarship. Beck will enter Cal Poly next fall.

The C. E. Knott award was won by Jack Seward, a senior EL student. It was presented by Harold J. Hendricks, IRE faculty advisor. The award is in honor of C. E. Knott, former Dean of Engineering, the "Father of Engineering" at Cal Poly. It is presented annually to the senior EL student who has made significant contributions to the IRE.

Paul Dougherty Revises Crops Book

Paul Dougherty, former head of the Crops Department, has completed the revised edition of his text, "Field Crops in California." Dougherty recently presented the first copy of the revised edition to H.H. Burlingham, head of Agricultural Education and Teacher Training.

The new edition is a joint effort by Dougherty and Dino Petrucci, a Madera high school vocational agriculture instructor. It is designed primarily for use in high school vocational agriculture and junior college courses.

The text was first published by Dougherty in 1955 while he was head of the Cal Poly Crops Department and was based on his experience with California crops.

Officers Elected for Two New Councils

Effective next Fall, the Arts & Science Council will be split into two separate councils. At the May 16 meeting of the present Council, next Fall's officers were elected for both councils.

Heading the Applied Arts Council are Dave MacDonald, president; Adelaide Smith, vice-president; Esther Alexander, secretary-treasurer; and Bill Nutting and Larry Hubbell, SAC representatives.

Composing the Applied Sciences Council are Derek Mills, president; Wally Burlingame, vice-president; Judy Carpenter, secretary-treasurer; and Jana Mosgar-Zouial and Glen Orren, SAC representatives.

Secondary Education is the Cal Poly major with the highest overall grade point average 8.2.

Two Students Win Senior Ball June 15 Set For Madonna Inn

Two Farm Management students have been awarded $50 scholarships by the college's Farm Management Club. The recipients were William H. Adams of Morgan Hill, and James D. Clark of Perris. More than 105 students and guests attended the awards banquet to hear Russel T. Svendsen, Los Angeles farm accountant, offer tips on business procedures.

TECHNICAL ARTS SPEAKER

Thursday's Technical Arts Society meeting will feature Alexander W. Bellkew, long-range planning coordinator for Aerojet General Corporation's Azusa plant, as guest speaker. The meeting will be held in Administration 214 at 7:30 p.m.

Grade point average for men at Cal Poly is 2.88 and for women 2.50.

Senior Ball June 15 Set For Madonna Inn

The Senior Ball, the last social event in the college careers of nearly 800 graduating seniors is scheduled to take place Friday, June 15, at Madonna Inn.

The Ball and a night club style dinner will begin after 6 p.m., with the Collegians performing for the dance from 8:30 until 11:30.

RSVP's for the dinners must be turned in to Senior class officers by June 10th, according to Lee Faxton, Senior class president.

There are 710 candidates for Bachelor degrees at Cal Poly in June 1962.

Social Scientists Elect Officers for Next year

At a recent meeting of the Social Science Club, officers were elected for the coming year.

They are Mike Neiggemann, president; Roy Lovetang, vice-president; Karen Husomeyer, secretary; Leon Montalvo, treasurer; Anthony Taylor, publicity chairman; John Amabile.

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

By BOB FIELDS

FALLACY:
The "jewels" in a watch are strictly ornamental.

FACT:
The hard, durable surfaces of the jewels in the mechanism of a fine watch are used to reduce points of friction, so they are very functional to the accurate precision of the watch's movement. Some "off-brand" watches, however, do add extra jewels that are non-functional.

CONCLUSION:
The honored names of the fine watches in our display are your assurance of accuracy . . . and quality you can trust.
