Disc Sale Scheduled Next Week

Records of the 1963 Home Concert, given by the Cal Poly musical groups, go on sale next week. They may be purchased in the Music Department from Harry Clyde, any member of the Glee Club or Collegians, or at the booths to be set up in the El Corral Patio. There are two records, one a specialty record with numbers from the Majors and Minors, Women's Sextet, and other novelty acts and arrangements from the concert program. The other is the Home Concert record featuring the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and the Collegians. The specialty record costs $2.98, and the Home Concert Record will be $3.98. According to Chris Thorup, who is in charge of record sales, this will unquestionably be the finest Home Concert Record ever produced on this campus. Thorup said, "Sales are really moving and anyone interested in the specialty record should sign up immediately, as there are only a limited number to be offered. There have already been 300 records sold in the Music Department alone." The records are only available to Cal Poly students, faculty, and alumni. Others wishing to purchase the record must obtain it through one of the above members.

May 10 Deadline For Applications

Application forms for Fall Quarter housing will be distributed to students by resident managers, and must be completed and returned to the managers by May 10, according to Robert Hostrom, housing coordinator. Payment dates are July 1 for women students and July 15 for men students. "Students are cautioned to get their payments in before the deadline. Payments received after the deadline will not be accepted by the college," warned Hostrom. Housing licenses will be handed to all resident students who re-apply before June 1. "Any campus resident student who does not receive an application form or a license should contact the head resident immediately," Hostrom added. All current resident students will be assigned to the hall and room of their choice before any new applicants are assigned. Fall Quarter fees will be $263, which includes room and board, three meals a day Monday through Friday, and two meals each Saturday and Sunday. Notification of room assignments and roommates will be mailed to students by September 1, 1963. Out-campus students who have applied for housing for the Fall Quarter will be mailed licenses on the basis of date of application.

Fee Increase: How Much Goes Where

Pucker-up For Pickle Week

This is "New York is a Nice Place to Visit or Live Month" and is one of 15 special month-long observances for May, 1963. There are also 21 special weeks and four special days this month. For instance, "National Pickle Week" will be observed May 22 to June 1.

Special month sponsors are promoting better hearing, car care, foot health, sour cream, ice cream, white bread, bikes, radio listening, personal affairs, water systems, taverns and home improvement. To top it off this is also "National Clean Up—Paint Up—Fix Up Month."

The first week is dedicated to American camps and Rhode Island heritage.

"Be Kind to Animals Week" is observed May 5-11 along with mental health and national goodwill. Family Week and Girls Club Week continue through May 12.

May 11-18 gets in the swing of spring with "Let's Go Fishing Week." That is also a salute to youth week and frozen food week. The mothers of our nation receive recognition May 12 on their special day.

Other weeks observed after mid-month, salute hospitals, realtors, cotton, letters from America, brand names, national highways and American Merchant Marine books. National Maritime Day is on May 22. May 18-30 are the tentative dates for the sale of Veterans of Foreign Wars poppies.

May 26 is the beginning of "Work and Pray for Permanent Peace Week." May ends with an academic holiday for Cal Poly students—Memorial Day.

Poly Hosts Future Farmer Confab

Approximately 1250 high school students representing some 220 California Chapters of the Future Farmers of America convened on campus last week for a series of activities including the state convention, parliamentary procedure contest, and the state judging contests.

Russel Nelson, Dairy Manufacturing instructor, was honored by the FFA with the "State Honorary Future Farmer of America degree" for the State of California.

Jim Miles of Fortuna, Humboldt County, was selected as top man among the six and named "Star State Farmer." Other winners included Arthur Ruffin, Corning High, Tehama County, Super Region; Joe Recondo, Salinas High, Monterey County, South Coast Region; Leighton Richardson, El Dorado High, Placerville, Central Region; Bill Harris, Carpinteria High, Imperial County, Southern Region; and Ronnie Ray, Chowchilla High, Madera County, San Joaquin Region.

Each of the State Farmer winners will be offered $100 by Bank of America to help cover expenses to the National FFA convention to be held later this year at Kansas City, Mo.

New state officers elected were president, Dan Chatham, Madera; vice-president, Don Vasconcellos, Ripon; secretary, Jim Bliss, Fortuna; treasurer, Ray Corio, Tulare; reporter, Frank Miller, Manteca; and sentinel, Jack Haisinger, Grass Valley.

El Dorado High school of Placerville won the parliamentary procedure championship. Hanford High School and Modesto High School respectively placed second and third places.

Judging winners include meats, Tulare High School; dairy, Los Banos High School; milk, Hanford High School; livestock, McArthur High School; poultry, Bakersfield High School; land, Pacific High School; and, Bernardino. The winners will compete in next fall's national judging contest.

In the remaining seven classes the winners were Hanford High School, agricultural mechanics; Fortville High School, farm power; and farm machinery; Modesto High School, tree judging; Placerville High School, Valencia, ornamental horticulture; Madera High School, truck crops; and Oroville High School, economic entomology.

RECORD CROWDS ENJOY 2-DAY FAIR

Poly Royal Hailed As 'Biggest And Best'

By JUDY KENT

Memories are made of this... Poly Royal 1963 takes its place among past reflections and thoughts as the Cal Poly campus turns to planning a bigger and better '64 event.

Looking back on the activities of the Poly Royal weekend can bring pride to everyone who made the event a success. An estimated 20,000 visitors enjoyed the "Country Fair on the College Campus" and took home at least a smattering of knowledge about many of the departments which exhibited their works.

Many attendance records were set and honors were showered on students who worked hard all year long to make Poly Royal possible.

The two-day event was packed with festivities which began with the shot of the ROTC cannon on Friday morning and wound up with the Coronation Ball.

An all time attendance record at the carnival was noted Friday night when nearly 4,000 people tried their hand at the various games of skill and chance. Many ended the evening at the dance which featured Nappy Lamare and his Dixieland music.

Rodeo thrills were witnessed by approximately 4,000 enthusiasts who saw Cal Poly's team share the top honors with the University of Arizona. Cal Poly won the men's team events with the women's team taking second in the competition. Fine weather brought out a turn-away crowd on the final day of the event, Saturday.

A Cal Poly turtle brought the honors home in the second annual tournament when the college's Circle K racer won the sweepstakes as the fastest running turtle.

McPhee's Okay Sought For Vote

Another student body card fee increase election may be held this month. If President of the college Julian A. McPhee approves a request from Student Affairs Council to hold a revote, a special election on the fee increase will be held on either May 21 and 22, or May 28 and 29.

SAC passed a "resolution requesting a fee increase revote" after heated debate at last Tuesday's council meeting.

The fee increase referendum was defeated in a campus election held last month by a margin of 44 votes, 1285 to 1191. Had the measure passed, President McPhee would have requested the state college chancellor's office to raise the Cal Poly student body card fee from its current $18 to $20.

The fee increase passed overwhelmingly at Cal Poly's Pomona campus, with a 68.5 percent majority. This vote will stand regardless of future fee increase elections held at this campus (approval of both campuses is required to effect the increase).

The revote resolution was introduced at the April 21 SAC meeting by senior class representative Tom Bragg. Before the motion was tabled it ran into heavy opposition led by Agriculture Council representative Ken Fowle.

"We tried last year on the fee increase, we tried this year on the fee increase — and got our noses bloodied both times," argued Fowle. "We just have to face up to it."

Debate on the resolution reopened at the April 28 SAC meeting. Some discussion urged that SAC consider if it was proposing a revote because the election was unfair, but the motive of most argument was expressed by Finance Committee chairman Lee Foreman:

"If SAC thinks the fee increase is to the benefit of the college, it should approve the resolution. The 27 representatives here know what goes into the student activities campus — the students don't know."

The resolution was passed by a split vote — 13 for, 10 against, and 1 abstention.

If the fee increase revote resolution is not approved by President McPhee, or if the increase is voted down again in another election, SAC may consider another scheme to provide more finances.

This alternate plan was proposed by Ken Fowle at the close of the council meeting. It would offer the student an opportunity to purchase in addition to a student body card an "activities card" which would permit the holder to attend campus events at reduced rates.

"This is one way that has worked quite successfully at other colleges," stated Fowle.

RESOLVED, that the Student Affairs Council, meeting on this date, April 29, 1963, request President McPhee to authorize a special fee increase election on either May 21 and 22, 1963 (first choice) or May 28 and 29, 1963 (second choice), these dates having been cleared by the Associate Dean—Activities, and that the election procedures, approved by the President of the College for the April 16 and 17 fee increase election, be followed in this special election.

Secretariat

By CAROL ANN RIZZO, ASB Secretary

With only five more Student Affairs Council meetings left this year, the ASB officers, the Council and the general student body can't pick up their marbles and go home yet. There are several pertinent issues facing all persons concerned (that's us, all of us) one of which is the Fee Increase election.

If President McPhee authorizes another election, the vote will be put before the student body once again in the latter part of this month. This time there will be no ASB officer campaigns nor academic holidays to interfere with this most vital issue. Undoubtedly there will be pro and con publicity and campaigning. This is all right so long as slanderous lies are not imposed upon the students.

SAC voted last week to hold another election with the approval of the President of the College, and based their reason, in part, on the fact that misinformation was distributed which led students to believe untruthful facts about what would happen if the proposition passed.

Everyone reading any materials publicizing either pro or con sides of the fee increase issue should be especially aware of the signature.

The notorious misinformation circulated before the last election was unsigned. Be aware of the facts as they truly are.

If you are one who voted no last time because you don't know the facts, it might be worthwhile to find out what they are.

Ask your SAC representative, come into the ASB Office, or consult "El Mustang" staff members.

If student leaders felt this issue vital enough to suggest another election, they must feel some good will come to the students with its passage.

May I urge you all to vote in this election providing the President of the College deems it fitting to have one. Consider the short-term and long-term benefits to be derived from the increase.

Very simply, we now pay $15.00 a year for Associated Student Body membership. Next year and

School Spirit Decline

Editor:

A recent letter in this paper referred to the downfall of school spirit and the administration's hand in this decline.

The pursuit of students at Poly to attain their choice of entertainment is being restricted. Whether one wears levis, hats, bermudas or what have you, resistance or disapproval from the administration to events such as stamps etc., is completely unfounded.

It is apparent that someone in each year after that, we would pay $20.00 for membership. This figure is the maximum amount any State College student body may assess itself for membership in its association of students. This is the ruling of the State Board of Trustees. Under the present laws, the fees cannot be raised any higher than $5.00 and cannot exceed $20.00.

Contributions to "Mailbag" should not exceed 100 words. Editors reserve the right to edit and to delete publishing letters that are in the opinion of the editor, in poor taste or libelous. All communications must be signed by the writer. If a note is placed in this paper as a signature, it is permissible but the editor must know the true name of the author.

Knocks Postcards

Editor:

It does seem strange that our Poly Royal postcards require postage from the individual student. Not only do they require postage, but 5 cents at that. Why not regular postcard rates? And why not prepaid? Aren't the postcards mainly for publicity purposes? It would seem so, since little or no room has been left for one to write a message.

"JUST WONDERING"

Editor's Note:

All postcards over the normal "penny postcard" size must go first class, a U. S. Post Office requirement. Can you feature the school paying 5 cents apiece for 12,500 postcards? We can't. True, the message space was very limited, but that given your imagination an opportunity to go to work, doesn't it. Next year you may have to pay for the postcards before you can use them. Did that thought ever occur to you?

Reaperbacks Questioned

Editor:

Is Shakespeare Pornographic? Probably Mr. Hill, the bookstore manager, would answer the above question with a firm yes, because when students want pocketbooks he can only think of a pornographic library.

Of course, the students might read a play by Oscar Wilde and this would be horrible since he was homosexual, or a novel by Emile Zola, with a prostitute as a heroine. Since Juliet is really a bad little girl, and Romeo does nothing to improve her morals, the name Shakespeare must sound to Mr. Hill like a swear word.

Actually the book store is more like a 5 cent and 10 cent store, since it sells everything from tooth paste to jackets except that one can not buy anything for a dime. I think we had better get rid of Stripe toothpaste, Mr. Hill; it might be misread.

Congratulations

Editor:

Having been a candidate for ASB President, and having lost, I would like to thank the student body and my campaign committee for the spirit of earnestness shown for the spirit of earnestness shown in the election. I am a vigorous, intelligent state for the 1963-64 year. May the "El Mustang," "El Rodeo," and the Journalism Department always keep their clients posted as in the past.

Congratulations to the winners.

Frosh Appeal

Editor:

During Poly Royal the Freshman Class was fortunate enough to receive two telephones for use of communication between the Poly "P" and the campus. During the two day festivities the phones, valued at $120, were stolen.

If the phones are not returned, the Freshman Class will have to reimburse the company which was kind enough to loan the telephones. Will the responsible party please return the telephones to the ASB office or Steve Snow, Fremont 307. No questions asked.

Do you think Charlie can win a ribbon?

That's what Joan Anderson, 4-H girl, is striving for: a blue ribbon for Charlie at the County Fair.

Working for excellence is one of many fine principles which the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America inspire in their youthful members.

Honoring their purposes, our Company annually provides 74 first-year college scholarships for 4-H and

Showmanship Winners

PORK PARADER . . . Stan Sears, sophomore Animal Husbandry major, gives some of the credit to his "little" helper for his newly acquired title of grand champion swine showman at Poly Royal.

DEEP IN THOUGHT . . . An Electronics Engineering student explains some of the intricate machinery to a Poly Royal visitor. The department conducted an open house during the two-day event with many visitors seeing a fraction of the numerous and complicated tools of the trade.

IT'S WAY OUT . . . The man in the background isn't wearing a space helmet—this object of much curiosity in the Electronic Engineering Department is actually a cutaway model of the Telstar satellite.

CHARMING MISS . . . Cathy McClelland, a freshman majoring in Home Economics, was among the many models in the Poly Royals fashion show.

WOW! . . . Kids are attracted by many things and robots almost top the list. A senior project mechanical man draws the attention of this future space-man.

DEARLY BELOVED . . . It was faster than Las Vegas at the Carnival's Marriage Mill, as this eager couple demonstrates before the beaming "deacon."

INSEPARABLE . . . Like bread and butter, flowers and women go together. There is nothing that attracts a female eye easier than a beautiful flower arrangement.

WET WEST . . . Four girls line up for the next number in the Wet West show held during the Poly Royal festivities. They are (l to r) Maureen Parker, Marilyn Fahey, Paula Connolly and Cathie Thompson (climbing steps). The show, sponsored by the Physical Education Department, was a water ballet with a western theme.

ALL DONE! . . . A Fresno State calf roper signals he's finished as a little bundle of Hereford lies on the ground during the Poly Royal Rodeo.

SIDE SHOW . . . There's plenty of action and thrills observed from behind the bucking chutes. Several collegiate cowboys straddle the fence here for a close look at the show.

ROUGH RIDE . . . This was just one of the thrilling events that emerged from the 23 Poly Royal rodeo. The rider shown through the wire fence in the above picture is working the saddle bronc event.

THROUGH THE SLATS . . . Rough and tumble, that's how some of Poly Royal rodeo activity looked when viewed between the slats of the bucking chutes.

HONORED GUEST . . . Carl "Gus" Beck (right), Father of Poly Royal, receives congratulations from College President Julian A. McPhee as Poly Royal Chairman John Eggers looks on. Beck is retiring after serving the college for 31 Poly Royals.

DRAWING CARDS . . . Projects and exhibits in the Architecture Department always draw an overflow of Poly Royal guests. This year they proudly displayed their new facilities in the Engineering Building.

AWARD WINNERS . . . Santa Barbara High Royal. The event was sponsored by Alpha Psi School captured the Best Play award from five Omega, a national honorary drama fraternity, other high schools in a contest held during Poly

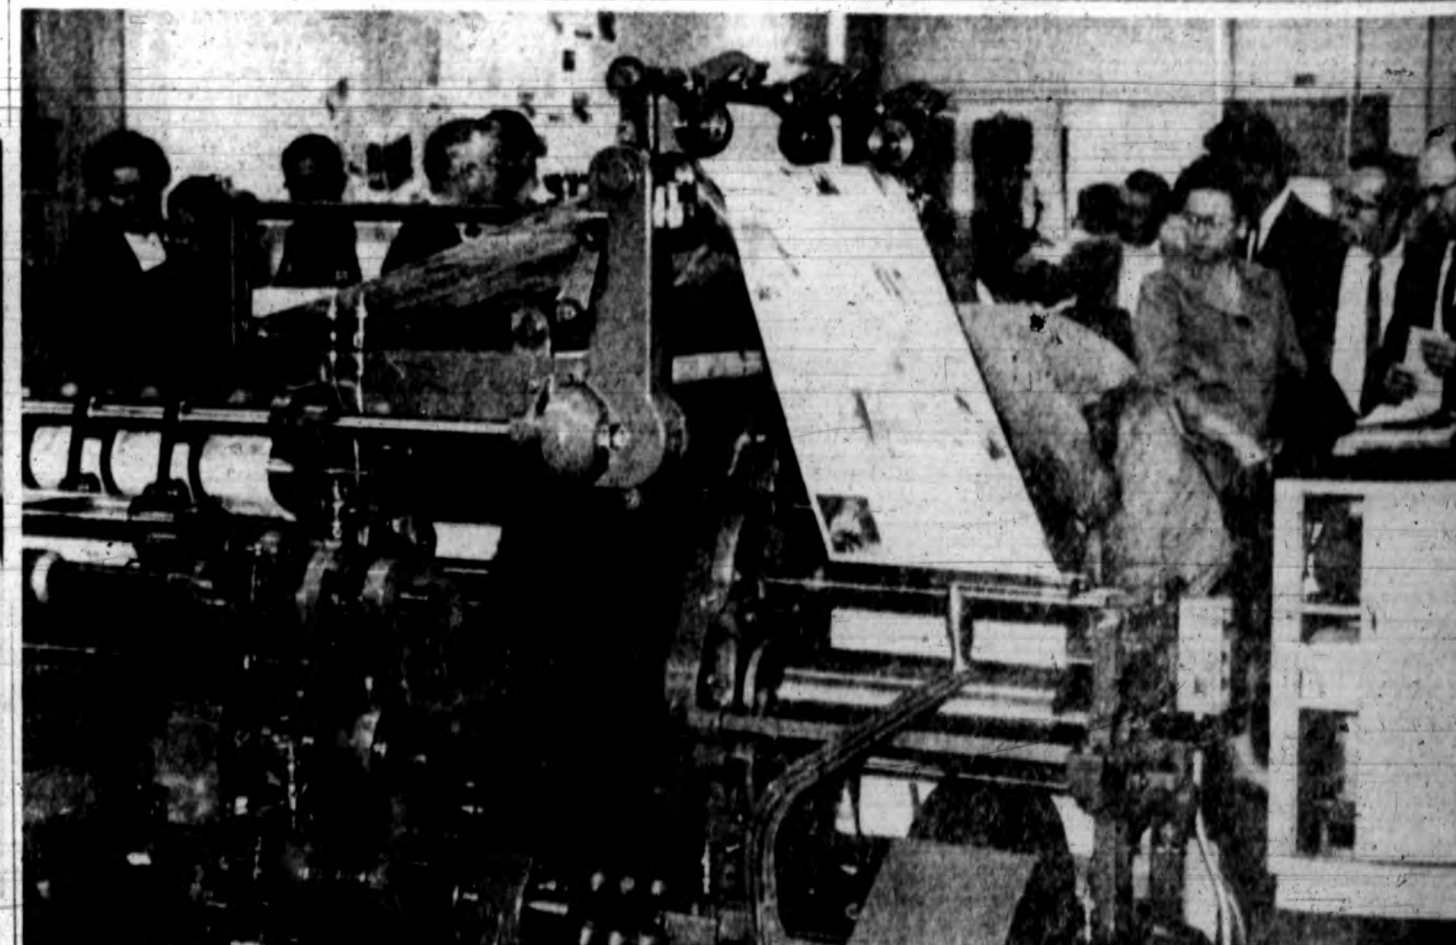

MATH CONTEST WINNERS . . . Pictured (l to r) are Pete Christy, second high individual winner; Steve Schleimer, winner in the geometry division; Kim Gibson, high individual of the contest, and Lionel Soracco Jr., mathematics instructor from Pasadena High School. The boys and their coach also took the team honors.

HOLD IT . . . Toni St. Onge, journalism freshman, demonstrates the most human way yet for restraining show lambs.

SERIOUS SIX . . . Involved in the progress of international relations were Cal Poly's delegates to the Model United Nations at San Jose State College last weekend. As ambassadors of the Ukrainian Delegation they co-sponsored a resolution and spoke in the General Assembly. They are (l to r) Patrick Ngoddy, Ambrose Chukwu, Jamal Naffa, Robert Wilson, Antonia Kelley and Carolyn Martin.

EIGHT TONS IN ACTION . . . Visitors on a tour of the Graphic Arts printing facilities seem to blend into the background as the Goss Cox-O-Type press makes a demonstration run of "El Mustang's" Poly Royal edition.

Banquets Bring Student Awards

Plaques, Trophies Architects Honored For Top Projects

The 11th annual California Press Banquet, sponsored by the Cal Poly student press association during Poly Royal, was a showcase of awards. Both students and faculty were singled out for recognition.

Long time Cal Poly Journalism instructor John M. Hensley, of Atascadero, received a standing ovation following the presentation of a trophy for his constant effort in the Technical Journalism Department.

A number of students were called front and center to receive awards for work on student publications. Honored for their accomplishments in reporting and editing on the El Mustang staff were James E. Grundman of Rio Dell; Elizabeth Kingman of Pasadena; William Rice of Newhall; Darrell Skrabak of Burlingame; David Kishiyama of Baywood Park; Ronald Parks of Santa Maria; and James McLain of San Luis Obispo.

Student photographers receiving presentations were John Young of San Luis Obispo and Neil C. Snyder of Houth Gate.

Martha Hieft of San Luis Obispo and Mary Kell of Upper Lake were judged outstanding in the business and advertising departments of El Mustang.

Work on the 1963 Cal Poly yearbook El Rodeo won awards for Fran Seymour of Beverly Hills; Nancy Kelley of Santa Barbara; Chuck Knowles of San Luis Obispo and Walt Parrish of Santa Monica.

Featured speaker at the banquet was Harry Green, president of the California Newspaper Publisher association and business manager of John P. Scripps Newspapers, Inc.

Engineers To Hear Trade School Head At Annual Banquet

The eighth annual Installation Banquet of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers (ASTME) will be held on Saturday, May 11 at 7 p.m. in the Staff Dining Room.

Dr. F. Parker Wilber, president of the Los Angeles Trade Technical College, will be guest speaker. His topic, "Technical Education in Soviet Russia" is based on information obtained from a trip he recently made to the Soviet Union.

Scholarship awards will be given by the Los Angeles Senior Chapter of ASTME for outstanding student members and for the membership drive contest.

Tickets may be purchased from Francis Whiting, Machine Shop head, and from the ASTME Executive Committee. They are $2.50 for members and $3.50 for non-members.

Dr. Wilber's presentation will begin at approximately 6 p.m. for those wishing to just hear the address.

10 DAY STAY Students, Staff Will Observe Mexican Agricultural Practices

Ten agricultural students and two faculty members here will spend 10 days observing Mexican agricultural practices in June as the result of a cooperative effort by the Sears, Roebuck and Company United States and Mexican Foundations.

Although names of students who will participate in the program have not yet been announced, James F. Merson, head of the college's Agricultural Engineering Department, and Warren T. Smith, dean of the Agricultural Division, will participate in the program as faculty advisors. It was announced today. Students in the program will represent each of the agricultural Division's 10 major areas of study, Smith said.

Entirely paid for by the Sears, Roebuck and Company foundations, the tour will run from June 12-22, and will include observations of nearly every phase of Mexican agriculture.

While the 10 Cal Poly students are touring Mexico, 10 Mexican students will visit California agricultural areas to gain an insight into the state's problems and progress in the industry.

While on the tour, the Cal Poly students will study such subjects as the history of Mexican agriculture, experimental and research projects, irrigation programs, the various problems involved with the production of specific Mexican crops, Mexican ecology, Mexican agricultural sociology, and tropical crops in Mexico.

In addition, the students will talk with a number of Mexican agricultural experts while touring the country.

The dean of agriculture added that Cal Poly is the only school in California that will participate in the program.

Bertram Praises Student Workers

"Cal Poly students are new working in the college snack bar to serve your needs better," stated Lloyd Bertram, cafeteria supervisor.

Cooks work on the fountain while men are working on the grill Monday through Friday from 6 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Their pay is equivalent to that of a meal ticket.

Bertram emphasized that this program makes the snack bar a better place for the students. He said, "If you have any food problems, please consult the person on duty. He will make every effort to correct your problem and bring any suggestions to the weekly meetings."

...for a life of pride and purpose

Among the young people being graduated from college in these times, there are some who think and feel—perhaps a little more deeply than the others—about the world we live in, the future we face. They ask, "How can I make my career really meaningful? More than just personally rewarding?"

And many of today's most successful young people are finding a fulfilling answer to these questions as officers on the Aerospace Team... the United States Air Force. They can tell you that no career could better combine the opportunity for achievement—and the deep inner satisfaction of knowing that they are helping preserve the very future of America.

How can you become an Air Force Officer?

If you are a college senior and not currently enrolled in ROTC, Air Force Officer Training School provides an opportunity to qualify for a wide variety of career fields. The graduate of this three-month course receives a commission as a second lieutenant. As the Air Force continues its technological advance, officers with college training will move into positions of increasing importance.

For full information—including the opportunity to earn graduate degrees at Air Force expense—see the Air Force Selection Team when it visits your college, visit your local Air Force Recruiting Office, or write: Air Force Officer Career Information, Dept. SC210, Box 805, New York 1, New York.

Jones First In Highjump At CCAA Championships

Dennis Jones, Cal Poly's leading high jumper, took the only first place victory for the Mustangs when he cleared 6'4" at the C.C.A.A. last Saturday.

Jones' feat plus Ron Hon's sparkling running in the 120 high hurdles, where he placed third and in the 330 intermediate hurdles, where he placed fourth, gave the Mustangs ten of their 18 total points in the meet. Hon's 330 time (35.4) was a school record bettering Hon's old record in the event.

Lloyd Petrosile managed to capture a second place in his favorite event, the discus, losing only to winner, Haden, from Long Beach State.

Gary Walker came in fifth in the 120 high hurdles, while the 440 relay team was also nailing down a fifth place finish in their event. Mike Ferguson took fourth place honors in the high jump to round out the Mustang scoring in the championship meet.

Fresno State was the winner gathering in 75 1/2 points to runner-up Long Beach State with 57. Third place went to Los Angeles State with 38 markers, while San Diego came up from their new campus to claim fourth place. Santa Barbara scored 28 points to nudge Cal Poly which placed sixth. San Fernando Valley was last with a total of 3 points.

Tollner Wins 1 At 'Pan' Games

Former Cal Poly athlete Ted Tollner returned home this week after helping the United States Pan American baseball team pick up a second place at the Pan American games last week.

Tollner, an all-league quarterback in football and a starting pitcher for two years at Cal Poly, joined the select squad on the recommendation of Mustang baseball coach Bill Hicks.

Tollner won one game, a 4-3 decision over Venezuela, and saved another win for the United States team who finished in the runner-up spot to a strong Cuban team.

murals Tennis

Singles Tourney Saturday, Sunday

Intramural tennis singles competition will be staged this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, May 11 and 12, according to Intramural Director Vaughan Hitchcock.

The two-day tournament-type action will begin at 10 a.m. on both days on the courts behind the Men's Gym. The action will be open to all Cal Poly students who have not earned a collegiate letter in tennis.

Hitchcock has announced that intramural awards will be presented to the first and second place finishers in the tournament.

Mustang Rodeo Team Sweeps Two-Day Meet

Cal Poly's men's rodeo team came out in the top scoring position over nine colleges and universities in the annual intercollegiate Poly Rodeo.

Schools from California, Nevada and Arizona competed in the rodeo which saw Cal Poly's men's team compile 486 points and runner-up, University of Arizona, total 391 points.

The University of Arizona won the girls' team events with 255 points and Cal Poly placed second with 180.

All-around cowboy was Rennie Thomas of the University of Arizona followed closely by John Miller of Cal Poly. All-around cowgirl honors went to Nelda Wood of Arizona.

Cal Poly team members and students took first place in five of the ten events featured at the two-day rodeo. Results of the contest were: Barrel Roping: C. W. Adams, Cal Poly first; Ronnie Thomas, U. of A., second; Newt Wright, Cal Poly, third.

Rodeo Roping: Jack Sparrow, Cal Poly, first; Jack Dawson, Cal Poly, second; Ronnie Thomas, U. of A., third.

Ball riding: Ronnie Thomas, U. of A., first; Ron Grossnickle, Cal Poly, second; Stan Nappé, Fresno State, third.

Ribbon Roping: John Fincher, Arizona State, first; Sonny Ehr, U. of A., second; John Miller, Cal Poly, third.

Calf Roping: John Miller, Cal Poly, first; Lew Borsini, Cal Poly, second; Scott Jeffers, Cal Poly, third.

Steer Wrestling: Sonny Ehr, U.

Spring Football Practice Begins; 67 Athletes Try

Cal Poly Head Football Coach Sheldon Harden was all smiles last week when he greeted the boys who had turned out for the first session of spring practice.

Upon taking a head count, Coach Harden found 67 men out for practice, a promising sign for the Mustang's hopes next season, as last year only 47 reported for spring practice.

The head coach, in his second season as the head man, was very pleased to see in attendance eight junior college transfers, five of which were interior linemen. The Mustangs lost their entire interior line of last season due to graduation, so the middle spot is wide open.

In attendance at the opening practice was Jack Clark, the Mustang's all-conference fullback last season. Clark was the mainstay in leading the Mustangs to a 4-5 record last season as on the ground he romped 539 yards for a fine 5.2 yard per carry average.

In counting quarterbacks, Harden found five on the field, led by Stan Reynolds, the Mustangs' starter for the first half of last season. Also on hand were Fred Richelle, Dick Esbach, and Jack Hoover all up from the Colt squad while transfer Bill Ward from Bakersfield was also there.

The squad will continue its drills Thursday until the end, concluding May 29 at 9:00 p.m. in Mustang Stadium in a traditional game against the alumni.

Volleyball Leagues Set To Close Play

With one game left to play in the intramural volleyball leagues, there remains one undefeated team: The Tijuana Six in the Monday-Wednesday league with an eight win-no loss record.

The Bay Bombers and Persian Tigers are currently tied for second place in this league with seven win-one loss marks. Following these teams are in order Muir 1, 4-4; Sequoia 3, 3-5; Beachcombers, 2-6; Mac's Raiders, 2-7; and Herdman Hall, 1-7. Granny's Bomb and Taboona are both winless after eight games.

In the Tuesday-Thursday section, Fremont 3, Spikers K and Muir 2 are tied for first place with identical seven win-one loss records. Should the Spikers win tonight, they would be the champions as they have defeated both the Muir and Fremont teams. Palomar and Duell 1 are deadlocked for fourth place with 5-3 performances. Sequoia Wood, Duell 2, Tenaya Wood, Hustlers K and Muir 3 round out the standings in that order.

VARIED EXPERIENCE

The Peace Corps volunteers range in experience from the high school graduates who grew up on a farm to soil scientists with doctorates.

Hardballers Take 2 Wins From San Fernando

Righthanders Steve Fox and Terry Curt each notched wins over the Valley State Matadors last weekend as the Mustangs took two out of three from the second place southlanders. Fox guided the Mustangs to a 5-1 victory Friday, and Curt won the first half of Saturday's doubleheader 3-2.

The Mustangs will host the Vandenberg Launchers tomorrow on the Cal Poly diamond with game time listed as 2:30. Butch Jones will take the hill for the Hicksmen in the non-league affair.

The Mustangs now stand 6-8 in league play with only a three-game series with Fresno left on the league slate.

The Mustangs trailed the Valley nine 2-0 going into the bottom of the ninth in Saturday's opener, but Mike Williams poked a roundtripper over the right field wall, Jim Ramos got aboard on an error and Ken Anderson cleared the left field fence to give Curt a 3-2 win.

In Friday's win, the Mustangs tallied all their runs in a big fourth inning and then stopped a ninth inning Matador rally on the fine relief pitching of Butch Jones.

Ramos and Anderson drew walks and Wayne West beat out a bunt to load the bases in Cal Poly's fourth but Valley pitcher Paul Edmondson fanned Lyman Ashley and retired Ted Shugar on a pop-up to almost ball himself out of the hole. Dave Howard then bounced one to the shortstop who threw too late to force West at second and the flood gates opened. Fox helped his own cause by doubling to left to score Anderson and West and Williams also rapped a two-bagger to score Howard and Fox.

Eight Teams Undefeated In Intramural Softball

The intramural baseball leagues are currently in different phases of play as teams have played between one and four games depending on the league.

Monday's league action finds the North Facility and I.R.E. tied for the leadership after three games of play. The Muskrats lead the Tuesday league with four victories and no losses, while Animals United remain undefeated after three games in the Wednesday league. Four squads are undefeated in Thursday's section.

Los Angeles State Takes Golf Crown

Los Angeles State carded a team score of 405 for 36 holes to capture the 1968 California Collegiate Athletic Association golf crown last Friday at the La Cumbre Country Club in Santa Barbara.

Cal Poly's Mustangs, with a 648 score, placed sixth behind Santa Barbara 607, San Diego State 610, Fresno State 614, and Long Beach State 639. San Fernando Valley State finished last with 651.

Individual honors were taken by Dick Ferry of Los Angeles State. Ferry defeated Bob Clancy of Santa Barbara in a sudden death play-off after the two had deadlocked at 148.

Armchair Athletes

My decision to attend the rodeo during Poly Royal was brought about, I'm afraid, by the first inning of the San Diego State-Cal Poly baseball game and a cute girl from Fresno State. As for the ball game, the first four Aztecs walked and the fifth hitter belted one that stopped somewhere in the vicinity of the Madonna Inn. I left just about the same time Cal Poly's starting pitcher did. At least he got a shower.

The only reason I paid my dollar and a half to get into the rodeo instead of using my press card was that I had hopes that the money would go into a hospital fund for the participants, because from all I had heard about this wild and woolly sport, they'd need it. However, after watching this masquerade of a TV western, I sincerely hope the money is sent to the Department of Mental Health. Those people need help.

Actually, the spectator is in almost as much danger as the "cowboys." The stomping of big heeled cowboy boots and the waving of rather large hats by the excitable "boys of the range" resulted in more injuries than actual combat going on in the arena. One spectator lost two hotdogs and a coke in one swoop of his neighbor's 10 gallon hat.

One of the highlights of the afternoon was supposed to be a group of female riders who, fortunately for them, preferred to be unacknowledged personally and went under the title of the Visalia Rockettes. Once you figured out the difference between the horse and the rider, the whole thing wasn't too bad, but I found it a good time to get something to eat.

Somewhere between three and four o'clock I found out that Cal Poly was winning the rodeo, thanks to the heroics of one C. W. Adams who seemed to be winning all the honors for the day. Although I wasn't real sure just how the scoring system went, I did think he bounced real nice when he hit the ground. I was assured by my female companion that there was a very scientific scoring scale that was used to determine the winners. I'm sure there is. So does wrestling.

All in all, the whole thing was enjoyable and truly western. The horses were up to their usual tricks and of course that made the aggie's boots complete. At least they couldn't track it indoors. Poly lost the second game of the doubleheader 1-0. It was a nice quiet game.

Woman Excels In Gymnast Show

Members of United States Olympic and International teams put on a gymnastic exhibition in the Men's Gym last Saturday night with Birgitte Gullberg, Sweden's great all-around woman, highlighting the show.

Miss Gullberg will try out for the Olympics upon her return to Sweden. She recently placed seventh in the Swedish National Gymnastics Championships.

Rusty Rock, former state junior college all-around champion while at Los Angeles Valley JC, also performed, as did Marshall Klaus, Big 10 all-around champion, and Marshall Wright, Eastern Conference trampoline champion.

Jack Beckner, a member of three U.S. Olympic teams and captain of the 1955 squad, also put on an exhibition for local fans. In addition to being on the Olympic teams, he was captain of the 1955 and 1959 Pan-Am Games squads.

Another top performer presented was Armando Vega, member of the 1956 Olympic team, the 1958 U.S. World Championship team in Moscow, and the 1962 U.S. World Championship team in Prague.

NOW YOU CAN BE YOUNGER THAN SHE IS

It is a scientific fact that girls reach emotional maturity earlier than boys. For this reason freshman girls are reluctant to make romantic alliances with freshman boys, but instead choose men from the upper classes.

These blue freshman boys are left alone, and many in the night the entire freshman dorm sobe itself to sleep. An equally moist situation exists among upper-class girls. With upper-class men being snapped up by freshman girls, the poor ladies of the upper class are reduced to dreary, manless evenings of Monopoly and home permanents.

It pleases me to report there is a solution for this morbid situation—indeed, a very simple solution. Why don't the two great have-not groups—the freshman boys and the upper-class girls—find solace with each other?

True, there's something of an age differential, but that need not matter. Take, for example, the case of Albert Payson Sigafos and Eustacia Vye.

Albert Payson, a freshman in sand and gravel at Vanderbilt University, was walking across the campus one day, weeping softly in his loneliness. Blinded by tears, he stumbled upon the supine form of Eustacia Vye, a senior in wicker and raffia, who was collapsed in a wretched heap on the turf.

"Why don't you watch where you're going, you minor youth!" said Eustacia peevishly.

"I'm sorry, lady," said Albert Payson and started to move on. But suddenly he stopped, struck by an inspiration. "Lady," he said, tugging his forelock, "don't think me forward, but I know why you're miserable. It's because you can't get a date. Well, neither can I. So why don't we date each other?"

"Surely you jest!" cried Eustacia, looking with scorn upon his tiny head and body.

"Oh, I know I'm younger than you are," said Albert Payson, "but that doesn't mean we can't find lots of fun things to do together."

"Like what?" she asked.

"Well," said Albert Payson, "we could build a Snowman."

"Oh," said Eustacia, grinding her teeth.

"Right then," said Albert Payson, "we could go down to the pond and catch some frogs."

"High!" said Eustacia, shuddering her entire length.

"How about some Run-Sheep-Run?" suggested Albert Payson.

"You are callow, green, and immature," said Eustacia, "and I will thank you to remove your underaged presence from mine eyes."

Sighing, Albert Payson lighted a cigarette and started away. "Stay!" cried Eustacia.

He stayed.

"Was that a Marlboro Cigarette you just lighted?" she asked.

"What else?" said Albert Payson.

"Then you are not immature," she exclaimed, clasping him to her clavicle. "For to smoke Marlboro is the very essence of wisdom, the height of American know-how, the incontrovertible proof that you can tell gold from dross, right from wrong, fine aged tobaccos from pale, pathetic substitutes. Albert Payson, if you will still have me, I am yours!"

"I will," he said, and did, and today they are married and run the second biggest wicker and raffia establishment in Duluth, Minnesota.

Freshman, sophomore, junior, senior—all classes, ages, types, and conditions. —Enjoy mild, rich, Alter-tip Marlboro—available in packs or box in every one of our fifty states.
