REPORT

California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo

Vol. 43, No. 1 September 11, 1989

Parking fees rise for Unit 3 employees

The CSU board of trustees has announced that parking-fee rates will increase for faculty employees. The new fees will be retroactive to Fall Quarter 1988, at which time the current fee schedule became effective for staff, students and other users of campus parking. The trustees' decision was announced in a joint policy letter from the Chancellor's Office (ABS 89-30/FSR 89-65).

Cal Poly is required to implement this directive by (1) increasing the rates charged for 1989/90 parking permits starting with Fall Quarter, and (2) by billing Unit 3 employees for the retroactive portion that is due from each faculty member.

During the latter part of September 1989, when the retroactive portions have been determined, invoices will be distributed. The policy directive also requires that future term parking permits be withheld from anyone who has not paid the amount due to the university. At Cal Poly, that restriction will be implemented for Spring Quarter 1990 parking permits.

While the amounts due from each Unit 3 employee will vary, it is expected that most will owe between $40.50 to $54. Any questions on the process should be directed to Anthony Flores, university financial manager, at ext. 1438.

Committee named for Arts dean search

President Baker has appointed the following individuals to serve on the Consultative Committee for the selection of a dean for the School of Liberal Arts:

Stephen Ball, philosophy; Susan Currier, English; Laurence Houlgate, philosophy; Richard Kransdorf, political science; Nancy Lucas, English; Philip Bailey, science and mathematics; Edgar Beyer, crop science; Jack Wilson, mechanical engineering; Smiley Wilkins, affirmative action; Michael Suess, personnel and employee relations; and a student representative to be named.

Terry Smith to head Soil Science Dept.

Dr. Terry L. Smith has been appointed head of the Soil Science Department.

A member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1980, he begins his new assignment Fall Quarter.

Smith succeeds Dr. Brent Hallock, who will return to full-time teaching in the Soil Science Department after having been its head since 1984.

A specialist in soil fertility and plant nutrition, the new department head is a graduate of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln and Iowa State University. He completed study for his doctorate at Iowa State in 1980.

Before moving to Cal Poly, Smith spent five years as a lecturer at Iowa State and four years as a research technician and graduate assistant at Nebraska.

He is the author of articles and reviews that have been published in professional journals and of workbooks and laboratory manuals on soil evaluation and fertilizers.

Fall Conference will open 1989-90 academic year

Faculty and support staff will gather today (Sept. 11), for the opening of Fall Conference, the event that annually kicks off the university's Fall Quarter.

Planned during the week-long program are a keynote address by President Baker, and a variety of activities designed to familiarize both new and returning employees with the goals and objectives of the university.

A general session is planned for 10 am in Chumash Auditorium. Other speakers during the general session will include Dr. Malcolm W. Wilson, vice president for academic affairs; Dr. Hazel J. Scott, dean of student affairs; Dr. James L. Murphy, chairman of the Academic Senate; and Ricardo Echeverria, president of the ASI.

Also scheduled for the general session is recognition of Cal Poly's distinguished teachers and outstanding staff employees for 1988-89.

Other events during the week-long conference will include meetings of faculty and staff of the academic schools and departments, faculty retreats, and orientation sessions and campus tours for new employees.

The Fall Conference is one of two major programs planned for the second week of September. Also scheduled is the Week of Welcome, a fast-paced week of orientation activities for new students.

Fall Quarter classes for the 16,500 students expected to enroll for the university's 87th year will begin on Monday, Sept. 18.

Johnson works on view at UU Galerie

Eric Johnson, a member of the art and design faculty, is presenting five years of his photographic works at the UU Galerie through Oct. 15.

Titled, "From Window to Object," it is the opening exhibition of the 1989-90 academic year in the Galerie. An artist's reception will be held in the Galerie on Saturday, Sept. 23, from 4 to 6 pm.

In addition, Johnson will present two lectures concerning his work. The dates and locations will be announced in the Galerie.

A veteran of numerous one-person and group exhibitions nationally and internationally, Johnson has been at Cal Poly since 1980. The exhibition highlights five very active years of photographic efforts during which time the artist has moved away from the traditional approach to the photograph as a window.

In the newest works, the photographs become mixed-media objects possessing unique spatial and temporal relationships. Included will be selections from several of the artist's noted series including "Duskwork," "Scenes of the Pacific War," and "Videoscape."

Johnson has had one-man exhibitions in Sacramento; Santa Maria; Los Angeles; Long Beach; Washington, D.C.; Stockholm (Sweden); and San Francisco.

His works are included in collections at the Oakland Museum, the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, the St. Louis Museum of Art, the Moderna Museet in Stockholm, the Bibliotheque Nationale in Paris, and the University of New Mexico Museum of Art.

"From Window to Object" will be available for viewing at the UU Galerie on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 10 am to 5 pm; Thursdays from 10 am to 8 pm; Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 pm; and noon to 4 pm on weekends. The Galerie is closed on Mondays.

For additional information on this exhibit, and upcoming shows call ext. 1182.

Faculty development grants are available

The Affirmative Action Faculty Development Grants Program provides funding for faculty, with emphasis upon groups under-represented in their discipline, i.e., women and minorities, to improve their chances for winning tenure and promotion.

Grants are available for assigned time of up to six units in the Winter and Spring Quarters. Forth-five weighted teaching units have been allocated for distribution this year. In addition, $8,840 will be available for mini-grants of up to $2,000 and $3,789 for in-state travel.

Probationary or tenured faculty members at the instructor, assistant professor, or associate professor rank and librarians at equivalent ranks are eligible to apply. In certain restricted instances, lecturers may also apply.

The deadline for proposals is Friday, Oct. 20. Grants must be used during the current academic year.

Application guidelines and forms are available in each school dean's office, the Office of the Dean of Library Services, and the Graduate Studies and Research Office.

Faculty/Staff
Payday is Sept. 29

Vista Grande will close Fall Quarter

Vista Grande will be closed Fall Quarter. The restaurant and cafeteria will be undergoing repairs and remodeling as part of the ongoing asbestos abatement program on campus.

To assume part of the load created by the closure the Snack Bar will be open evenings from 4:30 pm to 7:30 pm and the Sandwich Plant will be open weekends from 8:30 am to 2 pm. Monday through Friday the Staff Dining Room will be open for breakfast and lunch from 7 am to 4 pm.

Vista Grande will reopen in January 1990 with a new menu and a new look.

State public school enrollment to jump

Due to increased birthrates, California public school enrollment will increase even more sharply than expected over the next 10 years, new estimates by the state department of finance show.

Total enrollment is expected to increase from about 4.5 million this year to almost 6.1 million in 1998—a 35 percent jump.

Keglers welcomed

Faculty, staff and guests are invited to sign up for bowling on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 pm. Beginners are welcome. The league starts Sept. 19. Please sign up at the bowling alley on campus. For additional information, call Tania Shwetz, ext. 1311.
