

Homecoming Success Story (We Even Won The Game)

Homecoming weekend was a great success. Clear skies and a victorious team highlighted Saturday afternoon's festivities. The Ornamental Horticulture Department won the grand sweepstakes perpetual trophy for their float entitled, "The Diabrotica Special."

Agricultural Engineering's "Mac's Victory Fiesta" won first place in the Ag. Division; "Holiday Weekend" built by the Technical Arts Society won first place in the Applied Arts Division; Math Club's "All Our Pi's Are Squared" won first place in the Applied Science Division and in the Engineering Division, the Industrial Engineering Club won for their version of "Mustang Holiday."

Lucia Halls tied for the Residence Hall trophy. All trophies awarded are perpetual and plaques were given to 11 floats entered in the 1963 Homecoming Parade.

Stan Glaros, a junior Mechanical Engineering major from Napa, was elected the most "Ugly Man on Campus" by receiving a total of 10,224 votes. Glaros was sponsored by Fremont Hall, which has won the Ugly Man contest for three consecutive years.

Last year's winner was Chuck Lee and prior to him Bob Nigra won the honor.

Glaros is active in the Sports Car Club and the Young Republicans.

First runner-up for Ugly Man was Rodney Evangelho, junior Poultry major who earned 8,838 votes. The proceeds from the Ugly Man contest will be used for renovating Poly Grove under the guidance of Alpha Phi Omega, honorary service fraternity.

As a grand finale to the big weekend the annual Coronation Ball was held in the Men's Gym with music provided by Herb Miller's Band.

A colorful greenery garden and a waterfall accented with colored spotlights was seen as the Gym was first entered by the students. A tiered crystal chandelier decorated the dance floor. Queen Ann Engelbrecht was crowned by last year's queen, Pat Bright.

Queen Ann and "Ugly Man," Stan Glaros, led the near capacity crowd to the coronation dance after the coronation.

AC Major Heads Leadership Meet

Roy Packard, senior Air Conditioning and Refrigeration major from Lucerne, has been elected chairman of the 1964 Leadership Conference.

Others officers elected include Jean Campbell, secretary, and Joe Cummings, treasurer. Miss Campbell is a junior Social Science major from Santa Clara, and Cummings is an Electrical Engineering junior from San Carlos.

Traditionally a fall quarter activity, the conference this year has been changed to April 4-6 at Camp Ocean Pines in Cambria.

Meetings are held Mondays at 7 p.m. in MSD 125. Students interested in helping plan the conference are urged to attend.

Graduate Students, Are You Eligible?

Nonresident graduate students from another state or from a foreign country with a high scholastic record are eligible to apply for a waiver or a reduction of tuition.

C. Paul Winner, associate dean of admissions and records, has announced that a nonresident graduate student currently enrolled in a course of study with 10 or more quarter units is eligible for this financial assistance.

Information has been sent to graduate students who are enrolled for the Fall Quarter, including an application form to be used in applying for the assistance for Fall Quarter fees. Nonresident graduate students who have not received a letter but who feel they meet the criteria set forth should contact Winner at the Admissions Office, Admin. 125 as soon as possible.

UCSB Cheerleaders Ousted On 'Intoxication' Charge

BY DAVE KISHIYAMA

Editor, El Mustang
Two University of California at Santa Barbara cheerleaders have been dismissed and a third has resigned as a result of their actions at last week's Homecoming game.

UCSB's Legislative Council charged the three with being "visibly intoxicated" at the afternoon game. Two other members of the five-man cheerleading team have been absolved of any charges.

The three cheerleaders were dismissed at Tuesday night's Legislative Council meeting.

UCSB's Campus Organization for Gaucho Spirit (COGS) has also been implicated in the weekend activity. All links between the Associated Students of UCSB and the organization have been broken, and COGS will not be recognized by the college.

The charges were made after

UCSB students at the game complained to the Legislative Council that Cal Poly students and alumni were "visibly upset" over the actions by Santa Barbara students.

Pete Young, news editor of UCSB's paper, El Gaucho, told El Mustang that COGS influenced their students to act in poor taste, and shouted derogatory yells at Cal Poly alumni and men who escorted the Homebears, a Gaucho hostess organization.

Stephen Goodspeed, UCSB vice-chancellor of student affairs, who listened to the game in Santa Barbara, said "vulgar yells could be heard over the radio."

All three of the dismissed men admitted to being drunk at the game, Young told El Mustang in a telephone interview.

"One of them even passed out in front of the stands," he reported.

The three arrived late at the game — a few minutes after half-time — Young said. Cheers were led by the remaining two yell leaders.

The Legislative Council has appointed John Davis, one of the two remaining cheerleaders, as acting head cheerleader. Young said that Davis would probably appoint three others to the cheerleading team.

Last week's Cal Poly-UCSB game was the last for Santa Barbara, but due to the upcoming sports of basketball and baseball, the cheerleaders will still be needed, Young reported.

Bob Andrews, Associated Students president at UCSB, is expected to write a letter of apology to Cal Poly sometime this week, Young concluded.

Council Tables Athletic Proposal; Concerned Over Donation Progress

An athletic program proposal containing probable expenses and opponents was tabled for one week by the Student Affairs Council at its Tuesday night meeting.

Lyman Ashley, Board of Athletic Control representative, introduced the recommendation and explained that it would be used as a guide to schedule and finance an athletic program for next year and to be revised each succeeding year.

Dean of Activities Dan Lawson explained to the council, "We are trying to be more realistic in our athletic scheduling." He mentioned that this proposal gives the students an opportunity to decide what type of schools we participate against.

SAC questioned whether they would lose the right to determine how much will be spent on the athletic budget if they approved this proposal.

Athletic Coordinator Richard Anderson clarified the issue, saying that the budget controls the expenditures. "You are approving a framework in which we can operate. You have just as much control (if you pass this proposal) as you've had in the past."

Agriculture Council representative, Mike Burns, asked, "What voice will the students have in deciding where the money goes if we approve this schedule?" Graduate Manager Bob Spink clarified, "The athletic program is still governed by SAC approval of the budget." He said that any change must go through proper channels.

SAC felt that certain items of the proposal needed to be understood and tabled the matter until a six-man investigating committee could make its recommendation to the council.

The council also formed a committee to accelerate publicity for the Associated Student Body donation drive.

The Blue Key sponsored event has already begun and will continue until Dec. 5. The drawing will be held at halftime during the Cal Poly-San Francisco game December 7.

The proceeds of the drive will go toward the purchase of two ASB station wagons to be available to all campus organizations. Doris Hoffman, student liaison between SAC and Blue Key reported to SAC on the progress of the drive, saying that the students and clubs seem to have many misunderstandings. She said that more publicity is needed.

SAC seemed to feel that "El Mustang" did not give enough publicity to the event. Tuesday Editor of El Mustang, Diana Vos, answered the charge saying that under the California Codes this donation drive by any other name is still a lottery containing all the items necessary to be classified as a lottery or raffle.

She mentioned that the story didn't receive large headlines because the attention of the postal authorities concerning this "donation drive" was not desirable.

ASB president Roy Killgore said that the drive was not a lottery until the attorney general declared it so.

A subcommittee of the Faculty Staff Council has been working on the problem of student cheating on campus. ASB secretary Jana Mosgaard-Zouali, representing a SAC liaison, met with the members of the committee last week.

She mentioned that the committee was working on proposals to eliminate the problem—considering what could and should be done. She said the committee should have a definite proposal by Dec. 5.

Mike Burns, Agriculture Council representative, submitted a resolution to SAC in which the purpose was to call attention to the fact that the council has set up the ASB rules for their own personal interest more than necessary.

The resolution, which was known by SAC, is as follows: WHEREAS all Codes, By-Laws and Constitutions are set up to govern both students and SAC; WHEREAS some members of the council are influenced by pressures and;

WHEREAS undue external pressures are exerted upon the Student Affairs Council and;

WHEREAS the rules are frequently being set aside as a result of these pressures to take special actions;

Be it hereby RESOLVED: THAT SAC members be reminded that they represent student body and groups and, that a two-thirds majority vote is required to set aside the rules.

UCSB Professor To Give Piano Concert Monday

Dr. Wendel Nelson of UCSB will give a solo piano concert on Monday, Nov. 25, at 8 p.m. in the Cal Poly Little Theater. The admission fee will be 50 cents for all people.

Last year Nelson and his wife Marjorie gave a well received two-piano concert here. Nelson is a veteran of music festivals and symposia, benefit concerts and faculty recitals in California and the Midwest. Last year he was a featured soloist in three concerts with the Paganini Quartet.

Nelson's concert this year will include works by Brahms, Prokofiev, Debussy and Ravel. Nelson, a native of Riverside, received a B. A. degree from Pomona College, a master of music from the University of Michigan and a doctor of music from Northwestern University and was the first pianist to be admitted to the doctor of music program piano study with Louis Crowder.

Nelson began his teaching career at Luther College in Iowa in 1952. Then in 1955 he assumed a position at Northwestern, and took his current position at UCSB in 1957.

K V, SLO Leaders Will Meet In Weekend Pomona Conf

An intercampus Student Affairs Council meeting between the San Luis Obispo and the Kellogg campuses will be held this weekend at the southern campus.

The purpose of the meeting of student leaders is to discuss key issues that pertain to both campuses, such as financing the Rose Parade float, ASB incorporation, fee increases and limited fee, intercampus athletics and future intercampus councils.

Approximately 34 students, most of them SAC representatives, will meet in front of the ASB office at noon today to embark on the journey.

There will be six hours of meetings, while the remainder of the weekend will be devoted to attending the Homecoming activities.

Some of the Homecoming activities that will be attended by San Luis Obispo students are Coronation Ball, game with Long Beach State, parade, and barbecue.

SAC allotted $5 per person to cover the two luncheons and one dinner.

The "Poly Post," the southern campus newspaper, said that one major headache in preparation for the two-day meetings seems to be the housing of the visitors. A large official said last week that he would provide the transportation and housing for SLO, but of Monday the only available space were the lounges in the same residence hall. Both Manor House and Kellogg Hall, previously requested for housing, are booked the weekend.

Associate Dean of Activities Henry House of the Pomona Campus said, "We should see who is going to be absent from the dorm this weekend."

The Housing Committee is asked that it would make further investigations.

Comedy Play, 'Blithe Spirit' Staged Tonight, Tomorrow

Noel Coward here? Sure. At least in Spirit. "Blithe Spirit," that is.

"Blithe Spirit," by Coward, had its first successful performance last night. People wishing to see the play still have the chance to do so tonight or Saturday evening at the 8:30 o'clock curtain call in the Little Theater.

The three-act comedy was first produced in London during the dark days of World War II and ran for two seasons. It had an equally successful run on Broadway, and has become a frequently produced play in civic theaters and colleges.

Coward, himself, starred in the play when it was produced for television viewers a few years ago.

The ingenious plot tells how novelist Charles Condomine, played by Tom Siler, invites an eccentric, breezy lady medium, Gloria Halton, to his placid country home in order to learn the language of the occult.

Little does Charles' second wife, Ruth, played by Jean Siler, dream that the seance staged by the medium will summon back his first wife, Elvira, played by Jane Evanston, from the dead.

The lady from beyond, still lovely and mischievous, appears to torment Charles by reminding him of their days and nights together.

She contrives a ghostly plot to get Charles into an automobile accident so he can join her in the spirit world.

The plot runs aground and it is actually Charles' second wife who is killed in the accident and she joins Elvira in haunting Condomine.

How Charles manages to extricate himself from these two very blithe spirits makes a hilarious conclusion to this unusual farce.

Tickets for performances may be purchased at the door or at the ASB office. The price is 50 cents for student body card holders and $1.25 for the general public.

Deadline Set For Speakers During RILW

The deadline and interested groups to submit requests for "Religion In Life Week" speakers has been set for Dec. 1, reports Chairman Bert Knudsen.

Earlier this quarter, all groups were sent information sheets to fill out in order to request a speaker during RILW to be held Jan. 19-23. The requests should be placed in Box 115 in the ASB office or addressed to Darrell Havercroft, P.O. Box 1446.

Six outstanding speakers have been lined up by different religious groups.

Representing the Presbyterian group will be the Rev. Donn Moomaw, known for his outstanding achievements of the gridiron at UCLA, while speaking for the Roman Catholic faith will be the Rev. Fr. Gregory Anderson who is now master of students at St. Albert's College in Oakland.

Continuing on behalf of the Methodist faith is Dr. Richard W. Cain, superintendent of the Los Angeles District of Southern California. Representing the Methodist Conference, representing the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is Paul Fromer, now editor of "His" magazine, a Christian publication for college students.

Speaking of the Jewish faith will be Rabbi Julius Leibert, who has served as counsel at San Quentin, Folsom and Alcatraz. Representing the United Church of Christ will be the Rev. Miss Marjorie Likens, now serving as Minister of Christian Education and Director of Young People's Work in the Congregational Conference of Southern California and the Southwest.

Early Registration List In Library

"All students who are presently enrolled in 461 or 462 courses are eligible to register early this coming Winter and Spring quarter," announces Jerald Holley, registrar.

A list of all students who are eligible to register early is posted in the main entrance of the library. "If your name does not appear on the list and you have taken 461 or 462 you should contact the registrar's office located in the Administration Building and see that your name is added," Holley advises.

Approximately 1,025 students will register early Winter Quarter between 8:30 a.m. under these conditions.

"Dec. 6 is the last date that any addition to the list will be made and absolutely no additions will be made on registration day," Holley comments.

Holley explains that the college is interested in helping students who are near graduation and some criteria had to be developed to determine who these students were, so it was decided that students in 461 or 462 courses would be eligible for early registration.

Nov. 26 Is Date Of Last Paper

According to Dave Kishi-yama, editor of "El Mustang," the last issue of the paper for Fall Quarter will be Tuesday, Nov. 26.

All news stories must be in by noon today for publication Tuesday.

$6 Million Housing Plan Okayed By City Council

A $6 million project that will provide housing for approximately 1,600 students was approved Monday night by the San Luis Obispo City Council.

The development, proposed by Law Little, a Fresno architect and a member of Cal Poly's first graduating class in Architectural Engineering in 1960, is to be located on 13.1 acres of property west of the college on Santa Rosa Street.

Barring any legal delays, construction on the large-scale student housing project will begin either late this spring or early in the summer, Little told the council.

In granting zoning permission for the project, the council said that construction must begin within the next three years and that at least 700 parking spaces must be provided for students living in the development.

In addition, the council stipulated that pedestrian access to campus must be provided through an overpass over the South Pacific railroad tracks.

The one major stumbling block that could slow the project is vehicular access to downtown San Luis Obispo. Little had planned a road that would make travel leaving the housing project at Santa Rosa Street and make a turn before heading towards downtown San Luis Obispo.

Some councilmen, along with representatives from the State Division of Highways, said this would lead to traffic congestion in the area and would not be practical.

Little said he will attempt to work out an arrangement with people who own property on which the project is to be built in order to provide a better access road.

DISTINGUISHED MILITARY STUDENTS . . .
Eight ROTC cadets were awarded special honors at a cadet review recently in recognition of their outstanding work in the college's military science and tactics program. Presented by Capt. Thomas Price and Col. William M. Boyce (facing

PRESIDENT KENNEDY DEAD

President John F. Kennedy was fatally shot in Dallas, Tex., today as he was riding in a motorcade on his way to deliver a speech.

An unknown assassin, according to spokesmen for CBS news, shot both the president and Texas Governor Ralph Connolly from the fifth floor of an office building in downtown Dallas.

At 11:20 a.m. it was unknown who shot the president. Two Roman Catholic priests were reportedly summoned to the emergency room of a hospital where the President was taken immediately after the assassination attempt.

It was reported that the president was receiving blood transfusions about a half hour after the shooting incident. The president was reported dead at 11:25 a.m. (PST). He was reportedly shot from the fifth floor of a downtown Dallas office building. Police sources said they found four cartridges in one of the rooms of the building.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and Mrs. Connolly, who were riding in the same carasther husbands, were reportedly not wounded in the incident.

One witness to the shooting said the president, "fell back on his face and lay on the seat of the car," when he was shot.

The incident was reported to have occurred at 11:45 a.m. (PST). The President was on his way to make a speech when the assassination occurred. The crowd of approximately 250,000, who turned out to watch the President drive through Dallas was reportedly to be "overwhelmingly friendly" in its reception towards the chief executive.

Lyndon Johnson, who will become the new President of the United States, was not hurt in the incident, news sources reported.

It was also reported that a secret service man was killed in the shooting incident, but this had not been confirmed until 11:30 a.m.

Business stopped completely in El Corral bookstore as the reports came over the closed circuit radio system. Students with purchases in their hands stood and waited and listened.

"I've forgotten what I came in for now," said one student listening to the news.

In the El Mustang newsroom, students gathered next to a large radio speaker to follow the events as they were reported from Dallas and the senate.

In the architects' laboratories, students gathered near a transistor radio propped on a window sill.

Outside, in front of the library, groups of students from India grouped around a car listening to the radio.

Some students walked from class to class unaware that the president had been shot. Others walked along slowly, faces grave, looking up to see if a passerby reflected the news in his face.

Two crows stood in front of the library patio just looking at each other and wiping their eyes.

When news was flashed over the radio, students gathered at parked cars and transistor radios and listened in silence.

President Abraham Lincoln was the first president of the United States to be assassinated when he was shot in Washington, D.C. in 1865 by John Wilkes Booth. The shooting occurred on April 14 and the President died the following day.

The next assassination was of President James A. Garfield who was shot July 2, 1881 in Washington, D.C. by Charles J. Guiteau. He died on September 19.

Leon Osolgoz, an anarchist, shot President William McKinley on Sept. 6, 1901 in Buffalo, N.Y. and he died on September 14.

In 1912 President Theodore Roosevelt escaped assassination, receiving minor injuries on Oct. 14, 1912, in Milwaukee while on a campaign tour.

Likewise Franklin D. Roosevelt also escaped assassination on Feb. 15, 1933 in Miami.

Harry S. Truman escaped assassination on Nov. 1, 1950, in Washington, D.C. as two Puerto Rican Nationalists attempted to shoot their way into Blair House.

And now John F. Kennedy, age 46, has died at the hands of an unknown assassin.

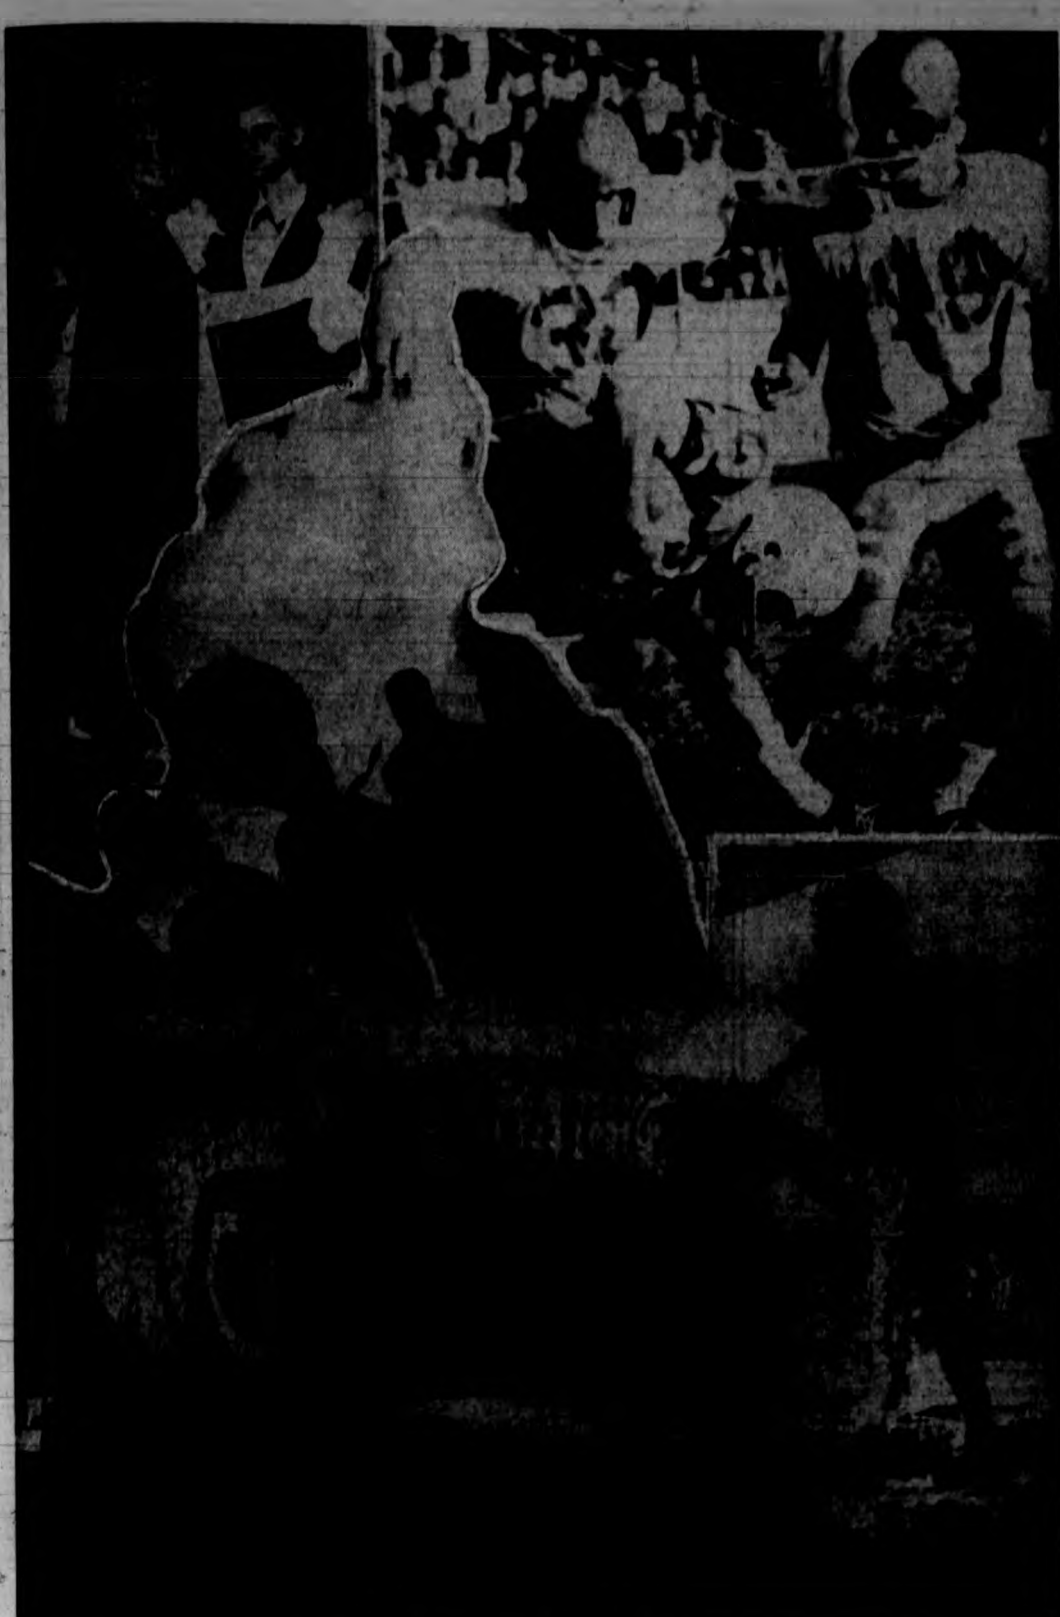

Mr. Kennedy was born in Brookline, Mass. on May 29, 1917 into a wealthy Catholic family. He was the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, American Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Kennedy, the youngest President to be elected to the office, married Jacqueline Lee Bouvier in 1953 and has a daughter, Caroline born Nov. 27, 1967, and a son, John Fitzgerald, Jr., born Nov. 25, 1960.

He attended Harvard and, while there, was on the swimming team. He joined the Navy in 1941, and became the skipper of a PT boat in the Pacific, which was sunk by a Japanese destroyer. Kennedy was given up for lost, but he swam to a safe island, towing an injured enlisted man.

An American political leader has come to a tragic death. Two priests were with the President when death came, along with his wife Jacqueline.

Late this morning it was reported that Dallas sheriff's deputies had picked up an unidentified 25-year-old man in connection with the shooting. Name of the man was not made public. Police reported they found a foreign made rifle near the office building where the president was shot.

KV, SLO Leaders Will Meet In Weekend Pomona Confab

An intercampus Student Affairs Council meeting between the San Luis Obispo and the Kellogg campuses will be held this weekend at the southern campus.

The purpose of the meeting of student leaders is to discuss key issues that pertain to both campuses, such as financing the Rose Parade float, ASB incorporation, fee increase and limited fee, intersession athletics and future intercampus council.

Approximately 24 students, most of them SAC representatives, will meet in front of the ASB office at noon today to embark on the journey.

Early Registration List In Library

"All students who are presently in or have ever enrolled in 461 or 462 courses are eligible to register early this coming Winter and Spring quarter," announces Jerald Holley, registrar.

A list of all students who are eligible to register early is posted in the main entrance of the library.

"If your name does not appear on the list and you have taken 461 or 462 you should contact the registrar's office located in the Administration Building and see that your name is added," Holley advises.

Approximately 1,025 students will register early Winter Quarter between 8-9:30 a.m. under these conditions.

"Dec. 6 is the last date that any addition to the list will be made and absolutely no additions will be made on registration day," Holley comments.

Holley explains that the college is interested in helping students who are near graduation and some criteria had to be developed to determine who these students were, so it was decided that students in 461 or 462 courses would be eligible for early registration.

LAST PAPER

According to Dave Kishi-yama, editor of "El Mustang," the last issue of the paper for Fall Quarter will be Tuesday, Nov. 26.

AC Students Tour Bay Area Concerns

Students in all classes in the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Department are presently on a 3-day field trip to the San Francisco area.

The students were to observe the vacuum cooling installation for produce at the Union Ice Co. in Salinas on Thursday. They were also to stop at the Santa Clara cold storage plant to see the freezing and storage methods used by modern plants.

The students will tour the San Francisco Civic Auditorium to see the type of air conditioning used and later will visit the architecture firm of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill to observe the mechanical design sections.

The alumni from the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Department of Cal Poly will hold a dinner for the students in San Francisco tonight.

Instructor Rodney Kief accompanied the group. The trip is the first of two such activities, as the department plans to take one to the Los Angeles area later in the year. The trips are taken to let students observe today's application of air conditioning methods and to help students meet people in the field.

Architects Display Fine Art Prints

The Department of Architecture is presenting a continuous display of student projects and in conjunction with Architects exhibit, the Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architects has obtained an interesting exhibit of Fine Art Prints by the students of the Otis Art Institute of Los Angeles.

The exhibit contains many imaginative creations done in the various techniques of etching, lithography, intaglio and woodcuts.

Ernest Freed, head of the Graphics Department at both Otis Art Institute and San Fernando Valley State College, organized the exhibit and has included several of his most recent intaglios.

The exhibit is being held in the Grading Gallery in Engineering West. The exhibit of prints will be open daily, Monday through Friday, until Dec. 5.

Tour, Piano Concert Are CU Plans

BY DONNA BOCKEMUEHL

November, Thanksgiving, December Finals, Christmas, golly time goes by quickly! There's less than a month until Christmas vacation, and only 12 more school days.

Speaking of time going by quickly, we've been talking about the Hearst Castle trip for three short weeks now, and suddenly it's here. Tomorrow, Saturday the 23rd. Last week, we talked about some of the historical facts concerned with the castle. The week before we let our imaginations wander over the more dreamy side of Hearst's "Wunderkind." Now everyone is prepared for the tour, so let's hop aboard the bus tomorrow and have a wonderful time.

The volleyball tournament, sponsored by CU Games and Hobbies Committee, has been held and here are the results:

First place team—Alan Kelley and Jack Vincent.

Second place—Pat Skinner and D. Phipps. Third place—Noel Kawachi and Glenn Dang. Thirteen teams participated in the two-man team tournament with the top three teams receiving trophies. Another similar tournament will be run during the Spring Quarter with trophies being awarded to the top three teams.

Dr. Wendel Nelson, who gave an excellent duo piano concert with his wife, Marjorie, last year here at Poly, is coming back again. Dr. Nelson is well known for his extensive performances in festivals, symposia, benefit concerts, and faculty recitals throughout California and the Mid-West. Last year he was a featured soloist in three concerts with the Pagnini Quartet. In February of 1964 he is planning to begin a concert tour of Europe. Looking over his record as a performer, and recalling last year's concert, we promise you an evening of outstanding entertainment. Dr. Nelson's concert will include works by Debussy, Brahms, Prokofiev, and Stevens. Tickets are available for 50 cents in the ASB Office, or at the door on the evening of the performance—Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

College Union is sponsoring a Fall Social Dec. 2 at 7 p.m. in the TCU. The social will give committee members an opportunity to become better acquainted with members of the other committees. There will be games, prizes, skits and dancing. This is a quarterly event, each with a different program, but each proposed to stimulate interest and reward the committee members for their diligent work. There's fun for all so come on kids, and have a ball!

"Dashing through the snow, and one horse open sleigh," brightly lighted Christmas trees, the smell of wonderful holiday pastries, and the swirl of frothy gowns at the Christmas Formal! M-m-m, sounds wonderful! Start planning now for the CU Dance Committee's Christmas Formal to be held Dec. 7 in the Dining Hall. Admission will be $1.25 per couple for the evening that officially opens the Christmas Season. CU Everywhere!

Mailbag Likes Our Friendly Campus

Editor:

Recently I made my first visit to the San Luis Obispo Campus of Cal Poly to observe your Homecoming weekend. I was accompanied by Richard Henson, Marty Samuel, and Jan Heger, who occupy, respectively, the positions of president, vice-president, and cheerleader of the Associated Students of the Kellogg Campus. We felt this visit would give us an opportunity to become acquainted with the campus and the students at San Luis Obispo.

Upon arriving at your campus, we were welcomed by several members of your SAC and though I was a stranger to every member of that group, I was made to feel at home immediately. During my entire stay at San Luis Obispo, I was accorded the warm friendliness which is not often given to a stranger. You have a wonderful campus in a beautiful section of the state but the one thing I remember was the friendliness of your students. This, more than anything, made the trip worthwhile.

Both campuses of Cal Poly are famous for their friendly students. I hope that when the San Luis Obispo SAC visits the Kellogg Campus for our Homecoming, we can make them as welcome as they made us feel.

I guess praying paid off last weekend, because right on schedule Friday afternoon the skies began to clear, and students and alumni alike breathed a sigh of relief.

By Friday the campus came alive with the anticipated excitement of Homecoming and many clubs and committees started the execution of months of hard work and planning.

From Friday night until Sunday the groups never stopped work until the task was completed. Larry Schwab, Homecoming chairman, has every reason to be proud of himself and the job his committee did.

The football team, song girls, cheerleaders, letter girls, and band ended the home season with a game which left the crowd breathless and proud. They have worked hard all year and the many hours of work were more than apparent.

Don't forget, without those students your weekend wouldn't have been successful, say thanks if you know one of them, or if you are one of them feel good, your job was well done.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: BRAD ZUVER

Brad Zuver (B.A., 1957) has converted his economics educational background to the exacting details of accounting through the use of data processing equipment. It's just business economics according to Brad, but the opportunity to function as a data processing expert has opened a whole new future for him.

Besides the intensive training he received on business machines, he has been given a free hand to suggest new data processing procedures. His creativity and initiative paid off. It wasn't long before Brad was promoted to a section supervisor at Pacific Telephone's San Francisco office.

There's never a permanent procedure for processing business information. Not only are there constant improvements in machinery, but the telephone business is dynamic, continually changing to meet new marketing problems. No wonder Brad finds his job so challenging.

Brad Zuver, like many young men, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to think of Christmas shopping, for the Yuletide will be upon us quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson"? Well sir, the original saying was French—"Plus vite que de dire Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an Anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, got murdered in his bath by Danton, Murat, Caligula, and Al Capone.

(The reason people started saying "Quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre"—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries like England, the U.S., and Cleveland—is quite an interesting little story. It seems that Robespierre's wife, Georges Sand, got word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save his life was call his name and warn him. But, alas, quicker than she could say Jacques Robespierre, she received a telegram from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was down in Majorca setting lyrics all she had to do was call his name to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto." Chopin said he needed Georges Sand's help desperately because he could not find a rhyme for "Warsaw." Naturally, Georges could not refuse such an urgent request.

(Well sir, off to Majorca went Georges, but before she left, she told her little daughter Walter that some bad men were coming to murder Daddy in his bath. She instructed Walter to shout Robespierre's name the moment the bad men arrived. But Walter, alas, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home with a big bag of salt water taffy, and when the bad men arrived to murder Robespierre, Walter, alas, was chewing a wad of taffy and could not get her mouth unstuck in time to shout a warning. Robespierre, alas, was murdered quicker than you could say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries. (There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca, she did succeed in helping Chopin find a rhyme for "Warsaw" as everyone knows who has heard those haunting lyrics:

*In the fair town of Warsaw,
Which Napoleon's horse saw,
Singing cockles and muscels, alive alive o')
But I digress.*

We were speaking of Christmas gifts. What we all try to find at Christmas is, of course, unusual and distinctive gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes? What? You are astonished? You had not thought of Marlboros as unusual? You had regarded them as familiar, reliable smokes whose excellence varied not one jot nor tittle from year to year? True. All true. But all the same, Marlboros are unusual because every time you try one, it's like the first time. The flavor never palls, the filter never gets hackneyed, the soft pack is ever a new delight, and so is the Flip Top box. Each Marlboro is a fresh and pristine pleasure, and if you want all your friends to clap their hands and cry, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!" you will see that their stockings are filled with Marlboros on Christmas morn.

The holiday season or any other season is the season to be jolly—if Marlboro is your brand. You'll find Marlboros wherever cigarettes are sold in all fifty states of the Union. You get a lot to like in Marlboro Country.

Graduating Class Seeks Gift Idea

Deadline for the contest is the beginning of December.

Advertising Is Subject Of Noon Book Review

Loren Nicholson of the Technical Journalism Department will review Joseph Seldin's novel, "The Golden Fleece," next Tuesday, Nov. 26. The book is subtitled, "Advertising in American Life," and this is the clue to its contents.

Seldin tells how the big advertisers have catered to and exploited the middle class search for the good life, how advertisers deliberately fashioned their campaigns to feed the middle class ego and tap the middle class pocketbook, and how marketplace values have saturated our social life.

OPEN HOUSE

There will be an open house for foreign students on Friday, Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Zollars. The informal social gathering is being planned by members and friends of the Cal Poly Women's Club. Festival Of Lights Will Be Saturday

Festival of Lights, a religious ceremony welcoming the new year in India, will be celebrated Saturday, Nov. 23 in the Air Conditioning Auditorium.

Presented by the Cultural Society of India, the festival can be compared to the American religious celebration at Christmas time. It welcomes in the new year in India and receives its name from the many candles which are lighted throughout the towns and villages of the country.

In order to bring Indian customs to Americans, the society will perform dances, musical selections and parade of dress which is typical for this type of festival.

One of the highlights of the program will feature Karen Young in the famous Katak dance followed by S.R. Shori's flute recital. The meaning of the festival will be explained and the Indian National Anthem sung. A costume show under the direction of D.S. Grewal will display the different types of dress worn in the various states of India.

Following the intermission at which time foods from the country will be served, there will be documented movies of customs and traditions.

Introduce Students To Agriculture, Says Bureau Official

"With the rapidly growing population of California and the increasing demands of modern technology for well-trained people in agriculture and related fields, a greater number of students in our high schools must be introduced and trained in agriculture to fill these positions."

So said E.D. Graf, Jr., assistant chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Education at Sacramento, who was the guest of the Cal Poly Agricultural Education Department recently.

Graf said, "More high school students must be encouraged to continue their agricultural training at colleges like Cal Poly. As a result, there is a growing need for more top quality teachers in our high schools."

He addressed the introductory and advanced courses in agricultural education on the functions of the bureau and its role in California agricultural education. He also mentioned the importance of vocational agriculture programs offered in many secondary schools throughout the state.

During his visit to the campus, Graf interviewed candidates for the Ag. Education teaching program.

H.H. Burlingham, chairman of the Cal Poly Agricultural Education Department, said that during an additional year of graduate study in education and advanced agriculture courses, the teaching candidate is assigned to do his student teaching for a semester in a carefully selected vocational agriculture department of a participating high school. When the candidate has successfully completed this work, he contracts with the school of his choice for a teaching position in the agriculture program.

Graduates of Cal Poly's Agricultural Education program have started teaching careers at salaries ranging up to $7,000 per year, he said.

Burlingham suggests that those students interested in preparing for a career as an agricultural teacher should contact him in the Agricultural Building, Room 246.

Foreign Student Party Is Planned

The Cal Poly Women's Club will be hosts to all foreign students and their families at a buffet supper and tree trimming party to be held December 20, in the Temporary College Union Building at 6 p.m.

Invitations for this event are being sent to all foreign students and to Cal Poly staff members and their families.

The party will include singing Christmas carols and enjoying those universal festivities—good food and holiday fellowship. All food will be provided by staff members.

Committee in charge of arrangements: Chase, Green, Sato and Michel Frank.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.

Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes.

So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?

Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.

How intelligent!

take part in the annual State College tournament.

Eight state colleges including Long Beach, Los Angeles, San Diego, Fresno, San Fernando, San Francisco, and San Jose, will compete for the championship in the Los Angeles State College pool.

Poly has drawn Fresno State as its first opponent. Earlier this year, the tankers from Poly defeated the Bulldogs by a score of 18-1.

If Poly should win, it is scheduled to meet the winner of the San Jose—San Fernando Valley game.

Long Beach State, Los Angeles State, and San Jose should prove to be big guns of the two-day affair. But Cal Poly and San Francisco State cannot be counted out and there might be a few upsets in the making this weekend.

Last weekend the Mustangs tuned up for the championships when they clubbed San Fernando Valley by a score of 11-2. Bill McClellan, a freshman, was the top scorer as he was good on four shots. Len Deaton followed closely with three and Jeff Capell gathered two.

Roger Svenson, Mike Nero and Roger Moblad will also be giving the goalies from the other teams headaches with their shooting. The entire Mustang team is up for this one and should come back with a respectable showing.

Rodeo Team Holds Jackpot; Prepares For January Meet

Recently the Cal Poly Rodeo Club, sponsored the annual fall jackpot rodeo in the Bud Collett Arena.

Spearheading the event were Ray Bunnell, former Cal Poly student, announcing; Silva Harvey, rodeo secretary, and Jack Sparrow, jackpot chairman.

Dick Deegan captured the all-around title by winning the bull dogging and ribbon roping events. Other winners included Bill Wilcoxson in the bareback riding, Jack Sparrow in the saddle bronc, C. W. Adams in the bull riding and Eddie Newton in the calf roping.

The next rodeo will be in January at Tempe, Ariz.

Walker's Kickoff Return Highlight Of Big Game

Well, the Mustangs finally found the answer to winning football games this season. All the team has to do now is schedule a homecoming for every game played at Mustang Stadium.

Before a homecoming crowd of about 5,000, the Green and Gold squeezed out a 14-12 victory over the Gauchos from Santa Barbara.

This was the thirteenth straight time the Poly gridmen had sent the Gauchos to the showers with a loss. The calf's hide will remain in the Men's Gymnasium for another year. The hide is given each year to the winner of the traditional battle.

With 5:17 left in the first quarter, the Mustangs hit pay dirt when Howard Taylor fumbled, picked up the ball, and dove into the endzone for six points. Bill Crow converted and Poly lead 7-0.

The Gauchos scored next when an alley-oop pass from Max Hand to Larry Scott covered the last 20 yards. The try for two was no good and Poly still lead 7-6.

The Mustangs struck quickly when Gary Walker took the kickoff and raced down the sidelines 85 yards to give himself and the Mustangs a nice birthday gift. Crow kicked the extra point and the Mustangs had enough for the victory.

The Gauchos scored once more, but they just did not have enough to overcome the lead built by Harden's men.

Cross Country Men Vie For League Title

Eat a light meal and get plenty of sleep!

This is the saying Mustang harriers will be hearing this weekend as they journey to Long Beach for the California Collegiate Athletic Association league finals in the cross country competition. The six conference schools will meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. on Long Beach's 3 1/2 mile course. The Mustangs will be looking for at least a third in the competition, according to Coach Richard McElveny. Roland Lint is expected to place high in the standings if he continues the performances he has put on during the season. Two weeks ago the Mustangs met the University of California at Santa Barbara, a former member of the CCAA, and were defeated 27-31.
