Winter Quarter Registers 5,998

By LYNNE PRINDLE

"Pink one in front, keep your add-drop card, pay here, pull this card . . ." Jan. 3, 5,970 students had passed through the registration lines for Winter Quarter.

And this time they even had their pictures taken. An automatic camera located high up in the press box inside the gym recorded the registration routine as part of a time-motion study analysis of the process.

Twenty-eight late registrants as of 5 p.m. Tuesday brings the grand total to 5,998.

Registration which began at 8 a.m. in the Men's Gym continued throughout the day ending at approximately 8 p.m. when numbers were tallied and listings were made so that classes could begin promptly Monday morning.

Representing a drop of nearly 300 students from Fall Quarter enrollment figures, Registrar Jerald Holley said that the between quarter decrease is normal.

Female students will be glad to learn that once again there are approximately 3.2 men to every woman with statistics showing 4,541 men and 1,429 women enrollees.

A further breakdown of registration data shows that Sophomores lead with 1,654 students as

Aliens Report This Month

The Immigration and Naturalization Services remind non-citizens of the United States that during the month of January they are required to report their current address on Form I-53, Address Report Card.

The card may be obtained at the college Records Office, Post Offices and Immigration Service Offices during the month of January.

Citizens of the United States are urged to assist alien friends and relatives by reminding them of this requirement of the Immigration Law.

The law requires that these cards be filled out and submitted before Jan. 31 of each year.

The card should not be mailed.

compared to 1,567 Freshmen, 1,271 Seniors and 1,024 Juniors and 99 limited students.

Out of the top five majors, the architects lead with 520 students trailed by 509 Electronic majors, 386 in Animal Husbandry, 384 in Social Science and 379 in Mechanical Engineering.

There is a total of 5,615 regular students and 385 limited.

Registration went smoothly this quarter as pleasant background music soothed the ruffled nerves of IBM card seekers and late registrants.

As one of the fastest registration processes in the country, Cal Poly was able to register nearly 6,000 students in a single day compared to other campuses which take a week to do the same thing.

Holley attributes most of the speed to IBM equipment, the system based on numbers. All classes are scheduled with the use of IBM numbers and students are required to pick up a numbered card corresponding to each class they wish to take.

Interim Report

McCorkle Will Advise Alpha Zeta

Robert McCorkle, an instructor in the Agricultural Business Management Department, has been named to the faculty advisory committee of the Cal Poly chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity.

McCorkle, who received a bachelor of arts degree in Farm Management from Cal Poly in 1960, will join a four-man faculty advisory committee to the organization, which is headed by Leo Sankoff, an instructor in Poultry Husbandry and Agricultural Education.

TA Junior Wins Scholarship

James Coles, a junior studying Technical Arts, has won a $500 scholarship from the Construction Equipment Distributors and Manufacturers of Southern California.

Coles won the scholarship for his interest and aptitude for entering the construction equipment distribution industry upon graduation.

AE Department Accredited

The Agricultural Engineering Department received a boost in nationwide prestige recently when it was accredited by the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

The department known for its unique "learn by doing" application to the study of Agricultural Engineering, was notified of the official recognition by J.L. Butt, executive secretary of the society.

Hay, Grain Dealers Meet Jan. 23, 24

More than 400 members of the California Hay, Grain and Feed Dealers Association will meet on the Cal Poly Campus January 23 and 24.

The group will be welcomed to the campus by President Julian A. McPhee and Warren T. Smith, dean of the Agriculture Division.

Electronics Major Wins Scholarship

Richard D. Shannon Jr., an Electronic Engineering junior, received a $400 scholarship from Western Electric Co. for his outstanding scholastic achievements. Shannon, 22, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Shannon, Sr., of Santa Barbara.

3 Know Their Turkeys

A team of three Cal Poly students added another judging championship to those already won by the college's Agricultural Division. Jerry Gilbreth of Tulare, Victor Snell of Harbor City and Wayne Simpson of Costa Mesa combined to win the first place trophy at the Far West Show's Intercollegiate Contest.

Crops Students Will Study At Cornell

Edward Boutonnet and Merle Jensen, both Crops Production majors, have been granted graduate study assistantships at Cornell University for the Spring Semester.

The students, who will begin studies at the eastern university early in February, were given the assistantships for their outstanding academic work while enrolled at Cal Poly.

Conner Added to OH Staff

E. Wesley Conner has been added to the staff of the Ornamental Horticulture Department, specializing in landscape design. Conner graduated from Cal Poly with a bachelor of science degree in Ornamental Horticulture in 1956.

Social Science Junior Named Veep

A junior Social Science student at Cal Poly, Jack Montgomery of Hanford, has been elected second vice-president of Region 15 of the Association of College Unions. An active student at Poly, Montgomery is chairman of the college's College Union Board, a member of Student Affairs Council, a cadet second lieutenant in ROTC and a member of Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity.

Foreign Students Visit Kern County

Twenty-two foreign students representing nine different nations, were guests in the homes of members of the Kern County Farm Bureau over the Christmas Vacation. According to Warren F. Weigis, secretary-manager of KCFB, their visit was made possible through joint cooperation of the college and the Kern County group.

30 Students Tour State Farms

Over the Christmas holidays, some 30 agricultural students visited 16 farm and ranch operations between the Central Coast Area and the Bay Area in order to learn more about new agricultural methods and the problems facing agriculture in the Golden State. The students all members of a class in "Successful California Farms," were accompanied by two faculty members.

Peace Corps Representatives Hold Interviews On Campus Today

Five representatives of the Peace Corps—two of them now Cal Poly students—are participating in a trained recruiting program here.

The recruiting interview persons are Peace Corps volunteers in the Snack Bar from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. today and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Jan. 11.

They include Lynn Bramkamp, contractors' overseas representative for the Cooperative League of the United States under a Peace Corps contract; Susan Finegold and Mrs. India Scurlock, Peace Corps recruiting representatives; and John Cash and Harold Hill, two Cal Poly students who recently returned to the United States after serving two-years for the Peace Corps in Pakistan.

the College Placement Office.

They will administer the Peace Corps placement test at 8:30 a.m. on Friday, Jan. 11. Junior and senior students contemplating joining the Peace Corps within the next year are encouraged to both take the test and fill out the Peace Corps Volunteer questionnaire that will be available with the examination.

Bramkamp, who has done much Peace Corps work in Columbia, will present a series of colored slides on that country Friday, Jan. 10 at 4 p.m. in Sci. E27.

Both Bramkamp and Mrs. Scurlock will place particular emphasis on Peace Corps activities in Latin America during their interview with interested students. Miss Finegold is prepared to discuss Peace Corps programs and operations all over the world.

Bramkamp has recently been supervising Peace Corps volunteers in Colombia engaged in assisting small production farmers, ranchers, small production and marketing cooperatives and home industry groups. The volunteers under his supervision worked, for the most part, singly on the cooperative programs.

Hill is returning to Cal Poly as a student after serving 21 months with the Peace Corps in West Pakistan. A 1961 graduate of Orange Coast Junior College, he was involved with agricultural extension work while with the Peace Corps. He helped organize demonstration and problem-solving projects for the people of West Pakistan.

Cash, one of the first Peace Corps volunteers to go overseas, served two years in Layallpur, where he taught biology at Government University and the University of West Pakistan.

He also did some volunteer work at a hospital and helped on a project with a leper colony.

Cash, who lives in Erie, Pa., has been doing substitute teaching since his return from Yayallpur, but is currently beginning studies at Cal Poly.

SEANCE... Medium Gloria Halton, L, gazes into her crystal ball as Tom Siler looks on, r., in rehearsal for tonight's comedy play "Blithe Spirit." The Noel Coward play will also run tomorrow night. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

'Blithe Spirit' Will Return In 2-Day Run

"Blithe Spirit," a play that combines mediums, seances, and budding authors, returns to the Little Theater Jan. 10 and 11 for a two-day run.

Tickets for both performances, which begin at 8:30 p.m., may be obtained at the door.

The play, which made its Cal Poly debut Nov. 21 and was to have been seen in two additional performances, was postponed due to the assassination of President Kennedy.

One of Noel Coward's most successful comedies, "Blithe Spirit" is the story of an author who is about to start on a novel concerned with spiritualism and the occult. To get background for the book, he and his second wife invite a medium in the area to conduct a seance.

But the budding author gets far more than he bargained for when the medium produces his first wife, who has been dead for seven years.

Filled with typically witty Noel Coward dialogue, the play even includes laughs when the second wife kills the first one.

Real-life Cal Poly husband and wife, Tom and Jean Siler of Atascadero, play the parts of the author and the first wife, while Jane Evanson of South San Francisco is the wife brought back from the dead and Gloria Halton is cast as the medium.

Others in the cast are Chris Dawson, Audrey Davis, and Judy Jackson.

Produced by the College Union Drama Committee, "Blithe Spirit" is directed by Glen Smith, instructor in the English and Speech Department. Set designs were completed by J. Murray Smith, also an English and Speech instructor.

'Racial Revolution' Is Sunday Talk Topic

"The Racial Revolution" will be the subject of a special meeting led by Dr. Robert L. ...
San Francisco Theological Seminary visiting Cal Poly this weekend. The meeting will be held at 3 p.m. at 1468 Foothill Blvd., across from the Health Center.

Surfing Adventure, Thrills To Be Seen In Full Color Film

Ninety exciting minutes of surfing thrills, adventure and fun can be seen tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building downtown.

Bruce Brown's "Waterlogged" will be presented in full color, bringing the best from six years of surfing photography. Featured will be the world's top surfers in action.

Sponsored by the Pacific Coast Surf Club, "Waterlogged" was filmed in Hawaii, California, Australia, Florida and old Mexico.

All tickets are $1.25 and can be obtained at the door. Free door prizes of surfing albums and poster packs will be given.

"Waterlogged" is produced and photographed by Brown, who has also filmed "Slippery When Wet," "Surf Crazy," "Barefoot Adventure" and "Surfing Hollow Days."

Interested Students Can Still Obtain Newspaper Jobs

Students interested in working on the college newspaper El Mustang can still do so, according to Loren Nicholson, advertising advisor.

Positions on both the editorial and advertising staffs are still open.

Nicholson said that students could gain valuable business experience as well as activity points in working on the college newspaper. There is also an opportunity to work toward Board of Publication appointed positions.

Interested students can sign up for Journalism 251 in the editorial side or Journalism 351 for advertising. Two units of credit of pay on a commission basis for advertising can be earned, Nicholson concluded.

Got Anything To Swap? Ski Stuff That Is

A ski swap will be held in the Temporary College Union tonight from 5:30 to 12:30 and is sponsored by the Ski Club.

A ski swap will give students a chance to buy at reduced prices, sell, or trade skiing equipment.

An informal dance also will be held during the swap and refreshments will be served.

28 Teams Vie In Wrestling Tourney

The largest Junior College wrestling tournament in the nation is scheduled to take place on the Cal Poly campus tomorrow beginning at 11 a.m. in the Men's Gym. Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, the director, is expecting 28 teams from all over the state to enter.

Approximately 280 contestants will participate in 10 different weight classifications. Cal Poly will enter its junior varsity team with fine wrestlers such as, Tom Miles, John Garcia, John Miller and Terry Wigglesworth. Last year the Poly team finished in a third place tie with San Mateo.

Defending champion El Camino will be back to put its title on the line against San Bernardino, Grossmont, Foothill, Orange Coast and Fresno. San Bernardino was the runner-up last year.

Finals in all weight classes will begin in Crandall Gym at 7:30 p.m. Team trophies will be presented to the champions and their runner-up. Individual awards will include a trophy to the champion of each class with awards going to the second, third, and fourth place finishers.

Roundballers Open Home League Play

The Cal Poly Mustangs will get their first test on their own hardwoods in league play this weekend as they entertain the San Diego Aztecs and Long Beach State.

The Aztecs and the Mustangs will battle it out Friday night beginning at 8:15 o'clock in the Men's Gym. The southland team is lead by all-league guard Jack Shaveroff.

Saturday night will feature the 49ers of Coach Dick Perry. The Long Beach team will be without the services of Stan Anderson who was lost due to graduation.

The Mustangs dropped both league battles last weekend, but hope their own court will be the answer to the victory trail.

New League For Basketball "Vets"

A new division has been added to the intramural basketball program this year, according to Vaughan Hitchcock, coordinator of the activities.

Any person currently enrolled in school, including varsity basketball players, ex-junior college players, or all-around "hot-shots" from past seasons, may enter the division.

In addition to this division, the regular Monday ... leagues will begin play next Wednesday, Jan. 15.

All intramural managers are urged to attend a meeting Jan. 14, 7:30 p.m. in MPE 122.

Jan. 14 Deadline For Health Plan

Deadline for enrollment in the Campus Health Plan administered by the Student Health Center is next Tuesday, Jan. 14. Cost for the plan is $6 per quarter, payable at the cashier's office in the Adm. Building.

Full use of Student Health Center facilities is available to all students whether they pay the $6 fee or not. But students who do not enroll in the plan incur bills for treatment at the center that is free to Campus Health Plan members.

For instance, a day in the infirmary at the Health Center costs non-members $17.50 plus charges for meals. Non-members also pay $10 for emergency night calls and forego a substantial discount for pharmacy goods.

While the capabilities of the Health Center are comprehensive, they do not include such services as major surgery. Students who require outside care must pay the bills from their own pocket or through personal health insurance.

Seniors Need Date To Get 'Shot'

Senior pictures for the 1963 yearbook, El Rodeo will be taken Jan. 13-15 by appointment only, according to Judy Cochran, editor of the El Rodeo. Seniors may pick up appointment slips in the Poly Post Office.

Pictures will be taken Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 13 and 14 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Wednesday, Jan. 15 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dress for the portraits will be suits, ties and white shirts for men, and sweaters and pearls for women.

Dunlap - Turney, professional photographers studio of Glendale, will take the senior pictures. Proofs will be available to seniors the day after pictures have been taken. Seniors will also be able to order additional pictures for their family and friends.

BANK ROBBERY INCREASING

Bank robbery is coming back into style. Last year 1,250 banks were robbed, a third more than in 1961. The total threatens to be even higher in 1963, despite the F.B.I.'s 90 per cent success record of catching bank robbers.

JUICE HELPS DRIVING

you combat winter driving hazards. A few drops of the juice spread on each side of your windshield will help prevent icing on the outside and fogging from within.

Rumford Bill Is Public Meet Topic

The controversy over fair housing and civil rights will come to life in San Luis Obispo Monday night.

Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Oakland), author of the fair housing bill, will speak at a public meeting beginning at 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers, located at Palm and Osos Streets.

Rides to the meeting will be provided by the Cal Poly Young Democrats, leaving from the El Corral Snack Bar at 7:20 p.m.

Local members of the California Real Estate Association, which is sponsoring a petition to put the Rumford Housing Bill to a statewide vote in a referendum next November, will participate in an open forum with the assemblyman.

A spokesman for the San Luis Obispo Board of Realtors reports that the majority of local realtors favor putting the housing bill to a vote. Those against the petition, including some realtors in other parts of the state, fear that debates on the issue would inflame racial feelings.

As it now reads, the Rumford Bill deems it against state policy for anyone engaged in the business of selling, renting or leasing living accommodations to discriminate against a prospective customer on the basis of race or national origin.

The bill does not apply to private individuals selling, renting or leasing residences.

All Poly Weekend Slated Feb. 21-23

The date for All Poly Weekend was set for Feb. 21-23 by the Student Affairs Council Tuesday night.

Registration of incoming Pomona students will take place on Friday and Saturday mornings, and San Luis Obispo students will register during the week preceding the activity.

The tentative schedule includes two stumps, campus tours, field intercampus competitive sports and a hootenanny featuring talent from both campuses. Two representatives from the Pomona campus were present at Tuesday's meeting.

The special election for incorporation of the ASB will be Jan. 22 and 23. Radio appearances by Jim Quick and Steve Scofield, and articles will appear in "El Mustang" in an effort to inform the student body on the issue.

Darryl Skrabak was announced as the new Board of Finance chairman, and Paul Sultsbach and Hugh Bromma were accepted as members of the Finance Committee.
