Tonight's Military Ball Features Les Brown, ROTC Queen Selection

Les Brown and his Band of Renown will play for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps Military Ball this evening from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Men's Gym.

The 16-piece orchestra will feature Butch Stone, assistant leader, Stumpy Brown, vocal stylist and bass trombonist, and Susan Maro, vocalist.

In a special intermission ceremony during the semi-formal dance the new ROTC queen will be crowned.

Sandy Martin, last year's queen, will return to do the crowning. She will be escorted by Cadet Col. Charles Becke, brigadier commander.

The dance will have a military motif of red, white, and blue bunting and the seal of the U.S. Army on display.

All the cadets and officers will appear in dress uniforms. The girls will be escorted down the aisle formed by the men's drill team and the queen will be presented with a dozen red roses.

A 3 by 5 inch color picture will be taken free (perhaps a 25 cent mailing and handling charge) of each couple, said Col. William Boyce, head of the ROTC Department.

Every girl who attends the ball will receive a baby Hawaiian orchid.

Fifty door prizes ranging in value up to $20 gift certificates will be given away during the dance. Refreshments will be available in the lobby.

"The ball has the potential of being by far the best and biggest dance of the year on campus," declared Col. Boyce.

The Les Brown Band has played to more college dates than any other band in the country. Since last February, they have made three cross-country flying trips to play college engagements from Seattle, Wash., to Gainesville, Fla.

Brown is recognized as an able and accomplished conductor and devotee of symphony as well as popular music. He has been featured as guest conductor for symphony orchestras in many cities.

Among his most famous compositions is "Sentimental Journey."

Trustees Adopt Quarter System For 18 California State Colleges

Cal Poly's lead in year-round operation by the quarter system was followed by the Board of Trustees last week when they adopted the quarter system for the 18 state colleges.

Previously the board had indicated it favored the quarter system over the semester system now in effect.

Action by the trustees of the California State Colleges calls for implementing the quarter system calendar at the earliest feasible date when the individual colleges are prepared for the transition and when financial support is available.

Cal Poly was also included in an $81.6 million residence hall development program approved by the trustees. The planned program would provide space for 2,100 additional students here.

The cost of the college program will provide 13,000 residence hall spaces and 18,600 cafeteria spaces between 1967-69. Expected to be self-supporting, the facilities will be built by funds either from Federal loans or private financing.

The planned residence spaces of the various colleges are Cal State Hayward, 600; Cal Poly, Pomona, 1,200; Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, 2,400; Chico, 800; Fresno, 2,400; Humboldt, 400; Long Beach, 1,000; Orange, 600; Sacramento, 1,200; San Diego, 1,000; San Fernando, 600; San Francisco, 1,200; San Jose, 1,400; and Sonoma, 400.

The two new campuses at Palos Verdes and San Bernardino will be included later.

The trustees also adopted a proposal regarding the Tower Hall complex, a landmark at San Jose State College said to be the oldest building in the state college system.

It includes rebuilding the tower and the adjacent Morris Hall, tearing down the classroom wings and building a new classroom on 4.36 acres adjacent to the campus.

In other action, the name of Los Angeles State College of Applied Arts and Sciences was changed to the California State College at Los Angeles. Approval was given for the acquisition of 200 unspecified acres within a defined perimeter of 381 acres in the city of Rolling Hills Estates for the campus of the California State College at Palos Verdes.

Schematic plans approved for building projects at three colleges include a $101,700 corporation yard at Long Beach State College, a $2,358,100 addition to the administration building at the Los Angeles campus and site development at Sonoma State College at a cost of $518,400. Working drawings for a $3,301,700 engineering building at the Los Angeles campus were also authorized.

First Place, 28 Trophies Scored By ROTC Gun Clubs

ROTC's two gun clubs scored double bull's eyes over the weekend when the Rifle Team won first place at Fresno and the eight-man Pistol Team garnered 28 individual trophies at Visalia.

At the Fresno competition the score was Cal Poly 1,416 and Fresno 1,413. Each team had five members and seven alternates at the match held last Saturday.

An individual trophy was awarded to Cad. Paul Wong for having the high score of 273 points out of a possible 300.

Competing at the Visalia Police Association Pistol Range the Pistol Team collectively won 21 individual trophies out of the 37 offered for the marksmanship class.

The cadets shot as individuals against members of the Visalia Police Association, National Guard units, Highway Patrol members and game wardens last Sunday.

Cadet Richard Dobkowitz, rated as one of the top collegiate pistol shooters in the nation, won four trophies.

Other members of the winning team for the Fresno competition are Cadets: commander, John Fox, Harold Knudson, Gordon Kellogg and Tom Roth; the alternates were John Townsend, Barry Johnson, Steve Plath, William Roden, James Grove, Stephen Freeman and Larry Bell.

A total of 160 rounds were shot during the match. Each man shot 30 rounds at 50 feet distances in kneeling, prone and standing positions. Official National Rifle Association 50 ft. smallbore targets were used.

Three different weapons were involved at the Visalia competition, as 22, .38 and .45 caliber pistols were fired.

Dobkowitz made first place in all three weapons in the sharpshooter class, and he garnered a 50 yd. .45 caliber slow fire trophy for having the highest score in the competition.

The other seven students who participated in this competition are Cadets: Howard E. Miller, John Wilson, Charles Dickerhoff, Larry Nakamishi, Daniel Kawamoto, Tom Grundman and John Norton.

Pending National Rifle Association recognition of the club, Dobkowitz will be rated tops on a nation wide basis, said Capt. Tommy Price, assistant professor of Military Science.

The individual first place trophy from the Fresno match was presented by Capt. Price to Cadet Fox during a ceremony held Tuesday noon after the drill exercises.

Fox in turn presented the trophy to Dean of the College Dr. Dale Andrews who accepted the award in behalf of President Julian A. McPhee and the college. Individual trophies were also presented to the five team members.

Prep Trombonist Is Named Soloist For Annual Concert

Bruce Hier, a young trombonist from Arroyo Grande has been named soloist for the San Luis Obispo County Honor Band Concert to be presented in the Little Theater Feb. 8 at 8 p.m.

Hier was chosen to play the solo, the first high school student to be so honored in the history of the annual concert, by tryout judges on the basis of his outstanding musical ability.

Hier, a senior at Arroyo Grande High School, will play Arthur Pryor's arrangement of "Blue Bells of Scotland" Air and Variations, in addition to participating in the concert under the baton of well-known conductor and arranger Carmen Dragon.

The program of varied musical selections is free to the public who will have an opportunity to hear young Hier and talented members of six high school bands perform under the direction of professional conductor Dragon.

The soloist and his 70 fellow musicians will rehearse throughout the day on both Feb. 7 and 8, prior to their performance the evening of the latter date.

Cal Poly's Music Department and the San Luis Obispo County Schools Office are co-sponsors of the annual event.

Council Passes Coed Resolution; Administration Approval Pending

By LANI CAIN

Student Affairs Council passed the long-awaited coed resolution before a scant audience last Tuesday night.

With little debate over the resolution's final form, SAC sent the Resolution Committee's report directly to President of the College Julian A. McPhee.

There was no definite date set for the administration's answer to the resolution.

Included in the resolution was the feeling that under reasonable circumstances the college can approve the visitation of a student to a residence of a member of the opposite sex.

The visits would be allowed provided that certain procedures or requirements are followed. Married students or those over 21 are exempted from all college restrictions while off campus.

Under the proposed rules for students under 21, visits may be made to the home or apartment of a member of the opposite sex provided that they abide by all other rules governing acceptable conduct, at least two women are present at all times, they do not enter housing disapproved, by the college, and they maintain the same visiting hours as are found on campus.

Following the submission of the resolution and the report, there was a mild skirmish between SAC members and some questions from a gallery of 15.

Mike Burns, Agriculture Council representative, moved to table the resolution for a week in order to give the matter more careful consideration.

The motion to table the resolution was defeated by a near unanimous voice vote.

Before the committee voted on the acceptance of the resolution and the committee report, a controversial question came from the gallery.

Craig Mills, a member of the gallery, asked if the clause in the resolution stating that women students may not enter "disapproved housing" would be applied to fraternities.

Kemp and some of the other members of the council stated that the college has made no move disapproving fraternities, but rather it does not recognize them.

After some other discussion, the resolution, along with the Resolution Committee report, was passed by an almost unanimous vote.

Also presented at the SAC meeting was a report by the Constitution and Codes Committee, along with a motion to accept Paula Connolly as a member of the committee, the cross country and water polo year-end reports. All were accepted.

'Showgirls' Need Poly Royal Housing

Thirty "showgirls" from the south need your help!

They need room and hospitality during the 1964 Poly Royal, April 24 and 25.

The girls are part of the "Road Show" that the Pomona campus of Cal Poly will send to perform Friday afternoon and evening for Poly Royal.

If the girls can be housed by San Luis Obispo students, the Poly Royal Board will save the expense of putting them up in a hotel.

And the board figures that the Pomona girls will enjoy their visit more if they stay in a friendly household rather than a hotel.

Offers for accommodations by prospective hosts may be placed with the Associated Student Body office until Feb. 15. This early commitment for the April event is made necessary by early deadlines for alternative hotel housing.

Feminine host applicants will be preferred by the Poly Royal Board, according to Ralph Loya, first assistant general superintendent on the board.

But men, whose home in town with their parents might qualify as hosts, Loya said.

'Foreign' 'International' Are Words To Think About

By KAREN JORGENSEN

"Foreign" and "International" were "Some Words to Think About" as presented by Dr. Edwin Lee, key address speaker for International Week last Tuesday.

"They are words bearing upon this week's central thought, words which we should think about every week of the year, not just this week alone."

"Out of a considerable list which might be thought about I have selected two—'foreign' and 'international'." Introduced Dr. Lee, former dean of education at UCLA and coordinator of the foreign student programs at that campus.

Before delving into the implications of these words, Dr. Lee presented his talk with a few challenging statistics taken from the latest authentic source, the annual report of the International Institute of Education for the academic year 1962-63.

"There were during the year ending June 30, 1963 a total of more than 64,000 students from 152 nations enrolled in American colleges and universities, an increase from 1962 of 11 per cent."

"Next was Latin America with approximately 11,000, then the Near East and Middle East, Europe, and North America in that order."

"Africa with the smallest number of students, 5,000, showed the greatest rate of increase, 27 per cent," Lee said.

Included in these figures were 415 students enrolled abroad at Cal Poly, almost five and one-half per cent of total student body, about the average the country over. Lee estimates that by 1970 Cal Poly may expect a growth to 650 or 700 foreign students enrolled.

"First we must recognize and accept the fact that foreign students, almost without exception, are a selected group of young men and women representing the best that a given nation possesses."

"They have been chosen with care, they come to this country with high purpose, they seek the best we have to offer. Over the long pull the foreign students will be our most effective ambassadors to the nations from which they come."

"Let us be careful in all we do and never underestimate the connotation of the word foreign," emphasized Lee.

Interesting with a personal note Lee said, "In recent days our minds have been on East Africa—Tanganyika, Kenya and Zanzibar. We have a son and his wife and two young children in Dar es Salaam right now."

College Bulletin Will Include New Programs

Approval of new programs in the 1964-65 issue of the college bulletin for the Kellogg and San Luis campus has been given by President Julian McPhee and the State College Chancellor's office.

New offerings at the SLO campus will be in the Agricultural Division - a new option in Meats in the Food Processing Department and three 18-unit concentrations for students majoring in Animal Husbandry.

The Engineering Division will offer the new five-year curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Architecture in addition to the now existing program in Architecture.

The Applied Science Division will offer separate majors in Chemistry and in Physics replacing the existing program in Physical Science with options.

Courses have been added to make possible the offering of minors in Art and Speech for students planning to satisfy requirements for the new standard teaching credentials.

New offerings on the Kellogg Campus will include three scientific options available to most students in the Agricultural Division, Agrophysics, Biochemistry and Biometrics. An option in Soils will be offered in the Agronomy curriculum since the Soils Department has been discontinued.

The Ornamental Horticulture Department will replace its option in Landscape Contracting with an option in Park Administration.

The Business Management Department has made extensive offerings and will offer a new option in Data Processing.

Students preparing to teach in public schools are now able to take minors in the fields of Speech and Music. An Economics program has also been added to the Social Science Department.

College Staff Plans Valentine Dance

The San Luis Obispo County Club will be the scene of a Valentine Dinner Dance for members of the Cal Poly Staff Club and Women's Club. The event will be held Saturday, Feb. 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Plans include a buffet dinner, dancing to the music of Doug Scott and his orchestra, card games, and a program.

Tickets are now on sale at $5 per couple. They may be obtained at all Staff Club meetings and from George Batie, Adm. 138.

College To Host Flower Judging Competition

The twenty-third annual National Collegiate Flower Judging Contest, sponsored by the Society of American Florists and Pi Alpha Xi, honorary horticulture fraternity, will be held on campus April 10.

Competition is open to any school having a four-year curriculum in Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture. There are nearly 60 colleges and universities in the United States offering such a program.

Ray Houston, instructor and chairman, is in communication with schools throughout the United States, including Hawaii and Alaska, as well as in Canada.

Each participating school will send a coach and a team of three, plus an alternate. A contestant judges each 1 of the four entries in each of the 20 classifications: 10 varieties of cut flowers, 10 kinds of potted plants.

Scoring is tabulated by IBM computer.

Present plans call for a meeting of coaches the evening of April 9 to review rules and make final preparations for the contest. At the same time, visiting students will be entertained by local students at a get-acquainted mixer.

Friday morning students will tour Morro Bay, San Simeon and Hearst's Castle.

Judging will take place Friday afternoon. A banquet will be held in the evening with announcements of winners and awards. A special feature will be a demonstration by a flower designer.

On Saturday there will be a tour of the Santa Barbara area, with visits to horticulture establishments. Included will be a stop at the "Don Puellos Orchid Co., Goleta, said to be the largest grower of cymbidiums.

Indian Students To Observe Country's Independence

Forty-eight Indian students more than 10,000 miles from home will celebrate their country's independence from the British crown tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the AC Auditorium—just as Americans around the world stop on July Fourth to fly the flag and explode fireworks.

India's struggle for freedom, independence on Aug. 15, 1947, and the eventual and hard-won birth of a republic on Jan. 26, 1950, will be the object of the Cultural Society of India member's festivities.

In India parades are held that resemble the Rose Parade floats and decorations. The armed forces march, the president accepts the salute, states and cities present colorful floats, fireworks displays, and street decorations array the cities. New Delhi, the capital, in the showpiece of the festivities.

On the Cal Poly campus, the Indian students will hold their own celebration.

A welcome song by Jagjit Mahi will begin the program. Om Tena will introduce the Republic Day program. Ann Slagle and Karen Young will perform an Indian dance. Dr. David Moe, Physical Science instructor, will give a short talk. A magic show by Darsan Ralsin, and an Indian costume show by P. S. Grewal, will also be on the program.

Manjit K. Bain, Cultural Society of India president, will lead the national anthem to close the celebrations.

Students of Cal Poly and townspeople are welcome to attend the 14th annual Republic Day celebrations, occurring on the last day of International Week.

Documentary movies of India will be shown after the formal program. They include: "Taj of India," "Mrs. Kennedy's visit to India" and "Indian Wedding."

Instructor Elected Vice-President Of Conservation Club

Raymond V. Leighty, Soil Science instructor was installed as the 1964 vice-president of the California Chapter, Soil Conservation Society of America (SCSA) at a recent meeting held in Berkeley. The recognition followed his four year tenure as a member of the council of the chapter. SCSA is devoted to furthering the "Science and Art of Good Land Use." The 350-member California chapter is the second largest in the U.S. The theme of the 6th annual meeting of the California SCSA chapter was "Meeting Our Changing Land Use Needs." Some 125 persons attended the two-day meeting to hear ideas concerned with various aspects of efficient use of land resources. Wayne Hatt, president of the campus SCSA student chapter, Fred Brinkerhoff, Meriel Jackson and Benny Kaplan attended the meeting.

College Union Plans Playboy Party

BY DONNA BOCKEMUEHL
 This week let's talk a bit more about the U in College Union.

How can College Union help the individual Poly student? According to Gordon Jones, chairman of the Social Committee, CU offers tremendous opportunities for a student to meet people—both Poly students and students from other colleges at the CU Conventions. It also gives good leadership training and a chance to become involved in, and better acquainted with, student government.

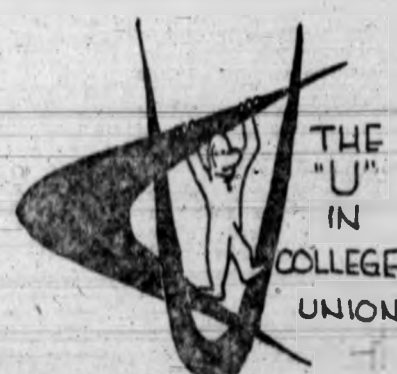

Gordon has been in CU for a little over a year and already has acquired an impressive list of achievements. He was prominent in the initiation and planning of the Poly Royal Wheel of Fortune last year, the Surf Side Stomp which was held at Avila and which he hopes can be repeated this year, and the indoor beach party which he will work on again this year to make it even better than last year's.

He was appointed chairman of the Inter Campus Council meeting at Pomona as a proxy for the CU chairman. As a result of his excellent work there, he was appointed chairman of the All Poly Weekend Committee; proof that a job well done is well rewarded in College Union. What is Gordon's personal opinion about CU? "I like College Union. I like its programs and the possibilities that its format offers."

Incidentally, Gordon and the Social Committee are in the process of planning one of the most unique dances of the year: a Playboy Party which will be held March 7.

The committee is planning a beauty contest to be judged by the Playboy magazine staff, with the winner announced that night. An Initiation Club Key will be used as a ticket to the semi-formal dance. More about the party will appear in this column soon.

Games and Hobbies Committee is sponsoring its quarterly card tournament in February. Pinochle will be dealt on Saturday, Feb. 8, and bridge, Saturday, Feb. 22. Prizes are presented to the top three players in each of the tournaments. So, start practicing and we'll CU Soon.

Goldwater Youth Organization Formed

The formation of National Youth for Goldwater, a 50-state organization mobilizing college and high school students for Goldwater, was announced recently by Denison Kitchel, general director of Sen. Goldwater's Presidential campaign.

The announcement combined several other organizations under the National Youth for Goldwater banner, including Young Americans for Goldwater, formed in California after Sen. Goldwater announced his candidacy on Jan. 8.

Named national chairman of the organization was Barry Goldwater Jr., 36, the senator's oldest son. Kitchel also announced the appointment of James Harff, former national chairman of the College Young Republicans, as national director.

Appointed executive secretary of National Youth for Goldwater was Mrs. Carol Bauman, a graduate of Dunbarton College, Washington.

D. C. Mrs. Bauman held a similar position with College Youth for Nixon-Lodge in 1960. Harff and Mrs. Bauman headed the youth group for Senator Goldwater which was formed last September.

Barry Goldwater, Jr., a 1962 graduate of Arizona State University, is affiliated with a Los Angeles stock brokerage firm. He was active in the Arizona Young Republicans and is a registered voter there.

Young Goldwater is an accomplished athlete and a member of the high school swimming team which set a world's record for the 400-meter medley relay.

Harff, 22, is a graduate of Northwestern University and lives in Sheboygan, Wis. He has been active in Young Republican politics for six years.

Mexico Added To Work-Travel Plan

Mexico is the latest country to be added to the International Student Travel Center's work-travel program for 1964.

Arrangements for a number of student jobs in Mexico City and the hinterlands were completed early this month by ISTC Director Frank X. Gordon, who spent three weeks in the country surveying job possibilities.

Gordon reports that ISTC can now offer jobs for this coming summer in such places as Puerto Vallarta, Colima, Guadalajara, Toluca, Queretaro, as well as Mexico City. Job openings cover ranch work for young men, hospital research and seven other categories outlined in the "student passport" brochure.

Details have yet to be settled for jobs in citrus fruit picking, orchard cultivation and handyman work at a resort hotel and ranch near Tampico. Duration of the jobs is from one to two months. Pay varies by the state, but will cover room and board and pocket money.

ISTC reports that in view of the unusually high rate of early enrollments, participation in the overall ISTC program for 1964 will greatly exceed that of 1963.

This fall, 1,400 university students and staff members registered for jobs abroad. Three hundred of the new members have reserved their 1964 jobs with deposits.

While there is no deadline for joining, jobs are assigned on a first come, first served basis. Only 200 more participants will be accepted during the winter and spring months. While most students must work in the summer months, the ISTC program now operates on a year-round basis.

There are a number of special interest jobs in the Common Market countries, but the most readily available work is in the unskilled category—factory, restaurant, resort, hotel, construction, hospital and child care.

For further information see the Placement Office.

Miscellaneous News

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has designated the Coordinating Council for Higher Education as the state agency to coordinate federal-state programs under the new federal Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963 recently signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

In a letter to Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, the governor said that the law establishing the council authorizes it to act as the state's agent in accepting federal grants and loans and in submitting plans to the federal government for the expenditure of federal education funds by state agencies.

The new federal act requires that a "state commission" be established to administer federal state cooperative programs under the aid-to-education law.

The governor said the California Legislature, anticipating passage of a federal law, took an additional step in 1963 to recognize the coordinating council as the state agency responsible for preparing and administering a state plan for the construction of academic and related facilities for institutions of higher education which

'Age of Chivalry' Dead?

What happened to the "age of chivalry?"

In a school where boys outnumber girls nearly three to one, you would think the masculine sector of the population would make some gallant attempt to win a lady's favor. This doesn't seem to be the case at Cal Poly.

Maybe the trouble stems from the fact that more and more women are discarding feminine frills for blue jeans and capris, and their long curly locks for easily managed boyish bobs.

Regardless of the absence of well-known feminine symbols, the observant male should still be able to determine whether or not the form before him is male or female.

But, any given day the Poly boy (and some of his buddies) can be seen lumbering up to a door and then waiting for the girl in front of him to open it. What's worse is that look of expectancy on his face and the comment he makes if she fails to read his mind.

If per chance there is no girl in front of him, but rather in back of him, he reluctantly opens the door and then glances back, marches through, takes him and lets the door fly; she ducks, her books fly and she is sprawled on the ground without a second look from Galahad.

Naturally, the Poly male doesn't see why the coed should object to this type of treatment. Rather he expects her to smile warmly, wink now and again, be gentle and run up to catch the next door—if she doesn't, let her get squished.

Lack of gallantry, etiquette—call it what you will—Emily Post and the Poly coed will never paste the Good Housekeeping "Seal Of Approval" on this practice.

Paperhangers, Unite!

Cal Poly's only contribution to the world of art has been through the handiwork of unorganized paperhangers. Person or persons unknown have displayed various signs and posters in prominent places on campus. Some have been most humorous while some have been just so-so.

Well, it's about time these persons became organized.

As an incentive, El Mustang editors have decided to offer a prize for the best sign or poster appearing within the next two weeks. Judges will be the editors, and points will be awarded according to craftsmanship, size, prominence of location and originality.

Each entry should be placed in such a position as to be easily seen by the editors. Pictures of all such entries will be published in the paper, if possible.

The winners will be lucky enough to receive a year's free subscription to El Mustang.

Tom Huck sought scientific excitement

He's finding it at Western Electric

Ohio University conferred a B.S.E.E. degree on C. T. Huck in 1956. Tom knew of Western Electric's history of manufacturing development. He realized, too, that our personnel development program was expanding to meet tomorrow's demands.

After graduation, Tom immediately began to work on the development of electronic switching systems. Then, in 1958, Tom went to the Bell Telephone Laboratories on a temporary assignment to help in the advancement of our national military capabilities. At their Whippany, New Jersey, labs, Tom worked with the Western Electric development team on computer circuitry for the Nike Zeus guidance system. Tom then moved on to a new assignment at WE's Columbus, Ohio, Works. There, Tom is working on the development of testing circuitry for the memory phase of electronic switching systems.

This constant challenge of the totally new, combined with advanced training and education opportunities, make a Western Electric career enjoyable, stimulating and fruitful. Thousands of young men will realize this in the next few years. How about you?

If responsibility and the challenge of the future appeal to you, and you have the qualifications we seek, talk with us. Opportunities for fast-moving careers exist now for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, and also for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. 'MEATBALL' IN JAPAN

'Kawakita Story' Revives News; Poly Student Started It All

Tomoya (Meatball) Kawakita is back in Japan and the story behind his return can be recalled by many persons on campus, for back in 1947 the "Kawakita Story" was big news in San Luis Obispo.

Recollection started when President John F. Kennedy granted a conditional pardon to Kawakita, a wartime criminal. Kawakita was given the pardon on the condition that he never return to the United States. He almost didn't get home because the Japanese government had ruled he was not a Japanese citizen. However, he was finally granted a two-year resident visa in Japan.

Kawakita, convicted of wartime treason, was captured on June 6, 1947, after William Leon Bruce, then an Air Conditioning and Refrigeration student at Cal Poly, recognized the man in a Los Angeles department store.

The American-born Japanese was convicted on eight counts of treasonable brutality inflicted on American prisoners of war. During World War II, Kawakita served as an interpreter in Japanese prison camps where he obtained an infamous reputation among the American prisoners.

Bruce, in June 6, 1947, grimly described his reactions on meeting Kawakita, face to face, in a department store.

"That's one Japanese I could never forget. He was probably the most brutal man in the Oyamada prison on the island of Honshu.

"He was called the 'slave-driver' and the 'empire-builder.' He was the only interpreter with full command of Spanish, English and Japanese, and as such, was master of the camp.

The former staff sergeant accounted Kawakita's downfall to his insane brutality.

"If he hadn't been so brutal, I would have never recognized his face out of so many Japanese guards."

Bruce told of his amazement and the coincidence of his meeting Kawakita in Los Angeles.

"It was the first time I had ever been in L.A.," he said. "The meeting was really a chance occurrence—one in 100,000."

Bruce was captured by the Japanese in April, 1942, on the Bataan Peninsula in the Philippines. Among the prisoners was James A. McGrath, now head of the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Department.

Together, they survived the infamous Bataan Death March and two years spent in prison camps on the Philippine Islands. McGrath also served under Kawakita in a different camp, after the two were separated. He finally met Bruce on Okinawa after being liberated by the Russians.

"Bruce came to Cal Poly in 1946. I had previously been a student here myself. After the war, I joined the staff at Cal Poly," McGrath related.

"I remember when Bruce came to me with his story and asked my opinion. After hearing the story, there was no doubt in my mind: it was the same man."

He told how Bruce had to be restrained by his wife, Jean, to keep him from attacking Kawakita. Bruce held his peace and contacted the FBI who took over the pursuit.

Kawakita was arrested by the FBI in Los Angeles in June 1947. He was sentenced to death at his trial in 1948 but former President Dwight D. Eisenhower commuted the sentence to life in prison in 1953. Kawakita was a native of Calexico and went to Japan in 1939 to study. He was not permitted to return to the United States after World War II broke out.

Segregation Must Be Solved: Cain

"If the racial problem is not solved within 10 years, the United States will not be able to stand as a nation and the people will not be able to stand as human beings and as Americans."

Speaking was Dr. Richard W. Cain, superintendent of the Los Angeles District of Methodist Churches, at a recent meeting of the Cal Poly 4-H Club.

Dr. Cain believes that leadership and ideals are helping the various Christian religious faiths in arriving at a solution to the racial problem in the United States.

The business portion of the 4-H meeting was conducted by President Melanie Dudley.

Karen Wood, one of the general chairmen of the Tri-county Home Economics judging day, reported on the outcome of the day held on campus.

Approximately 175 4-H members, leaders and parents from San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Monterey Counties participated in the function.

In the judging contest, Shandon 4-H Club had the winning team and received a trophy, followed by the Lockwood 4-H Club in second place with Templeton and Lompoc taking third and fourth places, respectively.

The Cal Poly 4-H Club is planning an Agricultural Judging Day for the tri-county area for Saturday, May 16.

What does your crystal ball tell of my future, Gort?

Hum... I see great military triumphs... much booty... many captives slaves.

Later, I see you reaching the pinnacle of your political aspirations. I see...

I know... I know... I fully expect to fulfill all those aims! But tell me...

...how will posterity honor me? ...as a victor of years hence?

I see you sharing the same fate of great men yet unborn... of Caesar, of Napoleon, of Plato.

And that fate is...??

You all will be honored by... by posterity naming their dogs after you!

Tour Of Dairy Unit Set For Tomorrow

A free tour of the college's dairy and creamery units is planned for tomorrow. The guided tour commences in front of the Agriculture Building between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m.

Buses will transport the sightseers to the dairy for an explanation of the units' facilities. Those eager to try their hand at milking will be provided with a cow, bucket and stool.

The tour will take in the creamery where dairy manufacturing will be explained. Free refreshments will be served at the creamery.

Ag Business Coed Wins Honor Of Champion Rider

Patricia Elliott, freshman Ag Business Management major from Santa Ana, was honored as Champion Western Rider of 1963 at the Pacific Coast Hunter, Jumper and Stock Horse Assn. annual awards banquet Jan. 25 in Palo Alto.

Pat recently won the title of Reserve Champion of the American Horse Shows Association stock seat medal finals held in Santa Barbara from Nov. 28-Dec. 1.

In competing for the PCJSHA honor, Pat exhibited her Quarter Horse, "Elkhorn Star," and her stock horse "Mona Lisa," which is the World's Champion Stock Horse for 1963.

"Mona Lisa" was winner of the Ladies Lightweight and Stock Horse Championship at the Grand National, Oct. 25-Nov. 3, with Pat up in the Ladies class, and trainer Ronnie Richards of San Juan Capistrano up in the Lightweight and Stake classes.

EL PAIR WILL STUDY VALLEY COMPUTER

Clarence Radius, head of the Electronic Engineering Department, and Jerry Dillon, instructor, plan a Saturday trip to Bakersfield Junior College to evaluate the junior college's use of its 1620 IBM computer. The computer model is the same as used in the mathematics building here.

Bakersfield Instructor Lanning L. Flint has developed a system for tabulating general statistical work that is receiving attention. This system is what Cal Poly instructors wish to investigate.

Valley students have conducted an extensive survey in the town, explained Dillon, which has been tabulated and evaluated entirely with the computer. Flint's system was used, Dillon said.

Bakersfield has used the computer for registration and for evaluation of testing.

BOYCE WILL REVIEW CIVIL WAR BOOKS

Col. William Boyce, head of the Military Science Department, will review the first two volumes of a projected three-volume work on the Civil War at the Feb. 4 meeting of Books at High Noon in the Staff Dining Hall.

Author of the works is Bruce Catton, a noted Civil War historian and senior editor of "American Heritage."

Volume I, "The Coming Fury," opens with the Democratic convention of 1860 and closes with the First Battle of Bull Run.

Volume II, "Terrible Swift Sword," tells how the Civil War slowly, but steadily, ran out of control and how it was changed from a war to preserve the Union to a war for human freedom. It closes with the Battle of Antietam and the capture of New Orleans.

COED WINS FRESNO 'CUTTING' CONTEST

Carol Ramsay, senior Animal Husbandry major from Atherton, split first place in the first 50-around and won the average of the cutting horse clinic and contest at the Ft. Washington Arena in Fresno recently.

Carol was exhibiting the quarter horse mare, Jerry Coates, against competition from California, Nevada and Canada.

Don Dodge, well-known trainer from the Sacramento area, and Slim Trent, owner-trainer of Sandhill Charley, champion of the Pacific Coast Cutting Horse Assn., were on hand to compete and help with the clinic and demonstration.

Miss Ramsay is currently the secretary of the California Reined Cow Horse Assn.

STUDENT LOAN FUND RECEIVES $200 GIFT

The California Association of Refrigeration Service Engineers Society (CAREES) loan fund here has received a Christmas present.

In keeping with the season of giving, Mel Canlon of Precision Refrigeration, Los Angeles, presented with a $200 check to be administered by the college.

In a Christmas letter to their customers, Precision Refrigeration explained that the funds usually allotted for gifts and cards to their customers was instead being sent to the college.

The letter went on to explain that the fund at Cal Poly, which now totals $2,000, is used to help students with financial problems or in times of emergency when a low interest loan is needed; and that all students are eligible to use this loan fund.

Once-Beaten Colts Battle Coalinga

With their basketball season half completed, Coach Dick McElveny's Colts boast a 7 wins, one loss record. The Colts victories include wins over Fresno State, Santa Barbara, Hartnell, Lemoore, and Westmont.

Some of the reasons for the excellent record are aggressive Ray Preedy who averages close to 16 points per game, and Ed Fair who has 18. Frank Davis has also been averaging in the double figures. Most of the rebounds land in the hands of tall John Russell, with Fair and Davis getting their share also.

The Colts hope to come to come out with another gold star this weekend as they face Coalinga tonight.

Jockeying Around

The 230-pound giant looked down on me and convincingly stated that prayer and athletics can go hand-in-hand, but that prayer should be recited on an individual basis.

The person who had just spoken was Don Moomaw Associated Press' Lineman of the Year in 1952 and an All-pro Canada selection in 1954.

Moomaw was one of the speakers for the Religion in Life Week and is the kind of person everyone likes. The kind of person you might want to say "hello" or "thanks" to, and within five minutes, you would feel as though you had known him for years.

An example: I went to listen to one of his speeches and had hoped to converse with him for a few minutes following his talk.

"Gee, I've got a luncheon I must attend and must get going now. I'll tell you what; you come with me and we can talk it over at lunch," he suggested.

A few moments later I found myself sitting at the front table as his guest at the San Luis Obispo Service Club, eating a roast beef lunch.

But the modest Rev. Moomaw, who may be chaplain for the American Olympic team which competes in Japan this year, was not always so pleasant in other periods of his life. Take for instance, the Saturday afternoons of 1950, '51 and '52 football seasons. He was selected as All-American during those years.

For it was then that Moomaw would put on the pads for UCLA every Saturday and rip opposing players from limb to limb, make them eat grass and lay on their backs wondering what it was all about.

Moomaw has a jovial personality, but at the same time, he can be sincere.

In the midst of our conversation, I asked, "What part should the Lord play in athletics?"

"This is an individual thing. The Lord must not be thought of or used as a gimmick. You can't curse Him six days a week, and then 10 minutes before the game, ask Him for help. You can't use Him as a panic button. You shouldn't ask for victory, but something such as strength," he emphasized by spreading his massive hands.

Many teams in the high school to college level recite a prayer before a game. Moomaw thought that prayer before a game should be done by the individual.

"I believe that a few moments of silence should be given to the players before a game in order to let the players get settled down and think of what they have to do on the field. Then, players that want to pray can do so individually if they wish."

A standout in his own field, Moomaw believes that desire is of vital importance in one becoming a champion.

"The champion must never be satisfied with mediocrity. Determination is the essence in making a champion. Look at most of your champions and you will find they had to overcome some handicap in getting where they are now."

He referred to Harold Connolly, world record holder in the hammer throw, whose left arm is six inches shorter than his right because it had been broken more than 10 times in his life.

"When I saw him break the record against the Russians, it made me feel like shaking his hand, even though I do value my knuckles," he joked.

"Some men are champions on the field, but not in the game of life. The secret is to know your own value," he concluded.

Matmen Travel South To Tangle With UCLA

The grapplers travel to the mats of UCLA tonight at 7:30 o'clock to try for their fourth victory of the 1964 season.

The Bruins, coached by Briggs Hunt, have four outstanding wrestlers in their lineup: 1963 junior college state champ, Dave Hollinger who will wrestle either Pete Franklin or Chris McNulty in the 156-pound class; 177-pounder Gary Scrivena faces Poly's NCAA regional and conference champ, Harvey Wool; and Rahim Javanmard, holding the title for the most pins in NCAA competition, will face the Green and Gold's 157-pounder, Sam Cerceres.

According to varsity wrestling coach, Vaughn Hitchcock, the most outstanding match of the evening should be UCLA's Don Matson, who placed second in the state JC competition, and Cal Poly's undefeated, regional and conference champ, 147-pounder Spencer Tamolo.

Undeclared in dual meet matches so far this year are Mustang's Jim Teem, 130 pounds, and Sam Huerta, wrestling at 137. Wrestling in the 167-pound weight class will be either Lou Villacrusa from San Diego, or Terry Wiglesworth from Walnut Creek. In the heavyweight bracket, either 248-pounder Bill Dauphin or Bill Fife will grapple for the Mustangs.

Last year against the UCLA squad, Poly took the match 16-13, and placed second in the UCLA Invitational Tournament.

Due to a change in dates, the Cal Poly wrestlers will not participate in the Naval Training Center AAU Tournament originally scheduled for Jan. 30-Feb. 1.

Gymnasts Prepare For First Meet

The gymnastic team travels Saturday to compete in a 3-way meet with Chico State and host Stanford.

Coach Vic Buccola said that Stanford has one of the outstanding teams in the state, but Poly is expected to pick up the majority of its points in tumbling, trampolines, and rings.

Uncle Sam, via Selective Service, has made it clear that Dave Ethington and Mark Fleming will not be able to make the trip because of previous arrangements to take tests. Ethington is outstanding on the parallel bars and Fleming does well in the long horse event.

Handicapped or not, Buccola is optimistically looking forward to the first meet of the year. Next week the team will realize its limitations and full potential.

Nick Brown, Rick O'Bannon and Clay Chriaman are expected to do well in their events. Lou Monville, Peter Franklin, Richard Squires and Steve Endicott will also attempt to pick up some points for Poly.

WAA NEWS Cal Poly Bowling League Continues Play This Week

The second meeting of WAA intramural basketball took place and outcomes follow: Trinity Hall vs. Palm Royal with Trinity winning, 33-14; Heron Hall defeated Palm Royal, 12-0. The third game for the night involved Heron Hall and Santa Lucia Hall. Heron finished on top with a score of 10-5.

Barbara Clemons, playing for Trinity, was high scoring individual making 16 of the 33 points. Scores and timers were obtained from Hitchcock's intramural sports class. Referees and umpires were students from Mary Lou White's teaching Progressions in sports class and the intramural sports class.

Crandon Gym will be the site for a fencing day to be held on Feb. 8 at 1 p.m. The following schools have accepted invitations to participate: Hartnell College, Monterey Peninsula College, and UCSC. The meet is open to the public.

Cocals interested in participating in intercollegiate tennis competition are urged to meet with Doris Thomas of the Women's Physical Education Department Monday and Wednesday at 4 p.m. and Thursday at 11 a.m. on the courts behind Jaspersen Hall.

Mustangs On Crusade To Southland Courts

The Cal Poly Mustangs take off for the Crusades this weekend which will be in Pasadena. To greet them will be the Pasadena College Crusaders on Friday night in Memorial Auditorium.

The crusaders are coached by Chalmers "Chomp" Cartwright, who has an overall record of 160 wins and 87 losses for his career. Cartwright is also the athletic director.

Last year the Pasadena school had a record of 9-17. Wearing the colors of Green and Gold, the same colors as Poly, will be senior forward Gary Gulbertson, 6-2, and sophomore Ron Bauer, 6-7, both returning from last year's squad.

Saturday night the Mustangs will continue down the coast to San Diego where they will meet the University of San Diego. Coach Phil Woolpert will have four returning lettermen from last year's team to help the home team against the Mustangs.

Top returning lettermen for the southland team are guard Lyndon Williams, 5-9; forward Mike Jackson, 6-7; center Larry Moyer, 6-6; and forward Mark Teismann, 6-4.

At the beginning of the season the outlook was good, at least better than the preceding year. The team was blessed by a better than average turnout of transfers and with four returning lettermen a fairly strong team is suspected.

The Mustangs will be trying to break out of a losing streak that has lasted for practically the whole season after the alumni game. Everyone seems to be having problems, even the two-time, all-league guard, Bob Horwath.

Both foes are nonleague games and will have to be a turning point for the Mustangs. Two more losses will almost assure a losing season, but on the other hand a couple of victories may give a lift to the team and send them on a winning streak.

Horwath will have to wait another weekend to see if he can break the league career record. He still lacks 28 points. Bob has five league games remaining in which to establish a new record.

CCAA Roundup

With five league games completed, Fresno State's Maurice Talbot holds a comfortable lead in the individual scoring honors with 139 points. His 38 points against Cal Poly last week upped his average to 27.4 points per game. Following Talbot is John Rambo and John Baricard both from Long Beach and have 118 and 103 points respectively.

Cal Poly's Bob Horwath, with 83 points and a 18.6 point per game average places fourth in the league standings. Cal Poly center, Bob Cooper is eighth in league scoring with 73 points.

There will be no league game this weekend and after five games, here's how the league stands:

Team	W	L
Fresno State	5	0
Los Angeles State	4	1
San Diego State	3	2
Long Beach State	2	3
San Fernando Valley	1	4
Cal Poly	0	5

FITTING TOKEN OF Life's greatest moment!

A diamond is so important. It symbolizes so much and it is worn so prominently and for such a very long time. Should it not then merit the utmost care and diligence in its selection? We like folks who watch their pennies and who "shop around" before they say, "OK, Wrap It up". They become life-long friends of ours. Come and shop where they do.
