REPORT

California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo

Vol. 44, No. 6 Oct. 11, 1990

New dairy science building on ballot

More than $6.7 million to build a new dairy science facility will be included in Proposition 143 on the November 6 ballot.

Called Dairy Science II, it will be located on Mt. Bishop Road just east of the present Dairy Unit. The new building will house laboratories and a pilot processing plant for use in teaching the latest methods used by the dairy products industry.

It will also provide state-of-the-art laboratories to be used by the Cal Poly Dairy Products Technology Center, an applied research unit funded by the California dairy industry, and the National Milk Advisory Board.

The dairy products instruction and processing activities that have been located in the Food Science Building for approximately 30 years will be transferred to the new building when it is completed.

Dairy Science II is one of six Cal Poly projects worth more than $10.3 million on the November ballot. The Cal Poly projects are part of a $450 million general obligation bond measure that will provide funds for capital outlay projects at the CSU, UC, and community college campuses.

Professional Studies names Railey to post

Dr. Jimmy H. Railey, a member of the faculty since 1977, has been named associate dean of School of Professional Studies.

Railey earned an undergraduate degree in health and physical education at Murray State University in Kentucky and two advanced degrees from Indiana University.

Before coming to Cal Poly, he was head trainer and assistant baseball coach at Arizona State University, head baseball coach and head trainer at Utah State University, and chairman of the physical education department at Marshall University in West Virginia. From 1975 to 1977, he was director of athletics and chairman of the physical education department at Georgetown College in Kentucky.

The former professional baseball player served as head of the physical education and recreation administration department from 1977 to 1984. He is co-author of a 1988 textbook, "Managing Physical Education, Fitness and Sports Programs."

Student services open house planned

An open house for the new Students Services Building has been set for Thursday, Oct. 18, from 11:30 am to 1:30 pm.

President Baker and Vice President for Student Affairs Hazel Scott will take part in the ribbon cutting ceremony.

The Student Services Building was designed by Sprankle, Lynd and Sprague of San Francisco. It was completed during the summer, and retains the Spanish style of existing buildings at the southern end of campus. Constructed by R.P. Richards of Santa Barbara, the Student Services Building is home to counseling/testing and placement services.

The Student Affairs Division invites all faculty and staff to the program. Refreshments will be served.

Affirmative action Interviews continue

Dr. Sandra Holbrook, director of equal opportunity and academic personnel services at North Dakota State University, will be the second candidate to be interviewed for the director of affirmative action position at Cal Poly. She will be on campus Monday, Oct. 15, and Tuesday, Oct. 16.

Anna J. McDonald, personnel management specialist, staff personnel office, ABD, at Fresno State, is the third candidate and is expected on campus Thursday, Oct. 18, and Friday, Oct. 19.

Numerous meetings and interviews have been scheduled throughout their visits to the campus. Informal receptions are scheduled on: Monday, Oct. 15, from 10-11 am in the Faculty/Staff Dining Room B for Dr. Holbrook, and Thursday, Oct. 18, from 10-11 am in Faculty/Staff Dining Room B for Anna McDonald. All faculty, staff and students are encouraged to attend.

Other candidates who are scheduled for interviews include: Dr. Karen A. Alvarado, director of affirmative action, City of Portland, (Oct. 23-24); Jorge C. Aguiniga, JD, lecturer, political science department, and student academic services advisor for the School of Liberal Arts, Cal Poly (Oct. 25-26); and Antonio Garcia, regional director, mathematics, engineering, science achievement (MESA), UC Berkeley (Oct. 31, Nov. 1).

Milton Spaulding

Milton Spaulding, 67, a member of the Foundation maintenance staff from 1968-73, died Sept. 25 in San Luis Obispo. He is survived by his wife, a son, a daughter and a brother.

Performance artist will appear today

James Luna, a Native American performance artist, will be the next speaker in the 1990-91 Arts and Humanities Lecture Series today (Oct. 11) at 11 am in UU 220.

"Native Americans: Traditions and Culture in the Last Decade of the 20th Century" is the theme for this year's series. It is sponsored by the School of Liberal Arts.

The 40-year-old Luiseno/Diegueno Indian earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from UC Irvine and a master's degree in counseling from San Diego State. He is a counselor at Palomar College. He works two days a week at the college in San Marcos and two days a week at the Indian Tribal Center in Pauma Valley.

The conceptual artist has begun to receive national attention. His work is intensely personal. Many of his pieces revolve around himself using his personal past and present as examples of Indian culture.

He is chairman of the American Indian Education Council of the state Department of Education, and vice chairman of the California Indian Education Association.

The next speaker in the lecture series will be Wendy Rose, an American Indian poet, who will be on campus Thursday, Nov. 8.

Berkeley Shakespeare Festival scheduled

The Bard meets the Big Easy when the Berkeley Shakespeare Festival brings its production of "Twelfth Night" to the Theatre at 8 pm on Wednesday, Oct. 17, as part of the Cal Poly Arts CenterStage series.

Directed by Richard E.R. White, "Twelfth Night" is moved from Shakespeare's mythical Illyria to the heart of a Louisiana Cajun bayou, with spicy creole flavors pervading this lighthearted look at love gone awry.

Tickets for the presentation of "Twelfth Night" are $16 and $14 for adults and $14 and $12 for students and senior citizens.

Reservations can be made by calling the Theatre Ticket Office, ext. 1421, between 10 am and 4 pm on weekdays, and until curtain time on performance days.

Technology fair set for Oct. 17 and 18

The computer department of El Corral Bookstore is hosting the annual Technology Fair on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 17 and 18, in Chumash Auditorium. The event is designed to increase awareness of the computer industry and the expanding technology that is being developed. Companies such as Apple, NeXT, and IBM will be introducing new product lines and innovative technologies.

The fair will be open to staff and faculty on the 17th and to students on the 18th. The fair will run from 9 am to 4:30 pm, and refreshments will be served. A slide show demonstrating the use of computer facilities on campus will be running as well as demonstrations and displays. Information regarding new products and technology will be made available from company representatives as well as El Corral.

Questions regarding the fair should be directed to Judd Jones or Molly Ashlock at ext. 5309.

World Food Day will be marked Oct. 16

The 10th annual World Food Day will be celebrated on Tuesday, Oct. 16. It will be marked by a teleconference on "Food for the Future: Science, Policy and Ethics."

The program, sponsored by the Cal Poly World Neighbors Club, will be held from 9 am to noon in Chumash Auditorium. It will originate from George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

Big burger barbecue to benefit Pep Squad

A pre-game Big Burger Barbecue will be served on Saturday, Oct. 13, from 5 to 6:30 pm at Mustang Stadium's tailgate area with all proceeds benefitting Cal Poly's Pep Squad.

Tickets are $3 and are available from the cheerleaders or can be purchased at the tailgate area north of Mustang Stadium. Cal Poly's volunteer Green & Gold Barbecue crew are donating food and services for the hamburger feed, which will include soda, chips and all the trimmings.

Since the Pep Squad receives no funding from the ASI, the university or the Mustang Boosters, private support is needed to pay for cheerleaders' uniforms, travel and other expenses.

All members of the Cal Poly community and their friends and family are invited to participate in the barbecue before attending the Mustangs' football game vs. Sacramento State.

Alcohol Awareness Week Oct. 15 to 19

The Alcohol and Drug Peer Health Educators, in cooperation with the Resident Student Development Office, will be sponsoring National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week from Oct. 15 to 19. Activities will include bulletin board displays throughout campus, residence hall workshops, a non-alcoholic bar in the University Dining Complex, information tables in the UU Plaza, and the formation of a Designated Driver Program Committee.

CPR schedule

Cal Poly Report is published weekly during the academic year by the Public Affairs Office.

Typewritten, double-spaced copy may be submitted to Jo Ann Lloyd, editor, by 4 pm the Thursday prior to the next publication.

1990 Homecoming set for Oct. 25-28

The 1990 Cal Poly Homecoming will be held from Thursday, Oct. 25, through Saturday, Oct. 28. This year's theme is "All of the Fun and None of the Homework."

Activities will kick off on Oct. 25 in the UU Plaza from 11 am to noon. On Friday, student groups will compete in the 5th annual Laugh Olympics from 2-4 pm on the Women's Softball Field.

One of the highlights of the Homecoming weekend is the annual Honored Alumni Reunion and Banquet. It will be held Friday, Oct. 26, at the Madonna Inn. Festivities get under way with a reception at 6 pm and dinner at 7.

On Saturday, the day will begin with a parade through downtown San Luis Obispo beginning at 10 am. At noon, alumni and friends will gather for a tailgate barbecue on the Clock Tower lawn. Following the barbecue, Cal Poly will battle Southern Utah State at Mustang Stadium. The kickoff is at 2 pm. A post-football game party will be held at Alumni House, where the reunion classes of 1940, 1955, and 1965 will be recognized.

The weekend will close with the traditional Senior Alumni Breakfast at 8:30 am in the Faculty/Staff Dining Room. Members of the Class of 1940 will be inducted into the Golden 50s Club.

For additional information on the weekend's activities, call the Alumni Relations Office, ext. 2586.

'The New California' topic of Oct. 19 talk

Dan Walters, syndicated political columnist for the Sacramento Bee, will be the keynote speaker for a conference hosted by the American Society for Public Administration and Cal Poly's Center for Practical Politics.

"Regionalism: Joint Solutions to Common Problems" is the conference theme. It is slated for Friday, Oct. 19, at the Embassy Suites

Hotel in San Luis Obispo from 9 am to 4 pm.

Walters, whose column appears in the Telegram-Tribune and the Santa Maria Times, will speak about demographic and political indicators of "The New California."

John Dunn, administrative officer for the City of San Luis Obispo, will deliver the welcoming address. Featured morning speakers include Todd Kaufman, chief consultant for the state Assembly Office of Research, and Steve Sanders, chief consultant for the state Senate Office of Research.

The registration fee is $35. Checks should be made payable to the Cal Poly Foundation and mailed to Cal Poly, Housing and Conference Services. The on-site conference fee is $40. Attendance will be limited to the first 150 people who register.

Fall Career Planning Workshop scheduled

Counseling Services Fall Career Planning Workshop is scheduled for three consecutive Tuesdays: Oct. 23, 30, and Nov. 6. The three sessions are designed around a career planning process, and participants are requested to attend all three. Scheduled in the new Student Services Building, Room 224, from 3-5 pm, there will be no cost to student or staff. Interest, values, and skills inventories will be included.

County phone books

Deliveries of the 1990-91 county telephone directories should now be completed.

The old ones should be taken to your department office by Friday, Oct. 12, for collection by the Campus Recycling Coalition.

Old telephone directories can be taken directly to the warehouse, if preferred. There will be a separate bin on the loading dock for this purpose.

Extended ed interim associate director

Patricia-Ann Stoneman has been appointed interim associate director of extended education. She earned a B.A. in psychology and a master's in educational psychology from CSU Northridge. Previously she worked as a management analyst for the Department of the Army at Fort Richardson, Alaska; supervisor of equal opportunity programs and services peer counselors at Mission College, San Fernando; and administrator of infant care education programs for the Los Angeles YWCA.

Health education sets fall lecture series

Health education will be sponsoring a lecture series on Thursdays at 11 am. It will be open to all students, staff and faculty. The programs are developed and organized by students and are often interactive. The fall quarter schedule is:

Oct. 18 — How to Survive a Long Distance Relationship;

Oct. 25 — Discussion of the book, "Adult Children of Alcoholics" by Janet Geringer; and

Nov. 15 — How to Quit Using Tobacco, a review of programs.

The lectures are held in the Health Center Conference Room.

Ag education faculty involved in grants

Faculty and staff of the agricultural education department are involved in a variety of projects designed to improve secondary and community college vocational education programs across California and in Nigeria.

Dr. Glen Casey, head of the department, said the projects are designed to complement coursework and are funded by $348,980 in grants from sponsoring organizations.
