

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

- i About the College
  - ▶ Welcome to CENG
  - ▶ A Moment With The Dean
  - ▶ CENG Mission
  - ▶ College Overview
  - ▶ CENG Highlights
  - ▶ Facilities
  - ▶ CENG History
  - ▶ CENG/Program Based Student Academic Fee
  - ▶ Contact Us
  - ▶ CENG Forms
  - ▶ Engineering Plaza

- h Academics & Research
- g Groups & Services
- p Prospective Students & Parents
- a CENG Alumni
- n News & Events
- d Dean's Advisory Council
- c Corporate Relations
- g Giving Back
- v Visit the College
- f College-Based Fees

CENG CAL POLY COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

February 19, 2009

Cal Poly Mourns the Loss of Dr. Ed Sullivan

The College of Engineering mourns the loss of Associate Dean and Professor Edward C. Sullivan.

A member of the Civil and Environmental Engineering faculty since 1989, Dr. Sullivan taught transportation engineering classes emphasizing traffic analysis and modeling, evaluation methods and traffic collision modeling.

Click here to read an article on Dr. Sullivan in the Mustang Daily

Click here to read an article in the San Luis Obispo Tribune

Andrea Lam
Industrial Engineering 2007

"Cal Poly has changed me and made me a better person."

For my senior project I was the project manager for an RFID system. It was a little overwhelming, but I got a lot out of it. Plus, I have a wonderful department. My favorite part of IME is the people.