

New administrative unit recently formed

Career Counseling Services recently joined with Cooperative Education and Placement Services to form a new administrative unit called Career Services, under the direction of Richard Equinoa. With the merger, career counselors Jill Hayden, Kris Hiemstra, and Carole Moore have transferred from Counseling Services to the newly formed unit.

Career Services now offers a comprehensive service for career-related needs in the areas of career counseling and planning, cooperative education, and placement. Services include career counseling assistance for academic major changes, clarification of career goals, graduate school planning, interest and personality testing, and general career profile and trend information. Students can also obtain assistance with enrolling in Cooperative Education, participate in the campus interview program, view weekly job listings, utilize the Career Resource Library, attend one of the job skills workshops (interview/resume), meet one-to-one with a career advisor on job search strategies, locate summer and part-time employment, and follow up on recent graduates' employment or graduate school status.

Student referrals, questions and comments are welcome. The department will continue to be located in the Student Services Building (#124). Stop by or call ext. 2501 for additional information.

New faculty benefits

Effective July 1, eligible faculty employees (Unit 3) are covered by three new or improved CSU-paid insurance benefits as outlined below:

- 1) Delta Dental benefits have been upgraded from the Enhanced Level I to level II, and the PMI dental plan has been improved from the Basic to the Enhanced level.
- 2) The current $50,000 term life insurance now includes a $50,000 accidental death and dismemberment (AD&D) rider.
- 3) A new long-term disability insurance has been added to the faculty benefits package.

To be eligible, faculty must be appointed half-time or more for at least six months. Special lecturers and coaches who teach at least 6 weighted teaching units are also eligible if their appointment is comprised of a minimum of two consecutive quarters.

The state payroll system has automatically transferred current dental plan enrollees to the improved levels and enrolled all eligible faculty members in the term life with AD&D and disability insurance plans. No enrollment forms are necessary. Those who wish to change dental plan carriers (from Delta to PMI or vice versa) may do so during the dental insurance open enrollment period in October. More detailed information is being sent to eligible faculty members through campus mail.

Summer CPR schedule

The next Cal Poly Report will be August 8. The last Summer Quarter issue will be August 22. The first issue of Fall Quarter will be Monday, Sept. 16. Copy is due at Communications, Heron Hall 208, one week prior to publication.

Campus departments administration merged

The administration of the Student Health Services and Counseling Services departments were recently merged, under the direction of Dr. Kerry Yamada, who formerly served as the director of Counseling Services. The outgoing director of Student Health Services, Dr. James H. Nash, is retiring effective Sept. 30. This merger reflects the efforts of the Student Affairs Division to streamline management responsibilities in the face of budget constraints. The combined services have been renamed Health and Psychological Services.

The programs of each unit will continue as in the past. However, several issues presently faced separately by the units will be developing a more uniform stance (i.e., retroactive withdrawals, academic withdrawal policies, intra-departmental referrals of appropriate clinical cases, mutual staff development projects, etc.).

The department's telephone numbers will remain the same:

Health Services — ext. 1211

Psychological Services (formerly Counseling Services) — ext. 2511

Further questions should be addressed to Yamada.

Library exhibit to open July 29

Co-inventors James and Reiko Fogle will present their on-going research in an exhibition, "Crystallographical Colorization." The new tilings will be on display at the Kennedy Library from Monday, July 29, to Friday, Sept. 20. "Crystallographical Colorization" is the process by which the Fogles turn advanced symmetrical operations into intricate designs.

High school students to attend workshop

Twenty-seven top high school journalism students from throughout Central and Southern California will gather at Cal Poly for the 40th California Scholastic Press Association Workshop.

Planned to begin on Sunday, July 28, and continue through noon on Friday, Aug. 9, the workshop is co-sponsored by the Journalism Department and University Relations Division.

It provides a selected group of high school juniors, seniors, and recent graduates with practical instruction in a variety of media fields, including print journalism, radio and television journalism, public relations, advertising, and photography.

During the intensive two-week workshop, students are required to produce a television news segment, shoot and develop still photographs, and complete a variety of writing assignments in deadline situations.

Overview training set for SIS PLUS

Overview training for the new SIS PLUS conversion for the Student Information System (SIS) will be held on Tuesday, July 30, from 1:30-3:30 pm in the wing of Chumash Auditorium. This training will provide information on changes and differences between SIS and SIS PLUS. Training for new users will begin in early fall for individuals without prior SIS experience.

Interested persons should send the registration form below to Jane Paris, SDSO. For further information, call ext. 2723.
