COMMISSION TOURS...Members of the Commission on Education in Agriculture and Natural Resources toured the agricultural facilities this past week.

Dean Smith foresees changes in agriculture

by George Ramon

"The result of the committee's visit plus the retirement of President McPhee will bring about a change of direction as far as the Agricultural Department is concerned."

Agricultural Dean Smith was referring to the visit to the Agricultural Division this week by members of the Commission on Education in Agriculture and Natural Resources, which is associated with the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council.

On the philosophical changes, Dean Smith said, "Many people are dedicated to President McPhee's philosophy and they will continue his basic policy. But to stay up to date, many changes in philosophy will be made within the framework."

"President McPhee has challenged us to change our program to meet the needs of a growing society. So, in speaking of philosophy, we're going to bring in new offerings (courses), new majors, and, in general, changes that will improve the department."

"In the same token, outdated majors and courses will be phased out. But, this won't be a rush thing. It'll happen eventually," concluded Dean Smith.

Getting back to the visit of the commission on campus he said, "The commission has been visiting colleges throughout the United States and this is their first visit to a non-grant college."

The commission members are Dr. Roy M. Kottman, panel chairman from Ohio State University, Dr. George R. Ferguson of Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, New York, Dr. F. E. Eldridge of the University of Nebraska, Dr. John Chambers of Kansas State University, Dr. Bop Tolman of Utah-Idaho Sugar Company of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Dr. Lorin E. Harris of Utah State University.

According to Dean Smith, the commission is to study the agricultural program to see how it meets the needs of California.

"But primarily," said Dean Smith, "they will look for the secrets to the Cal Poly program, which is the largest in the United States."

Dean Smith went on to say the secrets, in his opinion, were the close student-teacher relationship and the balance of teachers, with both experience and technical background.

During their stay, they observed the various facilities, conducted a round table discussion on the Cal Poly agricultural aims, and attended several social functions.

"The most important event of their visit," Dean Smith said, "will be the student interviews (which took place last night), at the Placement Office Interview Room." Here, the various agricultural students will be interviewed for possible jobs in the future.

Iverson sets records, Mustang girls win meet

Chris Iverson set three new DGWS (Division of Girls and Women's Sports) records as Cal Poly walked off with first place honors with 51 points at the Second Annual Cal Poly Girls Invitational Track and Field Meet here last Saturday.

Chris set the new standards for the 100 yard dash in 10.9, the 220 yard dash in 25.0, and the 440 yard run in 59.4. She also anchored Cal Poly's 110 yard pursuit relay, which set a new record of 53.7, breaking the old record of 55.7. The others on the winning relay team are Linda Ward, Laurie Hutton, and Doreen Williams.

Allen Hancock took second

Rodeo team to compete

"The finest Cal Poly rodeo team ever assembled will compete against over one-hundred colleges and universities for the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association Championships," said Bill Gibford rodeo coach and club advisor.

Going into the national championships with 8-0 record in regional competition, most of the team's competition will come from the Universities of Wyoming and Arizona.

Participating teams gather on June 30 at Vermillion, South Dakota for the event which lasts until July 4.

"Our chances are the best we have ever had," Gibford said. "This year's team is better than the 1959 team which won the national championships."

Leading this team of fine performers is most all-round vaquero Roy Jarrard, a junior from Kayser, Wyoming. Jarrard was last year's regional all-round champion as he competed in every event except bull riding.

An exceptional calf roper, finishing ninth in the nation last year, is Team Captain Eddy Newton, a senior biological science major from John Day, Oregon. Newton also competes in bull dogging and ribbon roping.

By the overwhelming margin of 60.2 per cent of the students voting the proposal to increase the student (activities) fee $5 was approved yesterday. According to George Gomes, chairman of the SAC Election Committee, 2,491 votes were cast in the election. This is 37.3 per cent of the student body.

A breakdown of the voting shows that at all three polling places the "Yes" vote was overwhelming.

Commenting on the electorate's approval of an increase, after having rejected other three proposals in as many years, ASI president George Soares said, "I am quite pleased with the outcome and that now we will be able to make improvements in the activities program." He noted that the college fees are now on par with what is charged at the other state colleges.

Under the fee increase proposal, student fees will be increased on a graduated basis over the next three years from the present $15 to $20. Therefore, next year fees will be $17. For the 1967-68 school year the fee will be $19, and will reach a full $20 the following year.

Robert Spink, graduate manager, added that "we've needed the increase for some time. Without the additional money it would probably have been necessary to cut back on some of the activities program or increased the admission charges on many events."

Senior aggies given awards

George Gomes was named the outstanding graduating senior of the Agricultural Business Management Department at the clubs awards banquet.

Based on scholarship and activities the award was presented Gomes for his 2.8 overall grade point average and his work with the club, Agricultural Council, Poly Royal, Alpha Zeta, Blue Key and is currently serving as ASI vice-president.

Two senior awards went to Tom Consoli and Mike Francioni which were also based on scholarship and activities. Leroy Davis was presented with the Wall Street Journal Award for having the highest overall grade point average for the ABM club of 3.5, while Fred Collen was presented the Advisors Award.

President Julian A. McPhee was made an honorary club member along with L.W. Davis, vice-president of the Kellogg-Voorhis campus, James Manassero and Duane Seaberg.

Top entertainment slated; funds approved by SAC

by Bob Kueser and Nelly Bous

Peter, Paul and Mary, the folk singing trio, will be contracted by the CU Assembly Committee for a concert tentatively scheduled for Friday, March 31, 1967.

This singing engagement results from an extension of $8000 over the allotted expense budget recommended for next year. The extension was recommended to the Student Affairs Council by the Finance Committee and was approved at Tuesday's meeting.

The CU Assembly Committee has also contracted Glen Yarbrough for October 7 at a cost are tentatively scheduled for of $2500.

SAC approved that 200 complimentary passes be given to the college staff; 2 complimentary tickets to each person in the competition; 30 to the local police department agencies; 75 to the radio and newspaper representatives; and 150 to the friends of Cal Poly.

One-hundred complimentary tickets were also approved for distribution among the members of the Rally Club. The number was 30 more than requested by, mention of the Finance Committee.

Rally Club President Jim Donaldino, SAC's Freshman representative Wayne Parks, and RCU Chairman Tom Consoli initiated the augmentation of complimentary tickets for the Rally Club.

SAC also approved a recommendation that $1400 be taken from the contingency funds to send the track team to the national finals.

Steve Mayer, chairman of the Finance Committee, pointed out that all nine members of the track team qualified recently with better records than the minimum qualifying standards set for the College Division.

One-hundred dollars was allocated for Tom Grundman, SAC representative from the Science Council, to travel to the National Pistol Championships.

In other matters, SAC approved a motion that advertising be incorporated into next year's "El Rodeo" on an experimental basis. One page of advertising in the yearbook is estimated at about $400. As a result of advertising, the cost of "El Rodeo" is expected to be lowered.

Consoli then moved that the "El Rodeo" Committee be allowed to select an advertising manager to sell and lay out advertising for the "El Rodeo", to decide on the manager's commission, and to determine the amount of pages to be devoted to advertising. SAC approved this proposal.

Dave Brown, Agriculture Council representative, moved that the ASI accept a statement from the registrar's office as evidence of a student's enrollment for four consecutive quarters, thereby making that student eligible for a $3.75 fee refund.

George Soares, ASI president said that many students have recently complained that they have not received the expected refunds. Students who attend summer school usually pay more than the maximum amount of fees which is now $15 per year.

Students were given the opportunity to collect the refunds between April 1-15 if they brought the four students body cards of the past four consecutive quarters to the activities office. As many students did not return their cards during this time, SAC voted to extend the deadline to June 15.

ASI revamping will be held in two weeks

by Dave Brown, chairman
Student Government
Reorganization Committee

On June 1 and 2 the student body will be asked to vote on whether or not to accept the proposed reorganization of student government.

The changes are many. Because of space limitations it is impractical to state the complete amendment here. Copies of the amended by-laws will be posted around the campus, are on reserve in the library and will be posted at the polls. Members of the Student Affairs Council also have copies.

Presently, the Student Affairs Council is the single authoritative governing body of the Associated Students, Inc. This body, under the present system, possesses all administrative and judicial power and functions as a unicameral legislative body at the student level. It is composed of the ASI president, who is the chairman, the vice-president and the secretary.

The four divisional councils each sent three representatives to this body. Each of the five board chairmen, i.e. College Union, Board of Athletics, Board of Publications, Poly Royal Board and Music Control are members. Each of the four classes (freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior) have a representative on this body.

The faculty advisor and the college president's representative also have a vote, with the latter having the right of veto. The ASI graduate manager is a non-voting member who serves as an advisory person to SAC. This constitutes the makeup of SAC.

The current sub-committees of SAC include those covering Awards, Constitution and Codes, Donation-Drives, Elections, and the Leadership Conference Committee. Other committees are Finance, Homecoming, Intramural, Personnel, Rally, Rose Parade, Spring Sing, Student government and the Welcome Week.

The proposed amendment makes several basic changes in the above structure. If approved by the student body the five boards will be taken off of SAC and placed on an administrative body called the "Executive Council." The ASI president will be the chairman of this latter body while the ASI vice-president will be on the Executive Council.

A sixth board, Welcome Week Board, will be created and added to the list of recognized boards. A non-voting representative of the campus dormitories will be on the Executive Council.

The ASI secretary will be a voting member of the Executive Cabinet and a non-voting recorder of SAC. The ASI president also is a non-voting SAC member but possesses veto power over

SAC, which can be overridden by a 2/3 vote of the Student Affairs Council. (The veto's use will be at the wish of the president or if he is directed to do so by 2/3 of the Executive Cabinet.)

The four classes will be re-structured to form an Inter-Class Council, which in turn will send three representatives to SAC. This is a change from the present system of having each class ing this budget to SAC in the Spring Quarter for approval.

The Executive Cabinet will be in charge of scheduling events and handling all administrative matters. SAC will have all final legislative power and also the power of final approval of the budget along with all ultimate fiscal responsibility.

The judicial powers of student government will be vested in the ASI Judiciary. The Judiciary will not have disciplinary functions, but will have original jurisdiction in cases involving constitutionality, legality or jurisdiction of all ASI affairs. It will also have original jurisdiction in all cases involving non performance or violations or constitutional and statutory mandates, except in cases involving impeachment of ASI officers.

The Judiciary will interpret all codes and by laws and all other ASI regulations and will have final approval on the constitutionality of all new or changed codes and by-laws. The court will be able to impose penal assessments as specified in its operational code on all matters within the jurisdiction of the court.

The membership of the Judiciary will be composed of four justices, who will be selected one each from the four divisional councils, and one chief justice who will be chosen by ASI election. The justices will serve from their appointment until termination of their enrollment at Cal Poly, and the chief justice will serve a one year term, commencing with the summer quarter following his election.

A court clerk and a court recorder shall be appointed by the chief justice to perform the administrative functions of the court and to keep a record of court affairs. SAC will have recall power over the justices by a 2/3 majority vote. Recall of the chief justice will require an ASI election.

Under the proposed amendment, a Summer Interim Committee shall be established to be responsible for the execution of all ASI summer programs. It shall act on all emergency matters during the summer and shall assume judicial power in the absence of a summer judiciary.

The Summer Interim Committee shall be composed of chairman, one representative from each of the instructional division councils, one representative from the Inter-Class Council, the six board chairmen or their appointed representatives and the People-to-People representative.

Music tour successful

"It was a very enjoyable experience being with the Women's Glee on tour," said Steve Fischer, business manager of the Collegians.

The tour, which was Thursday, May 19, left San Luis Obispo at 7:30 a.m. to go to Santa Maria, Arroyo Grande, and Mission High Schools. Ninety-six students went, including 50 members of the Women's Glee Club, the Collegians, the Quartet, the Majors and Minors, and a few "stuntmen."

The first performance was at Santa Maria high school. The tour has not gone there for many years. Nancy Williams, of the Women's Glee, and Jerry Pyle, one of the Collegians, both graduated from that high school.

Next stop for the tour was Arroyo Grande, for a performance at the high school and lunch. Four of the performers graduated from Arroyo Grande High School; they were Diane Chandler and Carol Lightfoot, of the Women's Glee Club, and Phil and Malcolm Steck.

POLY SPLIT... It was great news which came down from Sacramento the week before last that Senate Bill 45 has been passed and signed by the governor. At last a union of campuses was ended that had apparently become one of necessity rather than desire, as far as the Pomona campus was concerned.

We believe it is a minor point whether SB 45 itself split the campuses or authorized the SCS Board of Trustees to do so. Considering the strong feelings of students and faculty on the southern campus and the ground work that has been done by officials of the college, the Chancellor's office and the Trustees, it is only a matter of months before the complete separation of the campuses takes place. In fact, it would be most appropriate if the Board of Trustees took the necessary official action to finalize the split when they meet here June 1-2.

It seems ironic that some of those who point to having early realized that the campuses would eventually be split were in reality the very ones who even as late as last year expressed doubt about a college split before 1975. Chancellor Dumke said on his recent visit that his office had assumed that when President Julian McPhee retired the two campus' would be split. We wish such foresight and advance planning had been used by others involved in making the separation possible.

Nevertheless, we believe the way is now open for each of the campuses, as separate colleges, to develop their polytechnic program as fits the needs of the locality and community they serve. We offer our congratulations and encouragement to the Pomona campus as it takes its place among the ranks of California institutions of higher learning.

How to help?

Editor:

We would like to answer your comment in regards to our letter that appeared in El Mustang on May 20. You suggested that the architecture students "make their commendable suggestions for improvements at the time when plans and programs are being formulated instead of AFTER action has been taken." We would very much like to offer our suggestions, but when do we have the opportunity? It is our understanding that the meetings of the Campus Planning Commission are closed to students.

We would also like to point out that our letter was not published as it was written. The phrase "Someone... decided to try anything to stir us up," should have read, "to shut us up," as our carbon of the letter shows. Whether this was an intentional change or a typographical error we think you will agree that it changes the meaning of the letter.

We are glad to see that the May 24 issue of El Mustang included the "top view" of the mail. This extraordinary example of architectural presentative techniques does an outstanding job of illustrating exactly how the money will be spent. Through our magnifying glass, however, we discover that a great portion of the plan that was presented already exists—$40,000?

Editor's note: The May 20 letter was indeed unintentionally misprinted. We regret the error was not caught and corrected at that time.

Arab view

Editor:

In reference to the letter discussing the plight of the Palestinian refugees, I want to express my views as an Arab student.

Palestine is one of the Arab states, so the illegal immigration of people from other lands and nationalities into Palestine and the problem of forcible displacement of more than a million Palestinian citizens must concern us and the people of the whole world.

Football Saturday

What is rapidly becoming a springtime tradition in San Luis Obispo will be re-enacted for the 16th time on Saturday when Cal Poly stages its annual Green and Gold Spring Football Game.

Initiated during the Spring of 1951 as an intra-squad game, the yearly affair was changed to a varsity-alumni tilt in 1960. This year, for the first time in six years, the Green and Gold game will feature an intra-squad pair-up.

The game will allow Mustang headman Sheldon Harden and his staff to view each player individually and will afford them an opportunity to "get a look" at everyone.

Tickets for the game, set for 8:00 p.m. in Mustang Stadium, will be on sale at the Associated Students, Inc., Office on campus or at the gate the night of the game. Prices are $1.00 for students and $1.50 for non-students.

Cindermen in Modesto's relays

Three of Cal Poly's premier trackmen, all high finishers in last weekend's California Collegiate Athletic Association 1966 Championship meet, have been entered in Modesto's annual California Relays, set for Saturday evening.

The three, javelin thrower Ben Laville, high jumper Richard Jones, and discus thrower Bill Patterson, played key roles in an impressive Mustang showing at the CCAA meet in San Diego. Cal Poly finished fourth with 37 points, only 8 away from second place Cal State Long Beach. Host San Diego State won in a walk-away with 90 points.

Intramural softball playoffs next week

The intramural softball leagues will head into the final three weeks of playoffs next week. Of the four slow pitch leagues, only the Monday league has completed its season. Champions of the Monday league were the Bonds with Lassen and Tenaya Penthouse tying for second place. Lassen was chosen as the second team from the Monday league to participate in the double elimination tournament which will run four days during June 6-10.

When asked about what he thought the chances were of their winning the tournament, Bud Ellison of the Bonds stated emphatically: "With my fantastic fielding, hitting, pitching, and running ability at the teams disposal, we're a cinch to win." Bud was of course, joking, but the Bonds do have a record of 6-1.

From the eight teams in each of the four leagues, the two top teams will play in the final tournament. The eight top teams will play four straight days to determine the overall slow pitch champions.

The team standings as of Wednesday morning at 9:00 were as follows: Monday league; First place-Bonds, Second place-Lassen Hall tied with Tenaya Penthouse. Tuesday 4:00 league; first place-S.A.M. (6-0), second place Maulers (5-1). Tuesday 5:00 league; first place tie between Strange Gloves and E.L. Club at (4-1).

Modoc tops intramural volleyball

As the intramural volleyball season draws to a close, eight teams will volley for top honors.

Modoc 1, Modoc 2, and Persian Tigers are said to be the top three teams in the intramural volleyball leagues at this time. However, next week will tell the story. Any one of the eight teams qualifying for the double elimination tournament, which has been under way all week, can win.

Consolation matches were played this week, while the tentative date for the championship match is set for Thursday, June 2.

When asked how this season's matches compared to past season's intramural director, Vaughn Hitchcock, said: "Our quality of volleyball has picked up over the past few years. In the past the league has been dominated by one or two exceptional teams."

Sentry reports good news (at last!) about car insurance savings for young men

If you're a man under 25, or have a son who is, you know what a big extra premium you pay for car insurance. Now, Sentry Insurance offers a 15% discount for young men who qualify as safe drivers. (This is in addition to Sentry's 15% discount for driver education.)

HOW TO QUALIFY

Young men under 25 qualify for the Sentry Preferred Youthful Driver Discount on the basis of a simple questionnaire that takes only about 20 minutes. It is not a test of driving skill or knowledge. It is completely confidential. There is no penalty for young men who do not qualify for the extra discount.
