Books at high noon

Next Tuesday, Jan. 17, Dr. Arthur Frietsche of the department of English and Speech will review Snoopy and the Red Baron by Charles M. Schulz.

Dr. Frietsche says he expects "to expound extensively and ecstasically on the character of Snoopy." Since Snoopy and his friends have become an American tradition, it seems reasonable to consider the basis of their appeal to adults as well as children. Everyone is welcome.

Job opportunities

The College Work-Study program provides financial aid opportunities through on-campus jobs to students who meet the eligibility requirements. Under this program students can work up to 16 hours per week at rates from $1.30 to $2.60 per hour depending on qualification of the student and the requirements of the position.

For further information, please contact the Placement Office, Admin. 213.

Aliens must report

The Federal Government requires every person who is not a citizen of the United States to report his address to the Government each January. The United States Immigration Service has printed Forms I-55, Alien Address Report Cards, on which to file this information. The cards are available at Post Offices, during the month of January.

Citizens of the United States are urged to assist their alien friends and relatives by reminding them of this requirement of the Immigration Law.

The law requires that these cards be filled out and submitted before Jan. 31 of each year.

Aero meeting

Aeronautical majors and all interested students are invited to attend the Jan. 19 meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics at 7:30 p.m. in Ag Eng 123. J. T. Lloyd from Lockheed of California will speak on "Advanced Re-entry Vehicles" and will illustrate his talk with slides and a movie.

Editorial

The basis on which the higher education system of California is founded is about to be shattered if Governor Reagan has his way. Reagan is asking for a decrease in the budgets of the state college and university systems by a figure amounting to 10 per cent. If any change is to be made, it should be in the other direction. Qualified instructors are in demand. The only way to obtain such instructors is to pay an adequate salary commensurate with their ability. In other words, you pay for what you receive. There is an obvious shortage in classroom space as is witnessed by the frantic building on every campus in California. This need will soon be multiplied by the population explosion. In a shortage that parallels the need for classroom is the inadequacy in the number of residence halls. If a cut is to be made in the state budget, other means of reducing state spending should be investigated before educational facilities are made to suffer. This should be a last resort.

Along with a budget cut-back, Reagan wants to impose a tuition fee in addition to the present fees charged. For state college students, this would reportedly amount to $200 per year. University students could expect to pay in the vicinity of $400 per year. This may seem insignificant in proportion to the value to be gained from obtaining an education. But, to those thousands who are just barely able to stay in school under present conditions, this increase would certainly spell the end of their higher education.

The University of California Regents have met in emergency session to discuss the far-reaching implications of such action. The state Coordinating Council for Higher Education has voted to fight the proposals made by Reagan.

California, in the past, has set a splendid example of the way to go in providing free higher education for its residents. The outstanding graduate the California higher education system produces is a tribute to our forefathers who wrote the idea of a free higher education system into the Constitution of the State of California. The combination of raw materials and the knowledge and ability of these graduates has made California great.

Before any changes are made, close attention should be paid to the precedent which may be set. A resolution drafted by the faculty of Los Angeles State College reads in part, "once the principle of free higher education is breached, more extensive violations can be expected."

The "weirdies" and "Viet-niks" of Berkeley have given Reagan valid cause for alarm. And now, Governor Reagan, with your administration only days and hours old, you have given us cause for alarm!

"Business is for the birds!"

Who says so?

Lots of people do. Some right on your campus. And for rationale, they point an accusing finger at business and say it lacks "social commitment."

Social commitment? We wish they could visit our Kearny, N. J. plant, where we make cable and apparatus for your Bell telephone company. But we have time for other thoughts, other talents.

Like the situation in nearby Newark.

With civic and business leaders, we began buzzing with ideas. "Let's teach higher skills to some of the un-employed and under-employed. Say, machine shop practice. They could qualify for jobs that are going begging — and help themselves as well."

We lent our tool-and-die shop, evenings. We found volunteer instructors. A community group screened applicants. Another supplied hand tools. The Boys Club donated classroom facilities. Another company sent more instructors.

Some 70 trainees enrolled. Their incentive? Self-improvement. Results to date? New people at better jobs. Happier.

And this is only one of dozens of social-minded projects at Western Electric plants across the country, where our first job is making communications equipment for the Bell System.

So, you don't give up ideals when you graduate. If anything, at a company like, say, Western Electric, you add to them. And it's not just a theory. It's practice. Satisfying. Come on and find out. And watch a feathered cliché fly out the window.

Conservatively Speaking

Bob Koczor

After the basketball game Saturday night, Leo the Liberal and I had a discussion about poverty in America. He told me more than once how ignorant I was about the true state of affairs in America in regards to poverty, starvation and welfare in America.

Leo advised that I go down and live in Watts for a few weeks, if I lasted that long. Or if I was too scared, he recommended that I travel down to Georgia and Alabama and witness how hundreds of thousands of white Americans are poverty-stricken and starving to death.

Leo talked in such a way that I knew damn well that he had lived or worked with the poverty-stricken at some time or another. And I knew he wanted me to ask him if he did. I asked him any how.

"Leo," I said. "Have you ever lived among any poverty-stricken and starving Americans?"

"Yes, I have," he answered—as if he had just received a merit badge from the Poverty Corps Director.

"You mean to tell me that there are Americans actually starving to death nowadays?"

"Yes, there are," he answered. Pressing the point a little further I asked, "Have you ever seen an American starve to death?"

Leo realized that he had better not answer in the negative, thereby losing much of the impact to his side of our discussion.

So he answered that yes, indeed, he had witnessed Americans starving to death.

"And what did you do?" I asked. "Let them starve to death?"

Silence. Leo, of course, had never seen any American starve to death. Nowadays, Americans just don't starve to death because of poverty, per se.

Like most other liberals, Leo gets so wrapped up emotionally in do-goodism that every once in awhile he has to exaggerate in order to prove a point.

Everyone's doing it! So why can't I?

Everyone from Dick Tracy and Moon Girl to our local instructors on campus are predicting what's going to happen during this winter quarter. So why shouldn't I? I predict that:

1. Cal Poly will get a brand new spanking president. (Or does the crystal indicate 1968?)

2. The instructor-evaluation booklet will continue to be under-evaluated by instructors and over-evaluated by students.

3. Would you believe—El Mustang will succeed as a tri-weekly?

4. LBJ will continue to be perplexed about whose demise "The Death of a President" is written. (He may even burn his free copy.)

5. The Red Guards will learn their 10 general orders and begin guarding whatever they've been fighting for during the past year.

6. Complaisants about Harden's coaching ability will abort. And rightly so.

7. Pope Paul VI will pray for peace. The Viet Cong will fight for freedom. The United States will fight for more freedom. And the Pope will continue praying for peace.

8. Eddie Fisher will continue to argue that he is Lis's real husband.

9. The Packers will wallop the Chiefs.

10. God won't die this quarter.

11. Rev. Clayton Powell will pout about his peers' racial prejudice. Amen.

'Elfin' artist presents prints at art show

Linnaea C. Deyo, a young artist from Santa Barbara who specializes in batik art prints, returned for the second show of her work on Monday.

The show, is being held in the foyer of the campus Library and continues through Saturday, and may be seen during regular "open hours" for the Library.

Already acclaimed for her use of batik art form, Mrs. Deyo is a graduate of both the University of Puget Sound and the University of Washington. Formerly a children's librarian and a television story teller, she has already shown her work at galleries including New York City's Museum of Contemporary Crafts; Henry Gallery and Century 21 Center, Tacoma; and Gallery de Silva, Santa Barbara.

Commenting on her work, the Los Angeles Times called Mrs. Deyo "an elfin person with a marvelous imagination whose appearance and manner are exquisitely transmitted into her work."

"The batiks... (of Mrs. Deyo) are wisps of nature that have been captured and pressed upon cloth to live eternally," the Southern California newspaper's discussion of her work continued.

Library hours

In response to many student requests, beginning Jan. 15, the Library Reserve Book Room will be open Sunday afternoons starting at 2 p.m. and remain open until 10 p.m., according to announcement by Miss Angelina Martinez, head of Public Services.

Other sections of the Library will be open the usual Sunday hours of 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Hoopsters split CCAA openers

Mustang basketballers tasted the sweet fruits of victory and the sour grapes of defeat in their first two California Collegiate Athletic Association games of 1967 over the weekend.

Tonight the Mustangs will invade San Diego State and travel to Cal State Long Beach tomorrow night.

Mike LaRoche, 6-4 all-league junior forward, poured in 34 points to lead Cal Poly to an 89-81 victory over the previously undefeated San Fernando Valley State Matadors in the CCAA opener Friday.

LaRoche's 34 points on Saturday weren't enough to overcome the Los Angeles State Diablos who married the Mustangs' record with an 85-79 loss.

On Friday night, a crowd of 1,500 watched as LaRoche hit a jump shot with 11 seconds to play in the first half to give Cal Poly a 35-33 halftime bulge.

Guards Don Stevenson and Al Spencer then teamed with LaRoche in the second half to pull away to a 49-39 lead with 16:55 left and the best the Matadors could do after that was to pull within six points, 66-60, with 7:45 remaining.

The Mustangs broke down a Matador full-court press in the final 10 minutes of play to insure the Cal Poly win, the first league victory for new coach Stu Chestnut.

Stevenson finished the night with 10 points and Spencer, 12, all in the second half.

Saturday saw the same well-drilled Mustangs playing a game of "catch-up" with the Diablos the entire night with L.A. State pulling out ahead in the end. The Diablos dropped a 101-78 decision to Fresno State the night before.

Los Angeles, led by 6-4 junior guard Cary Smith who stuffed in 24 points, actually won the contest in the first half when they walked into the dressing room with a 33-46 lead, because Cal Poly outscored the Diablos 33-32 in the remaining half.

Mustang guard Stevenson and John Henderson also helped LaRoche's 24-point effort with 17 and 19 points respectively.

The Mustangs, now with a 1-1 league mark, have a 6-4 season record.

Netters Practice

"The turnout for the Mustang tennis team this fall was one of the best we've ever had." These are the words of Ed Jorgensen, highly enthused tennis coach of the Poly racket masters. Jorgensen says that not only is the number (23) of turnouts impressive, but the quality is excellent. Since practice started in the fall instead of spring, Jorgensen expects to spur his already high quality group to an unbeatable team.

Golf Team

Any student interested in trying out for the Golf team should contact Dr. Hanks, room 141 of the Math Building.

Mat win over Coloradoans delights Hitchcock

Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's wrestling team will be going through their paces next week in preparation for the titanic of the season when UCLA and the University of Oregon visit Cal Poly for a three way dual match on Jan. 20.

UCLA, rated one of the better teams on the West Coast, has a 6-1 dual season mark. Oregon will bring a team made up primarily of sophomores but so far this season they have been tough.

Cal Poly ran its season mark to 2-0 last weekend with the 19-12 decision over Colorado State College.

The match wasn't all gravy for the Mustangs as the final victory.

John Yasuda, 133 lbs., gave the Mustangs their first team points with a easy 14-4 verdict over Jerry Martinez. Martinez filled in for the regular 133 lb man who was injured the night before against UCLA. Yasuda lead 4-0 before Martinez obtained a reversal. By the time the third period began Yasuda had recorded two near falls and a 11-2 score.

One of the closest matches of the evening was the 130 lb class as Jesse Flores was nosed out by Mike Rogers, 6-5. Flores and Rogers were tied 4-4 when Flores pulled a last minute escape in the third period to make it 5-4. But the winning margin came as Rogers had two minutes riding time good for two points and the score wasn't decided until the final match of the evening.

Tom Miles, 137 lbs., and Kent Wyatt, 145 lbs., both won by decisions scoring 6-4 and 9-1 victories. Miles lead 4-2 over Joe Silva before Silva pulled a last second reversal to tie the score 4-4. Miles won on two minutes riding time.

Wyatt had a shutout going before Pat Menke made an escape in the third period. Wyatt was awarded two points through riding time to gain the decision.

Coach Jack LaBonde withdrew Gary Nickal from the 152 lb. bout because of a knee injury obtained earlier on the Colorado road trip. The withdrawal gave team captain John Miller a win by forfeit.

Cal Poly lead by a team score 14-3 before things began to fall in on the Mustangs.

National champ Dennis Downing, 160 lbs., met his first defeat this season as Jim Alexander scored an impressive 10-6 win. Downing, leading 4-2 in the first period, had Alexander in a cross body ride before things switched

Mustang grapplers host top junior college teams

The 11th annual Cal Poly Junior College wrestling tournament begins tonight with the first match slated for 5 p.m. in the Men's Gym.

Students with ASI cards will be admitted for 50 cents and those without cards for $1.00.

Over 45 junior colleges from California and Arizona have submitted entry fees to tournament director Vaughan Hitchcock. "This will be the largest tourney of its kind in the nation," stated Hitchcock.

Cal Poly will enter a strong frosh team to compete unattached. Last year the Mustangs won two individual championships.

Well sir, now you know all about the origins of Puerto Rico. So get packed and get going! You'll love it! Stroll the beaches, swim the coves, breathe the fragrance of hibiscus and bougainvillea. And remember always that the friendly Puerto Ricans are delighted to show you their customs, teach you their language. Why, I'll wager you'll soon know far more Spanish than the three basic phrases. You'll know "Basta la vista" which means "See you later." "Por favor" which means "Please," and "El tren se para en las estaciones" which means "Your llama has eaten my passport."

Gracias from the makers of Personna for giving our blades such a cordial reception, and, for favor, how about trying another of our luxury shaving products—Borneo Shave, regular or menthol?
