

Cal Poly Report

Vol. 33, No. 45 Thursday, October 14, 1982

Public Safety adds two staff members

Jeff Paullus and Jeffrey Hall are recent additions to the staff of Cal Poly's Public Safety Department, according to Richard Brug, the university's director of public safety.

Paullus, who is the department's new assistant director in charge of the University Fire Section, moved to San Luis Obispo from Wenatchee, Wash., where he had been assistant fire chief for the past two years. Before that, he spent 11 years with the San Diego Fire Department rising to the rank of captain.

Hall is assistant director of public safety supervising the Radiation Safety Section and radiation safety officer for the university. Previously, he was radiation safety officer for the Hospital of the Good Samaritan in Los Angeles and radiation physicist at City of Hope National Medical Center in Duarte and the Veteran's Administration Medical Center in Fresno.

Work schedule — 1982 calendar year

Last spring President Baker announced the campus work schedule for the remainder of the 1982 calendar year. The schedule included the closing of the campus between Christmas and New Year's (Dec. 25-Jan. 2).

Effective July 1, 1982, Memoranda of Understanding were adopted in four CSU collective bargaining units, which provided for holidays falling on Saturday to be observed on the preceding Friday. Consistent with this, the Board of Trustees, at its Sept. 15, 1982 meeting, approved a change in Title 5, California Administrative Code. It is applicable to all employees, and it authorizes holidays that fall on Saturday to be observed on the preceding Friday. Therefore, Christmas will be observed on Dec. 24 this year and the campus will thus be shut from Friday, Dec. 24, through Sunday, Jan 2.

Task force appointed for university study

Cal Poly President Warren J. Baker has appointed an eight-member task force to study reorganization of the university. Tomlinson Fort Jr., vice president for academic affairs, will be the chairman.

Other members are Gene Starkey, dairy science; Bill Langworthy, School of Science and Mathematics; Richard Warren, education; Paul Murphy, mathematics; Gerald Sullivan, English; Edward Garner, aeronautical and mechanical engineering; and Adam Littlefield, representing the ASI. Howard West, administrative affairs, will serve as a permanent administrative staff liaison for the task force.

In his appointment memorandum President Baker said, "Our goal should be to determine how we can foster a better environment in which knowledge, values, skills, and techniques can be acquired by our students to improve their ability to contribute to the quality of their own lives, to provide them with the foundation to pursue successful careers, and to encourage them to be a positive influence on society."

He told the task force that "any organizational constraints found that limit faculty interaction, communications, and development should be eliminated. Broader faculty associations may be necessary to make improvements in programs and to foster faculty professional development, research, and scholarship.

"The university," he continued, "should be in a position to respond with less inertia to new initiatives, to cross-disciplinary and interdisciplinary efforts, and especially to new technology."

The Cal Poly chief executive asked the task force to analyze the following issues:

"(1) You are familiar with the development of a new general education program on the campus which will be put in place for the next academic year. For this program to be successful, to attract the best faculty, and to continue to improve and undergo careful evaluation, we will have to pay particular attention to how it is administered.

"(2) It is important that we facilitate the introduction of new technology onto the campus both to aid instruction and improve administration and the dissemination of information. New and rapid advances in communications technology, computing software and hardware, network development, and audiovisual aids offer a significant opportunity to advance instruction and provide timely information. The management and administration of efforts to bring the advantages of this technology to our faculty and staff require special attention ...

"(3) Mandated increases in administrative workloads have occurred as a result of new statewide initiatives without adequate or additional resources.

S.F. dance troupe to perform on campus

The San Francisco Moving Company, the dance troupe which sold out its last Cal Poly performance two years ago, will return on Friday, Oct. 15.

Set for the Cal Poly Theatre with an 8 pm curtain, the performance is open to the public.

Public tickets are $5 advance at Boo Boo Records in San Luis Obispo and all Cheap Thrills stores. Door admission is $7.

Three dance pieces will be performed. Two are new, and one is a revival.

"Crayons," by Artistic Director Rhonda Martyn, will be set to an original score by company member Duncan Macfarland.

Based on the classic tale, "1,001 Arabian Nights," the dancers will perform the local premiere of Emily Keeler's "A Tale Told," set to a score by Bay Area composer Victor Spiegel.

The revival is the company's hit, "Rainmaker," based on the long-running play by Richard Nash.

Fall schedule for Books at High Noon

Fantasy, art, money, architecture - these are only some of the subjects that will be discussed at Books at High Noon this quarter. Books at High Noon, sponsored by the R.E. Kennedy Library, involves a cooperative effort among the library, university faculty and staff, and community supporters. The book reviews are both entertaining and informative, serving to highlight library materials and topics of current interest.

The Fall Quarter schedule is:

- Oct. 12 Mary Louise Brady (Library). Dragon World of Anne McCaffrey
- Oct. 19 Gordon Curzon (English). Great Code: the Bible and Literature by Northrop Frye.
- Oct. 26 Vickie Leon. Money-wise Guide to California, by Vicki Leon.
- Nov. 2 Bianca Rosenthal (Foreign Language). Dean's December, by Saul Bellow.
- Nov. 9 Rodger Lewis (Library). Progress and Its Discontents, edited by Gabriel A. Almond.
- Nov. 16 Hsiao-Yen Yeh. Chinese Theory of Art: Translations From the Masters of Chinese Art, by Lin Yutang.

Books at High Noon meets on Tuesdays in Staff Dining Room B from noon to 1 pm. The Oct. 19 program concerns biblical narrative and reference in literature, and the speaker, Gordon Curzon, of the English Department regularly teaches a course, "The Bible as Literature."

Bookfest exhibit at Kennedy Library

Currently on display in the first floor lobby of the Robert E. Kennedy Library through Oct. 17 is the October Bookfest, a dual exhibit of the best books published and manufactured in the West in 1981, co-sponsored by the Graphic Communications Department and the Library Associates.

On display are books from the 41st Western Books Exhibition of the Rounce and Coffin Club of Los Angeles, a regional selection intended to recognize and reward those who design, print, and publish books of outstanding excellence, and the 1981 Bookbuilder's West Bookshow of San Francisco in which qualified jurors from the fields of book design and manufacturing evaluated entries according to design effectiveness, competency of composition, quality and uniformity of presswork, and bindings appropriate to the end use.

The Graphic Communications Department and the Library Associates will be co-sponsoring a program on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17, at 2 pm in the Special Collections Department of the Library with Muir Dawson of the Rounce and Coffin Club of Los Angeles and Bill Ralph of Wadsworth Publishing Co. in Belmont discussing the books. Further information can be obtained by calling W.S. Mott at Ext. 2500 or Ilene Rockman, Ext. 2273.

Interdisciplinary talks

Interdisciplinary seminars are part of a series designed to encourage ideas. Each speaker will talk for approximately thirty minutes. Discussion will follow. All are cordially invited to attend. Please send any comments or suggestions to Carl Lutrin (Political Science). The seminars will take place at 11 am in Faculty Office Building 24B.

•Oct. 21 - Photography and Communication: The Clouded Image - Eric Johnson (Art).

Johnson has exhibited his work widely throughout the United States and Europe. His talk will emphasize the problems of image and distortion in photography.

•Oct. 28 - Events in Lebanon: The American Media Struggle for Objectivity - Nishan Havandjian (Journalism).

Born and raised in Lebanon, Havandjian has been concerned with the role culture plays in reporting world affairs for several years. He joined the Journalism Department in 1980.

•Dec. 2 - Politics, Media and Cultural Imperialism - Richard Krantzdorf (Political Science).

Krantzdorf has long been a student of media in the Third World. Most of this past summer was spent at Yale as a participant in an African Politics Seminar; his own research focused on the New World Information and Communication Order.

Cal Poly hosts rodeo Oct. 15 - 16

The Cal Poly rodeo team will showcase its 1982-83 team when it hosts the annual Fall Rodeo at Collet Arena on campus Oct. 15-16.

The rodeo performances are scheduled for Friday at 6 pm and Saturday at 1 pm with advanced tickets priced at $3 for adults, $2 for students and $1 for children under 12. Tickets at the gate are priced fifty cents higher.

Tickets are on sale at the University Union Ticket Office and at selected western retail stores in the community.

CAM 582 revised

On the Friday (May 27, 1983) prior to Memorial Day the United States Flag and the California State Flag (near the Administration Building) will be flown at half-staff to honor faculty, staff, students and faculty/staff emeriti who died in the previous year. This is a revision of CAM 582. An appropriate story will be published in the Cal Poly Report on Thursday, May 26.

Defensive driver training

The Defensive Driver Training Program is required for all state employees who wish to drive a university vehicle. If you do not have a permanent Defensive Driver Training card, please make a reservation to attend one of the upcoming classes. Temporary cards are invalid as of the end of October 1982.

Before making your reservation to attend one of the training sessions, make sure you have filled out the necessary forms which are available at Transportation Services. If you have a temporary card, you should have already completed the necessary forms except for the request for reservation. If you have any questions, please call Transportation Services at Ext. 2451.

The Defensive Driver Training Program will be held as listed below. You need only attend one session. We will be mailing reservation cards to everyone who presently has a temporary permit. The class should be taken once every five years.

Site changed for historian's lecture

The lecture to be given by Dr. Lynn White on Thursday, Oct. 14, has been moved to a larger auditorium to accommodate the unusually large audience expected for the event.

Dr. White's lecture on "The Importance of Medieval Technological Inventions to Modern America" will take place in the Cal Poly Theatre beginning at 11 am. It had originally been scheduled for a meeting room in the University Union.

Some administrative positions have been eliminated this past year, and formula adjustments will generate additional academic administration reductions over the next two years. Some attention must be given to coping with the increased workload and decreasing resources."

President Baker also raised other important questions:

"Whether or not the schools and departments are organized in an optimal and advantageous way to achieve our goals over the next few decades, (and)

"Whether or not the current organization allows optimum use of limited resources and facilities."

The task force was urged to begin its work with a review of the strictly academic functions, and then broaden its scope to other activities of the university.

In going about its task the eight-member group will be seeking the advice from various individuals and groups on campus. Specifically, the task force will meet with the Academic Deans Council, the Student Affairs Council, the Administrative Affairs Council, the Executive Committee of the Academic Senate, the Instructional Department Heads' Council, and the ASI, or a representative from these councils.

President Baker has asked the task force to provide him with initial recommendations by the beginning of the Winter Quarter. There will be a period of time for review and comment and open hearings sponsored by the Academic Senate and the Office of Academic Affairs.

The task force will then review the comments and reactions to the initial proposals, and formulate final recommendations by the end of the Winter Quarter.

TELEPHONE REPAIRS

Barbara Ciesielski, General Office, reports that Pacific Telephone Company has begun operating a special centralized repair center for certain business customers, including Cal Poly. Please call Ext. 2494 if you are experiencing telephone problems, so that they can be reported to the telephone company.
