AUGUST F. COPPOLA APPOINTED TO TRUSTEES

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr., has appointed Dr. August F. Coppola of Beverly Hills to the CSUC Board of Trustees. Dr. Coppola is an executive producer and writer in Los Angeles. He has worked as an executive producer with Technimedia in Los Angeles and as an educational consultant and designer with Media Marketing in conjunction with the U.S. Office of Education.

He has lectured and served as Chairman of the Comparative Literature Program at CSU, Long Beach. He also has lectured at Long Island University and Occidental College. Dr. Coppola received his B.A. degree from UCLA and his Ph.D. from Occidental College. He replaces Roy T. Brophy who resigned. His term expires Mar. 1, 1988. The appointment requires confirmation by the State Senate.

Fresh from their win as Eastern Region NCAA Division II champions, the Cal Poly Mustang Men's Basketball Team will enter the quarterfinal play-offs this Saturday (Mar. 14) at 8 pm in the Physical Education Building Gymnasium. They will play the New England region champions, New Hampshire College. The winner of this game will go to the national Division II championships the following week-end in Illinois. Tickets, at $2 for students and $4 for all others, will be on sale at the University Union Ticket Office, 10 am - 4 pm or at the door prior to the game.

STATE AND NATIONAL LEADERS NAMED TO PRESIDENT'S CABINET

A blue-ribbon panel of 36 state and national leaders will begin a major effort this month to enhance Cal Poly's leadership in occupationally-centered higher education. The distinguished group, appointed by President Warren J. Baker to a newly-formed President's Cabinet, will hold its first meeting March 29 and 30.

In announcing formation of the President's Cabinet, President Baker called the group an important asset in planning the university's future. "As a polytechnic university, Cal Poly has always prepared its graduates to be both constructive members of society and productive employees. The help and counsel of cabinet members will be invaluable in both areas," Dr. Baker said.

At the late March meeting, cabinet members will be investigating ways to strengthen Cal Poly's relationships with agriculture, business, industry, and the arts to broaden private and public support of the university's unique "learn-by-doing" educational philosophy. They will also suggest ways to meet rapidly changing societal needs in the next decade.

Deputy Secretary of State William P. Clark, Shandon; Fred Heringer, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, Sacramento; and Thomas Graff, regional counsel for the Environmental Defense Fund, Berkeley, are just three of the cabinet members.

Corporate executives include William Randolph Hearst Jr., chairman of the Executive Committee, The Hearst Corp., New York; John J. Smale, president of Proctor & Gamble Co., Cincinnati; Louis A. Magnani, president of Marsteller Inc., New York; Barton W. Shackelford, president of Pacific Gas & Electric Co., San Francisco; and John R. (Reg) Murphy, publisher/editor of the San Francisco Examiner.

Four women have been chosen cabinet members. They are Rosemary Tomich, chairman of the board of Livestock

Vic Buccola will step down as Athletic Director

Vic Buccola (Director, Intercollegiate Athletics) will return to full-time teaching in the Physical Education Department effective with the Fall Quarter, 1981. In accepting Dr. Buccola's request to be relieved of his duties as director of intercollegiate athletics, President Warren J. Baker noted that "Even though I have only been at the University a short time, it is clear to me that you have administered an effective program with very limited resources, and significant improvement in the intercollegiate athletics program has occurred during your tenure."

Dr. Baker also said the University would support Dr. Buccola's continued participation on the NCAA Division II football committee. He said, "I would like to express my sincere gratitude to you for all the contributions you have made to intercollegiate athletics on the campus. There is no doubt that you have provided an excellent foundation to build on in the future."

Dr. Buccola will continue to serve as Cal Poly's director of intercollegiate athletics through Aug. A replacement will be announced at a later date. As a

Cal Poly undergraduate in the early 1950s, Dr. Buccola earned all-California Collegiate Athletic Association recognition in each of his four years as a guard on the Mustang football team. Twice he was named on the Little All-Coast team, and he was a member of the Little All-America second team. As a Cal Poly senior, he was co-recipient of the Mustang Outstanding Boxer Award. He fought as a light-heavyweight and a heavyweight. He also competed in track and lettered twice in the 440 and sprints.

He succeeded football coach Joe Harper as athletic director in 1973-74, and in his first year of directing Cal Poly's athletic program, the Mustangs earned the Ironman Trophy, given by the California Collegiate Athletic Association to the school with the most successful athletic program. Cal Poly tied with Cal State Northridge for the same award in 1977-78, and earned it outright in 1979-80. With last fall's NCAA football championship, Cal Poly chalked up its 16th national title, a current record for Division II schools.

Dean Ericson named to National Arts Advisory Council

The dean of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities has been named to a national advisory council that is assisting with preparation for a national "Gallery of the Arts Week" observance. Jon M. Ericson's appointment to the 11-member advisory group was announced last week by Dr. Allan W. Ostar, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. "Gallery of the Arts Week," scheduled for Apr. 5-11 this year, is expected to consist of campus activities at more than 120 university and college campus communities across the nation.

Included will be a festival of Jewish films in Purchase, N.Y.; a lecture on women in sculpture in Bowling Green, Ohio; and an exhibit of African art in Fresno. At Cal Poly, three arts-related exhibitions are being planned in connection with the national observance. Opening during the week are an exhibit of work by students in the university's advanced graphic design courses in the new Robert E. Kennedy Library and a display in the University Union Galerie of drawings, water colors, photographs, and crafts by students.

Related to the arts week celebration, but not scheduled to open until the following week, is a major exhibit of rare books about Leonardo da Vinci and models of inventions by the Renaissance artist, architect, musician, engineer, and scientist. The da Vinci materials will be displayed in the Rare Books Room of the Kennedy Library.

Dr. Ericson said the advisory council on which he serves has in its membership distinguished artists, arts educators and administrators, and university and college presidents. Its purpose is to promote increased public participation in the arts programs conducted on state campuses; to stimulate and improve cooperation and coordination in the use of resources by campus and community arts organizations; and to foster and develop performing arts in communities which might not otherwise have access to them.

LIBRARY CEREMONIES SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 2

All faculty and staff are invited to ceremonies recognizing the opening of the Robert E. Kennedy Library. Ceremonies will be held on Thursday (Apr. 2) at 11 am in front of the Library. Tours will be given following the ceremonies. In conjunction with these ceremonies a banquet will be held at the Madonna Inn on Thursday evening sponsored by the Library Associates and the University Library. Those wishing to attend should call ext. 2305 before Mar. 20 for information.

Auditions for "Story Theatre"

Auditions for the Cal Poly spring production of Paul Sills' "Story Theatre" have been announced for Tuesday and Wednesday (Mar. 10 and 11) from 7 pm to 11 pm, in Davidson Music Center 212. The production calls for eight actors: three women and five men who play approximately 70 roles in 10 different ironic and entertaining fables. No prior preparation is necessary to try out.

Utilizing a theatrical blend of story, song, and creative movement, the play explores the still contemporary themes within the well-known traditional tales of Aesop and the brothers Grimm, such as "Henny Penny," "The Golden Goose," "The Robber Bridegroom," "The Fisherman and His Wife," and "The Bremen Town Musicians."

"Story Theatre," to be directed by Michael R. Malkin (Speech Communication) will be presented on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday (May 14, 15, and 16) in the Cal Poly Theatre. Performances will begin at 8 pm with an additional performance on Saturday at 2 pm. Reserved-seat tickets are $3. Mail order requests may be sent with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to "Cal Poly Theatre Box Office, Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, CA 93407."

So novel and effective was the original production style of this play that the term story theatre is now used to refer to a theatrical form that blends rigorous improvisational technique with mime-like movement and imaginative staging. The Cal Poly production of "Story Theatre" is sponsored by the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities and the Speech Communication Department.

International Women's Day

International Women's Day will be celebrated on campus, Thursday (Mar. 12). For this event the Dean of Students office has organized a two-hour program:

- 11:10 am to 11:30 am - International Folk Dances
- 11:30 am to 12:15 pm - Three speakers: Odile Clause, Christine Marchant and Ana Hartig present: "Crowd movers: Louise Michel (France), Emmeline Pankhurst (England), and Eva Peron (Argentina)"
- 12:15 pm to 1 pm - Movie: "With Babies and Banners"

All located in the University Union Mustang Lounge.

Application for Administrative Fellows

The Trustees Budget for 1981-82 includes funds for continued support for the CSUC Administrative Fellows Program. Although the Trustees request must still go through review by the legislative and executive branches of the State, there is at this time no reason to think that the legislature will not support this program. It is essential, however, that all applicants understand that appointments will be contingent on funds being provided in the final Budget which will not be signed until approximately June 30.

Full details of the program and application materials may be obtained from Smiley Wilkins (Affirmative Action Officer) Adm. 110. Completed applications are to be returned to the President's Office in line with the timetable cited below.

The purpose of the Administrative Fellows Program is to provide an opportunity for upward mobility, especially aimed at ensuring that women and persons from ethnic minority backgrounds are given equal opportunities for placement and advancement in administrative, managerial and executive positions in the CSUC.

Application for the Administrative Fellows Program is open to academic and administrative personnel who have a tenured/permanent or probationary position on their campus and who desire to prepare themselves for a career option into administration or management. Final selection of fellows and operation of the program will be on a nondiscriminatory basis.

The Administrative Fellows who are selected will normally be assigned to a campus other than their own. Only under very unusual or compelling circumstances will fellows be assigned to their home campus. Therefore, applicants should seriously consider their mobility as a factor in making their personal decision to apply for appointment.

The fellowship is for the 1981-82 Academic Year. Fellows will receive their regular salary, vacation and retirement benefits as if they were in their regular positions at their home campuses. The State will not reimburse relocation or moving expenses in connection with this program.

The timetable for applications is:

- Mar. 12: Announcement of the program on campus. Application forms may be obtained from Smiley Wilkins (Affirmative Action Officer) Adm. 110.
- Mar. 27: Deadline for applications. Applications must be filed in the office of the president by 5 pm, Friday (Mar. 27). Confidential evaluation forms must also be submitted.
- Late May: Offers of appointment as Administrative Fellows will be made by the Chancellor's Office.
- Early June: Meeting of fellows and mentors.

Slight increase in enrollment

Student enrollment at Cal Poly has increased by almost 200 over the number registered at the same time last year. The Institutional Research office reports that 15,949 students were enrolled on Jan. 23, the quarterly census date. That is 193, or 1.2 percent, more than were enrolled on a similar date last year.

L.H. "Tom" Dunigan (Director of Institutional Research) said he is somewhat surprised the decline in registration between the 1980 Fall Quarter, which ended in December, and the present Winter Quarter is not larger. He said that the decline of 99 from the 16,048 students who were enrolled during the Fall Quarter is considerably less than the drop of between 200 and 300 that has been recorded in recent years.

Quarter break library hours

The University Library will maintain the following schedule during the quarter break:

Mar. 20 (Fri.) 7:30 am to 5 pm
Mar. 21-22 (Sat.-Sun.) Closed
Mar. 23-27 (Mon.-Fri.) . . 8 am to 5 pm
Mar. 28-29 (Sat.-Sun.) Closed

Regular hours will be resumed on Monday (Mar. 30) the first day of classes.

STUDY LISTS AND HOLDS

Spring Quarter study lists indicating the sections into which students are scheduled will be available Mar. 16. Study lists for new students will be sent to the academic departments for distribution; study lists for continuing students will be sent to the locations indicated by the students on the class request forms (department or campus address or home address).

Late registration and add/drop will begin the first day of classes, Mar. 30. Continuing students going through late registration should obtain the CAR forms from their academic department. Holds which appear on student study lists must be cleared by Mar. 24, or the student will be dropped from all classes.

U.S.C. Chamber Singers to perform

The Chamber Singers from University of Southern California will perform in the Cal Poly Theatre at 8 pm on Thursday (Mar. 12). A small, select group of refined singing voices, the USC Chamber Singers have received acclaim for their virtuosity and vitality. They have toured internationally, and have performed for radio and television audiences. The USC choir is directed by Rodney Eichenberger, professor of music at the university. Conductor of the Chamber Singers since 1976, he is a former conductor of the Seattle Symphony.

The ensemble performs serious and popular music in both a cappella and accompanied arrangements. Its repertoire features selection from the Renaissance to Contemporary periods. The program in the Cal Poly Theatre will include works by Brahms, William Schuman, Hindemith, and Monteverdi, as well as Morton Lauridsen's commissioned composition for the centennial anniversary of USC.

All tickets for the USC Chamber Singers' concert at Cal Poly are $2. They are available in advance at the University Union ticket office or at the theatre on campus. Tickets will also be on sale at the theatre box office before curtain time on March 12. Call Ext. 1421 for further ticket information and reservations. The concert at Cal Poly is being sponsored by the Cal Poly University Singers.

The Air Force Office of Scientific Research recently republished a notice seeking Unsolicited Proposals for Scientific Research. The program involves phenomena-oriented investigations in science related to Air Force needs. Areas of interest include:

LIFE SCIENCES - manpower and personnel; education and training; simulation and training devices; logistics and human resource engineering; human factors engineering; aerospace medicine; crew workload evaluation during operations; human operator performance modeling; aircrew safety and effectiveness in mechanical force environments; bioenvironmental hazards; environmental quality.

MATERIALS - structural materials; environment resistant materials; electromagnetic materials; fluid, lubricant, and containment materials.

GEOPHYSICS - space environment, field and particle effects in communication, surveillance, navigation, and detection systems; optical effects in communication, surveillance, navigation, and detection systems; upper atmosphere research; terrestrial effects on Air Force systems; weather effects.

AEROSPACE VEHICLES - structures; fluid mechanics; flight control; vehicle integration and operation.

PROPULSION AND POWER - rocket propulsion; airbreathing propulsion; power generation and distribution.

ELECTRONICS - reconnaissance and surveillance; navigation, guidance, and control; communications; computer software, software and signal processing systems; device hardening.

Proposals may be submitted at any time. Before submission of a formal proposal, researchers are encouraged to consult informally with the appropriate scientific directorate in order to determine AFOSR's possible interest in a project.

- * NIE - RESEARCH ON ORGANIZATIONAL PROCESSES IN EDUCATION. The National Institute of Education will award approximately $500,000 in FY 1981 to support five major (projects of up to three years' duration and whose direct costs exceed $15,000) and five small (projects of up to twelve months' duration and whose direct costs do not exceed $15,000) grants. The objective of the program is to support basic research into organizational processes, arrangements, and other collective activities in elementary and secondary schools and school districts. The deadline for preapplications for BOTH Major Grants and Small Grants is APRIL 9, 1981.

-  ASA - PROBLEMS OF THE DISCIPLINE. The American Sociological Association will award grants, generally not exceeding $1,500, to small groups of social scientists in order to facilitate intellectual exchange and to move their efforts into a more productive future. Groups receiving support will be required to submit progress reports one year following the date of their award.

DEADLINE: May 1, 1981

- * THE CALIFORNIA COUNCIL FOR THE HUMANITIES. The California Council for the Humanities awards approximately $1 million annually in four program areas:

THE HUMANITIES IN PUBLIC POLICY. Projects must relate the humanities to value questions of public policy.

LOCAL AND CULTURAL HISTORY. Projects may be funded in two phases, planning and operational, and must carry out some public activity such as an exhibit, film, lecture, radio or television program which relates to the CCH theme "The Pursuit of Community in California."

PUBLIC AND COMMUNITY PROGRAMS IN THE HUMANITIES. These programs must address broad public concerns and may include programs for the occupations, multi-disciplinary seminars, innovative projects and community based humanities programs.

HUMANITIES PROJECTS IN PUBLIC RADIO AND TELEVISION. Funds programs which increase public understanding of human values, ethical questions, cultural changes, history, or other aspects of California Life.

CCH also makes available Planning and Mini-grants up to $500. Planning grants are awarded under special conditions for the planning and development of proposals to be submitted in the above grant categories and may be for consultation with scholars, background research, travel, and similar activities. Mini-grant requests are appropriate when a university sponsored activity in the humanities requires only limited support to bring it to a wider public.

Deadlines are quarterly for the first three categories, semi-annual for the public radio grants, and planning and mini-grant requests may be made at any time.

-  HEALTH CARE FINANCING ADMINISTRATION. The Health Care Financing Administration has announced grants for research, planning or conduct of demonstrations or data collection and dissemination activities. In general, HCFA will consider funding projects which:
- (1) Develop or demonstrate new financing mechanisms or controls, management or administrative procedures, service delivery concepts or technological innovations designed to improve HCFA programs; or
 - (2) Develop knowledge about the basic nature of costs and inflation in the health care field or the economic and behavioral relationships between health care financing methods and the activities in the health care sector.
- The priority areas for FY 80-81 are: beneficiary awareness; child health; health systems organizations; hospital costs; industrial organization reimbursement; integrated data systems; long term care (studies and demonstrations); physician reimbursement; public financing; State Medicaid programs; and special one-time solicitation for study of hospices. Grants are awarded for a period of one year, renewable for up to three years.

DEADLINE: April 6, 1981

- * NEH - DIVISION OF RESEARCH. The National Endowment for the Humanities' Division of Research has announced that basic research grants are available to support research in all fields of the humanities so long as that research does not depend on the use of special editing, bibliographic, or archival skills. Funded projects tend to be fairly long-term and involve several scholars as well as those at the professional, assistant and clerical levels. Suitable projects include research that meets a pressing scholarly need, explores the conceptual foundations and/or methodologies of the humanistic disciplines, and advances a fresh understanding of matters important to humanistic scholarship.

DEADLINE: April 1, 1981

-  CSUC - FACULTY FELLOWSHIP. The Social Science Research and Instruction Council of the CSUC system has announced the availability of a faculty fellowship with The Field Institute for the academic year 1981-82. The fellowship is for $2,000 and it does not require faculty travel or relocation. This fellowship will involve the selection of questions to be included on one or more California Field Polls. The fellow will make final question selection in consultation with a representative of The Field Institute and will be responsible for conducting an in-depth analysis of the responses to the selected questions. The questions can focus on any substantive social science area and need not include standard demographic items. Any questions regarding this fellowship should be directed to our campus SSRIC representative, Richard Shaffer of the Social Sciences Department.
