ENERGY KNOWHOW FOR CALIFORNIA

A new statewide energy program providing knowledge and services to the California public has been announced by Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of The California State University and Colleges. The program consists of forming a technical assistance corps available from the 19 CSUC campuses, and greatly expanding energy-related studies offered by the campuses to the public. Chancellor Dumke said each of the campuses has faculty with expertise in energy fields who, with upper division and graduate students, can provide consulting help to citizens, public agencies and businesses.

Steps toward identifying technical assistance personnel will begin immediately with compilation of a directory expected about the middle of the year. Additional extended education courses are being planned for the public as a result of a faculty development program projected to be supported by the federal Energy Resources Development Administration. Further, also through external funding sources, the campuses are planning to increase energy education and information programs for citizens through extension conferences, seminars, workshops and forums.

The programs, together with formation of a new Policy Program and Development Council appointed by Chancellor Dumke, will enlarge the scope of the Statewide Energy Consortium of the CSUC. The Energy Consortium, headquartered at California State University, Fullerton, is directed by G. Cleve Turner of the Campus' Office of Research and Development.

Fullerton President L. Donald Shields is chairman of the Policy Council. Other members are: Ralph D. Mills, State University Dean for Extended Education, vice chair; G. Cleve Turner, executive secretary; Beaumont Davison, Dean of the School of Engineering, Cal Poly, Pomona; James A. Fikes, Dean of Continuing Education and Summer Sessions, Cal State, Fresno; Edward Meyers, Vice President, Southern California Edison Company, Rosemead, and Jon M. Veigel, Division Administrator of the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission. Two CSUC faculty members will be appointed to the Council in the near future.

SPRING QUARTER REGISTRATION

This year Spring Quarter registration will be held on Thursday and Friday (Mar. 23 and 24). In previous years, Good Friday, which this year is Friday (Mar. 24) has been declared an academic holiday, beginning at noon. However, Good Friday is not included as a holiday on this year's academic calendar. The public agencies of the State of California can no longer observe a Good Friday holiday, as the California State Court of Appeals has ruled that the granting of time off in observance of Good Friday is "discrimination against all non-christian religions and preference of those that are christian," and is thereby unconstitutional.

When this year's academic calendar was developed, there was considerable discussion concerning the observance of Good Friday, and before being adopted, the calendar was reviewed and endorsed by the Student Affairs Council, the Academic Senate, the President's Council and other campus consultative organizations. The approved calendar includes registration for Spring Quarter and the entire day of Friday (Mar. 24) as a regular work day for all Cal Poly employees.

EXPERT WILL DISCUSS WORLD AG OUTLOOK

Rex F. Daly, senior analyst for the United States Department of Agriculture's World Food and Agricultural Outlook and Situation Board, will discuss the outlook for American agriculture as it relates to the current world situation on Wednesday (Mar. 8). Admission will be free.

Dr. Daly has been involved for many years in development of agricultural outlook and long-run projections for the Department of Agriculture and has helped establish similar programs for foreign governments. Since joining USDA, he has been an outlook and situation officer with the Economic Research Service, director of the Economic and Statistical Analysis Division, and chief of the Outlook and Projections Branch. His presentation at Cal Poly is being sponsored by the Agricultural Management Department, Farm Management Club, and Agriculture and Natural Resources Student Council.

Both assembly concerts for school audiences and public concerts will be included.

The public concerts will be at San Bernardino High School, Lowell High School in Whittier, the Queen Mary, First Congregational Church in Long Beach, and Disneyland Park in Anaheim. Assembly performances are planned at Bloomington High School and Redlands High School.

Featured will be such numbers as "Greensleeves;" Morris Albert's "Feelings;" "With a Little Bit of Luck" from the Broadway musical "My Fair Lady;" "Shenandoah;" "Gonna Fly Now" from the Motion picture "Rocky;" and "New York, New York" from the picture of the same name.

FIRST WEEKEND ADDRESSES SEXUAL REVOLUTION

Four persons whose careers have been in the "helping professions" will discuss the topic "What Sexual Revolution?" during the First Weekend Series program being planned for Sunday (Mar. 5). The program, to which the public, as well as students, faculty, and staff are invited, will begin at 7:30 pm in University Union 220. Admission will be free.

Scheduled to take part in the discussion are Grant Miller, Ruth Scheffer, and Joan Cirone. A San Luis Obispo-area minister, whose participation has not yet been confirmed, is also expected to participate. Dr. Miller, a physician on the staff of the Student Health Center who teaches a course on human sexuality, will coordinate the discussion. Ms. Scheffer, a registered nurse, will talk about sex education (or the lack of it) in public schools and Ms. Cirone, a nurse practitioner with the Cal Poly Student Health Center, will speak from her experience with university students.

Bernice Loughran (Art) coordinator for the First Weekend Series, said various people have divergent ideas about what is referred to as "the sexual revolution." "Many are frightened by the implications of the freedom implied and others question whether anything has really changed in the relationships between sexes," she added before inviting all to attend the campus discussion and participate in the question and answer period, which will follow. The first weekend series is presented the first Sunday of each month as a community service by the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities.

TO THE PRESIDENTS, FACULTIES, ADMINISTRATIVE AND SUPPORT STAFFS, AND STUDENTS OF THE CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGES:

Faculty Salaries Reviewed With the Governor

I am pleased to report to you that the Chairman of the Board of Trustees Roy T. Brophy, members of my staff including Vice Chancellor for Faculty and Staff Affairs Marjorie Downing Wagner, and I met with Governor Brown earlier this week to cover a one-item agenda: Faculty salaries within The California State University and Colleges.

We restated the Trustees' position that CSUC faculty salaries should be raised a minimum of 9.9 percent to compensate (partially) for inflation, and to rectify inequities caused by repeated inadequate (and in some years no) salary increases within previous budgets, despite the strong recommendations of the Board of Trustees and my office.

We also reaffirmed the Board's position that the use of comparison institutions by the California Postsecondary Education Commission to report only a 3.8 percent this year (2.2 percent last year!) salary lag is not an appropriate reference point in setting CSUC faculty salaries.

Mr. Brophy and I are confident that the Governor now fully understands the rationale for the Board's position. We also are confident that while no commitment was made by the Governor, the exact amount of faculty salary increases that the Governor ultimately will authorize now is an "open issue" to which he will give further consideration.

We made note of the fact that the Statewide Academic Senate and several faculty organizations have joined in supporting the 9.9 percent recommendation of the Board. The Trustees' faculty salary proposal was developed in consultation with the Statewide Academic Senate and the faculty organizations. We expressed to the Governor — and I repeat here — our pleasure in having a consensus of position as we continue our efforts to bring about the higher salary levels merited by the CSUC faculty.

Sincerely,

Glenn S. Dumke, Chancellor
