Foundation board election held

Officers and directors of the seven-member Board of Directors of the California Polytechnic State University Foundation, San Luis Obispo, were elected at the annual meeting of the Foundation Board held May 15. Russell H. Brown, Dean of Students, was elected as a director to succeed Barney R. Timone, who had completed the unexpired term of Everett M. Chandler. Dean of Students Chandler retired from the University and the Board in December, 1977.

Re-elected as a director was Walter Holtz, who is head of the Environmental Engineering Department.

Re-elected as officers of the Foundation Board were Robert E. Kennedy, president; Dale W. Andrews, vice president; and Hazel J. Jones, secretary-treasurer. Other members of the Board include Howard C. Brown (Dean, School of Agriculture and Natural Resources) and Lezlie A. Labhard (Faculty, Home Economics Department).

President Kennedy conducted the annual Board meeting, in his first official business appearance on campus since he was taken ill in April. While he is recuperating at his campus home, authority has been delegated to Executive Vice President Dale W. Andrews for day-to-day coverage of the President's Office.

Brug named to head Public Safety Department

Appointment of Richard C. Brug of Cerritos as director of public safety at Cal Poly has been announced by President Robert E. Kennedy. Presently chief of the University Police Department at California State University, Los Angeles, Brug, 42, will assume his new assignment on July 5. His appointment was recommended by Dale W. Andrews (Executive Vice President) and James R. Landreth (Director of Business Affairs) after a committee of staff and faculty considered more than 80 candidates.

With the appointment of Brug, the previously announced reorganization of Cal Poly's Police and Fire Department to that of a Public Safety Department will be implemented. The current law enforcement, fire protection, and parking and traffic control functions will be combined with environmental health and safety and disaster preparation functions.

Part of the statewide effort to upgrade and better coordinate the public safety operations of the various campuses of The California State University and Colleges system, the new department, like the present Police and Fire Department, will be a part of Cal Poly's Business Affairs Division.

Reporting to Brug will be LeRoy Whitmer as supervising campus peace officer, Donald Van Acker as coordinator of environmental health and safety, and Dan Turner as fire captain. Turner has been assigned to the campus through a contract with the California Department of Forestry to supervise the university's fire protection program.

Brug is a veteran of over 17 years of law enforcement beginning with the Long Beach Police Department. In 1970, after nearly 10 years at Long Beach, he became an original member of the Bell Gardens Police Department where he served as sergeant, lieutenant, and commander of the service and youth service divisions. He also served as acting chief of police before being appointed to his present duties at Cal State, Los Angeles, in December 1974. Cal Poly's new director of public safety received his associate of arts degree from Compton College and earned his baccalaureate degree at California State University, Long Beach. He also is a graduate of a number of specialized courses for police officers including courses in management and the California Crime Prevention Institute and the FBI Academy.

Brug has also taught courses at Long Beach City College, Rio Hondo College, Golden West College, and seminars at University of Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles.

He is a past president of the California Association of Police Training Officers, past first vice president of the Southern California Community Relations Officers Association, present co-chairman of the California Peace Officers Association's Campus Law Enforcement Committee, and a member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Senior Week activities

A variety of activities designed to ease the shock of entrance into the "cold, cruel world" are being planned for seniors who have completed degree requirements at Cal Poly. Senior Week activities will include a mixture of social, traditional, and family events coordinated by the university's Activities Planning Center.

The week will begin on Sunday, June 4, with the "Pushing Honey Through" (PHT) ceremony. This event is held to honor spouses who have worked, fed and changed the babies, done the shopping, and managed the household while "honey" completed his or her education. "Pushing Honey Through" is slated for 1 pm in Room 220 Of the Julian A. McPhee University Union. Admission will be free and the public is invited.

Friday, June 9, will be the date of the annual Senior Barbecue, to be held at 6 pm in Poly Grove. This feast will be open to family and friends of graduating seniors, and will offer steak, assorted beverages, and the trimmings for a modest $5. Tickets are on sale at the desk of the University Union.

Next event on the Senior Week agenda will be the traditional Senior Brunch, to be held in Chumash Auditorium of the University Union on Saturday, June 10, at 10 am. School deans and department heads will serve as waiters and provide the entertainment for seniors, their families, and friends. Also scheduled is presentation of awards honoring outstanding academic and leadership achievement by members of the graduating class. A limited amount of tickets for the brunch, priced at $3, will be available during Senior Week at the ticket desk of the University Union and in El Corral Bookstore on campus.

Following the Senior Brunch will be Senior Week's longest standing tradition, the Senior Class tree planting ceremony. A tree will be purchased by the class and planted on a suitable site with a plaque commemorating the year of the class.

Final event in Cal Poly's 1978 Senior Week will be the commencement ceremony in Mustang Stadium at 3:30 pm on Saturday, June 10. Relatives and friends of the seniors and others who will receive degrees and certificates from Cal Poly will gather to watch the traditional ceremonies, including the procession of faculty and administrative staff, graduating seniors, and special guests. The Cal Poly Symphonic Band and Men's Glee Club will provide music for the event. Admission to the commencement ceremony will be free.

Band concert detailed

Although still young, Michael Brown, who will appear as soloist in concert with the Cal Poly Symphonic Band on Saturday (May 20) has already gathered some significant musical credits. Brown is still completing requirements for his Bachelor of Music Degree at California State University, Northridge, but he has appeared as principal trombonist with the Modesto Wind Symphony and the Stockton Symphony, as well as the CSUN Wind Orchestra. Brown has also performed professionally in the Los Angeles area with several orchestras and a professional brass group known as The Brass Menagerie.

The concert at Cal Poly is planned for 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. General admission tickets are 1.50 for students and $3 for adults. They are being sold in advance at the University Union ticket desk and by members of the Symphonic Band. Those remaining will be available at the door before curtain time on the evening of the concert.

Brown will be featured with the Cal Poly band in its performance of Arthur Pryor's "Blue Bells of Scotland." Also programmed for the concert are "Fanfare for Rocky" by Bill Conti, Symphony No. 5 (Finale) by Dmitri Shostakovich, "Purple Carnival March" by Harry Alvord, "Blue Lake Overture" by John Chance, "Kaddish" by Francis McBeth, and "Funeral and Triumphal Symphony" by Hector Berlioz. The concert is being presented by the Music Department and the Associated Students Inc.

'Endgame'

If being in a small cast means actors get more attention from the director, then Joe Cartwright, Greg McConnell, Peter Magee, and Judy Robbins have been getting a lot of attention from their director. They are the cast of "Endgame," the Samuel Beckett comedy to be presented by the Speech Communication Department on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, (May 18, 19, 20) in the Cal Poly Theatre. Directed by Michael R. Malkin (Speech Communication) the play is set in an (almost) abandoned circus tent and is peopled with four clowns caught up in their world of games.

Cartwright, senior speech communication major plays Hamm, a dying clown confined to a wheelchair who dictates orders to his subordinate, Clov, played by McConnell, a junior business administration major. Magee, a junior engineering technology major and Robbins, junior broadcast journalism major play Nagg and Nell, the parents of Hamm who are restricted to an existence in trashcans ever since a bicycle accident left them disabled from the waist down.

Magee had a major role in "Aria d'Capo" and played the sinister James Larrabee in Cal Poly's winter production of "Sherlock Holmes." Robbins has played in a number of roles in Cal Poly productions, including Madge Larrabee in "Sherlock Holmes." McConnell appeared as Craig in "Sherlock Holmes", and Cartwright played Dr. Watson in the same production.

Tickets for all performances are on sale for $2 at the University Union ticket desk and will be sold prior to the 8 pm curtain time each evening at the Cal Poly Theatre box office.

Warehouse surplus sale

Items surplus to the needs of Cal Poly will be offered for sale by bid on Monday (May 22), 8:30 am to 4 pm at the State Receiving Warehouse, (Bldg. 70). Items included are typewriters, cameras, projectors, calculators, a stove, oven, etc.

A high bidder list will be posted on Wednesday (May 24) at 8:30 am and items will be picked up on that date at the site of the sale. Cal Poly reserves the right to refuse any and all bids. All sales are final.

Mobile health unit to visit Poly

Information received this week that Health Examinetics, which will have a mobile health testing unit on the south side of the Health Center on Monday, (May 22), between 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.; will provide service to CSEA members at the same cost as for ACSUP members.

For detailed information please refer to Page 1 of Cal Poly Report, Volume 29, Number 35. Appointments are necessary. All interested employees should call the toll-free number (1) 800-432-7228 for information and appointments.

Ag development conference slated

World agricultural development will be the topic of a regional conference to be held on the Cal Poly campus on Friday and Saturday (May 19-20). The conference is being sponsored by the Cal Poly Chapter of the National Agri-Marketing Association in cooperation with the International Agricultural Students' Association of the Americas. Students and faculty representing Western universities are expected to attend the conference.

Speakers will address such issues as world grain development, free trade versus protectionism, and economic development and cultural changes. Cost for the conference is $4 and the public is invited to attend.

The conference will be held in Science B-5 from 3 pm to 6 pm on Friday and in Engineering 123 from 9:30 am to 4 pm on Saturday.

Jazz night coming

An evening of jazz will be provided by four groups during the 1978 Jazz Night Concert on Friday (June 2). The concert, at 8 pm in the Cal Poly Theatre, will feature the University Jazz Band, the Studio Band, the Struttin' Dixie Six, and the newly formed Entropy, a nine-piece jazz-rock ensemble composed of members from the University Jazz Band.

General admission tickets for the concert, sponsored by the Music Department and the Music Club, are $1.50 for students and $3 for the public.

Cal Poly Report - May 18, 1978

Advertising journalism topic of workshop

Representatives of newspapers from the seven western states are scheduled to attend the first advertising workshop of the Western Newspaper Foundation on Friday and Saturday (May 19-20) at Cal Poly. The two-day program will include sessions on selling advertising, writing copy, human relations, motivating customers, schedules and budgets, advertising layouts, collections, and credit.

Wayne Leonard, training director for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner, will discuss advertising sales during a dinner meeting scheduled for Friday evening at the Madonna Inn. Other speakers for the two-day workshop are Tom Culligan, advertising director for the Valley News and Green Sheet, Van Nuys; F.G. Baldwin of the Newspaper Advertising Bureau; Mel Harkavy, advertising director, Southern California Publishing Company; Frank Herbert, Western Commercial Exchange; and David Johnson, publisher of the Marina del Rey Argonaut.

Also scheduled to address workshop sessions are four members of the Cal Poly faculty — James Hutchison (Graphic Communications), Loren L. Nicholson and Claude Ratliff (both Journalism), and Owen L. Servatius (Management). Jim Gill, publisher of the Hemet News, is chairman of the advertising workshop, which is being hosted by the Journalism Department.

White elephant sale at El Corral

Ivan Sanderson (Manager, El Corral Bookstore) has announced that El Corral's annual "white elephant sale" will be held this year beginning Monday (May 22). As in the past years, the sale will include discontinued, slightly damaged, out of date, and overstocked merchandise at drastically reduced prices.

The sale is held each year in preparation for the June 26-30 annual inventory, providing a means of clearing away excess items currently cluttering up the stock, and providing excellent savings to the campus community. Faculty and staff are invited to browse through the white elephant merchandise.

Curtains for 1977-78 Arts and Humanities

A concert of songs and Baroque concertos will conclude the Arts and Humanities 1977-78 program series on Thursday, May 25. The joint concert by two Cal Poly music groups — the University Singers and the Chamber Orchestra — will start at 8:15 p.m. in the Cal Poly Theatre.

The University Singers will perform under the direction of John Russell and the Chamber Orchestra will be conducted by Clifton E. Swanson. Both are members of the university's music faculty.

Next Thursday evening's concert is being presented by Cal Poly's Music Department in cooperation with Arts and Humanities 1977-78, a continuing public program series sponsored by the university's School of Communicative Arts and Humanities. Admission will be free and the public is invited to attend.

* NEA - ARCHITECTURE, PLANNING & DESIGN PROGRAM. The Architecture, Planning, and Design Program is responsible for the Endowment's mission to promote excellence in design.

Grants are awarded in the fields of architecture; landscape architecture; urban design; city and regional planning; graphic, interior, industrial, fashion, and other recognized design professions. The Endowment also supports allied professions which assist the design field. The program encourages creativity and works to make the public aware of the benefits of good design.

In order to promote the highest standards of design through this grant program, the Endowment emphasizes talent, creativity, innovation, clarity of purpose, efficient organization, and significant impact when evaluating projects.

Categories of funding include:

LIVABLE CITIES. To encourage our communities to introduce exemplary design as an integral part of their planning processes.

DESIGN: COMMUNICATION AND RESEARCH. To assist the development and dissemination of design ideas and information about design for the public and the design professions.

CULTURAL FACILITIES RESEARCH AND DESIGN. To assist groups in the planning and design of exemplary cultural facilities; and to encourage the commitment of local public and private money to carry out projects.

SERVICES TO THE FIELD. To assist professional organizations, non-profit groups, and coalitions which advance the cause of design excellence.

GENERAL PROGRAMS. For projects not specifically included in other grant categories. Those who plan to apply to General Programs must first submit a letter of inquiry; most ideas will fit into other categories of support.

Deadlines: June 22, 1978 (for projects beginning January 1, 1979)
January 25, 1979 (for projects beginning July 1, 1979)
