Vol. 17, No. 34

Curing Facilities Near Finish At Meats Laboratory

Cal Poly's "learn by doing" theme is soon to be complete at the meats laboratory, says Thomas Meyer who reports smoking and curing facilities for meat are now under construction. Meyer is head of the meats lab.

Students enrolled in meats courses "learn by doing" by slaughtering, cut and processing the meat into retail cuts. The new curing plant, when completed, will enable students to cover a final phase of processing meat—curing hams and bacon, Meyer says.

Animals slaughtered are project or college owned and the processed meat is sold—by side or larger units only—to Poly faculty members and students. Meats lab students will also wrap the meat for freezing purposes at a slight increase in price, Meyer adds. He is prompt to also point out that students in the lab slaughter and cut only as much meat as necessary for classroom instruction.

The completed curing plant will be able to handle a capacity of 500 to 600 pounds of meat, Meyer said. The agricultural engineering department is in charge of the construction of the unit.

Men's Colony Exhibit in Library

Two handcraft displays, the work of the California Men's Colony north of San Luis Obispo on highway one, have been set up in Dexter Memorial library.

One display is in the large main showcase in the library's foyer, while the other is located in the main reading room. Both exhibitions of ceramic, leather and novelty handcraft are scheduled to continue for one month.

Some of the items on display are TV lamps, shell jewelry, woven straw and wrought iron baskets, aprons, and leather baby shoes. The colony operates its own handcraft store where purchases can be made.

Grace Flannery Leaves Board For Hewson

The golden voice of Cal Poly will soon become the Iron hand of Hewson House.

Grace Flannery, switchboard operator, is going to become the house mother-manager of Hewson house (continued on page four)

Gridders Report September 3

Football gets underway Sept. 3 on the Cal Poly campus and head man Roy Hughes expects close to 60 to report by 3 p. m., that date.

Hughes in corresponding with the Green and Gold hopefuls, urges running and more running to get legs in shape. In fact the first scrimmage is scheduled for Sept. 8 so the Pacific Coast conference grid officials, who will be meeting on campus, can also get a workout.

Twice-a-day drills are with chalk talks in between will be held for the first three weeks.

New Look For Fall Class Schedules

There will be a "new look" in the fall quarter schedule, says Leo Philbin, registrar.

Everyone will be able to read the entire schedule as there will be no messy, unreadable pages due to mimeographing errors, says the registrar.

The new schedule will be printed. This also will eliminate any errors (continued to page 8)

Dormitories Near Ready For Women Students

Wayne Key, general superintendent for Maino Construction, reports remodeling in Chase, Heron, and Jespersen dormitories for women is nearing completion.

Key disclosed that laundry facilities for coin operated washing machines have already been installed in the basements of the three dorms and repainting and refurbishing of the rooms and wash rooms is proceeding as scheduled.

A new buzzer system has also been installed in each of the women's dorms. The system will enable a girl to be called by the receptionist.

Completion of the project is slated for mid-August. The three dormitories should accommodate approximately 180 women.

In four other projects being constructed by the Maino company, Key reports that work is moving along rapidly. Of the four, the home economics facilities in CR 14A, 14, and Cu X, are to be completed first.

Men's Infirmary

The men's infirmary section of the health center in Sierra dormitory is almost completed.

The new engineering building is progressing rapidly. It is hoped that the present schedule can be maintained so that the building will be ready for occupancy August, 1957.

Women's PE Workshop Hits Record Enrollment

More than 170 women teaching in secondary schools have registered for the seventh annual California physical education workshop which completes its first week on campus today.

The enrollment is the largest in history of the event. Four registrants are from out of state. Mary Hines and Norma Hyatt are from Tucson, Ariz.; Catherine Koehler is from Minneapolis, Minn., and Margaret Woodrich comes from Tokyo, Japan where (continued on page four)

Cal Poly Books Aid Foreign Students

The 400 books recently donated by Cal Poly students, faculty, and employees are helping Asian students.

A report from the Korean-American scholarship committee lists the Cal Poly donation among the 41,800 collected during July.

The committee lists a shipment of 8,111 books made to the Ministry of Education in Seoul, Korea for distribution to various schools, colleges and universities.

Among the other places receiving books have been Afghanistan, Burma, India, Indonesia, Japan, Pakistan, Hong Kong, Philippines, Singapore, Taiwan, Thailand.

PE Women Invited To Saturday's Dance

Cal Poly's 600 Summer students have issued a special invitation to all physical education women attending the workshop to attend Saturday night's candlelight dance in the Temporary College Union. The dance starts at 8 p. m. and ends at 1 a. m.

Student officials point out that the dance is free and refreshments will be served.

NO CAMEL... Major Mohammed Habib, Egyptian Olympic basketball coach, tries out a stationary bicycle for developing leg muscles during a stop in the Cal Poly gymnasium. With him are Bob Holt, left, head of the Cal Poly physical education department, and John Nison, professor of physical education at Stanford university. Nison just recently returned from Egypt where he studied on a fellowship. All are participating in the ninth annual workshop for athletic coaching and physical education being held on the Cal Poly campus. (Latspetch photo)

King Of Travel Is Campus Mailman

Don Williams is the undisputed king of campus travel. He goes everywhere, gets into every office and is always well received.

Aside from covering over 7,000 miles on campus in the last two years, Don is known to more people on campus than any other person.

Williams, the campus mailman, will be driving a new orange mail cart in the future. The new cart is a Cushman "Truckster", which has replaced the familiar green cart built by Agriculture engineer Wes Allen.

The mail service provides for the sorting and delivery of all state mail that comes to the campus each day. It also consists of a six mile route, with 68 different stops, with mail for about 875 people.

The need for such a service was recognized a few years ago by Owen Servatius, general office supervisor, who worked out a system of operation for a mail service and who hired Don Williams to be the mailman.

Since July, 1954 when the mail service went into effect, Williams has never been late to work, or missed a day's work.

World War II Loan Program Extended

The World War II GI loan program ending date has been extended for one more year to July 25, 1958 under an omnibus GI loan law signed by the President August 1, 1956.

In the 12 years the GI loan program has been in operation, 4,400,000 World War II veterans have borrowed $83.2 billion in GI loans to purchase homes, farms and businesses. Of that amount, VA has guaranteed or insured $17.9 billion.

The GI loan program previously was scheduled to end July 25, 1957 and, under the wording of the original law, all GI loans would have had to be closed by that date.

Under this new law, any GI loan for which VA receives an application by July 25, 1958 may be guaranteed or insured by VA if it is completed by July 25, 1959.

Final Exams

POST FOUR WEEK: Course will be held the last one or two class meetings.

SIX WEEK QUARTER: The time of final examinations is determined by the hour your class met during the quarter. If you have a four or six unit combination course, or a five unit course meeting in two blocks per day, the instructor may choose to give his examinations in more than one time block.

Two hour final examinations will be held at the time indicated, in the same room the course was offered. Dates of the final examinations are Thursday and Friday, August 30-31.

Class Hour	Exam Hour
7:40	Th 10
8:40	Th 3
9:40	Th 8
10:40	F 8
11:40	F 10

Classes not taught on these times will have finals the last class or lab meeting of the week.

CLOCKSTOPPERS

Perry Jeter, popular Cal Poly halfback for the past three years, is reportedly doing right well in his professional tryout with the Chicago Bears. Jeter writes that he has really been running. His weight has dropped from 185 pounds to 170 pounds. As he puts it, "they have been giving me a good working over during the past weeks." He is the fourth fastest man on the Bear squad, which is no surprise to local fans.

Swimming Coach Dick Anderson is back from a vacation and is taking a "postman" holiday on campus. You might guess where—Poly pool.

Couch Leroy Hughes attended the All Star Shriner's game in Los Angeles recently. He is not saying much, but he has an eye on a couple of the prep stars.

ATHLETIC JOKE—When Poly's over-weight tackle, Leonard Page (205 pounds) was asked why he wasn't out for spring football drills, he replied, "Wait till the boys quit trying for the Olympics out there and then I'll give her a go."

Joe Bankene, PE major, and Ruth Burlingham are supervising a children's recreation program for the children at the workshop. Among the activities are hikes, hay rides, train rides, movies. A service drawing good comment from par-

County Fair Underway: Powers Ropes Tonight

"Butch" Powers, lieutenant governor of the State of California, will team rope with Gordon Davis of Templeton tonight at the San Luis Obispo County Fair at Paso Robles. Powers will not compete in the R.C.A. championship but only as an exhibition match with Davis. Davis is the producer of the two day rodeo which features all the usual rodeo events and a cutting horse contest. Grandstand seats are free to all fairgoers so all you pay is the admission price to the fairgrounds.

Scale Model Mission
In the agricultural tent a scale model of Mission San Juan Bautista is on display for the first time. The amazingly accurate model was made by patients at the Atascadero State Hospital as a physical therapy project and is accurate to the most minute detail. Most of the materials, including the roof tiles and the hinges were made by hand. The model is insured for $20,000 and will be permanently displayed at the original San Juan Bautista Mission after the fair. The model is built on a scale of one half inch to the foot and is believed to be the most ambitious reproduction of a California Mission that has been attempted to date.

Youth Day
Today is youth day and all persons under sixteen years of age are admitted free. The Junior Gymkhana is at 9:30 a.m. and will include such things as trail classes, trailer loading, a calf scramble, team cutting, and the much look forward to baby's pleasure class. Cut flowers are also being judged today.

Demonstrations by 4-H clubs will begin in the park on the fairgrounds at 8 p.m. and members from all over the county will put on skits and demonstrations of things they have learned in the program.

The "blue ribbon" junior livestock auction will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow morning. Walter Palmer will be the auctioneer and Dick Loumie the ringmaster. Only animals that have won blue ribbons will be sold.

Survivor Benefits Act

The President has signed the Survivor Benefits Act revising benefits for the dependents of deceased servicemen and veterans who died of service-connected causes.

Veterans Administration announced that it is taking immediate steps to put this new law into operation even though payments cannot begin prior to January 1, 1957, the effective date of the act.

VA stressed that this law does not change death pension benefits to widows and children of veterans whose deaths were not as a result of service.

Class Schedules

The schedule will be sold through the bookstore for 20 cents per copy. It should be available in two or three weeks, he predicts.

OH Graduate Receives Navy Commission

The United States navy's officer candidate school has graduated 785 ensigns of the regular navy and naval reserve in ceremonies at the naval station at Newport R. I.

Among the graduates was E. Lee Zeller of Walnut Creek who was graduated from California State Polytechnic college in 1953. He received a bachelor of science degree in ornamental horticulture.

Vice Admiral James L. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel was the principal speaker and presented the honor graduates with their commissions.

Three hundred of the Ensigns received commissions in the regular navy. They are former outstanding petty officers, chief petty officers and warrant officers selected from thousands of applicants in the fleet as the annual contingent of the Navy's "Seaman to Admiral" Program. The other 485 officers are all college graduates representing some 250 colleges and universities throughout the country.

The Mustang grid team of 1953 boasted a perfect record. Not a single point was scored against the stalwarts of Coach Howie O'Daniels.

Sixty seven percent of the faculty at Cal Poly have had industrial experience within the last three years.
