- ★ Three veterans of dramatic productions at Cal Poly will head the cast in a fast-paced comedy, The Front Page which will open on Wednesday (Nov. 6) in the Cal Poly Theatre. Patrick Chew will play Hildy Johnson, a dedicated reporter who can't pass up the chance for a big scoop; Pat Sibley will play Peggy Grant, Hildy's sweetheart and bride-to-be; and Robert Norris will play the crafty newspaper editor.

The Front Page is being presented by the Speech Communication Department with performances scheduled for 8 pm, Wednesday through Sunday, Nov. 6-10, in the Cal Poly Theatre. Ticket prices for all performances are $1 for students and $2 general admission. Season tickets for five productions planned during the year are available at $4 for students and $8 for the public. Discounts and reserved seating are also available for groups of 20 or more persons. Tickets for the production can be obtained at the ASI ticket window in the University Union, and from members of Alpha Psi Omega (Drama Fraternity).

The play takes place in 1928 in the press room of the Criminal Courts Building in Chicago. It mixes politicians, police, reporters, and criminals, and centers around Hildy Johnson, a reporter who wants to quit his profession and marry Peggy Grant, the girl of his dreams. But the escape of a convicted criminal who is about to be hanged proves irresistible and the possibility of a big scoop confuses the issue for everyone.

The Front Page, written by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur was a long-running hit when it first opened in 1928. It should prove to be just as exciting in 1974, according to J. Murray Smith (Speech Communication) director of the campus production.

★ RATCLIFFE WILL INTRODUCE SELF ON FILM

A 25-minute motion picture of performances by pianist Ronald V. Ratcliffe (Music) on instruments from the Colt Clavier Collection will be featured during the first University Hour concert of the fall season. The program, part of a series sponsored by Cal Poly Music Department, will take place at 11 am on Thursday (Nov. 7) in the Cal Poly Theatre. Admission will be free and the public is invited.

Ratcliffe played the numbers included in the film while working with a group of music educators for the British Open University. While on leave from his duties at Cal Poly, he had gone to England to study the history of keyboard musical instruments and became acquainted with Dr. Gerald Hendrie who was leading the Open University's efforts to develop material for a 32-unit television course on the development of musical instruments. The film, which will be shown on Nov. 7, is a partial result of Ratcliffe's involvement in the Open University course. He also wrote a 110-page textbook for a portion of the course dealing with development of the piano.

Scenes for the film were recorded early this year on location at the Colt Clavier Collection, an extensive private collection of pianos and harpsicords dating back to 1800, which is maintained in playing condition in a museum-like building south of London. Among the numbers included in the filmed performance are Mozart's "Funeral March;" J.C. Bach's "Minuet from Sonata in D;" Beethoven's "Bagatelle op. 126 no. 3 in E-flat;" Chopin's "Prelude in D-flat, op. 28 no. 15;" and "Intermezzo op. 118 no. 2 in A" by Brahms. Ratcliffe, whose reputation as a concert pianist and harpsichordist is well-known, will introduce the filmed performance.

Dr. Dew holds a PhD in Economics from Texas A&M University and has recently completed a year of post-doctoral work in environmental economics at the University of Huston. His current area of research interest is monetary and financial interest.

★ NEW RULES ISSUED ON CAMPUS ORGANIZATION RECOGNITION

President Robert E. Kennedy has approved and issued a new section (791) to the Campus Administrative Manual regarding recognition procedures for campus organizations. The CAM addition has been approved by the President's Council and was endorsed by the executive committees of both the Academic and Staff Senates. The need for special recognition procedures came about last spring when the Chicano Coordinating Council requested recognition as a campus organization. Since the CCC membership consists of faculty, staff, students, and employees of auxiliary organizations, the existing CAM sections on Cal Poly organizations did not provide for recognition of organizations with such a broad representation from the campus community. Copies of the new section 791 of CAM will be issued with the next CAM revision. The text of the new section is quoted below for information purposes:

791 Campus Organizations

The use of the university name, facilities, and services may be granted to certain organizations whose memberships consist primarily of a combination of students, faculty, staff, and/or auxiliary staff members, upon application to the University President. Although the authorization of the use of campus facilities is the final decision of the President, he may refer the request to appropriate administrative staff or consultative bodies for recommendation. The application for organization must state the purpose of the organization, the kinds of activities to be held on campus, and the names of the responsible officers of the organization. Officers should be currently associated with Cal Poly as a student, faculty, or staff member. The names of such officers should be submitted annually to the President at the beginning of the fall quarter, or at any time a change is made.

All such groups must conform to campus regulations relating to nondiscriminatory membership, absence of hazing, and other appropriate rules currently in effect relating to existing Cal Poly organizations.

★ PARKING PROBLEMS NOTED NEAR ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

It has been noticed, according to James R. Landreth (Director, Business Affairs) that staff working in the Administration Building are being let off and picked up in front of the building. This means the vehicles are stopping or parking in a red zone and a bicycle lane both of which are illegal and hazardous. Areas for loading and unloading of passengers are the yellow curbed areas provided in the visitor lot adjacent to the Administration Building. Assistance is asked in spreading the word to staff members asking cooperation in the elimination of this problem.

Personnel are also reminded that campus parking rules and regulations are enforced 24 hours, seven days a week with the exception of when valid permit requirements are in effect (M-F 7 am - 6 pm). Parking in the visitor's parking lot on academic holidays (M-F 7 am - 6 pm) by employees when these are work days for staff members is not permitted. There are a large number of visitors during such times and the University is trying to provide them with parking. The assistance of all the staff in the Administration Building is asked in accomplishing this goal.

Prior to joining the faculty of Cal Poly in 1967, Higdon was a professor and chairman of various physics, mathematics and science departments at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and the 15th Air Force at March Air Force Base, California.

A native of Saline, Missouri, Higdon received his B.S. degree with honors in 1928 from South Dakota State University. He received his Master's degree in 1930 and a PhD degree in applied mathematics in 1936 from Iowa State. He is a Brigadier General in the United States Air Force retiring in 1967 with more than 42 years of service.
