ANTHROPOLOGIST L.S.B. LEAKEY WILL SPEAK ON MARCH 27

The world's leading anthropologist will present an illustrated public lecture at Cal Poly the evening of March 27. Louis S. B. Leakey will speak at 8 p.m. in the Men's Gymnasium. His address is being jointly sponsored by the college and the student council of the School of Business and Social Sciences.

The noted anthropologist has spent his lifetime tracing man's origins. The result of his work and that of his wife, Mary, and their sons, has been a series of startling discoveries about man's ancestors.

Dr. Leakey became interested in the pre-history of his native Kenya as early as 1916 and carried out his first study of early man in East Africa during the 1922-23 British Museum Expedition at Tendagaru in what was, then, Southern Tanganyika.

His own first major research expedition was undertaken in Kenya in 1926 and he has concentrated on the study of early man's Stone Age Cultures ever since.

It took the scientific world until 1969 to fully accept the claims which resulted from Dr. Leakey's 1931 and 1932 discoveries at Olduvai Gorge in Tanzania of Stone Age tools dating back to "more than one million years." Subsequently their scientific dating of fossils has pushed back man's story to two million years ago.

Near-Man Aged 1.7 Million Years

At Olduvai Gorge, Dr. and Mrs. Leakey found the fossil remains of a two million-year-old Homo habilis, a tiny tool-making creature within man's genus, and the famed near-man Zinjanthropus, aged 1.7 million years.

The program on which Dr. Leakey will appear at Cal Poly is part of the continuing college convocation series, co-sponsored by the college and student organizations. Recent speakers in the series have included Nobel Prize-winning agronomist Norman E. Borlaug, entertainer and lecturer Art Linkletter, architect Charles Luckman, and Astronaut Walter Cunningham.

The 1972 series will climax on May 11 when the internationally-recognized designer and inventor William P. Lear will speak. He is currently involved in development of low pollution steam power systems to replace the internal combustion engine.

Dr. Leakey's highest scientific award came with his being made a Fellow of the British Academy. He has also received numerous honorary degrees and other scientific awards over the years, including the Hubbard Medal of the National Geographic Society, and the Royal Medal of the Swedish Anthropological Society.

At the end of 1959, after the Darwin Centenary Celebrations in Chicago, the National Geographic Society became interested in Dr. Leakey's scientific work.

VOLUNTARY AFFIRMATIVE ACTION SURVEY

Faculty and staff members of the college have been requested by President Robert E. Kennedy to cooperate in completing a "voluntary identification survey" form which is being distributed today by all departments. The survey is a further step in the college's Affirmative Action Program which has as its goal increased representation of ethnic minorities and women among the college's employees.

Each member of the faculty or staff is asked to complete the form (Personnel Form 108) and to return it to his or her department head no later than March 24.

Dr. Kennedy said the Affirmative Action data request on the form is intended to help the college to implement the affirmative action plan, but he noted that completion of the form is entirely voluntary and success of the program will depend on the cooperation of faculty and staff and returning it promptly.

The form lists 24 terms applied to various ethnic groups. Each recipient should check only one of the categories or should write in a term which he or she prefers as ethnic identification.

The completed forms will be forwarded by department heads to Affirmative Action facilitators in each academic school or division of the college. The facilitators, recently appointed as additional implementation of the Affirmative Action Program, are listed in the story below.

APPOINTMENT OF FACILITATORS FOR AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Appointment of 12 members of the college faculty and staff as facilitators for the Affirmative Action Program has been announced by President Robert E. Kennedy. Purpose of the facilitators, according to Dr. Kennedy, will be to provide liaison between the Affirmative Action Compliance Committee and the schools and divisions of the college.

Those named are LaVerne Bucy (Agriculture and Natural Resources), Paul Neel (Architecture and Environmental Design), Howard Smith (Business and Social Sciences), Marvin Brown (Communicative Arts and Humanities), Peter Litchfield (Human Development and Education), and Fred Abitia (Engineering and Technology).

Also, Vance Lewis (Science and Mathematics), Jack Fryer (Cal Poly Foundation), Ray Morton (Business Affairs), Bob Timone (Student Affairs), Fred Wolf (Academic Affairs), and Larry R. Voss (Administrative Affairs).

Since then that society has been the major contributor to the expenses of his work at Olduvai Gorge and, later, to his son Richard's work at Lake Rudolf, also in Kenya. This fruitful collaboration of interest and financing is continuing.

Dr. Leakey's appearance at Cal Poly is in cooperation with the L.S.B. Leakey Foundation.

Saturday through Wednesday, March 18-22, will be the academic holiday between the 1972 Winter and Spring Quarters.

CAL POLY ROLE IN HIGHER EDUCATION PRAISED BY CHANCELLOR DUMKE

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke compared the history of Cal Poly and the California State University and Colleges as he spoke on the occasion of the college's 71st anniversary observance last Tuesday (March 7).

Dr. Dumke, delivering the Cal Poly Founders Day address, referred to early struggles to keep Cal Poly alive and compared the Cal Poly story to the story of the 19-campus system which he has headed for the past nine years. "The Master Plan has worked and it has worked well," he told a Founders Day audience of students, faculty, and community leaders.

An historian by training and background, Dr. Dumke gave a scholarly account of the early days of Cal Poly, paying tribute to early directors of the college. The chancellor especially mentioned the contributions of Julian A. McPhee, who headed the institution for 33 years. He declared "one of Julian McPhee's greatest contributions to Cal Poly was in bringing Robert Kennedy, the current president to the staff.

"Cal Poly is an important part of the innovative team," Dr. Dumke said. "We will not solve the problems of higher education today simply by asking for more and more money to do the same old things the same old way.

"We must devise better and more effective methods of doing our academic job so that the high academic quality that we have already achieved can be maintained in the face of increasing pressure upon the public dollar from all directions."

Guests Attend Activities

Chancellor Dumke's address and visit to the Cal Poly campus came during the 10th anniversary of the California State University and Colleges system, which added "university" to its name on March 4.

Among those attending the Founders Day activities at Cal Poly were Roy T. Brophy, Sacramento builder recently appointed to the Board of Trustees of the California State University and Colleges. Brophy attended Cal Poly in 1939-41 as an air conditioning student, and edited the campus paper.

Also attending was Dave Provost, chairman of the statewide Academic Senate, and Mr. and Mrs. Armistead B. Carter of San Diego.

The Carters were honored at another Founders Day event, dedication of the former presidential residence as the Presidential Poly House, as an educational center for faculty and staff. They donated the furnishings for Poly House, which was remodeled by students and faculty of the college.

Attending the Poly House dedication as well as Dr. Dumke's address was Mrs. Julian A. McPhee, who resided on campus with her late husband for the 33 years of his administration.

A special luncheon for Founders Day guests heard a description of the close relationship of the college to the community of San Luis Obispo. Key speaker was San Luis Obispo Mayor Kenneth A. Schwartz, who is also a director of Cal Poly's School of Architecture and Environmental Design.

CONFERENCE ON FEDERAL AND PRIVATE SUPPORT PROGRAM

Approximately 200 faculty and administrators from The California State University and Colleges are in San Francisco for a Conference on Federal and Private Foundation Programs in Support of Higher Education.

The conference, in planning stages for more than a year, was called by Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke. It is being sponsored jointly by the Chancellor's Office and Sonoma State College.

Participants, during the sessions yesterday and today (Monday and Tuesday, March 13-14), are seeking ways to more effectively meet needs and priorities of higher education through the development of federal and private foundations funds to support training, research and other instructional activities on the 19 campuses.

"The California State University and Colleges, now and in the past, are oriented to teaching," Chancellor Dumke said. "I am confident this conference will be of great value as we proceed to fulfill our obligations within the California Master Plan for Higher Education."

Keynote speaker for the open session yesterday was Frank Newman, director of university relations at Stanford University. His topic was "The New Demand for Planning in Higher Education." Newman is the author of a report prepared by the Task Force for Reform in Higher Education.

Those representing Cal Poly at the conference in San Francisco are Howard Boroughs (Associated Dean, Graduate Studies and Research), Max E. Riedlsperger (History Department), David R. Saveker (School of Architecture and Environmental Design), and Harry H. Scales (Education Department). All are members of the College Research Committee.

City Councilman Emmons Blake, acting as chairman of the San Luis Obispo Bicentennial Committee, also presented a bicentennial plaque to Chancellor Dumke, memorializing his visit and the 200th anniversary of the Central Coast city founded in 1772 by Father Junipero Serra.

International President Lew Litzie of the Cal Poly Alumni Association joined with invited guests to place an historical plaque on a landmark valley oak planted in 1906 by Cal Poly's first graduating class. The tree began an unbroken tradition of planting trees as class gifts. Cal Poly, as a result, is one of the most wooded of college campuses.

LIBRARY VACATION SCHEDULE WILL BEGIN SATURDAY

The College Library will implement its between-quarters vacation schedule starting on Saturday (March 18) and ending on Sunday (March 26). During this period the Library will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. It will remain closed on Sunday. The Library's regular quarter schedule will resume on Monday, March 27, the first day of classes of the Spring Quarter.

Registration for Spring Quarter classes will take place on Thursday and Friday, March 23-24, in Men's Gymnasium.

✓ CHECK IT OUT

(QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS appear under the above heading from time to time when material is of general campus interest. Submit questions to Office of Information Services, Administration Room 210.)

- Q. I have seen state jobs listed by private advertising agencies; what is the policy of the California State University and Colleges on such listings?
- A. Such advertising is the exception rather than the rule. C. Mansel Keene, assistant chancellor for faculty and staff affairs, noted recently: "As public employers, the State Colleges are attractive work sites. With proper notice on and off campus and the use of public employment offices, there should be little if any need to require an individual to pay a fee to a private agency in order to obtain a position with a State College."
- Q. Since those who get the publication are already employed, why are campus job openings listed in Cal Poly Report?
- A. Campus position vacancies are announced first to faculty and staff before off-campus recruitment is begun, so that eligible employees may obtain advancement or more desired positions by transfer application.

SHAKESPEARE COMPANY PERFORMANCES SCHEDULED MAY 24-25

The Bard will again roam the boards at Cal Poly, March 24 and 25, much as he did on the Elizabethan stage of England. The New Shakespeare Company of San Francisco will present two Shakespeare classics -- in a contemporary mood but in the Elizabethan dialect.

The performances, sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of the Associated Students, Inc., of Cal Poly, will both be open to the public. Admission will be $1.75 for college students and $2.50 for all others.

Under the direction of Margrit Roma, the company will perform As You Like It on March 24, and Romeo and Juliet on March 25. Both performances will take place in the Cal Poly Theater starting at 8 p.m.

The New Shakespeare Company has been compared favorably in their performance quality with the Shakespeare presentations at the annual festival in Ashland, Ore. It attempts to present Shakespeare as it believes he was presented to Elizabethan audiences.

C S U C TRUSTEES WILL MEET MARCH 21-22 IN LOS ANGELES

The Board of Trustees of the California State University and Colleges will meet March 21-22 at 5670 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles. The meeting will be the first Board session since March 4, the effective date of legislation changing the name of The California State Colleges to The California State University and Colleges.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, March 17, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.

VACANCIES ON COLLEGE SUPPORT STAFF ANNOUNCED

Three vacant positions on the college support staff have been announced by S. Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). Descriptions of the positions are posted on the bulletin board located outside the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236. Those interested in applying for any of the positions should contact the Personnel Office to obtain an application. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action employer. The positions are:

Intermediate Account Clerk ($457-$556), Accounting Office, Business Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include reconciling the quarterly collection of fees to registrar's records, assisting the departmental billing clerk with the computerized fee billing operation, assisting the Senior Claims Clerk in handling periodic increased workload and performing other duties in the general accounting area as required. Applicants must have the equivalent to graduation from high school plus experience and training in accounting and bookkeeping.

Intermediate Account Clerk ($457-$556), (Temporary Help Position), Accounting Office, Business Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include assisting senior claims clerk in auditing, and preparing suppliers claims for payment, for processing for payment, auditing documents for accuracy, matching invoices to proper orders and receiving documents, and assisting in other areas of the Accounting Department as required. Applicants must have the equivalent to graduation from high school plus experience and/or training in the processing of accounts payable.

Departmental Secretary I-B ($517-$628), Dairy and Poultry Sciences Department, School of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Duties and responsibilities include managing departmental office, supervising student assistants, processing student payrolls, maintaining files, taking dictation and transcribing into finished form, typing exams and course materials, answering and directing phone calls, assisting in preparation of inventories and other monthly reports, ordering and maintaining office supplies. Applicants must be high school graduates with two years of general office clerical experience, passed the General Clerical Test, type 45 wpm, take shorthand at 90 wpm.

PROMPT ORDERS OF A-V MATERIALS URGED BY SERVICE OFFICE

Instructors who plan to use films, filmstrips, etc., from outside sources during the Spring Quarter are reminded to get their orders into the Audio Visual Services Office as soon as possible, according to Marcus Gold (Coordinator of Audio Visual Services).

Such materials are especially hard to obtain during this period and early preparation in ordering is necessary to insure arrival on the days they may best be used. Order forms may be obtained from the Audio-Visual Services Office, (BA and E-9, 546-2211).

College-owned materials should also be ordered at the earliest possible time, Gold pointed out. Unless materials have been previously booked for campus use, exchange agreements with the San Luis Obispo County Schools and California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, may take them off campus for several days.

The Personnel Office has a supply of federal and state income tax report forms available for the convenience of college employees. Those who wish may obtain copies of the reports by contacting the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236.

GLEE CLUB, COLLEGIANS TOUR WILL OPEN MONDAY

Concerts in 14 different San Francisco Bay Area and Peninsula cities are on the itinerary for the 31st annual performance tour of Cal Poly's Glee Club and Collegians stage and dance band.

Highlights of the week-long concert series, which will open on Monday (March 20), will be two public appearances at Dominican College in San Rafael and in the First Presbyterian Church of Palo Alto.

Fifteen other concerts by the Cal Poly student musicians are planned at high schools in Walnut Creek, Orinda, Moraga, Los Altos, Santa Clara, Sunnyvale, Palo Alto, Redwood City, Belmont, Mountain View, San Jose, and Cupertino.

Joining the 42-member Men's Glee Club and the Collegians for their tour performances will be two vocal specialty groups composed of members of the glee club. They are the Collegiate Quartet and the "World Famous Majors and Minors."

Harold P. Davidson (Head of the Music Department) directs the Men's Glee Club, which is best known for its vocal performances of a wide range of musical styles, including folk tunes, spirituals, and popular songs, as well as more formal and liturgical music.

For Davidson, who also directed the Collegians until last year, next week's concert tour will be the 31st. He originated the annual series of programs in 1941.

Currently-popular music, as well as that of the big-band era of the 1930's and 1940's, is the forte of the Collegians. The 17-member instrumental ensemble performs under the direction of Graydon Williams (Music Department), who joined the Cal Poly faculty in 1970.

STAFF CLUB EXCURSION TO LAKE TAHOE CANCELLED

Due to the inability to obtain 38 passengers for the Cal Poly Staff Club's proposed excursion to Lake Tahoe on March 19-21, the trip has been cancelled. Deposits submitted by faculty and staff who had planned to make the trip are being returned.

VIDEO RECORDER SYSTEM RESERVATIONS BEING TAKEN

Reservations are now being taken for the use of videotape recorders for faculty self-evaluation of instruction during Spring Quarter, according to an announcement from John Heinz (Director of Audio-Visual Services and Productions).

A videotape recorder system is available for two week loan periods to instructional departments. Instructors may record their class meetings on videotape, then play back the tape through a television monitor to see themselves as their students do.

Faculty use of this form of teaching self-evaluation is voluntary, with each instructor having control of the replay and erasure of his recorded tape, according to Heinz. Reservations may be made for instructional departments by contacting William Gold (Audio-Visual Technician) 546-2211, BA and E-9.

ENROLLMENT AID OFFERED BY REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Faculty and staff members are reminded that if they wish to enroll for classes during the Spring Quarter, the Registrar's Office will assist with their registration. Those who will be enrolling should complete their registration books and leave them at the Registrar's Office, Adm-219, by Thursday (March 16). Any student (or staff member) who was not enrolled during the Fall or Winter Quarters must clear through the Admissions Office before they can enroll for Spring Quarter.

C S U C WASHINGTON REPRESENTATIVE WILL VISIT CAMPUS

Mrs. Rosemary Eck, federal programs coordinator of the Office of the Chancellor of the California State University and Colleges, will be a campus visitor at Cal Poly on Thursday (March 16). She will be hosted by Howard Boroughs (Associate Dean, Graduate Studies and Research). Mrs. Eck maintains a Washington, D.C., office for the CSUC, to maintain liaison between the system and federal programs. Her visit to Cal Poly is to familiarize her with the emphasis areas of the college and explore future areas for federal programs.

RESERVATIONS FOR C S P E - A S C E MEETING

Members of the Cal Poly faculty and staff who are planning to attend the joint meeting of the Central Coast Chapter of the California Society of Professional Engineers and American Society of Civil Engineers, which is scheduled for Friday (March 17) evening at the Motel Inn, San Luis Obispo, are invited to make reservations by telephoning C.R. Russell (Associate Dean, Engineering and Technology), 546-2132. Guest speaker for the dinner meeting will be Assemblyman William M. Ketchum of the 29th District, who will talk on "Engineers in Government." The meeting is open to the public.

TICKET SALE FOR INTERNATIONAL BOULEVARD DINNER WILL END FRIDAY

Tickets for the International Boulevard Dinner, which will take place the evening of March 25 in the Veterans Memorial Building, San Luis Obispo, will be sold through Friday (March 17) according to information received from the Cal Poly Women's Club and the Cal Poly Staff Club. The event is being sponsored by the two clubs. Priced at $2.50 each, the tickets may be purchased from Charles Mendenhall (Director of Alumni Affairs), who is president of the Staff Club, or from the chairmen of the various Women's Club sections.

DATE FOR WOMEN'S LUNCHEON CHANGED TO MARCH 28

The date for the Cal Poly Staff Club's annual Women's Luncheon has been changed to March 28, a Tuesday, according to June Powell (School of Agriculture and Natural Resources Office) who is chairman of the event. The luncheon, w i l l t a k e p l a c e in the Staff Dining Room starting at 12 noon. Each woman member of the club is invited to bring a prospective woman member for the 1972-73 year to the luncheon as a guest. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations by telephoning Miss Powell, 546-2161.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, March 17, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.

FACULTY POSITION APPLICANTS BEING SOUGHT

Applicants for 11 teaching positions on the college faculty are presently being sought, according to Larry Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about any of the positions, or in applying for any of them, are invited to contact the appropriate school dean or department head. FEDERAL AGENCY SEEKING DIRECTOR FOR SUMMER PROGRAM

Candidates for the position of director of the Summer Youth Program of the Defense Supply Agency are currently being sought by the Defense Supply Agency office in Los Angeles. The position, which is for the period of late May or early June through the end of August, is best suited for someone who is interested in disadvantaged young people and can develop a program responsive to their needs. Salary will be either $11,046 or $13,309 per annum, depending upon personal qualifications. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Kathryn Erickson, Employee Development Officer, Defense Supply Agency, 11099 S. LaCienega Blvd., Los Angeles, Ca., 90045.

CHANCELLOR'S REPORT AVAILABLE IN LIBRARY

One copy of the ninth annual Report of the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees of what was formerly the California State Colleges has been placed on file in the Library for the use of members of the college faculty and staff who wish to peruse it. The 48-page paperbacked volume includes reports of the progress of the state college system, as well as the activities of the individual colleges.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Archie Higdon (Dean of Engineering and Technology) participated in meetings of the Engineering Liaison Committee of the California Independent Colleges, Public Community and State Colleges, and University of California, which took place March 3 in Stockton. Dr. Higdon is chairman of the statewide committee's Subcommittee on Engineering Technology Articulation with Community Colleges.

Helmut Schleicher (School of Architecture and Environmental Design) spoke on advanced planning topics during the Nuts and Bolts Clinic of the 11th annual Southern California Conference for Architects, Contractors, and Educators, held March 5-7 at Lake Arrowhead. Dr. Schleicher's topics included automated specifications, integrated project control, computerized estimating and cost control, and third-generation planning systems for management support.

Robert H. Frost (Head of the Physics Department) attended the winter meeting of the Southern California Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers in Los Angeles on March 4. Theme for the meeting was "Society's Physics Problems." The program was organized around two different important and timely social problems -- smog and preparing science teachers to teach "non-involved" students in schools of ghetto areas.

Don M. Morris (Associate Dean, Continuing Education) has received a George Washington Honor Medal Award and $50 for his armed forces letter, "What Is An American." The award and cash prize was one of many given by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa. Dr. Morris, an alumnus of Cal Poly, is actively involved as a U.S. Naval Reserve officer. He holds the rank of commander.

Cal Poly's annual Poly Royal open house program was featured in an illustrated article which appeared in the Spring, 1972, edition of Chevron USA, the quarterly magazine of the Chevron Travel Club. Also featured in the article are the annual Picnic Day event at University of California at Davis and the Poly Vue program at California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg Voorhis, Pomona.

David R. Harrow and Joseph N. Weatherby, Jr. (both Social Sciences Department) have addressed gatherings at public schools in San Luis Obispo recently. Dr. Weatherby spoke on "Russian Schools" at the Founders Day celebration at Pacheco School on Feb. 23, and Harrow discussed "The Chumash Indians" at the Blue and Gold Dinner of Cub Scout Pack 40 at Laguna Junior High School on Feb. 24.

John Harrigan and Wesley S. Ward (both School of Architecture and Environmental Design) are authors of an article titled "Human Factors Participation in Architectural Problems: A Basic Consideration," which appeared in the December, 1971, issue of Human Factors Society Bulletin. Dr. Harrigan is also the author, and the illustrator, of "The Environment Design Process and Environmental Flexibility," which appeared in the March, 1971, issue of The Journal of the Industrial Designers Society of America.

Walter E. Elliott (Physics Department) and Chester Brown of University of Arizona are co-authors of a paper which has been accepted for publication in The Journal of Research in Science Teaching. Dr. Elliott and Dr. Brown use the paper to discuss selected aspects of the affective teaching domain as they apply to physics and stress that physics courses might be more successful if teachers tested for affective items in addition to the usual cognitive ones.

STAFF SENATE RECOGNITION LUNCHEON WILL BE TOMORROW

The Cal Poly Staff Senate's second annual buffet luncheon honoring staff members who have worked at the college for 25 or more years, will take place in the Student Dining Room - East starting at 12 noon tomorrow, Wednesday (March 15). Staff members with 10 years of service who were not recognized last year, will also be honored. President Robert E. Kennedy will present the Awards.

The Personnel Committee of the Staff Senate, which is arranging the event, is hopeful that all members of the college staff will attend and honor their co-workers. Tickets for the luncheon are priced at $2 per person. They may be purchased as long as they last from Mrs. Lucy Schmidt (General Office Supervisor) in Adm-132.

E.S. Jenkins (English Department) has shown his slide show Norway: A Conscious Environment four times in recent months. The program was seen by the Natural Resources Management Club and the Ecology Action Club, both on campus, and by the Santa Lucia Chapter of the Sierra Club in San Luis Obispo and the Sierra Camera Club in Sacramento. It features taped narration and electronically-controlled projection and shows many ecological practices of Norway.

Sara Behman (Economics Department) served as a workshop leader at a conference on "Economics Policy Today: Trade, Taxes, and Controls," on March 4 in Los Angeles. The conference was sponsored by the Center for Labor Research and Education of the Institute of Industrial Relations at University of California at Los Angeles and a group of trade union organizations in Southern California.

Owen L. Servatius (Head of the Business Administration Department) addressed a recent meeting of the Contractors Association of San Luis Obispo County at the Madonna Inn in San Luis Obispo. Title of his remarks was "Interpersonal Relationships."

Reginald H. Gooden (Social Sciences Department) has been notified that he has completed the requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in political science at the University of California at Santa Barbara. Dr. Gooden's dissertation, titled The Political Philosophy of Jose Ortega y Gasset, deals with the interdisciplinary approach of the noted Spanish philosopher.

James A. D'Albro (Ornamental Horticulture Department) has been appointed to fill a vacancy on the Citizens Advisory Committee of the City of San Luis Obispo. The appointment was announced by City Councilman John Brown and approved by the City Council. D'Albro, a member of the college faculty since 1969, has been involved in the street tree planting program for the Ann Arbor Estates area of South San Luis Obispo.

Daniel Williamson (Economics Department) presented an invited seminar titled "A Differential Game Version of the Entry Barrier Problem at University of Florida" recently. Dr. Williamson has been a member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1970.

Irving P. Babow (Social Sciences Department) presented a paper on "Student's Attitudes Toward Buying Term Papers" at the conference of the Pacific Chapter of the American Association for Public Opinion Research at Asilomar on March 6. The conference was attended by opinion researchers from colleges and universities, governmental agencies, business, and industry.

RANDY DETTMER IS POLY ROYAL PLANNING LEADER

Randy Dettmer, 22, is in charge of planning for Cal Poly's 40th annual Poly Royal. To be held on Friday and Saturday, April 28-29, the annual open house event, which attracts upwards of 60,000 spectators, requires the work of nearly 2,000 students in its preparation.

The two-day Poly Royal will include educational displays, a rodeo, films and special events. The open house often is called "A Country Fair on a College Campus."

Assisting Dettmer, a fifth year architecture major, are: Larry Hopson, 22, a junior architecture major, assistant superintendent; Sandy Parsons, 21, a senior child development major, secretary; Bonnie Nelson, 21, a senior child development major, director of school events; and Ray Bennett, 30, a junior industrial technology major, director of finance.

BASEBALL, TRACK AND FIELD TEAMS PLAN HOME EVENTS

A schedule that includes a pair of home baseball doubleheaders and a home track and field meet is in store during the forthcoming academic holiday for campus sports fans. Featured are the baseball doublebill matching Cal Poly's baseball varsity and that of California Lutheran College and the track meet between the varsity and an alumni team, both on Saturday (March 18).

Coach Augie Garrido's Mustang baseballers, still smarting after losing a three-game series to California Collegiate Athletic Association opponent San Fernando Valley State College last weekend, will carry a 12-6 won-lost mark into the Cal Lutheran series. They are also scheduled to host California State College at Hayward in a non-league double-header next Tuesday. Both the Hayward and Cal Lutheran doubleheaders are scheduled to start at 12 noon at Sinsheimer Field in San Luis Obispo.

The Alumni meet, which will take place on the campus track located near Men's Gymnasium, starting at 12 noon, will see the return of many of the athletes that brought National Collegiate Athletic Association National College Division Track and Field championships to Cal Poly in recent years.

In other action of interest to campus sports fans last week, Cal Poly's varsity wrestling team entered six men in the NCAA national University Division championship tournament at College Park, Md. Junior Larry Morgan finished fifth at 134 pounds to lead a Cal Poly effort that scored 14 points in unofficial team standings.

O H CLUB CONTINUES CAMPUS TREE PLANTING PROGRAM

Faculty, staff, and students of Cal Poly got an early start on Arbor Day when they planted 30 Brisbane box (Tristania conferta) trees along Perimeter Road on campus on March 4. The planting was an extension of a project begun on Arbor Day of 1971 by Cal Poly's Ornamental Horticulture Club when 60 trees were planted along Perimeter Road.

The trees planted were purchased by individual faculty and staff members and by student clubs. They were planted along S. Perimeter Road from the College Dining Hall to the rear of the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Building, and along N. Perimeter Road in the vicinity of the Home Economics and Mathematics Building.

LAU WILL DELIVER COMMISSIONING ADDRESS

James Lau (Business Administration Department) will deliver the commissioning address when former members of the Cal Poly Reserve Officers Training Corps receive commissions as second lieutenants in the U.S. Army on Saturday (March 18) morning.
