RENAMING OF 13 COLLEGES APPROVED BY TRUSTEES' COMMITTEE

The renaming of 13 California State Colleges as universities was approved last Tuesday (April 25) by a committee which acted on behalf of the Board of Trustees of The California State University and Colleges. The action will change the campuses' names effective June 1, 1972, in the event similar approval is voted by the Coordinating Council for Higher Education whose members will participate in a mail ballot.

Approval on behalf of the trustees was voted by the board's Committee on Educational Policy during a meeting at San Francisco State College. The action would change the names of the 13 colleges as follows:

California State College, Fullerton, to California State University, Fullerton.

California State College, Hayward, to California State University, Hayward.

California State College, Long Beach, to California State University, Long Beach.

California State College, Los Angeles, to California State University, Los Angeles.

Chico State College, to California State University, Chico.

Fresno State College, to California State University, Fresno.

Sacramento State College, to California State University, Sacramento.

San Diego State College, to California State University, San Diego.

San Francisco State College, to California State University, San Francisco.

San Jose State College, to California State University, San Jose.

California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, to California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo.

California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, to California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.

San Fernando Valley State College, to California State University, San Fernando Valley.

Although acting to change the name of San Fernando Valley State to California State University, San Fernando Valley, the committee deferred to the board's May 23-24 meeting in Los Angeles, consideration of the college's request to be renamed California State University, Northridge.

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU" WILL RUN MAY 11, 12, 13

You Can't Take It With You, a comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, will close the 1971-72 drama season at Cal Poly. The play will run for three days, May 11, 12, and 13 in the Cal Poly Theater, with a special family matinee set on Saturday, May 13. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. for the evening performances and 2 p.m. for the matinee.

You Can't Take It With You is a production of the Cal Poly Speech Department and is being directed by Robin Lake of the speech faculty. The Hart and Kaufman play won several national awards in the late 1930's. It was chosen as one of the ten best plays of 1936-37 and won the Theatre Club Award in 1937. The two authors were awarded the Pulitzer Prize for the play.

It successfully ran for 837 performances after opening in 1936 at Booth Theatre, and was later made into a movie that won Oscars for the best production and for best direction (Frank Capra) in 1938. The play later re-opened in 1945 in New York with 17 performances.

General admission tickets for the all four performances are priced at $1 for students and $2 for others. They will be available at the theater box office prior to curtain time on the night of the performances only.

SUMMER PROGRAM IN MEXICO AVAILABLE TO CAL POLY STUDENTS

Cal Poly students are eligible for attendance at either of two summer sessions offered by the University of the Americas in Puebla, Mexico, through the International Study Center of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Cal Poly is a member of the AASCU and President Robert E. Kennedy serves as a member of its board of directors. Through the AASCU Study Center, students may qualify to attend both undergraduate and graduate summer session programs, as well as a workshop in Mexican language and culture, an arts institute and a summer archaeological field school. Last year, Cal Poly student Bryan Blancett, who is majoring in business, attended the University of the Americas program.

Information about this international study program and other study abroad programs is available from Robert E. McCorkle (Director of International Education), whose office is located in the Hillcrest Building opposite the Administration Building parking lot.

Criteria under which presently designated state colleges may be renamed as universities were approved on March 22, 1972, by the Board of Trustees and on April 4, 1972, by the Coordinating Council for Higher Education under provisions of Assembly Bill 123 adopted by the 1972 Legislature and signed by Governor Ronald Reagan on Nov. 29, 1971.

The official name of the 19-campus system was changed, under provisions of the same legislation, to The California State University and Colleges on March 4, 1972.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, May 5, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.

1,000 EXPECTED FOR 44TH ANNUAL F F A CONVENTION

Dana Mead, special advisor on vocational education to President Richard M. Nixon, will address the 1,000 delegates and guests attending the 44th annual convention of the California Association of Future Farmers of America at Cal Poly on Wednesday through Friday (May 3-5). Mead will speak during the closing session of the convention on Friday.

The convention and the state finals judging contest on Saturday, May 6, are expected to attract between 1,500 and 1,700 California FFA members to the Cal Poly campus. Convention sessions will be held in the Julian A. McPhee College Union for the first time. Chumash Auditorium in the College Union will seat over 1,300 persons. Sessions have been held in the 450-seat Cal Poly Theater in recent years.

The three-day convention will include recognition sessions at which state farmer and achievement awards will be presented, friends of the FFA will be cited, and new officers will be elected. Cliff Saylor, a national vice president of FFA, will greet the delegates on Thursday (May 4).

Greetings also will be brought to the convention by Dr. Robert E. Kennedy, president of Cal Poly; the president of the Oregon Association of FFA; Janice Takata, state vice president and Sheryl Hensley, state reporter of the California Future Homemakers Association; and the California Dairy Princess.

The awards banquet will be held at 6 p.m. on Thursday (May 4) in the Student Dining Room and new officers will be chosen at the final session of the convention on Friday (May 5) in Chumash Auditorium.

An estimated 1,200 FFA members, some of whom will attend the convention, will participate in the state finals judging on Saturday (May 6). The members, in teams representing FFA chapters, will judge in 14 categories ranging from trees, land, and livestock to agricultural mechanics.

Cal Poly's School of Agriculture and Natural Resources will host the convention and judging finals.

IDENTIFICATION CARD FEE CHANGED

A long-term saving, but a higher initial cost for student Identification (Activity) Cards, will take effect on July 1 at the beginning of the Summer Quarter. At the request of President Robert E. Kennedy, the fee change has been approved by the Chancellor's Office in time to change the fee listing in the forthcoming 1972-73 Catalog.

The current catalog specifies a fee of 50 cents per student, per quarter. Under this plan more revenue would be generated than is needed to pay for the card program, Dr. Kennedy discovered. Under the new plan a fee of $1.25 will be charged entering students for each ID (Activity) Card at the time of issue, with no additional quarterly charges.

Lost or destroyed cards which must be replaced will occasion an additional charge of $1.25 under the new plan.

The end of the seventh week of instruction for the 1972 Spring Quarter will be Monday, May 15.

CHAMBER SINGERS SCHEDULE SUNDAY CONCERT IN LOS OSOS

The College Chamber Singers, along with members of the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, will give a free concert in the sanctuary of the Trinity Methodist Church of Los Osos beginning at 8 p.m. on Sunday (May 7).

The church is located at 490 Los Osos Valley Rd. John G. Russell (Music Department), who is director of the 30-voice vocal ensemble, said the concert will include English Madrigals, contemporary American choral music, and Latin renditions of numbers of Scarlatti, Gabriele, Victoria, and Galupi.

The mixed choir returned recently from a successful concert tour that included performances in several of the Catholic missions of Northern California.

Musical authenticity was stressed during the tour concerts. Organized by Russell in 1969, the Chamber Singers now include 32 men and women representing all seven of the college's academic schools.

POTTERY TWO EXHIBIT WILL CONTINUE THROUGH SATURDAY

Bob Nichols, San Luis Obispo pottery maker, captured the first place award in the professional wheel thrown division of Pottery Two now on exhibit in Room 221 of the Julian A. McPhee College Union. The exhibit will remain in place through Saturday, May 6. It is open to the public free of charge. The hours the exhibit is open are 10 a.m. to 12 noon, 2 to 4 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m. on weekdays, and from 1 to 4 p.m. on weekends.

Nichols, a 1971 architecture graduate of Cal Poly who now makes his home in San Luis Obispo, named his entry "One Of One Hundred." Other first place winners are: Donna Nicholas of Edinboro, Pa., professional construction; Mike Payne of La Palma, Ca., first place student wheel thrown entry; and William Herrera of Ojai, Ca., first place student construction. Jurist Paul Soldner of Aspen, Colo., selected 55 pottery pieces for the display from among 259 entries submitted from across the nation. The show is a project of the Cal Poly Pottery Club.

CANDIDATES BEING SOUGHT FOR INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING POSITION

Candidates for a teaching position on the faculty are presently being sought by the Industrial Engineering Department, according to L.R. Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about the position or in applying for it, are invited to contact the appropriate school dean or department head. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action employer. A brief description of the available position reads:

Intermediate Instructor ($777-$992), Industrial Engineering Department, School of Engineering and Technology. Duties and responsibilities include teaching general industrial engineering courses with stress on quantitative methods, some activities courses, computer utilization, and student advising. Candidates with a PhD degree preferred. Position for 1972-73 and 1973-74 academic years with possibility of becoming a permanent faculty member. Minority applicants and women are encouraged to apply.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, May 5, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.

✓ CHECK IT OUT

- Q. Will diplomas be changed retroactively to reissue them in the name of the state university, following the college's name change?
- A. When this college or any other college in the California State University and Colleges changes its name to that of a university, those who graduate before the date at which the systemwide name took effect, specifically on March 4, 1972, will not be eligible for a change in their diplomas. The Chancellor's Office has announced that system policy will be that the system name may be used only for those diplomas which were issued after March 4, 1972. Changes for individual colleges may be made only on diplomas issued after the date by which individual institutions have been jointly approved for renaming by the Board of Trustees of the CSUC and the Coordinating Council for Higher Education.

CAL POLY STUDENTS PLACE HIGH IN NATIONAL SPEECH TOURNEY

An attractive 22-year-old senior in her first year of intercollegiate forensics competition turned in a fourth-place performance to lead the Cal Poly entry in the National Tournament of Finalists in Chicago on April 21-22. Diane Ryan Young, a brunette speech major whose husband, Tim, is also a student at Cal Poly, used a talk on the merit of educational television programs such as Sesame Street in the national meet's persuasive speaking competition.

For Mrs. Young, the tournament at De Paul University in Chicago was another step in a year of competition that has seen her place first or second in every meet she has entered. James Conway (Speech Department), who is advisor to the forensics team, describes her performance as a "particularly significant" one for a person still in her first year of competition.

A total of 36 colleges and universities and 129 contestants from across the nation entered the meet. City College of New York, Texas Southern University, Fresno State College, University of Maryland, University of West Virginia, and Loyola University of Chicago were all represented.

Pamela Brown, another Cal Poly student in her first year of intercollegiate forensics competition, tied for ninth place in interpretative reading at the meet in Chicago. Two other Cal Poly students entered the tournament. Upinder Singh Dhinsa, a junior majoring in industrial engineering competed in persuasive speaking, and Steve Doyle, a sophomore majoring in speech, participated in extemporaneous speaking.

ACADEMIC SENATE COMMITTEE WILL HOLD HEARINGS ON MAY 11

The Instruction Committee of the Cal Poly Academic Senate will hold hearings on the subject of possible means of controlling excessive grade changes from 4 to 6 p.m. on Thursday, May 11, in Adm-301. Interested members of the college faculty are invited to attend and express their views.

The end of the seventh week of instruction for the 1972 Spring Quarter will be Monday, May 15.

ANTI-WAR ADVOCATE WILL DISCUSS THE "AIR-WAR INITIATIVE" ON MONDAY

David V. Harris, the anti-war advocate and husband of folk singer Joan Baez, will visit Cal Poly on Monday (May 8) to discuss the "Air-War Initiative." Sponsored by the Speakers Forum Committee of the Associated Students, Inc., the discussion is set for 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium in the Julian A. McPhee College Union. Attendance is open to the public and is free. However, donations will be solicited.

Harris' activities in the anti-war movement began in 1967 when he founded and organized the Resistance, a group dedicated to fighting the war and draft. Two years later, he was arrested for refusing induction into the armed services and was sent to a federal penitentiary.

The former Stanford student body president was released from prison in 1971 and immediately began national speaking tours. He wasted little time in organizing more anti-war activities. One such activity was attempting to stop the aircraft carrier Constellation from sailing from San Diego to Vietnam.

VACANT SUPPORT STAFF POSITION ANNOUNCED BY PERSONNEL OFFICER

One vacancy on the support staff of the college has been announced by S. Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). A description of this position and other vacancies are posted on the bulletin board located outside the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236. Those interested in applying for any of the positions should contact the Personnel Office to obtain an application. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action employer. The position is:

Clerical Assistant II-A ($457-$556), Switchboard/Information Center, Business Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include greeting the public and students at the Switchboard/Information Center in person and on the Centrex telephone system, giving directions and assisting persons seeking information regarding location, rooms, classes, offices, hours, etc. Applicants must have passed the General Clerical Test and be high school graduates. Prefer mature, permanent local person with typing ability and a knowledge of Cal Poly and the San Luis Obispo County area.

ROSE FLOAT COMMITTEES PLAN THEME SELECTION

Final decision on a float theme for the 1973 Tournament of Roses Parade will come May 19 when committees from the Cal Poly campuses at San Luis Obispo and Pomona meet to discuss the float. Selection of the theme has been narrowed down to six entries, three from each campus. The Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo float committee had to select its 3 from over 275 entries. Its selections are "Fantasia," "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory," and "Those Magnificent Men and Their Flying Machines." The Cal Poly, Pomona, selections are "Noah's Ark," "It Happens Every Spring," and "It's a Dog's Life."

Floats for the 1973 parade are expected to fit the Tournament of Roses theme, "Movie Memories."

The 1972 Summer Quarter will open with registration on Saturday, July 1, and continue through the final examination period, Sept. 11-14. The first day of classes will be Monday, July 3.

FAMED WHITE STALLIONS WILL PERFORM ON MAY 16

Bringing a horse act -- the famed Lipizzan Stallions -- to Cal Poly is a "coals-to-Newcastle" selection. The 12,000 students at Cal Poly already share the campus with 350 beef and dairy cattle, 200 sheep, 150 hogs, and 50 thoroughbred and quarterhorse horses. The college also boasts champion rodeo action in its own campus arena. Cal Poly riders won National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association championship trophies in 1960, 1970, and 1971.

So horses on campus are far from being a novelty. But the Student Council of the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources considers the Lipizzan Stallions of Austria to be the most famous horses in the world. So the council has booked the Lipizzans as their school's spring attraction.

More than a score of these beautiful white ballet horses are being brought to Mustang Stadium under the direction of Colonel Ottomar J. Hermann in a program highlighted by the classical equestrian ballet "airs above the ground" as seen in the Walt Disney movie, Miracle of the White Stallions.

The public is invited to share in the rare opportunity to view the world famous performing Lipizzan Stallions. The performance will be at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, May 16.

Tickets will be offered in a range of prices according to seating locations. Special rates will be in effect for college students and children. Individually-reserved seats in the best location of the stadium will be $6 for adults and $3 for children 12 or under and college students. Adult ticket prices will be $3, $4, and $5 for different reserved sections of the stadium. Children and college students with identification cards may obtain seating in these sections at half price.

Dave Oldfield (Associated Students, Inc., Program Manager) points out that a student is eligible to buy two tickets at the special rate when he presents his ID card at the ticket sale counter in the Julian A. McPhee College Union or at the stadium ticket sales office during the evening of the performance.

CAL POLY FEATURED IN "U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT"

Cal Poly is mentioned prominently in an article appearing in the May 1 issue of U.S. News and World Report, which devotes about a page and a half of photographs and text to San Luis Obispo.

The article is a special report on the "changing fortunes of the small city." Four of the eight cities featured are given as examples. San Luis Obispo, along with Long View, Texas; Ames, Iowa; and Oneonta, New York; are described as "moving up in terms of population and prosperity."

The article includes a campus view and states "another major contributor to the city's economy and culture is California State Polytechnic College. The 12,300 students and 1,800 employees represent an estimated $35,000,000 in actual spending, a good percentage of it remains in town. The college emphasizes the teaching of architecture, agriculture and engineering."

According to the U.S. News and World Report, "life has never been better for residents of this Central California city of 28,000 people."

COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATIVE VACANCIES LISTED

Information on administrative positions at other colleges and universities, for which applications are currently being sought, is available in the college Placement and Financial Aid Office, Adm-213, 546-2501. Positions presently listed there include:

The California State University and Colleges, Los Angeles -- Coordinator of Auxiliary Organizations, salary $17,700 to $21,516 for 12-month year, graduation from college or university with five years of progressively responsible management experience required, application deadline is May 8, 1972.

Southwest Minnesota State College, Marshall, Minn. -- Vice President of Academic Affairs, salary open up to $24,000 for 12-month contract, earned doctor's degree and teaching and administrative experience required, position available July 1, 1972, application deadline is May 15, 1972.

University of Wisconsin - Stout Menomonie, Wisc. -- Chancellor, salary not listed, qualifications not listed, nominations due "early in May."

TICKETS FOR SPRING FLING WILL GO ON SALE SOON

Bob Adams, (Chief of Plant Operations) chairman for the Cal Poly Staff Club Spring Fling on Saturday, May 27, says tickets will be available in early May. The ticket price of $3 for Staff Club members and $4 for non-member faculty and staff will include a steak barbecue and fishing, horseshoes, and other outdoor activities.

The scene this year is White Oaks Flat at Santa Margarita Lake. Those taking their cars will be reimbursed the $1 entry fee on presentation of their entry ticket to Robert Baldridge (Theater Manager), co-chairman for the event. Spring Fling is the traditional stag outing of the Staff Club.

PROGRAM ON ALASKA PLANNED THIS EVENING

William Martin, senior protection agent for the State of Alaska, will present a film and discuss the Alaskan scene at Cal Poly at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Tuesday, May 2). The public is invited to the program to be held in Sci-B-5. The Natural Resources Management Department of the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources is hosting the meeting. Martin, who is from Juneau, Alaska, is appearing at Cal Poly through the cooperation of the California Division of Fish and Wildlife.

APPLICANTS INVITED FOR H E P ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR POST

Applicants for the position of associate director of the High School Equivalency Program are currently being invited by the Cal Poly Foundation, according to Jack Fryer (Foundation Personnel Officer). The position, which pays $965 per month, requires a person with either a BA or BS degree, two years of experience in one or a combination of teaching, counseling, or job placement, and the ability to speak Spanish fluently. Those interested in applying for the position are invited to inquire at the Foundation Personnel Office, CU-212. The Cal Poly Foundation is an Affirmative Action Employer.

CHICANO HERITAGE WEEK WILL CONCLUDE ON SATURDAY

Two speakers programs, a poetry reading, an art exhibit, a banquet, and a dance, remain on the schedule for the Chicano Heritage Week. The latter two, both scheduled in Santa Maria, will be the concluding events for the week-long observance, which began with a fashion show on campus on Sunday (April 30) evening.

Special speakers for the week include Ponce Javier Ruiz, who works with the Community Legal Services in East Los Angeles, and Raul Ruiz, editor of La Raza magazine and a recent candidate for El Partido de la Raza Unida, a Chicano political party. Ponce Javier Ruiz will speak in the College Union Plaza at 11 a.m. on Thursday (May 4), and Raul Ruiz will speak in Room 220 of the College Union at 10 a.m. on Friday (May 5). Alurista, a Chicano movement poet from San Diego, will recite his own writings in an appearance in the Cal Poly Theater at 7 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday, May 3), and art work by Chicanos will be on display in the Walter F. Dexter Library on campus throughout the week.

Arthur Castro, a senior architecture student who is coordinating arrangements for MECHA and the Associated Students, Inc., co-sponsors of the Chicano Heritage Week observance on campus, said the public is invited to attend any of the events being held on campus. Admission to those activities will be free.

The Association of Mexican-American Educators of Santa Maria is co-sponsoring the banquet and dance, which are planned for Friday (May 5) afternoon and Saturday (May 6) evening, respectively, in the Veterans Memorial Building in Santa Maria. Tickets for both are priced at $2.50. Those for the banquet are being sold at the College Union Information Desk. Tickets for the dance will be available at the door only.

POLY ROYAL MILKING CONTEST WON BY DEAN HIGDON

An engineer was the winner of the Deans' Cow Milking Contest held last Saturday (April 29) morning as part of the 40th annual Poly Royal. Archie Higdon (Dean of the School of Engineering and Technology) has an inflated model of a dairy cow nearly two feet high on his desk to prove it.

Dr. Higdon bested a field of seven deans, including J. Cordner Gibson (Dean of the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources), to win championship of the event which is expected to become an annual feature of Poly Royal. Dean Higdon produced more than 8 pounds of milk in the time allotted. Dean Gibson was second with just over 4 pounds, and Jon M. Ericson (Dean of Communicative Arts and Humanities) was third.

POLY ROYAL DISPLAY COMPETITION WON BY HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Judging of the department exhibits and activities for Poly Royal, which took place last Friday and Saturday (April 28-29) found the Home Economics Department of the School of Human Development and Education winning the Sweepstakes Trophy for the best instructional department exhibit.

Judges for the competition were Vernon L. Sturgeon, a member of the State Public Utilities Commission; Associated Justice William P. Clark of the State Court of Appeal; and Morgan Evans, landscape designer for Disneyland and Disney World and the father of Associated Students President Pete Evans.

STUDENTS SLATE RUN-OFF ELECTION FOR THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

A run-off election for the purpose of choosing the president, vice president, and secretary for the Associated Students, Inc., for 1972-73 is being planned for Thursday and Friday (May 4-5). Those still in the running for the offices are: president, Robin Baggett and Pete Evans; vice president, Denny Johnson and Jim R. Patterson; and secretary, Max Boverl and Laura Lampson.

The run-off election became necessary when the regular election, which took place on April 24-25, failed to provide a majority of the total votes cast for any of the candidates for the three top officers of the Associated Students. John Lange, who was running for the office of chief justice of the Student Court, was the only candidate for ASI office to gain a winning margin in that election.

Beside the Home Economics Department, school winners in that competition were Crop Science Department (School of Agriculture and Natural Resources), Business Administration Department (School of Business and Social Sciences), Graphic Communications Department (School of Communicative Arts and Humanities), Mechanical Engineering Department (School of Engineering and Technology), and Chemistry Department (School of Science and Mathematics).

The Cal Poly men's rodeo team overwhelmed entrants from 15 other colleges and universities to win the Poly Royal Rodeo held on Friday and Saturday (April 28-29) in Collet Arena. The Cal Poly team scored 594 points to easily outdistance the field, had the three best individual cowboys, and won three of the six individual events. Hartnell College of Salinas was second with 226 points and Fresno State College was third with 197 points.

Athletic events held over the week also produced victories for Cal Poly teams. The varsity baseball team won two out of three games played against California Collegiate Athletic Association opponent San Fernando Valley State College and added a victory over an Alumni team on Sunday (April 30); the track and field varsity won a triangular meet over San Francisco State College and University of the Pacific; and the varsity tennis team won an exhibition match played Saturday morning.

U C L A GROUP WILL PERFORM ON THURSDAY

Members of the campus community will have an opportunity to enjoy a program of vocal music when the Madrigal Singers of the University of California at Los Angeles give a concert at 2 p.m. on Thursday (May 4) in MSD-218. The 16-member mixed ensemble, which is in the midst of a concert tour of Northern California, is directed by Donn Weiss. Admission to the performance will be free and the public is invited to attend. John Jacob, a former Cal Poly student and member of the College Chamber Singers, is now a member of the UCLA ensemble.

The 1972 Summer Quarter will open with registration on Saturday, July 1, and continue through the final examination period, Sept. 11-14. The first day of classes will be Monday, July 3.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Carl C. Cummins (Dean of Human Development and Education) and Mrs. Sondra Dease (Assistant Personnel Analyst) attended a conference on implementing Affirmative Action programs for women in Los Angeles on April 19-20. The 250 participants in the program heard government officials from various equal opportunity agencies, including Owen Kiely, director of the Contract Compliance Division of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Dr. Cummins is chairman of Cal Poly's Affirmative Action Compliance Committee and Mrs. Dease is the college Affirmative Action coordinator.

Keith Nielsen (Speech Department) presented a paper and was a panel participant at the 20th annual convention of the International Communication Association in Atlanta, Ga., April 19-22. The title of Dr. Nielsen's paper was "Theater As a Communication Mode for the Study of Cultural Concepts of India." Scholars and practitioners in all areas of communication from throughout the world took part in the meetings.

Robert R. Wheeler (Animal Science Department) is author of a treatise appearing in Volume 3 of Digestive Physiology and Nutrition of Ruminants, a collection of expertise on animal nutrition compiled by D.C. Church of Oregon State University. The section by Dr. Wheeler, a member of the Cal Poly faculty specializing in animal feeds, feeding, and applied nutrition, since 1961, deals with formulating rations for animals.

Patrick O. Wheatley (Mathematics Department) has been notified of his appointment to participate in the Summer Faculty Fellowship Program in Aeronautics and Space Research, which will take place at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston this summer. The new appointment to the 10-week-long program will be the second for Dr. Wheatley. He first participated in the program in 1970.

Arthur Frietzsche and Robert Huot (both English Department) attended a three-day-long joint conference of the Medieval Association of the Pacific and the Medieval Academy of America at the University of California at Los Angeles and the Huntington Library in San Marino in mid-April. Dr. Huot's major interest is in Chaucer and historical linguistics and Dr. Frietzsche's principal interests are Middle English literature and the Renaissance period.

The American Institute of Architects (AIA) Steering Committee on Personnel Practices has chosen a Cal Poly student to be its student representative. Edward Janke, 28, represents over 25,000 architecture students from throughout the nation on the committee which has 12 professional members. Janke, a fifth-year architecture student, attended meetings of the committee in Washington, D.C., last month.

Robert L. Hoover (Social Sciences Department) attended a conference on futurism in San Francisco on April 16. The conference, titled "2001 and Beyond," featured Arthur C. Clark and other scientists and writers as its speakers. It was sponsored by University of California at San Francisco.

Jack D. Frost (Industrial Technology Department) is one of 30 participants selected for a Power Transmission Distributors Association institute to be held in Milwaukee, Wisc., on June 12 through 13. The institute will emphasize new development in power and automotive technology in terms of the technical and teaching aspects. Participants were chosen on the basis of their ability to use this professional preparation in their teaching of industrial education vocational subjects.

Crafts students of Henry Wessels and J.B. Rea (both Art Department) will participate in the Design West exhibition this summer at the California Museum of Science and Industry in Los Angeles. The exhibit is held each year to display the finest examples of contemporary craft design done in Southern California colleges. The 17 men and women, who will show silversmithing and wood and plastic objects, will be the first Cal Poly students to ever participate in the show in Los Angeles.

Theodore C. Foster (Physics Department) and E.O. Fiset of California Institute of Technology are co-authors of a paper which appeared in a recent edition of Il Nuovo Cimento, a journal devoted mainly to nuclear research. In the paper titled "Nuclear-Matter Calculations Using the Lambda-Zero-Zero and Lambda-One-Zero Theories," Dr. Foster and his co-worker calculated ground state properties of nuclear matter, which included the binding of energy per nucleon, the chemical potential, and the inter-nucleon separation.

William E. Krupp (Engineering Technology Department) has received notification that he has successfully passed the requirements for Professional Registration as an electrical engineer.

Robert E. McCorkle (Director of International Education) presented a program on the Cal Poly international education projects in Thailand, Guatemala, and Africa, and the on-campus international programs, before the breakfast meeting of the Morro Bay-Estero Kiwanis Club at the Golden Tee Resort Lodge last Wednesday (April 26). Charlie Mendenhall (Information Services Office) is vice president of the club and served as chairman for the program.

Stanislaus J. Dundon (Philosophy Department) is the author of an article on ethics in philosophy and science, which appeared in the April 15, 1972, edition of America. Title of the article is "Morality and Philosophy."

Olaf Isachsen (Business Administration Department) has learned that his case study titled "Mat's Wheel Alignment" has been published by the Harvard Business School's Intercollegiate Clearinghouse. Dr. Isachsen joined the Cal Poly faculty in 1971.

Barton C. Olsten (History Department) attended the annual convention of the Organization of American Historians in Washington, D.C., early last month. Dr. Olsten, a member of the college faculty since 1969, is a member of the organization's National Historical Sites Committee.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, May 5, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
