RECIPIENTS OF OVERSEAS TRAVEL GRANTS NAMED

Names of ten faculty and staff members who will receive overseas travel grants have been announced by Robert McCorkle (Director, International Education). Funds are derived from the earned overhead the college receives on its International Programs, and allocations are made to interested individuals on the basis that they will result in improved instruction or otherwise directly benefit the individual and college. The newly-announced recipients and their planned activities are:

Irving P. Babow (Social Sciences Department) received a grant for travel to Amsterdam in September to address the International Congress on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence, a branch of the World Health Organization, to present a paper, "Monopoly in Treatment of Alcoholism and Drug Dependence: A Sociological Critique."

Warren W. DeLey (Social Sciences Department) received a travel grant for summer observation of the Swedish penal system at all age levels -- juvenile, youth, and adult -- including a visit to Sweden's only women's prison.

Harry C. Finch (Biological Sciences Department) was granted funds for summer travel to Mexico City to attend the annual meeting of the American Phytopathological Society. Topics under discussion at the meeting include "Water Relations and Disease Development," "Tropical Plant Pathology," and "Coffee Rust."

Gloria Jameson (Foreign Language and Linguistics Department) has received a grant to defray some costs during a three-month leave of absence for travel to Tokyo, Seoul, Taipei, and Hong Kong. She will study and research in cross-cultural communications for the programs in the English language for the 8 percent of Cal Poly's students for whom English is a second language.

Lachlan P. MacDonald (Information Services /English Department) was granted funds to visit Mexico to prepare a 16mm film, slides, and recordings on Mexico's emergence as a grain-exporting nation.

Pratapsinha C. Pendse (Biological Sciences Department) has received a grant for summer travel to Vienna, to attend the second International Tutorial on Clinical Cytology. He will continue his travel and study in Sweden, Denmark, Czechoslovakia, and Switzerland.

Alan K. Settle (Social Sciences Department) was awarded a grant for observation of municipal government administration and European judicial systems in Britain, France, and Germany.

M Eugene Smith (History Department) received a grant for summer travel to mainland China to visit historical sites and educational facilities.

Josephine S. Stearns (Child Development Department) received a grant for participation in a Comparison of Early Childhood Education Tour conducted this summer in Switzerland, Italy, Israel, Austria, and Czechoslovakia.

SYMPHONIC BAND PROGRAM WILL INCLUDE NUMBERS BY SMALLER GROUPS

Numbers by two smaller groups will be included in the concert of the Cal Poly Symphonic Band on Saturday (May 20) evening, according to a program for the event announced this week by William V. Johnson (Music Department). The newly-formed Woodwind Quintet and the Studio Band are both scheduled to join the 85-piece Symphonic Band for the performance which is planned for 8 p.m. in the Chumash Auditorium of the Julian A. McPhee College Union.

The two smaller groups, both composed of members of the larger ensemble, will use such numbers as "One," "Reflections," "I'll Be There," "Get It On," and "Trois Pieces Breves" for woodwind quintet to add variety for what is already an attractive program, Johnson, who will conduct all three groups, said.

Programmed for the Symphonic Band, which returned recently from its annual concert tour, are "The Sinfonians Symphonic March" by Clifton Williams, Roger Nixon's "Reflections," Brent Heisinger's "Statement," "Finale from Symphony No. 1" by Sergeyevich Kalinnikov, "Concertino for Tuba and Band" by Frank Bencriscutto, and Alfred Reed's "Russian Christmas Music."

General admission tickets for Saturday evening's concert are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students and children. They are being sold in advance at Premier Music Company, Brown's Music Store, and Ogden's Stationers, all in San Luis Obispo; at the College Union Information Desk on campus; and by members of the Symphonic Band. The tickets will also be sold at the door on Saturday evening.

LECTURES BY UFOLOGIST STANTON FRIEDMAN PLANNED ON THURSDAY

"Flying Saucers Are Real" will be the topic of illustrated lectures to be given by nuclear physicist Stanton T. Friedman on Thursday (May 18). Sponsored by the Speakers Forum Committee of the Associated Students, Inc., Friedman's lecture will deal with data from scientific UFO studies, misconceptions about UFO's, the feasibility of travel to the stars, and the arguments of educated non-believers.

Friedman is convinced that the earth is being visited by controlled vehicles from places other than from the earth. His lectures will be illustrated with slides of UFO's sighted all over the world and will be followed by a question and answer session.

The public is invited to attend the lectures, which are planned for 3 and 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium of the Julian A. McPhee College Union. Admission for the evening program will be 75 cents for students and $1.25 for all others. The afternoon program will be free.

Fuad H. Tellew (Head of the Economics Department) as campus representative of the California State University and Colleges International Programs, is the recipient of a grant for summer travel to the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Denmark, and Sweden. He is scheduled to visit educational and living facilities, as well as to discuss student programs with faculty and school administrators.

NEW OPTIONS ADDED TO AVAILABLE MEAL PLANS FOR STUDENTS

A third option will be added to the Cal Poly Food Services meal tickets program effective with the Summer Quarter, according to Al Amaral (Executive Director of the Cal Poly Foundation). Amaral said that over 80 percent of the students residing on campus now purchase tickets, and that the third option is expected to appeal to these and to other students.

For 1972-73, the three meal ticket plans will be: 1) 19-meal plan (which provides the lowest cost per meal) at $250 per quarter or $675 if prepaid annually; 2) the 12-meal plan, which is the most popular plan and costs $180 per quarter; and 3) the new 15-meal plan, which costs $225 per quarter or $625 prepaid annually.

The 19-meal plan provides for 609 meals per year at a cost of $1.23 per meal or $1.11 per meal on the annual prepayment basis, which saves the student $75, compared to quarterly rates. This plan is currently in effect.

Also currently in effect, the 12-meal per week program provides 125 meals per quarter at a cost of $1.41 per meal. Amaral said 65 percent of Cal Poly's students use this plan, which enables them to select any 12 of the 19 meals over each week.

The new option provides for a selection of 15 of the 19 meals per week, or 160 meals per quarter at a cost of $1.40 per meal, or 480 meals per year at a cost of $1.30 per meal, a saving of $50 over the quarterly rate.

SOME TICKETS FOR LIPIZZAN SHOW STILL AVAILABLE

Tickets are going fast for the appearance of the Lipizzan Stallions in Mustang Stadium at 8:15 tonight (Tuesday, May 16) but those in the $3 and $4 range are still available. The performance of the world-famous stallions is sponsored by the student council of the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Cal Poly. The public is invited.

Tickets are available from the Associated Students, Inc., business office in the Julian A. McPhee College Union. The ticket price range is based on the location within the stadium grandstand. All of the $5 and $6 reserved seats have been sold. Children 12 or under and college students with identification can obtain tickets at half price.

TALK BY WILLIAM LEAR POSTPONED

The appearance of William P. Lear at Cal Poly, which had been scheduled for last Thursday (May 11) morning, was postponed last week until a date to be announced later. Don M. Morris (Associate Dean, Continuing Education), secretary of the College Convocation Series Committee, said word of the postponement came from Lear's office in Reno.

The inventor-designer's office notified the college that unforeseen difficulties involved with completion of a film documentary on his life caused the postponement. Dr. Morris said another mutually-agreeable date for the Convocation Series presentation will be announced later.

The final examination period for the 1972 Spring Quarter will begin on Tuesday, June 6, and continue through Friday, June 9.

CANDIDATES BEING SOUGHT FOR ARCHITECTURE, ENVIRONMENTAL DESIGN POSITIONS

Candidates for teaching positions on the faculty are presently being sought by the School of Architecture and Environmental Design, according to L. R. Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about the positions, or in applying for them, are invited to contact George J. Hasslein (Dean of Architecture and Environmental Design). Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action employer. A brief description of the available positions read:

Instructors, ($777-$1253), School of Architecture and Environmental Design (Nine Positions). Duties and responsibilities include the areas of architecture, architectural engineering, city and regional planning, construction engineering, or landscape architecture. Applicants should be prepared to submit a brochure of original work for review, must possess a master's degree, and have office or field experience. Prefer candidates with California registration and teaching experience. Minority group members and women are encouraged to apply. Positions are for 1972-73 academic year.

RETIREMENT SEMINAR WILL BE FRIDAY EVENING

Region XVII of the California State Employees Association is the sponsor of a Retirement Seminar to be held in the Staff Dining Room on Friday (May 19) at 7:30 p.m. for all state and other public employees who expect to retire under the Public Employees Retirement System within the next five years.

Representatives from Social Security, Internal Revenue Service, San Luis Obispo Chapter of the Retired Public Employees Association, and California State Employees Association will make presentations and will be available for a subsequent question-and-answer period.

The program will be repeated on Saturday (May 20) at 9:30 a.m. for those that are not able to attend on Friday evening.

Amaral said that providing an additional option is also important in view of the economics faced by students and by Food Services.

The three prices represent about a 9 percent increase over the current year's costs, although there has been a 16.5 percent increase in food costs experienced since September, 1971, and a 6 percent increase is anticipated during the next year. Other cost increases anticipated by Food Services are for labor (8 percent) and for operating costs (8 percent).

Amaral noted that in addition to the 12-meal and 19-meal plans, an a la carte food service will be available in the campus snack bar through the Summer Quarter, and in the new Vista Grande Dining Room beginning with the Winter Quarter.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, May 19, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.

MEXICO TRAVELERS BEING SOUGHT BY PROJECT NINITOS

The aid of members of the college faculty and staff who may be planning to drive into Mexico during this summer is being sought by Project Ninitos, a program of the newly-coded Student-Community Services organization of the Associated Students, Inc. Randy Donant (Student Affairs Trainee) said persons who will be traveling into the Guadalajara region and are willing to deliver school supplies for children in that area are particularly needed.

Project Ninitos is organizing a campaign to collect such materials as pens, pencils, colored pencils, crayons, paper, and rulers. The plans being devised by Tony Valenzuela and John Anderson, student coordinators for the project, calls for bins to collect such supplies to be located in locations throughout the campus from May 30 through June 10.

Anyone interested in learning more about Project Ninitos, which was originated by Mr. and Mrs. John Reese of Santa Maria, or in volunteering their assistance in transporting materials to Guadalajara, is invited to contact Donant, who is advisor to the Student Community Services organization, by telephoning 546-2476.

PROMINENT ARCHITECT WILL SPEAK ON THURSDAY

Mario Ciampi of San Francisco, a prominent architect, will give a free, public lecture concerning two of his latest design projects on Thursday (May 18) at 8 p.m., at Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo. The lecture will be held in the Architecture Gallery of the Engineering West Building on campus, according to Jan Lubicz-Nycz (School of Architecture and Environmental Design). Admission will be free and the public is invited to attend.

A fellow of the American Institute of Architects, Ciampi is the author and designer of a number of facilities, including San Francisco's Market Street Plan and the Berkeley Art Center Museum, which he will discuss on Thursday. Ciampi is scheduled to spend two days at Cal Poly.

Beside his public lecture, he is scheduled to visit informally with students and faculty and act as judge for urban design projects of fourth-year students.

SPRING FLING TICKETS STILL ON SALE

Bob Adams (Chief of Plant Operations), chairman for the Cal Poly Staff Club Spring Fling on Saturday, May 27, still has tickets for the annual event. The ticket price of $3 for Staff Club members and $4 for non-members faculty and staff includes a steak barbeque and fishing, horseshoes, and other outdoor activities.

Tickets are also being sold by Staff Club representatives in various academic and service departments throughout the campus. The scene this year will be White Oaks Flat at Santa Margarita Lake. Those taking their cars will be reimbursed the $1 entry fee on presentation of their entry ticket to Robert Baldridge (Theater Manager), co-chairman for the event. Spring Fling is the traditional stag outing of the Staff Club.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, May 19, in the Office of Information Services, Administration 210.

SPEAKERS FORUM SLATES SERIES ON ABORTION

The Associated Students Speakers Forum Committee will present a three-week seminar called Project X concerning moral and legal aspects on abortion. The seminars at Cal Poly are designed to clear up misconceptions and to encourage a humane understanding of abortion and its implications.

The series began yesterday (Monday, May 15) with a discussion of the Project X series on Radio Station KSLY's "What's On Your Mind" show and will continue with three forums, two of which are free, at 8:30 p.m. on succeeding Tuesdays in Room 220 of the Julian A. McPhee College Union at Cal Poly.

Tonight (Tuesday, May 16), the moral question of killing an unborn child will be discussed by Stanislaus Dundon and Arthur Bethel (both Philosophy Department) and Shirley Burns, an associate psychologist at the San Luis Obispo Mental Health Clinic.

Next Tuesday (May 23), Dr. Billy Mounts (Director of Health Services), Mary Williams of the San Luis Obispo County Welfare Department, and a representative of the San Luis Obispo medical profession, will discuss medical and legal aspects of abortion.

At the final forum on Tuesday, May 30, for which a 25-cent donation will be accepted, Laurel Kelly, citywide co-ordinator of Los Angeles Women's Abortion Committee, will discuss the national picture on abortion laws.

VACANCIES ON SUPPORT STAFF ANNOUNCED BY PERSONNEL OFFICER

Two vacancies on the support staff of the college have been announced by S. Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). Descriptions of these positions and other vacancies are posted on the bulletin board outside the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236. Those interested in applying for any of the positions should contact the Personnel Office to obtain an application. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action employer. The positions are:

Senior Secretary ($619-$753), Dean's Office, School of Human Development and Education. Duties and responsibilities include serving as secretary to the dean and receptionist for the school, assisting and directing students, coordinating relations with seven departments and assisting in training of department secretaries. Applicants must be high school graduates with at least three years of experience in general clerical work, typing, or stenography with at least one year of the experience in a position equivalent in level and kind to secretary and preferably in an institution of higher learning.

Head Resident I ($556-$676), Housing Department, Student Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include general supervision of the hall as a live-in staff member, advising students, training and advising resident managers, assisting with custodial and maintenance, and participating in staff meetings and hall activities. Applicants may be single or married, have no children, and have the equivalent to graduation from college and two years of full time paid experience as head resident, or counselor in the organization and leadership of group activities with students of at least high school age.

Monday, June 5, will be the last day of classes for the 1972 Spring Quarter, according to the 1971-72 Academic Calendar.

REGIONAL N I R A TITLES SWEEP BY CAL POLY COWBOYS

Cal Poly's men's rodeo team made a clean sweep of the individual championships in the Western Regional competition of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association for the 1971-72 season, according to William R. Gibford (Animal Science Department) who coaches both the men's and the women's teams.

The regional championships are determined by the total scores accumulated during the season. In the 10 rodeos held this season, the Cal Poly Men's team earned 5,545 points. Runnerup Hartnell College of Salinas totaled 3,395 points and third-place Central Arizona College of Coolidge, Ariz., had 1,450.

The Cal Poly men's team won every meet it entered this year but one. Cal Poly riders also captured all of the six regional individual championships settled during the season. Tom Ferguson, a junior agricultural business management major, won the all around title handily and also won the individual titles in steer wrestling, calf roping, and ribbon roping.

Freshman Lee Rosser, an animal science major whose father, Cotton, was a member of the Cal Poly team in 1951, won the regional championship in saddle bronc riding and Dave Clark, a junior majoring also in animal science, won the regional crown in bareback bronc riding, and in bull riding.

Gibford says this is the first time in his memory that one college has held all of the individual regional championships. He has been associated with NIRA affairs since organization of the national organization in 1949, first as a student rodeo performer for Cal Poly and since 1956, as coach of the Cal Poly team.

The Cal Poly Men's team will begin defense of the national NIRA championship it has won the past two years in Bozeman, Mont., on June 20. The individual and team titles are decided solely on performances during the week-long national championship event at Montana State University.

Cal Poly's women's rodeo team, which finished second in final standings for the regional championship, will also enter the NIRA national championship finals in Bozeman.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE WILL BE TOPIC FOR A C M MEETING

Robert Anderson of Rand Corporation will discuss "Artificial Intelligence and Image Processing" at the meeting of the campus student chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery in SciN-201 at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday (May 18). James Sturch, a computer science major who is chairman for the program, said interested members of the college faculty, staff, and student body are invited to hear Dr. Anderson's talk.

FACULTY, STAFF INVITED TO HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT EVENT

Faculty and staff are invited to make reservations before 10 a.m. tomorrow (Wednesday, May 17) for the Hors d'Oeuvres Buffet being sponsored by the Meals for Special Occasions class of the Home Economics Department. Cost for the unusual event, which will take place in Poly House starting at 2 p.m., will be $2.25 per person. Reservations will be limited to 25. The telephone number to call for reservations is 546-2031.

DANCE CONCERT SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY EVENING

Students from Cal Poly, Cuesta College, and Righetti High School in Santa Maria will join for "An Evening of Dance" in the Cal Poly Theater on Friday (May 19) at 8 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association.

Choreographed by over 100 students, the dances will include American folk, Afro-Haitian, social, and modern dance. Themes of the dances will include ecology, daily American life, wild animals, fantasy, and jazz.

General admission tickets for the concert are $1 each and may be purchased from Premier Music Company and Brown's Music Store in San Luis Obispo, the College Union Information Desk at Cal Poly, and members of the cast for the concert.

CHILD EDUCATION CONFERENCE SCHEDULED ON SATURDAY

The spring conference of the Tri-Counties Association for the Education of Young Children will be held Saturday (May 20) from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Julian A. McPhee College Union.

The opening theme for the event, "Discipline of the Young Child," will be set by Thelma Harms, director of the Harold E. Jones Child Study Center Institute of Human Development at the University of California at Berkeley.

Several smaller groups will offer chances to learn more about the developmental opportunities a child experiences during his growing years. Tours of the three nursery schools operated by Cal Poly's Child Development Department, which is hosting the TCAEYC conference, will follow.

Also planned are discussions to be led by Hank Gallina, coordinator of curriculum for the Lompoc Unified School District, and Robert Ponce, a consultant for the Ventura County Schools and a member of the Task Force on Early Childhood Education.

DEATH OF EMERITUS MEMBER OF COLLEGE FACULTY NOTED ON CAMPUS

The death of Frederick M. Essig, an emeritus member of the Cal Poly faculty who retired in 1963, was noted by the campus community last week. Word received from the wife of Dr. Essig, indicated that he succumbed in a San Diego area hospital on May 7 following an lengthy illness.

Internment at a mortuary in San Diego followed a memorial service held on May 11. Dr. Essig joined the college faculty in 1946 and served on the faculty of the Biological Sciences Department until his retirement.

FINALE OF 1971-72 SEASON SCHEDULED FOR CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

The final concert appearance of the 1971-72 music season for the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra has been scheduled for the evening of Friday, May 26. The performance which will take place in the Cal Poly theater starting at 8:30 p.m., will be free and the public is invited to attend. Clifton E. Swanson (Music Department) will be the conductor.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Richard C. Carlston (Welding and Metallurgical Engineering Department) presented a seminar on "The Chemistry of Transition Metal Chalcogenides" in mid-April for the Materials Science Department at University of Southern California. His talk described the properties of several metal oxide and sulfide minerals. Dr. Carlston has also been listed in the fourth edition of the World Directory of Crystallographers, which was published recently by the International Union of Crystallographers.

Irving P. Babow (Social Sciences Department) has been informed that his article titled "Academic Fraud" has been accepted for publication by New Society, a leading journal of sociology published in Great Britain. Dr. Babow's paper on college students, responses concerning commercially-prepared term papers provides insights into the social values of college youths and the ways in which they reconcile contradictory values.

A third-year architecture student at Cal Poly is a $1,000 honorable mention award recipient in the 1972 Reynolds Aluminum Prize for Architectural Students competition. Michael L. Tellian, 24, submitted his award winning design for a mobile exhibition pavilion which can be used as a travelling showcase for aluminum products. The American Institute of Architects, which administers the Reynolds' program, said Tellian's entry was among those from 37 participating schools of architecture from across the nation.

Frank J. Hendel (Aeronautical Engineering Department) was the guest speaker for the dinner meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers held on May 11 in Santa Maria. The subject of Dr. Hendel's talk was "Space Shuttle and Its Propellants." It also included a discussion of the Skylab, Space Station, and Space Tug programs.

Keith S. Stowe (Physics Department) is a co-author of a paper titled "High Energy Multiparticle Reactions," which was published in the April, 1972, issue of Reviews of Modern Physics. As is common with high-energy physicists, Dr. Stowe works in a research group. Led by William F. Frazer of University of California at San Diego, the group authors considered the present state of hadronic particle interactions and organized the paper around a review of the experimental information and theoretical models for those reactions.

Loren L. Nicholson (Journalism Department) addressed the May 9 meeting of the Second-Milers Club of Paso Robles. His topic was "Developing Mass Communications in the Independent Countries of Africa." Nicholson, a member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1956, studied mass communications developments throughout Africa and Europe while on sabbatical leave in 1970.

"Wage Rates and Housing Prices," an article which initially appeared in Industrial Relations magazine in February, 1971, over the byline of Sara Behman (Economics Department), has been reprinted in an AMS Press Anthology titled Housing, 1970-71. The anthology is the first issue of an annual compendium of periodical literature on housing edited by George Sternlieb, director of the Center for Urban Policy Research at Rutgers University. Dr. Behman has been a member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1971.

Keith E. Nielsen (Speech Department) has been notified that his paper of "Theater as a Communication Mode for the Study of Cultural Concepts in India" is to be published in the monthly index Research in Education, a Government Printing Office publication. The paper by Dr. Nielsen will be available from the ERIC Document Publication Service, either in microfilm or "hardcopy" form.

John Y. Hsu (Computer Science and Statistics Department) attended an Association for Computing Machinery-sponsored technical symposium on May 5 in Anaheim. Symposium sessions covered the future trend of computer hardware and software, data management systems, and systems performance measurement. Dr. Hsu has been a member of both ACM and the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers since 1968.

Walter E. Elliott and Robert H. Knapp (both Physics Department) presented papers during the spring meeting of the northern California Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers in Sacramento on April 23. Dr. Knapp outlined the Physics Department's response to requests from architecture students and faculty for a course to meet the needs of professional architects. Dr. Elliott reported on an experimental teaching mode currently employed by the Physics Department.

William M. Boyce (Business Administration Department) was the principal speaker at the Spring Meeting of the Investors Diversified Services, which took place at the Madonna Inn in San Luis Obispo on April 22. Boyce's subject was "Motivating Employees Through Enlightened Measurement."

Bianca Rosenthal (Foreign Language and Linguistics Department) is the new president of the Tri-Counties Foreign Language Teachers Association following the Spring Conference of that organization which took place on May 6 in the Julian A. McPhee College Union on campus. Other participants in the day-long program included Daniel Najera (also Foreign Language and Linguistics Department), who presided over the proceedings. Dr. Rosenthal was elected to serve the regional organization during 1972-73.

C S E A PROGRAM ON ANNUITIES SCHEDULED TOMORROW

O. H. Gentry of the Travelers Insurance Company, considered by many in the insurance industry to be an expert on the subject of tax sheltered annuities, will discuss that topic during the luncheon meeting of Cal Poly Chapter 97 of the California State Employees Association starting at 12 noon tomorrow (Wednesday, May 17) in the Staff Dining Room. Members of the college faculty and staff are invited to attend the meeting, last of the 1971-72 college year for Chapter 97, and hear Gentry's observations.

NEW RECORD ESTABLISHED BY MUSTANG VAULTER

Sophomore pole vaulter David Hamer established two new records when he cleared 17-0 during competition at the West Coast Relays in Fresno last Saturday (May 13) night. He set a new WCR college division record for the event and while he was at it became the first vaulter in Cal Poly history to clear that magic height.

Hamer, a physical education major, who has improved his marks by more than 12 inches since the start of the current season, is expected to lead the Cal Poly track and field team in its quest for the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship meet in Riverside this Friday and Saturday (May 19-20).

The 1972 Summer Quarter will open with registration on Saturday, July 1, and continue through the final examination period, Sept. 11-14. The first day of classes will be Monday, July 3.
