

SAC indignant at dean's threat

Archives

by TOM MARSHALL

The term paper controversy continued Wednesday night as Student Affairs Council (SAC) passed a motion calling for a retraction and clarification of a letter sent to the editor of Mustang Daily by the dean of communicative arts and humanities warning against the continuation of term paper advertisements.

The motion, introduced by Jim Benson from business and social science, passed up a roll call vote of 16-7.

Benson's motion "calls for public retraction of a letter to Kathleen Beasley dated October 25, 1972 from Dean Ericson and clarification of the intent of that letter."

Benson said: "I think he (Ericson) came on too strong."

Principles involved

Ericson's letter informs Miss Beasley that "disciplinary action will be taken against the principles involved: The Mustang Daily Editor, the Business Manager and those staff members who are directly involved with the procurement or processing of the advertisement," if the advertisement continues to appear in the newspaper.

Ericson's letter also says: "Action taken will be to invite you and whichever other students are involved to a disciplinary hearing. The result of the hearing could range from suspension to a formal letter of reprimand for aiding and abetting cheating which will be placed in your permanent student file."

Board directs

ASI Pres. Robin Baggett said: "The person who turns the term paper into plagiarism is guilty, not the person who advertises it."

Tony Santos, SAC representative to Publisher's Board said:

"The board directs what type of advertising goes in the paper." According to Santos, the newly elected Publisher's Board chairman, John Anderson, will talk to Dean Ericson about the letter.

Paul Simon, communicative arts and humanities representative, feels Ericson has overstepped his authority. "Dean Ericson has circumvented the authority of Publisher's Board," Simon said.

Ray Righetti from engineering and technology said: "Isn't it poor practice to continue something that will become illegal? He (Ericson) is perfectly justified in what he has done. He is the dean of that school."

In a related action, SAC decided by voice vote to take no action on Righetti's term paper resolution, which was introduced last week.

According to Righetti, the resolution was withdrawn because he feels it is too late for it to be effective.

In other business, SAC members rejected the endorsement of Proposition 1, but voted to endorse Proposition 2 on the November ballot. Both (continued on page 3)

Benjamin Spock

Peace candidate Spock to rally support here

Dr. Benjamin Spock, the baby care expert turned peace activist, will speak on campus Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Spock's appearance is sponsored by the Students for New Action Politics, and the public is invited. The speech will be given in Chumash Auditorium. Admission will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for the general public.

Born in New Haven, Connecticut in 1903, Spock resided and schooled in the East. He did his undergraduate work at Yale and finished first in his class of and finished first in his class at Surgeons of Columbia University.

His first book, The Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care became a best seller and has only been outsold by the Bible.

Spock became active in peace and disarmament in 1960, and in 1963 he was chosen co-chairman of the National Committee For a Sane Nuclear Policy. In 1968, as a member of the Boston five he was convicted on charges of conspiring to council draft evaders and was sentenced to two years imprisonment. An appeals court later overturned the decision.

Since 1960, Spock has spoken at 200 university and college campuses on his concerns for peace. He has recently authored the book, Decent and Indecent: Our Personal and Political History.

Spock is again the Peace and Freedom candidate for the presidential election with Julian Hobson as his running mate.

Nine point plan may end war this month

by NORMAN KEMPSTER

Washington (UPI) — The United States announced Thursday that a Vietnam settlement could be signed "within a matter of weeks or less," ending the longest and one of the most agonizing wars in American history.

White House adviser Henry A. Kissinger said Hanoi had been asked to join in one, final negotiating session to resolve all remaining differences in the way of an immediate cease-fire and a total U.S. troop withdrawal and prisoner release within 60 days.

Radio Hanoi Thursday broadcast the following terms of a nine-point agreement it said had been reached between North Vietnam and the United States to end the Vietnam war:

1. The United States recognizes the independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity of Vietnam as recognized by the 1954 Geneva agreements.
2. A cease-fire in South Vietnam within 24 hours of the signing of a treaty. An end to U.S. bombing and mining of North Vietnam. Withdrawal of American troops and "foreign" allies from South Vietnam. A ban on foreign troops or advisers in South Vietnam, and on the introduction of new weapons except as exchange for those damaged.
3. Return of all prisoners of war, to be carried out simultaneously with U.S. troop withdrawal.
4. "Free and democratic" elections in South Vietnam under international supervision. The establishment of a three-part "National Council of National Reconciliation and Concord" coalition to oversee the cease-fire, demobilize armed forces and organize the election.
5. Reunification of Vietnam "step by step through peaceful means."
6. A four-party military commission of South Vietnam, the Viet Cong, North Vietnam and the United States. A two-party military commission of the Board bans term paper ads from publications

Mustang Daily will no longer run advertisements selling term papers under a new directive from Publishers Board.

The board took the action at the request of editor Kathleen Beasley during their Wednesday meeting. The directive restrains Mustang Daily and other campus publications from advertising the sale of term papers as defined in AB 230, a law which will take effect in March.

Neither the board's directive nor the new law will effect the sale of research materials that could not be turned in for class credit due to the format of the material, according to Miss Beasley.

The editor made her request to the board after she and several members of her staff received letters from Jon Ericson, Dean of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, which said that if the ads continued to appear the students involved would be disciplined.

"Our code says this board regulates advertising and therefore I've brought it to your attention because I think you should make a ruling on it," said Miss Beasley.

"I dislike being threatened when the action should come from this board, not from the dean of a school," she continued.

The letter from the dean read, in part, "This letter is to inform you that it is my judgement that such advertisements aid and abet cheating among students at this university.

"I am hopeful that no similar ads will appear in the Mustang Daily in the future... Nevertheless, I feel obliged to inform you in advance of the action that will be taken if any such ad does appear in the future.

"Action taken will be to invite you and whichever other students are involved to a disciplinary hearing. The result of the hearing could range from suspension to a formal letter of reprimand for aiding and abetting cheating which will be placed in your permanent student file.

"Again, I am sincerely hopeful that good taste and good judgement will make disciplinary action unnecessary."

Miss Beasley said that she had asked ASI lawyer Richard Carsel if selling term papers constituted aiding and abetting cheating as Ericson claimed.

She quoted Carsel as saying, "While it is clearly a violation to of the California code to cheat or plagiarize, it is not a crime to sell term papers. The crime is committed when a student makes an individual election to plagiarize."

Though it is a close legal question, Carsel said that in an analogous situation a person who sells a shotgun to a murderer is not held for conspiracy to commit murder because he supplied the weapon.

The board discussed sending a letter to Ericson, disapproving of his action, but instead decided to send chairman Johan Anderson to talk to him. Ericson was not present at the meeting, though he is a member of the board.

Sirhan 'did not fire the bullet'

Washington (UPI) — Lawyers for Sirhan B. Sirhan told the Supreme Court Wednesday "significant physical evidence" showed that Sirhan did not fire the bullet which killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

U.S. statement warns Thieu

Saigon (UPI) — Kissinger's statement that the U.S. will "not be deflected" from a Vietnam peace settlement that it believes right is seen by Saigon observers as a veiled threat to President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Allied officials said the earlier Hanoi broadcast is apparently an effort to pressure the U.S. into signing a treaty over the objections of Thieu. Thieu rejected two days ago a cease-fire and said he would never accept a coalition government—two conditions of the nine-point peace plan announced by Hanoi.

Yes on 19 committee present addict movies

If the marijuana controversy seems to be blown out of proportion nowadays, you should see what it was like in the '30s. In fact, you can see this Sunday.

The Yes on 19 Committee is sponsoring a film festival consisting of four films depicting the exaggerated dangers of Marijuana. The humor is anything but cut and dried. Ranging from "Reefer Madness," the feature, to "Sinister Harvest" and "Vincent Price's 1st Opium Trip," the films portray marijuana "addicts" crazed on the devil weed, leaping out of windows and turning into Mr. Hyde's.

The complete shows are scheduled for 6:30, 8:30, and 10:30 p.m. on Sunday at the Veteran's Memorial Building on Grand Ave., with an admission fee of $1.

LETTERS

Three cheers for his efforts

Editor:

Because I criticized the cheerleader, I feel in all fairness, I should also now congratulate him on his efforts the past three weeks.

He is doing a fine job and I feel getting better cooperation from the rooters.

Hoping he continues for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. Ed. Thomas

To him 'homosexuality is not the "in" thing'

Editor:

A recent letter to the editor of the Mustang Daily encouraged everyone to support the formation of the Gay Student Union. After thinking about the issue and putting off writing for several days, I can no longer remain silent. I am totally against the formation of the GSU and I just cannot buy their arguments.

Though, it may offend some, I think to stand back and not get involved is to in effect support the GSU. Therefore, I firmly believe that homosexuality is not the "in" thing and not the result of a different body make-up or natural desire.

The apostle, Paul, summed up the issue quite effectively over 1900 years ago in his letter to the Romans saying, "And the men instead of having a NORMAL sex-relationship with women, burned with lust for each other, men doing shameful things with other men and, as a result getting paid within their own souls with the penalty they so richly deserved." (Living Bible) My vote is against GSU. How about yours?

Peace negotiations...

 Viet Cong and South Vietnam. The setting up of an international commission with unstated duties, apparently to oversee the cease-fire. The convening within 30 days of an international "guarantee conference."

7. Mutual respect for the national rights of Cambodia and Laos. Non-interference in the affairs of these two countries and the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Cambodia and Laos. Cambodia and Laos must settle their own internal affairs.

8. The establishment of a "new, equal and mutually beneficial relationship between the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam and the United States." The United States will help in postwar reconstruction in North Vietnam and "throughout Indochina."

9. The treaty is effective on signing, and will be "strictly implemented" by all parties. Two schedules leading to the signing of the treaty are listed — the first proposed by North Vietnam, which would have halted bombing Oct. 18 and had the treaty signed in Paris Oct. 26. The second, requested by the United States, would halt bombing Oct. 22 and have the treaty signed Oct. 30.

Dates are in the Western Hemisphere. Because of the international date line, they would be one day later in Vietnam.

Vietnamese accuse the US

Paris (UPI)—The Vietnamese Communists accused the United States Thursday of delaying on its pledge to sign a secretly negotiated peace agreement and warned that it must be signed in Paris Oct. 31 at the latest.

Senator wants prompt signing

Detroit (UPI) — Sen. George B. McGovern said Thursday he hoped the reported agreement to end the Vietnam war can be concluded promptly, and asked the White House to fill him in on the secret negotiations.

"I hope there is no holding back on the part of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu or anyone else and that we can move to get the war over," he said.

SAC decisions..

 propositions will have an effect on college students in California.

Proposition 1 provides for a bond issue of $160,000,000 to provide public community college facilities. Endorsement of the resolution failed 9-12 with one abstention due to lack of information on the proposition.

Proposition 2, which provides for a bond issue of $155,900,000 to provide health service facilities and train health care personnel, was endorsed by SAC 11-9 with two abstentions.

SAC also heard a Catch 22 progress report from Jim Benson. According to Benson, things are moving, but not fast enough. An attempt is still being made to find permanent office space for the project. A training program will be instituted to teach volunteer workers how to work with the complex filing system. Benson said: "We have about 300 hours of work to do before the end of the quarter deadline. The more people who volunteer, the more we can get done."

Pool parking
 SAC also passed a motion proposed by Ron Martinelli, human development and education representative, requesting a letter be sent to James Landreth, director of business affairs, asking for the posting of a sign stating the qualifications for pool parking.

Tiny Lester recommended notifying students at registration about the qualifications.

Lester said: "They ought to be able to include this on the garbage they put out at registration."

In a final business item, SAC decided to send volunteer council members to each of the seven campus board meetings each week to observe and educate themselves about the boards' budgeting practices. Such information will be valuable when determining budget allocations in the spring.

The Mustangs travel to Reno this weekend for a 1 p.m. game with the University of Nevada Reno Wolf Pack Saturday. Joe Harper is not taking the game lightly and explained why: "Reno is 3-3. The three games they lost were on the road and the three games they won were at home. They're playing us at home."

The three Reno wins this season came against San Francisco State, Portland State and Santa Clara. They were defeated by Cal State Fullerton, Sacramento State and Boise State (36-19).

The last time the Mustangs faced Reno was in 1970, when the Wolf Pack was defeated here 35-0.
