Brian Ceernal, architecture student, is given first aid by two passing students after he was injured in a bicycle accident Monday morning. Ceernal was riding on Campus Way when his bike collided with one ridden by Ralph Sandborn, biology major, in front of the cafeteria. Ceernal was taken to the Campus Medical Center where he was treated for a large cut on his left eyebrow. He is being held for observation. Sandborn was treated for minor injuries.

Feminist talks Thursday night about liberation

A multi-talented woman who manages to be a successful generalist in a specialized world will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday in Chumash Auditorium.

A mother and artist, the founder of the Joyful World Press and also a member of the National Organization for Women (NOW), Shirley Boccia will speak on "Sex-Role Stereotypes vs. Human Liberation."

A dedicated proponent of "personhood" and the freedom of choice with respect to various life-styles, she claims that the expansion of acceptable options for women is the key to the liberation of men.

The speaker is sponsored by the Speaker's Forum Committee. Admission will be free and the public is invited to attend.

Visiting school will perform symphony here

The Elgin High School Symphony Orchestra will perform at 11 a.m. today in Chumash Auditorium. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The Elgin, Ill., group, directed by John Higgins, will be here as part of an Easter holiday performance in Southern California. In the past they have performed under the direction of Arthur Fiedler of the Boston Pops, played with Skitch Henderson and toured Austria and Germany.

New Community center approved by Chamber

by JUDITH SHERARD

The general concept of a community center to play host to the performing and fine arts, civic functions, conventions and trade shows was endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors April 13.

The proposed structure's main building would contain seating for approximately 1800 people, and according to the Chamber, would be conveniently located, "but outside the San Luis Obispo city limits."

In their statement, the Chamber board said, "A community center that would include the necessary facilities for conventions is one of the most urgently needed civic facilities." The board also stated that such a facility would allow the city to attract several small conventions each year, whose delegates create "generous economic benefits for the city without undue strain on resources."

The plans for such a community center were presented to the Chamber of Commerce by Jack Fabbri, the business and financial consultant for the Civic and Fine Arts Association. According to Fabbri, the concept of the center includes a long-range program of construction to eventually encompass the various functions.

Although the discussions with city and county officials and other entities are more formalized than in the last several years, Fabbri stated that the negotiations were in the exploratory stages only, with no definite plans as to the site or construction. Fabbri said, "This is not to say that a decision will not be made after the April 17 election," but there is nothing decided at this point.

Cuesta College officials have been approached as to the feasibility of coordinating use of a proposed auditorium at the community college for both college and community civic activities. Dr. Merlin Eisenbise, president of Cuesta College, stated that he had met with Fabbri to discuss the plans for the auditorium. Eisenbise said that he was not aware of any

Chopper gun demonstration at Poly Royal

The Industrial Technology Society will offer Poly Royal visitors a change of pace this year. Wary walkers can sit and watch hull construction for an El Toro Sailboat to be given away at the close of the weekend's activities.

According to Dan Knowlton, director of the display, the highlight will be the chopper gun, an instrument used in spraying fiberglass. Knowlton said that very few people have ever seen the chopper gun in operation, and "most people don't know what it is." There will be demonstrations at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. both Friday and Saturday.

A drawing for the new boat will be held Saturday, April 28, at 1:00 p.m. in Engineering West Rm. 122. Tickets for the drawing are available at the I.T. office or through any I.T. Society member.

Review board on SAC slate

A resolution to abolish the administration's Review Board will be presented to Student Affairs Council for endorsement tonight.

In a memorandum to Pres. Robert E. Kennedy, ASI Pres. Robin Baggett and Vice Pres. Danny Johnson questioned the authority of the administration to override the will of the students.

'Will to power' subject of talk at college hour

Dr. Bianca Rosenthal will discuss the impact of German philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche on Western thought at 11 a.m. Thursday in Room 230 of the Union.

A faculty member of this university's Foreign Language Department, Dr. Rosenthal will analyze Nietzsche as a recreator of values for society.

Nietzsche (1844-1900), in the course of his psychological observations, concluded that all human behavior can be reduced to a single basic drive, the will to power. According to Nietzsche's essay "Zarathustra," man wants to perfect himself, to become a creator rather than a mere creature.

In his "Zarathustra's Prologue" Nietzsche insists that the Christian religion and morality inhibits man's creative spirit and forces man to become an uncreative conformist depending on the afterworld for his work motivation.

Dr. Rosenthal, before joining this school's faculty, was a high school teacher in the state of Washington and a research assistant at the University of Washington where she earned three degrees. She completed study for her doctor of philosophy degree there in 1970.

Presented as part of the "Arts and Humanities 1973-73" series sponsored by this university's School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, the program will be free and open to the public.

Schwartz re-elected, Graham, Norris seated

Kenneth Schwartz has been re-elected mayor of San Luis Obispo.

The results officially stack up as follows: Kenneth Schwartz-4887 votes, Bob Machado-2410 votes.

Filling the two city council seats will be incumbent mayor Graham-2270 votes, and Jess Norris-2253 votes. They are followed by John Kerr-2146, Val

"The Associated Students, Inc. . . has established a Films Committee for the purpose of providing an annual film series for the students of the campus," the letter said. "The ASI has voluntarily submitted to allow this committee to organize and to select a wide variety of films for the students.

"Any decisions made by Films Committee are final, due to the delegation of authority by the ASI. Thus there is no room for a provision to override the will of the students."

The resolution, which is expected to be moved to a business item tonight and acted upon, reads in part:

"Whereas, the administration has no right to set up any procedure or policy which would inhibit the authority and freedom of the ASI; and,

"Whereas, a Review Board has been established by Administrative Bulletin 66-9 . . . to censor film selections of the ASI Films Committee; therefore be it

"Resolved, that the Student Affairs Council of the Associated Students, Inc. strongly recommends the repeal of Administrative Bulletin 66-9 and the abolishment of any and all Review Boards.

Baggett said he and Johnson proposed the resolution because they believed the review board shouldn't exist. Baggett, one of four students on the board, was one of the three students who voted against having the movie on campus.

"I shouldn't have voted no. It was a mistake," Baggett said. "I was caught in the circumstances. A vast majority of the students wouldn't have wanted to see a movie of that type, I'm convinced, and it was my duty to represent the students. But the board should not have even existed.

"No group has authority to censor films, and the film in this case is not the issue," he said.

SAC will meet at 7:15 p.m. in Union 230.

Endres-2786, Ray Hauser-1188, Norm Stone-461, and Ken Blive, though officially withdrawn from the race, 97 votes.

Measure A, changing the residency requirements of mayor and city council members from three years to one year is defeated, No-1408, Yes-823.

Measure B, approves 180 low-cost housing facilities in the city, Yes-1288, No-880.

Gift ideas due

Ideas for this year's senior class gift are now being accepted by the Senior Week Activities Committee (SWAC).

In the past, senior classes have given everything from school highway signs, library benches, portable public address systems Head Start money and contributions to last year's bronze university marker in front of the administration building.

This year's suggestions should be placed in box 40 in the activities office of the University Union. Senior Gift Chairman Kurt Hoffmann advises students to submit their ideas by May 9.

Early worship Easter Sunday on this campus

An inter-denominational sunrise service will be held in the University Union at 8 a.m. Easter Sunday morning.

The contemporary service will include singing and a message by Dr. Mark Hanna of the Philosophy Department of the university. All students are invited to participate in this service.

Chamber of Commerce approves new center . . .

plans to include convention facilities in the proposed auditorium-civic center building.

With regards to such facilities, Eisenbise stated that conventions would entail several things that are not allowed on community college campuses. He said that he would have to give "a categorical no" to any plans for a convention center at Cuesta College.

Dr. B. Robert Bryant, a member of the governing board of Cuesta College, stated two other problems facing a civic center plan such as the one endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce. Assuming the construction of such a facility for the college being financed in part by county funds, Bryant stated that he could see possible conflict in using county tax money for a convention center for the benefit of the city of San Luis Obispo alone.

The use of a college facility for conventions could also present problems between the educational purposes of the college and the economic benefits (continued on page 4)

Mark Almond

The jazz-rock duo of Jon Mark and Johnny Almond will perform in the Men's Gym, Saturday, April 20 at 8 p.m.

The two first played together on the John Mayall album "Turning Point." Mayall has been noted for discovering and playing with some of the finest jazz and rock musicians performing today. The band which played on the "Turning Point" album is a good example. Mark and Almond found a common musical ground which has since expanded in the new band.

Before meeting Mayall, Mark had worked with Marianne Faithful and the Rolling Stones. He wrote many compositions for Miss Faithful as well as accompanying her on the road. Mark writes most of the music for the new group in addition to playing lead guitar and singing.

Johnny Almond, meanwhile, holds down the baritone, tenor, alto, and soprano saxophones, as well as bass, alto and concert flute and vibes. In the mid-60's, he established himself as one of England's top session men, playing with many of the top English bands that required a saxophone.

The remainder of the band consists of Dannie Richard on drums, Ken Craddock on keyboards, Colin Gibson playing bass and Geoff Condon on horns.

Moss Allison will be the extra added attraction, highlighting an evening of fine jazz and rock.

Reserved seats will be $3.00 for students and $4 for the public. General seating will be $1.00 for students and $2 for the public. Tickets may be purchased at Brown's Music Store, King and Queen Stereo, the University Union Information Desk and all the Stereo West outlets. The show is sponsored by the A.S.I. Concert Committee.

Women's Liberationist

Women's rights advocate, Shirley Boccardo, will speak Thursday, April 19, at 8 p.m. in Chumash Aud. The free presentation is entitled "Sex Role Stereotypes vs. Human Liberation."

Ms. Boccardo, who terms herself a "rational feminist" joined the National Organization of Women (NOW) two years ago as the result of "A deep feeling that women have to organize" before any ideas can be implemented. Her part in this is to help raise consciousness" to make people aware of the attitudes and issues concerned in the movement.

She is also involved in designing and writing books for young children. According to Ms. Boccardo, most characters in children literature are victims of sexism. She has written a nonsexist children's book "Penelope and the Mussels" which she calls "A Feminist Children's Book Dedicated to the Liberation of Children."

The Escape

Ever bumming around the U.U. with nothing to do? Do you want to go camping but lack a tent or stove? Do you want to find out where you can go for a day hike in the local area? Any of these questions is reason enough to visit the "Escape Route".

The Escape Route, (U.U. 104) is managed by students wanting to help other students find out what backpacking and the great outdoors is all about. Open weekdays from 10-11 it serves three important purposes. First it provides the student with outdoor equipment at super-reasonable rates so can get a feeling for the outdoors without spending a fortune. Secondly, the Escape Route has an extensive map and information center covering California and most of the northwest. Finally the ER is the trip planning center for Outings Committee, and info on any upcoming trip can be picked up here.

Chamber okays new auditorium for San Luis . . .

of holding such gatherings, Bryant said.
Two members of the Cuesta College Governing Board have been appointed to continue the discussions of an auditorium. Bryant said that meetings will begin in the first part of May. Pointing out an economic reality, Bryant stated that until concrete financial arrangements were made for the construction of an auditorium, "no plans are serious."
