The Baker Forum and President's Cabinet 2004

Participants at the 2004 President's Cabinet and Baker Forum Meeting participate in a roundtable discussion on improving science and mathematics education during the forum's second day April 3.

The 2004 Baker Forum

The April 2-3, 2004 Baker Forum brought together leaders from education, industry and government for conversation on the theme, "Expanding the Pathways to Science and Engineering Careers: Exploring the multiple roles that industry and higher education can play in support of Pre-School – 12th grade science and mathematics education."

William C. Harris, Director General, Science Foundation Ireland, delivered the 2004 Baker Forum Keynote Address, "Learn or Lose: U.S. Education Threatens Economic Prosperity."
