PLANS FOR FIRST ALUMNI SUMMER CONFERENCE ANNOUNCED

National authorities on political science, civil rights, science and industry, and international relations will be on campus July 7-10 to lead Cal Poly's first Alumni Summer Conference. Robert A. Scalapino of the University of California at Berkeley, an authority on Asian affairs, will give the opening address.

Other featured speakers during the conference will include Jackie Robinson, civil rights leader and former baseball great, who will talk on "Individual Rights in a Changing Society;" Norman H. Moore, long in top management of Litton Industries, who will lead consideration of science and industry; and Edward P. Morgan, veteran news analyst for American Broadcasting Company, who will open consideration of international affairs.

The alumni conference, Cal Poly's first venture in the area of continuing education, is being planned to serve alumni, parents of students, and friends of the college residing in the Central Coast area. It will open with a dinner and Dr. Scalapino's address Sunday, July 7, and continue through an afternoon session Wednesday, July 10. Interested persons may obtain detailed information and registration blanks by contacting Academic Vice President Dale W. Andrews, Room 415, Administration Building.

Each of the conference's major subjects, world affairs, science and industry, and civil rights, will be discussed first in an address by a major speaker, which will then be the subject of discussion groups and, second, in talks by Cal Poly faculty members and others. Four of these talks are scheduled each day and the program is so arranged that members of the conference may attend any two of their choice.

Special events on the program will include a message from President Robert E. Kennedy following the dinner July 8, and an illustrated lecture on Cal Poly's overseas programs presented by Howard West, acting director of international education, following the luncheon that day. Owen L. Servatius, head of the Business Administration Department, will present a review of "The Eric Hoffer Trilogy" at the luncheon July 9. Bernard C. Hogan, senior vice president, Wells-Fargo Bank, will present a talk on "A Check-less and Cash-less Society" following the July 10 luncheon.

The registration fee for the conference is $25.00. Meals to be served at the college dining hall also will cost $25.00

SATURDAY IS FINAL DAY FOR WITHDRAWAL FROM CLASSES

Noon Saturday (May 18) is the deadline for withdrawal from Spring Quarter classes by members of the student body, according to an announcement from Registrar F. Jerald Holley. Except for college-recognized emergencies, no withdrawals from a course will be permitted after that time.

STATUS REPORT ON CAMPUS CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS RELEASED

A concise document giving a brief description of the status of all campus capital outlay projects under construction and in planning stages in which faculty and staff members may have an interest has been released by Cal Poly's Facilities Planning Office. Copies of this report normally go to all faculty and support department and division heads as well as to the Faculty Reading Room of Dexter Memorial Library. Members of the faculty and staff who are interested in reading the report can obtain a copy from their respective department heads or by reviewing the copy on file in the Faculty Reading Room.

ADDITIONAL FACULTY, STAFF HOMES NEEDED FOR WEEK OF WELCOME

Thirty-five more homes are needed to host groups of 10 to 12 students during Week of Welcome in September. According to Dan Lawson, associate dean of students for student activities, 184 of 500 faculty and staff responded to the request for such homes which was sent out in March. Some 115 of that number were affirmative.

The Student Activities Office plan for the special hosting activity calls for a 30- to 60-minute informal session in the home of a faculty or staff family either Monday or Wednesday evening, September 16 or 18. Those who have not yet returned their post cards, or who wish to obtain further information, are invited to telephone the Student Activities Office, 546-2476.

REMINDER ON MEMORIAL DAY

A reminder that Memorial Day, May 30, will not be a college holiday this year as it has in the past was issued last week by the Personnel Department. Classes will be in session and members of the college faculty and staff will be expected to be on duty. Staff employees and certain instructional classes, such as B-10's and B-12's, who work on Memorial Day will be given credit for compensating time off at a later date. Questions concerning the matter can be directed to the Personnel Office, Room 110, Administration Building, or telephone 546-2236.

DEADLINE FOR PURCHASE OF TICKETS FOR DINNER-DANCE IS TODAY

Today (Tuesday, May 14) is the final day for purchasing tickets for the Cal Poly Staff Club's dinner-dance, which is scheduled for Friday (May 17) evening starting at 6:30 p.m. at Cassera's Restaurant, Morro Bay. Priced at $3.25 per person, tickets may be purchased from the individuals whose names were listed in the April 30 issue of "Staff Bulletin."

HOUSING FOR NEW FACULTY MEMBERS NEEDED

Housing is being sought for four new members of the Chemistry Department faculty who are expected to arrive in San Luis Obispo to establish their homes late this summer. Those who know of homes that will be available about that time are invited to contact Max Wills of that department's faculty by calling 546-2528.

DEADLINE FOR ARTICLES APPEARING IN NEXT WEEK'S STAFF BULLETIN IS FRIDAY NOON

COL. GREEN APPOINTED TO HEAD MILITARY SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Appointment of Col. Robert W. Green to the position of head of the Military Science Department and professor of military science, effective July 1, has been announced. He will replace Col. Elmer H. Bauer, a member of the college faculty since 1966, who will retire from active duty with the US Army June 30. President Robert E. Kennedy concurred in the appointment which came from the Department of Army through Headquarters, Sixth US Army, San Francisco.

The new head of the Military Science Department has been on the faculty of the National War College, Washington, D. C., since August, 1966. Prior to his present duties, he served in a variety of posts including those of battalion and brigade commander, secretary to the General Staff of the Fifth US Army, senior aide to the commander in chief of the US Army in Europe, and several roles with both the Army General School and the Department of Army General Staff.

In addition to having attended University of Maryland and George Washington University, from which he received his BS and MA degrees, respectively, Col. Green is a graduate of the Army's Cavalry and Armored Schools, the Army War College, the National War College, and the Command and General Staff Colleges.

CAL POLY STUDENT BODY INCLUDES 407 STUDENTS FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Four hundred and seven students from 67 foreign countries and territories are among students presently attending classes on campus, according to a recent report. Of that number, 63 citizens of Iran give that nation the largest representation of any single foreign nation among Cal Poly's student body. Other countries with large representations among the college students are Pakistan with 32; Hong Kong, 31; Republic of South Vietnam, 26; and Nigeria, 22.

One hundred and sixty-nine of the foreign students presently enrolled are pursuing courses of study in the School of Engineering. The School of Agriculture ranks second with 127 students among the five instructional schools, while the Schools of Architecture, Applied Arts, and Applied Sciences have enrollments of 44, 30, and 37, respectively.

SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED IN MEMORY OF FRANK V. DE BELLIS

San Francisco State College has established, and is seeking contributions to, the Frank V. de Bellis Memorial Scholarship for students majoring in music. The scholarship is in memory of Dr. Frank V. de Bellis (1898-1968), patron of the arts and founder and donor of the de Bellis Collection of the California State Colleges.

INFORMATION DESK FILES OF EMPLOYEE INFORMATION

It is to the advantage of members of the faculty and staff that the Information Desk located in the foyer of the Administration Building have an accurate record on all college employees. All faculty and staff should keep the Information Desk informed on changes of home address, title, name, telephone number, and campus address. It is important that departments see that this information is provided for new personnel who join their staffs or faculty.
