OWEN SERVATIUS NAMED GRAND MARSHALL FOR HOMECOMING PARADE

Owen L. Servatius will celebrate 21 years of service to Cal Poly by leading the 1968 Homecoming Parade through downtown San Luis Obispo Saturday (Oct. 26) morning. The student Homecoming Committee, which he served as faculty adviser for many years, has named him Grand Marshall for the traditional procession.

The head of the Business Administration Department joined the college staff as a supervising clerk in 1947 following his release from the U.S. Navy. He became a member of the faculty of that department in 1959 and assumed his current duties in 1966. Servatius, who is also secretary-treasurer of the Cal Poly Alumni Association, earned both his Bachelor of Science Degree in social sciences and his Master of Arts in Education Degree at Cal Poly.

The annual Homecoming Parade will feature floats created by campus organizations, college and high school bands, drill teams, Cal Poly Reserve Officers Training Corps units, and other groups. It will start at 10 a.m. at Johnson and Marsh Streets and continue through San Luis Obispo's business district.

Sixty-first Homecoming activities at Cal Poly will open with the annual Bonfire Pep Rally near the Men's Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday, Oct. 23). Results of the Homecoming Queen Election will be announced during that event. Five co-eds are contending for the title. They are Laurie Claudon of Burlingame; Maureen Harden, San Luis Obispo; Marilyn Lewis, Hanford; Linda McFadden, Santa Clara; and Debbie Rowland, Pacific Palisades.

A concert by popular recording artist Ray Charles, scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday (Oct. 24) in the Men's Gymnasium, will highlight Homecoming entertainment opportunities. Planned for Friday (Oct. 25) evening are students' work on their floats for the parade at various campus locations, an informal dance in the Men's Gymnasium, and a business meeting of the alumni association's Board of Directors at the Motel Inn in San Luis Obispo.

Focal point of 61st Homecoming activities will be the football game between Cal Poly's Mustangs and San Fernando Valley State College's Matadors Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in Mustang Stadium. Also planned for Saturday are the Queen Luncheon, which is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. in the Staff Dining Room, and the Alumni Banquet, which will take place, beginning at 6:30 p.m. that evening, at the Madonna Inn in San Luis Obispo.

Members of the college faculty and staff are invited to join in all phases of the Homecoming observance, but are particularly invited to attend the luncheon and banquet. Reservations for either meal may be made at the Alumni Office (546-2540, Adm-210) and are priced at $2.50 and $5.50 per person, respectively.

In addition to Servatius, a number of individual alumni and former students will be specially honored during the weekend activities. They include Alumnus of the Year Ronald D. Regan of Los Angeles, original members of the Collegians dance and stage band, and members of the 1938-39 Mustang football team.

WIDELY-KNOWN AUTHOR SCHEDULED FOR CAMPUS ADDRESS

Robert Hardy Andrews, an internationally-known writer and authority on Far East affairs, will be the speaker for a special public lecture on campus next Tuesday (Oct. 29) evening. The program, which is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Cal Poly Theater, will be jointly sponsored by the Journalism Department and Office of Special Programs.

A prolific writer, Andrews is the author of a number of books, including the current best-seller, A Lamp for India: The Story of Madame Pandit, as well as motion pictures, radio and television dramas, and articles published regularly in magazines, newspapers, and journals.

In addition to his biography of Madame Pandit, Andrews' published books include If I Had a Million, which became the basis for the television series "The Millionaire;" In the Morning, a historical novel of the American West; Burning Gold, a historical novel about medicine and piracy in Queen Ann's England; A Corner of Chicago, his memoirs of Chicago newspaper days; and Legend of a Lady, a satirical novel about radio and TV advertising. He has just completed work on a new book, The God with No-where to Go: The Dailai Lama Story, which will be a study of what he sees as a supranational Third Force in Asia. It is presently in production.

Andrews, who has gained information sources at all levels in countries on the periphery of Communist China, has just returned from India where he conducted research for a new book titled The Many Voices of the Taj Mahal. It is commissioned for publication next year. A veteran of more than 250,000 miles of travel since 1953, he is a member of the Los Angeles World Affairs Council; the National Council of the Direct Relief Foundation, an outgrowth of the work of the late Dr. Thomas Dooley in Asia; and the International Committee of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. He is also a founding member of the Writers Guild and Far East consultant to the International Writers Guild.

Andrews' appearance at Cal Poly is part of a statewide series of such programs being made possible through the Office of the Chancellor of the California State Colleges.

FACULTY, STAFF JOGGERS MEETING REGULARLY

Faculty and staff members who are interested in jogging are meeting at 7 a.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday morning to run on the athletic fields near the Men's Gymnasium, according to Dick Purcell (Physical Education), who points out that others who have not joined the group are still welcome. Dressing facilities and showers are available at that hour, as well as at 12 noon on the same days. Those who would like to receive a copy of a jogger's "manual" are invited to request one from Purcell.

N S F POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

Applications for postdoctoral fellowships available through the National Science Foundation must be submitted no later than Dec. 9, 1968. The normal stipend is $6500 with a $500 per dependent and travel allowance added. One hundred thirty of these fellowships will be awarded March 15, 1969, for study or work in the mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences and the history or philosophy of science. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Research and Development Office (546-2630, Adm-311).

PROPOSITION 3 GAINS BIPARTISAN SUPPORT

Proposition 3, the $250 million state construction bond issue for higher and public education, is gaining considerable bipartisan support. Among those whose endorsement of the proposal, which would provide some $15 million for construction of four major instructional buildings at Cal Poly, are U.S. Senate candidates Alan Cranston and Max Rafferty, Mayors Sam Yorty of Los Angeles and Joseph Alioto of San Francisco, Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, and Hugh M. Burns, speaker pro tem of the California Senate.

Organizational endorsements of Proposition 3 continue. Locally, both the Board of Directors of the Cal Poly Staff Club, the Cal Poly Alumni Association Board of Directors, and the student Agriculture Council of the School of Agriculture recorded resolutions of support last week. Throughout the state, the California Nurses Association, the Los Angeles City and County Chambers of Commerce, the California Council of the American Association of University Women, the California State Colleges Student Presidents' Association, and the Orange County Chamber of Commerce all have joined the growing list of groups which favor the proposition.

MEMBERS OF CAL POLY FACULTY LISTED IN DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARDS BOOK

Three members of the Cal Poly faculty are among the 64 members of the California State Colleges faculties who are listed in the publication Honored for Distinguished Teaching--1966-67 Faculty Awards, which has been published by the Office of the Chancellor. They are Robert W. Adamson, professor (principal vocational instructor), Industrial Engineering; Dr. William D. Curtis, associate professor (senior instructor), Education; and Dr. Kenneth G. Fuller, professor (principal instructor) Mathematical Sciences. Six hundred and fifty copies of the book have been received and are being distributed to the faculty.

SALE OF TICKETS FOR DINNER-DANCE BEGINS

Tickets for the dinner-dance, being planned for Nov. 15 by the Cal Poly Women's Club and the Cal Poly Staff Club, are now on sale, according to an announcement received from the sponsoring groups. They may be purchased from Dr. Russell Anderson (Animal Husbandry), Chester Bishop (Mechanical Engineering), George Davies (Admissions), Sharon Kerr (Physical Education), James Landreth (Business Management), James Neelands (Biological Sciences), R. Wallace Reynolds (Mechanical Engineering), and Dr. J. Barron Wiley (Education). Theme for the event, which will take place beginning at 7 p.m. at the San Luis Obispo Elks' Club, will be "Dansk Hostfest."

NEW CAMP ROBERTS COMMISSARY OPEN TO RETIRED MILITARY PERSONNEL

A new retail commissary at Camp Roberts will open Nov. 1 for service to authorized patrons, including members of the college faculty and staff who may have retired from military service. Scheduled operating hours for the new faculty will be 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

The Cal Poly Staff Bulletin is produced by the Office of Information Services, Administration 210. Material should be submitted in writing prior to noon on Friday.

"CLEANER AIR" EMPHASIS SCHEDULED THIS WEEK

Twentieth annual Cleaner Air Week, being observed this week (Oct. 20-26) nationally, is receiving attention on campus for the first time. Dr. Harold Cota (Environmental Engineering) and members of his department's student body are distributing information concerning means of preventing dirty air. Dr. Cota is an enthusiastic supporter of the Cleaner Air Week, which has been commended by President Lyndon B. Johnson and is sponsored by the national Air Pollution Control Association.

Campus students in environmental engineering may choose a concentration of courses which will qualify them for service in air pollution control. Cal Poly is the only college in the nation offering a four-year undergraduate degree curriculum in that subject at the present time. Dr. Cota, who points out that other such programs are being planned elsewhere, believes that, as information about the campus program in air pollution control becomes more widespread, a great many students preparing for careers in air pollution control will join the 18 now pursuing his department's concentration.

"TELEGRAM-TRIBUNE" REGISTERS APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 3

An editorial appearing in its edition of Oct. 17 voices approval of the San Luis Obispo County Telegram-Tribune for Proposition 3, the $250 million state construction bond proposal which will appear on the Nov. 5 General Election ballot. With its endorsement of the proposition, the San Luis Obispo newspaper became part of a growing number of newspapers throughout California that have recorded their approval of the measure.

"It would be a pity if public disenchantment and disgust with the actions of a minority of state college and university students resulted in the defeat of Proposition 3 in the general election Nov. 5," the local paper's editorial began. After listing the particulars of the proposed bond issue, it pointed out that, although such incidents as the Cleaver affair at the University of California and the student uprising at UC's Santa Barbara campus cause public displeasure, it should be remembered that most of the students on the university and state college campuses are there for one reason--to get the best education they can.

"More and more students want this education. It's going to take more and more buildings and equipment to accommodate them," the Telegram-Tribune article said before enumerating the importance of Proposition 3 to Cal Poly.

"This increase in college student enrollment is apparent in San Luis Obispo where early this month Cal Poly President Robert Kennedy announced that, temporarily at least, no more applications will be taken for enrollment in Poly's winter and spring quarters. This came after 9,628 students, more than 500 above the expected number, enrolled for the fall quarter. Cal Poly has a big stake in Proposition 3. If the bond issue passes, Poly's share would be $14.6 million, the largest amount earmarked for a state college. With this money available, Poly would be able to seek another $2.7 million in federal government matching funds," it added.

The San Luis Obispo newspaper, in stating its position, pointed out that responsible citizens should not become disgusted with the state's "fine system of higher education" because of the bad judgment of a few faculty members and the juvenile arrogance of a few students on the campus. "Those who realize the fine contribution from higher education in California will appreciate the need to keep buildings and equipment even with student enrollment. This is what Proposition 3 will do," it concluded.

EFFORT TO UPDATE LIST OF GRADUATES, FORMER STUDENTS CONTINUES

Cal Poly is enlisting the help of faculty and staff members willing to report on current addresses of graduates and former students in its continuing effort to keep its master list of alumni up-to-date. Information cards have been furnished to all department heads for use by faculty who have contacts with former students and graduates. The cards, designed to help locate some 10,000 Cal Poly alumni not included in the current master list, are also available to those wishing to receive them in the Alumni Office, Room 210, Administration Building. They should be returned to that office when completed.

Addresses resulting from such information are being incorporated into the master list, which now includes more than 12,000 names. Computerized and arranged according to zip codes, it is useful for departmental mailings, placement surveys and studies, and distribution of Cal Poly Today, a publication for graduates, former students, and friends of the college. Only new address information is being sought.

AFFLUENT STUDENTS SOUGHT FOR UNCLAIMED CHECKS

A substantial number of unclaimed checks on file in the Accounting Office (Adm-131) are due to be returned to Sacramento after Oct. 31 unless claimed. Donald S. Nelson (Director of Business Affairs) said the warrants, for wages earned prior to May 1, 1960, are mostly for student assistants. He asked faculty or staff members who may know any of the following to inform them that a check is being held:

J. B. Abbott, B. S. Anderson, E. T. Anderson, C. T. Barbata, D. L. Birkenseer, Jr., D. B. Bishop, M. H. Blaine, J. L. Bradley, M. B. Brickell, M. L. Brown, D. P. Butler, C. M. Caceres, S. J. Cassara, E. M. Castro, K. W. Coffland, B. A. Craver, C. A. Dahlgren, J. P. Deay, E. Devine, C. J. Eberhart, R. B. Enns, P. T. Foster, D. L. Francis, R. L. Franklin.

A. C. Glanville, W. R. Goenne, M. A. Hay, M. W. Hvass, K. R. Jones, A. J. Karim, M. M. Kidd, T. L. Koprowski, C. R. Kregger, C. R. Kuhl, N. H. Ledford, J. E. Leonard, R. V. Lestrangle, G. R. Lonborg, R. D. McCray, J. L. Mendoza, M. E. Mersman, G. L. Meyring, D. W. Miller, L. J. Mills, J. M. Miske, K. E. Murphy, P. D. Obrien, R. D. Olney.

D. P. Ostrom, H. J. Page, Jr., D. Papailias, S. C. Perdikaris, E. K. Petterson, H. B. Phillip, R. A. Pudenz, D. L. Ragland, C. W. Rathbun, J. W. Robinett, J. K. Robinson, W. F. Schwerm, D. G. Smith, E. Smith, G. S. Soni, G. S. Stevens, B. V. Strickler, R. S. Turk, J. C. Turman, E. I. Willette, B. J. Zwaagstra.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS

The deadline for filing applications for graduate fellowships made possible by the National Science Foundation is Dec. 6, 1968. The NSF plans to award approximately 2,300 for the 1969-70 academic year. The 12-month stipend ranges from $2400 to $2800 with a dependency allowance and travel added. Fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to masters or doctoral degrees in mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Those interested may contact the Research and Development Office (546-2630, Adm-311) for additional information.

CAPTAINS BEGIN CONTACTS FOR CAMPUS A I D DRIVE

The more than 50 members of the Cal Poly faculty and staff who are serving as captains for the 1968 campus fund drive of the AID-United Givers have begun making their personal contacts with fellow employees. The campaign among members of the college faculty and staff began yesterday (Monday, Oct. 21) and will continue through Oct. 31.

As part of the 1968 fund effort, the state controller has distributed pre-identified pledge cards for every employee. Purpose of the card is to facilitate processing pledges for those who wish to use the monthly payroll deduction plan. The same cards may be used by those who wish to make one-time donations.

To make certain that every member of the Cal Poly campus community has an opportunity to participate in the 1968 AID-United Givers drive, the campus has been divided into different areas. Captains have been appointed for each and are responsible for seeing that every employee is contacted during the campaign period. They will distribute the pledge cards and other information and will be available to answer questions. The pledge cards will be picked up and returned to the Personnel Office at conclusion of the fund drive.

The AID-United Givers program, which is the only one authorized state payroll deductions in this area, contributes funds to 14 different community service organizations in San Luis Obispo County. They are Achievement House, American Cancer Society, American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, Camp Fire Girls, Children's Home Society of California, Crippled Children's Society, Family Service Center, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Heart Association, Muscular Dystrophy, Salvation Army, Mental Health Association, and the Young Men's Christian Association. All contributions are income tax deductible.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Howard Brown (Head, Ornamental Horticulture) presided over meetings of the Western Region of the International Plant Propagators Society when that group held its annual convention in Fresno Oct. 15-16. Dr. Brown is international president of the group which has membership throughout Great Britain, Ireland, South America, Australia, New Zealand, and the United States.

Archie Higdon (Dean of School of Engineering) has been appointed to membership on the committee which coordinates engineering degrees and course offerings among the various segments of higher education in California. Dr. Higdon's appointment to the Liaison Committee on Engineering of the Articulation Conference of the California State Colleges, University of California, and junior colleges is for three years. The committee meets twice annually to conduct business and prepare its reports for the conference.

Jay von Werlhof (Social Sciences) addressed the Exchange Club of San Luis Obispo on the topic "The Condition and Future of Archaeology in San Luis Obispo County" during that group's meeting of Oct. 11. Von Werlhof, who is director of the San Luis Obispo Archeological Society, also was an interview guest for a program on Columbus Day, which was broadcast over Radio Station KOAG, Arroyo Grande, that same day.
