PRESIDENT SUPPORTS ASSIST EVALUATION

A wide-scale program involving student evaluation of approximately half of the college's full time faculty during the period Feb. 27 - March 5 has received the praise of President Robert E. Kennedy.

Dr. Kennedy said, "The Faculty Evaluation Program as developed through the joint efforts of the ASSIST Committee and the Faculty-Staff Council is well conceived and has my complete endorsement. It is, in my opinion, an outstanding example of a cooperative effort between students and faculty and I am confident that its results will be mutually beneficial to both students and faculty. I have directed the appropriate administrative offices to cooperate fully with the ASSIST Committee and the Faculty Evaluation Board in carrying out the program as proposed by the Faculty-Student Committee on Faculty Evaluation and recommended to me for approval and initiation by the Faculty Sub-Council of the Faculty-Staff Council on January 23, 1968."

He noted that, "I agree with the Faculty Sub-Council's conclusion that if the program is to achieve its full potential for improvement of instruction, it should include every instructor annually, as provided in the program description."

The program is a culmination of three years of preparation by ASSIST (Associated Students Survey of Instructor's Teaching Committee). Full-scale student evaluation for the entire faculty will depend upon improvements in data processing capabilities in the future.

HOLTZ, MCGRATH NAMED TO NEW ENGINEERING POSTS

Two veteran members of the Cal Poly faculty who are well-known engineering educators have been appointed to new positions in the School of Engineering. James M. McGrath (Head of Environmental Engineering Department) will become head of the new Engineering Technology Department and Walter E. Holtz (Environmental Engineering Department) will succeed McGrath as head of the head of the Environmental Engineering Department. Archie Higdon (Dean of Engineering) announced the appointments, which become effective June 10.

McGrath will be responsible for development of a new department which will offer the Bachelor of Science Degree in engineering technology for the first time as a separate program in September. Approval of the new curriculum was announced early this year. It will offer options in air conditioning-refrigeration technology, electronic technology, manufacturing processes technology, mechanical technology, and welding technology. "Industry has an urgent need for greater numbers of technologists," McGrath said. "The application of scientific and engineering knowledge and methods requires technical skills in support of engineering activities -- our graduates will fill this widespread industrial need."

CONCERT BY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA SCHEDULED FRIDAY EVENING

Works by Telemann, Faure, Haydn, and Schubert will be performed by the Cal Poly Little Symphony Orchestra Friday (March 7) evening. A concert by the orchestra will be given at 8:30 p.m., in the Cal Poly Theater. According to Clifton E. Swanson (Music Department), who is conductor of the group, admission will not be charged.

The Little Symphony's repertoire is built around music written for chamber orchestra. Telemann's "Overture in C. Major," Faure's "Elegie for Cello and Orchestra," Haydn's "Concerto in E-flat Major for Trumpet and Orchestra," and Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" make up the program for Friday evening's concert.

Featured during the program will be two soloists. Thomas R. Diskin of San Mateo, an industrial technology major, will play solo passages for the Faure piece. Stuart A. Sunderman, a senior mathematics major from Fullerton, will be soloist for the concerto for trumpet and orchestra.

A member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1946, McGrath is an alumnus of the college. He is also a graduate of Santa Barbara State College and has done graduate study at both Claremont Graduate School and Cal Poly. In addition to his administrative and teaching duties, McGrath has served as a member of the Associated Students Advisory Commission since the early-1950's and was a part-time counselor in the student personnel program from 1947 to 1954. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Cal Poly Foundation, Inc., for the past three years.

Holtz, who taught on campus for three years prior to an 11-year tenure with Cal Poly, Pomona, will assume leadership of an environmental engineering curriculum which has undergone considerable change in the past two years. A concentration of courses in air pollution and thermal engineering has been added to the concentration in air conditioning and refrigeration engineering which the department has offered for many years. It became the Environmental Engineering Department in 1967 after having been known as the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration engineering Department since 1936.

Holtz, received his bachelor's degree from Illinois Institute of Technology and holds two master's degrees. He received his Master of Science Degree in mechanical engineering from California Institute of Technology in 1953, and his Master of Science Degree in nuclear engineering from University of Washington in 1964.

The new department head received a National Science Foundation fellowship for graduate study in 1961-62 and served as a consultant at the Technical College, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, during the summer of 1966. During his tenure at Cal Poly, Ponomia, he served three years as a member of the Faculty Senate, two years as a representative to the statewide Academic Senate, and two years on the Board of Directors of the Kellogg Unit Foundation. A former U.S. Air Force officer, Holtz is a member of the American Society for Engineering Education and a registered professional engineer in California.

CHESTNUT RESIGNS BASKETBALL COACHING DUTIES

Stuart Chestnut (Physical Education Department), head basketball coach at Cal Poly for the past three years, has resigned from those duties effective as soon as a replacement can be found. He will remain on the Physical Education Department faculty. Joe Harper (Athletic Director) said that screening of applicants for the post would begin immediately so that a replacement could be named in the near future.

Since his arrival at Cal Poly in 1963 Chestnut's primary interest has been in producing a strong teaching effort in physical education. Chestnut's emphasis has shifted to the development of programs designed for the 90 per cent of the boys whose athletic skills are not refined to the point that they will allow them to compete in Cal Poly's intercollegiate athletic program.

Chestnut has done extensive speaking in behalf of the Physical Education Department during his five years on the staff. His objective has been to maintain the already high interest in physical education in California. Playing the school's toughest schedule in some years, Chestnut's 1968-69 team compiled a 6-17 record. His first two Mustang teams had notched records of 12-11 and 11-12, respectively.

While not recording an outstanding won-lost record, Chestnut said he was proud of the brand of basketball his teams have played. "My young men have given a good account of themselves and we have given the fans an exciting brand of basketball." After 17 years in coaching, Chestnut said he was leaving the field due to the almost negligible family life. "I feel that with a family of six children that I owed it to them to be a father as well as a teacher."

A native of Terre Haute, Ind., Chestnut began his coaching career at Honey Creek, Ind., a suburb of his home town. In five seasons his teams compiled an 87-19 record. His teams at Washington, Ind., had a four-year record of 58-33. At Brazil, Ind., his two-year record was 22-22.

COURSE FOR JOURNALISM TEACHERS TO BE OFFERED DURING SPRING

High school and junior college teachers who advise and supervise school publications will have an opportunity to study under experienced journalists and publications people at Cal Poly this spring. A special new course, titled "Supervision of School Publications," will be offered for the first time during the Spring Quarter, which opens March 26. The course will be held from 7 to 10 p.m., each Wednesday, in the Graphic Arts Building.

John Healey (Head of Journalism) announced that the course will be under the direction of Vincent J. Gates (Journalism Department). Gates is arranging with resource persons from various fields of publishing and journalism to augment lectures, demonstrate techniques, and lead group discussions. Student yearbooks and newspapers will be included in the course, along with studies of other school publications issued by school administrations, faculties, and student bodies.

Healey said the course will run for 10 weeks and will be open to anyone who has been accepted for study and properly registered at Cal Poly. Three units of regular college credit will be given and may be used for either graduate or undergraduate programs.

C S C LEADERS PRAISE MEETING OF TRUSTEES, STUDENTS

California State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of California State College Student Presidents Association President Victor Lee said last week they were pleased with the results of an informal trustee-student meeting held Feb. 21. The meeting between 30 students from 15 campuses and six CSC trustees, including Dumke, was an all-day informal discussion about statewide campus problems. Warren Burgess (President, Associated Students, Inc.) represented Cal Poly.

Following the meeting Dr. Dumke stated that he attends many meetings in the course of a year and that this was one of the best. "The issues were clearly presented by the students, and the atmosphere for two-way communication was excellent," said the Chancellor. "The Trustees and I came away with a good feeling about the fact that the meeting had been held. We left with confidence that future meetings of this sort cannot help but be productive in keeping all of us aware of 'the way it is' on campus."

Lee, from San Jose State College, stated, "I feel that a meeting like this tends to break down the stereotype concept that students may have of the Trustees and it helps to prevent the Trustees from type-casting college students. We should attempt to do this as often as is possible so that we can begin to bridge some of our communications gaps."

The informal meeting was sponsored jointly by the Educational Policy Committee of the trustees of the state colleges, chaired by James Thacher of San Francisco, and CSCSPA. Students attending the meeting included associated student presidents and campus newspaper editors from the various state colleges. Trustees attending were Thacher, Mrs. Philip Conley of Fresno; Paul Spencer, San Dimas; Karl Wente, Livermore; Dudley Swim, Carmel Valley; and Chancellor Glenn Dumke.

Robert J. Rodin (Biological Sciences Department), adviser to the student group, said the conference will be held March 28-30, commencing with an address Friday evening by Francis I. Andersen, professor of Old Testament, Church Divinity School of the Pacific. His keynote talk is entitled "The Crisis in Authority." Conference theme is "The Nature of Authority."

President Robert E. Kennedy has been voted an honorary membership in the campus chapter of Alpha Zeta, the national honorary service fraternity of agricultural students. The honorary membership was approved by the national high council of the fraternity.

Dr. Kennedy is cited for his long support of the agricultural programs at Cal Poly. He will be formally initiated tomorrow (Wednesday, March 5) night, along with 30 neophytes who have completed pledge week and have been voted into membership by the current active members. Alpha Zeta membership is based on high scholastic standing and involvement in student activities on campus.

The subject for a combination presentation-discussion at a joint meeting of the campus chapters of the American Association of University Professors and California State Employees Association will be "Liberal Learning for Professional Programs." Starting time for the meeting, which is scheduled for March 12 in the Staff Dining Room, will be 12 noon.

Brief presentations will be made by Archie Higdon (Dean of Engineering) and Arthur H. Frietzsche (English Department), who is a long-time observer of programs in engineering. Core of the discussion will be the engineers' need for depth training in the humanities, ideally covering all four years in college and including advanced courses in humanities and social sciences, possibly on a pass-fail basis.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

John W. West (Associate Dean, Agriculture), Lloyd H. Lamouria (Head of Agricultural Engineering), and Tony Amato (Ornamental Horticulture) were participants in the Agri-Business Career Day, held last week (Feb. 26) in Bakersfield. They manned the agriculture colleges exhibit for the program which was sponsored by the Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce.

Rex L. Hutton, George H. McMeen, Allen D. Miller, and Neal R. Townsend (all Mathematical Sciences) attended a meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics which took place Feb. 21-23, in Los Angeles.

Mrs. M. Jane Stark (Military Science Secretary,) has received a commendation for outstanding and superior performance from the Sixth United States Army. The presentation was made by Col. R. W. Green (Head, Military Science) during a brief ceremony held on campus Feb. 21.

Malcolm Wilson (Education) took part in the Regional Conference of the International Reading Association held Feb. 21-22, in Tucson, Ariz. He was one of three interrogators for a session on the implications of reading development for the biocultural child.

Results of a senior project study conducted under the direction of Thomas E. Eltzroth (Ornamental Horticulture) have been published by Agriform International Chemicals. Robert J. Gollan, who received his BS degree in 1968, conducted the tests during 1967-68. The project involved testing the response of plants grown in containers to Agriform Planting Tablets.

William M. Alexander (Social Sciences) has been elected to membership in the American Institute of Parliamentarians. Dr. Alexander said the purpose of the organization is to aid in improvement of parliamentary procedure and help make democracy more effective in striving for world-wide peace and freedom.

Shirley Sparling (Biological Sciences) attended a conference on the uses of the sea, which took place Feb. 20-23, in San Diego. The American Assembly and Occidental College were co-sponsors of the conference, according to Dr. Sparling.

Women students of the Ornamental Horticulture Department will conduct a tree planting ceremony on Arbor Day (Friday, March 7) at the new Ornamental Horticulture Unit located on Campus Way, across from the Horse Unit. Faculty and staff members are invited to observe the ceremony, which is slated for 11:30 a.m.

FACTS ON GROUP INSURANCE OPEN ENROLLMENT

February 11 to March 10, 1969 is the "open enrollment" period for group insurance plans. However, anyone desiring to enroll or make a change in his current plan should visit the Personnel Office, Adm-111, by Friday (March 7) to complete the required application documents.

An employee has the following alternatives, or combination of alternatives, available: 1) He can enroll in a basic plan if he is not currently enrolled. 2) He can change from one basic plan to another basic plan. 3) He can change his coverage from himself only and add his family members; or he can delete his family members and maintain coverage only for himself. 4) He can enroll in a major medical plan which corresponds to the base plan in which he is currently enrolled. 5) If he is satisfied with his current health insurance coverage, an individual need not do anything.

Basic plans currently open to Cal Poly faculty members and staff support employees are: 1) Public Employees' Retirement System - Cal-Western Occidental Indemnity Plan, 2) Public Employees' Retirement System - Blue Cross-Blue Shield Service Plan, 3) Association of California State College Professors - Equity Educators Assurance Company, 4) California Teachers Association - Blue Cross Service Plan.

The following major medical insurance plans are also experiencing an "open enrollment" period: 1) PERS - Blue Cross-Blue Shield, 2) PERS - Cal-Western Occidental, 3) ACSCP - Equity Educators Assurance Company, 4) CTA - Blue Cross Extended Service Plan and 5) California State Employees Association - Cal-Western Occidental Plan.

One open enrollment for life plans is offered: CWO - Term/Ordinary - Open Period, Feb. 11 to March 10, 1969.

The PERS sponsored Cal-Western-Occidental and Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans are available to all state employees. However, an individual who wishes to enroll in the ACSCP and CTA sponsored basic and major medical plans must be a member of the sponsoring organization. The state contributes $8 to all basic plans for individuals who have been employed at least six months. There is no state contribution for major medical plans.

The CSEA sponsored Cal-Western Occidental plan is the only major medical plan which is available to employees who do not desire a basic plan. To enroll in any of the other major medical plans available, an individual must be covered by the corresponding basic plan. If an individual changes plans during the "open enrollment" period, present or previous illness will not be covered under the old plan. The new plan will take over payment upon its effective date of coverage, April 1, 1969.

SALE OF TICKETS FOR N C A A WRESTLING TOURNAMENT CONTINUES

Tickets for the seventh annual National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division Wrestling Tournament, which is slated for March 14-15, in Men's Gymnasium, are still being sold, according to Terry Ward (Physical Education Department) who is tournament director. Prices for tickets for the entire tourney are $2 for students and $4 for the general public. They may be purchased at the Associated Students Office on campus through March 13.

POSTPONED MATCH WILL CONCLUDE REGULAR WRESTLING SEASON TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow (Wednesday, March 5) evening's wrestling match between Cal Poly's newly crowned league champion Mustangs and Cal Poly at Pomona's team will undoubtedly be anti-climatic, but it will conclude the 1968-69 dual-match season for Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's charges. Starting time for the event, which is scheduled for Men's Gymnasium, will be 7:30 p.m.

Other home action appearing on the sports calendar for this week finds the Mustang tennis team hosting California Lutheran University in a match billed for 2:30 p.m., today (Tuesday, March 4), on the courts adjacent to Men's Gymnasium, and a trio of baseball games, Friday (March 7) and Saturday (March 8). Opponent for Coach Bill Hicks' Mustang nine will be Chapman College. Game time for Friday's single game will be 2:30 p.m. Saturday's doubleheader will begin at 12:30 p.m. All three games will be played on the Campus Diamond located at Cuesta Ave. and W. Mount Bishop Road.

Athletic activity slated for last week saw Hitchcock's matmen win their seventh consecutive California Collegiate Athletic Association championship in a most convincing fashion. The 10-man Mustang team won 9 firsts and 1 second in individual competition to tally 122 points. The second place team, California State College at Long Beach scored 57 points. Next action for the wrestling team after tomorrow night's dual match will be the National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division national tournament, March 14-15, in Men's Gymnasium.

Other results from events held last week found Coach Stuart Chestnut's basketball varsity losing its 1968-69 season finale 83-71 to Fresno State College. That defeat before a large crowd in Fresno's Selland Arena gave the Mustang cagers a 6-18 won-lost record for the season. The Cal Poly freshman basketball team whalloped Fresno State's frosh 110-85 to save some glory for the Mustang cause. That win gave Coach Al Silver's charges an 13-8 record for the season.

DEADLINES AND DATELINES

Last day for completion of applications for admission of students not now enrolled in classes to Spring Quarter classes is Friday (March 7). Completed forms are due in the Admissions Office, Adm-205, on or before that date.

March 13 is the deadline for submission of nominations for the 1968-69 Distinguished Teacher Awards to the committee which is assigned responsibility for making selections for that honor. Individual faculty members or groups of faculty members are invited to submit nominations on the form which was distributed as an attachment to the Feb. 25 issue of Cal Poly Report. Additional copies of the nomination form may be obtained in the General Office, Adm-109.

The final date for receipt of applications for the three Fall Quarter, 1969-70, Research and Creative Activity Leaves expected to be available to members of the faculty is March 13. Forms for applications for the three leaves may be obtained from the Research and Development Office, Adm-311, 546-2630. Upon completion, they must be submitted to the appropriate instructional department office.
