41ST F F A CONVENTION, JUDGING CONTEST SLATED THIS WEEK

Girls will be delegates for the first time when the 41st annual California Association, Future Farmers of America convention convenes in the Cal Poly Theater Wednesday (May 7). The official delegations from nearly 300 FFA chapters in California will include 20 girls. The FFA voted to admit girls to membership at the 40th annual convention held at Cal Poly last May.

The three-day convention, which carries the theme "FFA -- An Opportunity for Youth" will be followed by the state finals judging competition for Future Farmers of America members, Saturday (May 10), also on campus. Nearly 900 FFA members are expected to be on the campus for various phases of the convention, while 1,200 members will participate in the judging competition.

Addresses by leaders of farm youth organizations, awards ceremonies, and the election of state officers will be highlights of the convention. Jerry Diefenderfer of San Luis Obispo, a past national FFA vice president and a Cal Poly alumnus, will give the keynote address at the opening session in the Cal Poly Theater at 2 p.m., Wednesday. President Robert E. Kennedy will welcome the delegates to the campus during the opening session also.

Cal Poly has hosted the state conventions of the California Association, Future Farmers of America since 1933 as part of the college's tradition of service to the high school vocational agricultural programs of the state. About half the 150 chapters in the state at that time sent delegates to the convention. The annual gathering and the judging contest which followed attracted some 600 FFA members to the campus. Since 1947, participation in the convention has increased until now 93 per cent of the 300 chapters send representation to the conference.

MORRIS APPOINTED ASSOCIATE DEAN, CONTINUING EDUCATION

Don M. Morris of Moorpark College will become associate dean, continuing education, at Cal Poly. Dale W. Andrews (Academic Vice President) said Dr. Morris, who has been assistant dean of instruction and coordinator of community services at Moorpark College since 1967, will assume his new duties, June 1.

As associate dean, continuing education, at Cal Poly, Dr. Morris will assume responsibilities for summer sessions and extension programs, which were formerly included in the responsibilities of the associate dean, special programs. Vice President Andrews said, "The appointment of Dr. Morris to this new position will enable Cal Poly to improve and increase service to teachers and others who benefit from educational programs which recognize their special needs."

Dr. Morris, 39, attended Mt. San Antonio College and transferred to Cal Poly, from which he received a BS degree in 1953. He received an MA degree in education from Cal Poly in 1958 and the EdD degree from University of California at Los Angeles in 1968.

CAMPUS ELECTION CAMPAIGNS CLIMAX TODAY, TOMORROW

Campaigns for elected student body offices reached a peak early this week on campus. Six candidates are competing for the right to serve as president, vice president, secretary, and chief justice of the judiciary of Cal Poly's Associated Students, Inc. Voting is scheduled at polls located throughout the campus today and tomorrow (Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6-7).

Candidates for the four offices are David Markowitz, a junior social sciences major, and Paul Kresge, a junior majoring in soil science, for president; Kenneth D. Murray, a sophomore business administration major, and Richard Barrett, a junior physical education major, for vice president; Virginia Read, a senior majoring in journalism, unopposed for secretary; and Leonard S. Pederson, a senior mathematics major, unopposed for chief justice.

Results of the election will be announced at 8 p.m., tomorrow, in the Snack Bar area of the College Dining Hall.

In San Luis Obispo, Dr. Morris was employed by Cal Poly as housing director, counselor, student loan adviser, and personnel officer. He also directed the San Luis Obispo elementary and secondary summer school programs, was responsible for the educational program operated by the city schools at California Men's Colony, and taught at Morro Bay High School.

Dr. Morris served for three years as director of the Simi Valley Adult Schools and Summer Schools and also taught in the extension program of the University of California at Santa Barbara. A lieutenant commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve, he is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, California Association of Secondary School Administrators, National Association of Public School Adult Educators, National Education Association, and several other professional associations.

FINAL A A U P LUNCHEON-DISCUSSION OF YEAR SCHEDULED MAY 14

The concluding luncheon-discussion meeting of the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors for the current academic year will be May 14, in the Staff Dining Room. Subject of the discussion will be high priority education bills before the present session of the state Legislature.

Officers recently elected for 1969-70 will also be presented during the meeting. They are Robert H. Frost (Physics Department), president; Peter H. Molnar (Social Sciences Department), vice president; Mrs. Bernice B. Loughran (Education Department), secretary; and John J. Lowry (Mathematical Sciences Department), treasurer.

All members of the college faculty and staff are welcome to attend the meeting.

The Cal Poly Report is produced by the Office of Information Services, Administration 210. Material should be submitted in writing prior to noon on Friday.

NEW COLLEGE ADMINISTRATIVE MANUAL ISSUED

Distribution of a new administrative publication to succeed the Employees' Handbook will begin today (Tuesday, May 6), according to an announcement from the Office of the President. The College Administrative Manual will replace the Employees' Handbook.

The College Administrative Manual provides general information on the college's administrative structure, guidelines, and governing regulations in addition to serving as a ready source of useful information on externally-developed policy statements under which the college operates. It includes material which formerly appeared in the Employees' Handbook, as well as current college Administrative Bulletins, some of which have been incorporated within the text of the CAM. Subsequent Administrative Bulletins will be distributed for information and filing in CAM.

The ad hoc Employees' Handbook Editing Committee was appointed in January, 1968, to: ". . . edit and codify all college-wide policy and procedure guidelines, including those contained in the former Employees' Handbook; Administrative Bulletins; and policy and procedure statements of general interest and application which have been otherwise promulgated; and to prepare then as a draft ready for issuance as the College Administrative Manual."

President Robert E. Kennedy said this week of the CAM, "It is hereby promulgated on an interim basis in order that all elements of the college community -- faculty, administration, staff and students -- may have an opportunity to review its contents and to propose additions or amendments. Needed substantive changes in CAM may be promulgated at any time by means of Administrative Bulletins. Changes or editorial amendments may be issued from time to time if needed, but most will be accumulated until the need for complete reprint is indicated, hopefully not before the summer of 1971."

Distribution of the new manual will be made to each academic school and department office, to administrative and staff department offices, the Reference Room and Faculty Reading Room of the Library, to Cal Poly Foundation departments, to Associated Students, Inc., offices and to officers and committee chairmen of the Academic Senate and Staff Senate. Individuals may refer to copies in the appropriate offices.

Members of the committee, chaired by Chester G. Young (Assistant to the President), were David W. Cook (Associate Dean, Curriculum and Instruction), James R. Landreth (Associate Director, Business Affairs), Larry R. Voss (Director, Personnel Relations), Donald M. Coats (Associate Dean, Educational Services), Douglass W. Miller (formerly Director of Information and Publications), Lowell H. Dunigan (Director, Institutional Studies), and Richard E. Hall (Manufacturing Processes Department).

COLLEGE JOINT ASSEMBLY WILL CONVENE FOR FIRST TIME TODAY

President Robert E. Kennedy will address members of the Joint Assembly of Cal Poly's Academic Senate and Staff Senate when they convene for the first time at 3:15 p.m., today (Tuesday, May 6), in the Staff Dining Room. The initial meeting of the assembly, which must meet at least once annually, according to its constitution, was called by Rodney G. Keif (Environmental Engineering Department), who is chairman of the assembly's coordinating committee and chairman of the Academic Senate.

WIDELY-KNOWN SOLOIST WILL JOIN MICHIGAN BAND FOR CAMPUS CONCERT

Jean-Marie Londeix, the French alto-saxophone virtuoso will appear with the University of Michigan Symphony Band during its concert at Cal Poly Sunday May 11. The band, along with its conductor, Dr. William Revelli, and guest artist Londeix, will perform in the Men's Gymnasium at 8 o'clock that evening.

Like the Michigan Symphony Band, Londeix has concertized throughout the world. He graduated from the Paris Conservatory where he received first prize in a solo competition. Londeix, whose performances have won him an international reputation for outstanding musicianship, was a Visiting lecturer for the University of Michigan School of Music during the 1967-68 academic year. He has returned to perform with the Symphony Band after having taught at Dijon University in France for the past year.

Although Dr. Revelli and the Michigan band have concertized throughout the U.S., Western Europe, the Iron Curtain Countries, the Near East, and Russia, the concert at Cal Poly is part of their first concert tour of the Western States.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at Brown's Music Store, Premier Music Company, Ogden's Stationery, all in San Luis Obispo, and at the Associated Students Office on campus. They are also being sold by music students and will be on sale at Men's Gym ticket offices prior to curtain time, Sunday. Prices are $2 for general admission and $1 for students.

STAFF CLUB SPRING FLING SCHEDULED MAY 17.

The Coon Creek area near Montano de Oro State Park will be the site for the annual Spring Fling of the Cal Poly Staff Club, May 17. Scheduled for 1 p.m., the traditional event will feature a New York strip steak barbecue and ample opportunity for fishing. Tickets are priced at $3 each for members of the club and $4 each for others, according to Robert Adams (Chief of Plant Operations) who is in charge of arrangements.

Adams said the Coon Creek area can be reached by driving through Baywood Park-Los Osos and through Montano de Oro. Signs posted from the cattle crossing and pipe gate located at the south end of the park will direct those attending to the specific location for the event.

Tickets may be purchased from the following members of the college faculty and staff: Fred Blanck (Grounds Department), Woodford E. Bowls (Head of Physics Department), William M. Boyce (Business Administration Department), Howard C. Brown (Head of Ornamental Horticulture Department), Victor A. Buccola (Physical Education Department), Everett Dorrough (College Dining Hall), Charles A. Elston (Mathematical Sciences Department), J. Cordner Gibson (Dean of Agriculture), and Wallace F. Glidden (Veterinary Science Department).

Also, Peter Grondahl (Custodial Department), Lester W. Gustafson (Aeronautical Engineering Department), Walter Holtz (Environmental Engineering Department), James R. Landreth (Associate Director of Business Affairs), Willard H. Loper (Agricultural Engineering Department), Willard M. Pederson (Head of English Department), Derek Price (Mechanical Engineering Department), Joy H. Richardson (Mechanical Engineering Department), Glenn E. Seeber (Welding and Metallurgical Engineering Department), Thronton Snider (Foundation Maintenance Department), and Richard Tartaglia (Maintenance Department).

SUCCESSFUL AUTHOR SLATES CAMPUS APPEARANCE

A man who parlayed a U.S. Coast Guard assignment as a journalist into a highly-successful career as a writer is expected to share his observations on current national problems during a public appearance on campus, Friday (May 9) evening. Alex Haley, whose newest book, Before This Anger, will be off the presses in the next few months, will take part in an informal discussion session planned for 8 o'clock, that evening, in the campus Snack Bar.

Encouraged by the reception of his writing while in the Coast Guard, Haley decided to try his hand as a free-lance writer after his discharge. Scores of articles in such periodicals as Harper's, Atlantic Monthly, True, Sport, Cosmopolitan, This Week, Reader's Digest, and The New York Times Magazine, and two books have resulted. Haley's as-told-to-book, The Autobiography of Malcolm X, cited as one of the world's great books by The Nation, won an award from Saturday Review, and became a Literary Guild selection.

Admission to Friday evening's program, which is being sponsored by Cal Poly's College Union Speakers Forum Committee, will be $1 for general admission and 50 cents for students.

SERVICES FOR JERRY BUCY HELD THIS MORNING

Funeral services for Jerry Bucy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Bucy (Animal Husbandry Department), were held this (Tuesday, May 6) morning at the Church of Christ Central in San Luis Obispo. Young Bucy, whose wife Jeannie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Toone (head of Dairy Department), was killed last Friday (May 2) evening in a one-car accident near Sacramento. He was a student at University of California at Davis.

MUSTANG BASEBALLERS WILL HOST FRESNO STATE

With Cal Poly's tennis, golf, and track and field teams all having finished their home schedules for 1969, Coach Bill Hicks' baseball varsity has the sports campus calendar to itself this week. The Mustang nine hosts traditional rival Fresno State College for a three-game series, scheduled for Friday and Saturday (May 9-10) on the campus diamond, in its final home action of the season. Game time for Friday's single contest will be 2:30 p.m. Saturday's twinbill will begin at 12:30 p.m.

The only other sports activity remaining on campus calendars this spring will come the evening of May 24, when Head Football Coach Joe Harper will divide his charges for their annual Spring Game. Harper and his coaching staff have been drilling more than 75 candidates, including 25 lettermen from last fall's 7-3 team, for the 1969 Mustang grid varsity since April 19. Starting time for the Spring Game, which is scheduled Mustang Stadium, will be 8 p.m.

Last week's action saw Coach Dick Purcell's track and field varsity record a convincing 98-47 dual meet victory over San Fernando Valley State College in Northridge. In a concurrent triangular meet, the Mustangs tallied 109 points to 52 for SFVSC, and 20 for Cal Poly at Pomona. The Mustang baseballers managed to squeeze a 1-0 victory over California State College at Long Beach between 8-1 and 6-5 losses. The diamondmen now own a 16-19-1 won-lost-tied record for the season.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, EDITORS WIN HONORS

The editor and former editor of Mustang Daily, and the editor of El Rodeo, student newspaper and yearbook respectively at Cal Poly have won awards for their entries in state-wide college publications competition. The awards were made during the 19th annual California Intercollegiate Press Association convention held recently in Fresno.

Tim Dolan, a senior journalism student and former Mustang Daily editor, received first place honors for his editorial, "Whoa, Judiciary," in which he called for stricter control of the Cal Poly student court following a contested judgement by the body.

George Ramos, current Mustang Daily editor and a junior journalism major, received third place honors for his on-the-spot coverage of the convention's keynote speaker. Each year the keynote address is the subject of an on-the-spot news contest and delegates who wish to compete may cover the address in usual reporting fashion. Entries are judged and winners are acknowledged.

Mustang Daily, itself, received commendation for its front page and editorial page makeup (appearance) and content. Ramos and Dolan shared honors for the paper's quality. Roger Vincent, editor of El Rodeo and a junior majoring in industrial technology, accepted awards for third place in layout (page design) and current staff categories won by the yearbook.

Both publications are operated as educational tools -- teaching students the rudiments of writing, editing, and publishing -- while providing a useful service to the college, according to John R. Healey, head of Cal Poly's journalism program. Healey said the awards to the editors and publications, indicate that Cal Poly students are being provided with a newspaper and yearbook of exceptional quality.

OPENINGS ON COLLEGE SUPPORT STAFF LISTED BY PERSONNEL OFFICE

Two openings on the support staff of the college have been announced by Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). Descriptions of both positions are posted, along with information on other openings that have been announced recently, on the bulletin board located in the Personnel Office, Adm-111, 546-2236. Brief specifications for the newly-announced positions are:

Clerical Assistant (Typing) II, Range A ($415-$505). Audio Visual Department, School of Applied Arts. Performs a wide variety of clerical duties including ordering of material and equipment and the maintenance of related accounting records and files. Types orders and miscellaneous correspondence, acts as office receptionist, answers telephone and assists visitors. Applicants must have passed the General Clerical Test and be able to type 45 wpm.

Clerical Assistant (Stenography) Range B ($446-$543). Admissions Office, Student Affairs Division. Typical tasks include interviewing prospective students and their parents, reviewing documents to determine an applicant's eligibility for admission, and preparing material regarding applications being processed. Applicants must be able to take dictation and transcribe shorthand notes at rate of 90 wpm, pass the General Clerical Test, and type 45 wpm. Some office experience and completion of at least one year of college is desirable.

FACULTY, STAFF INVITED TO HEAR HONOR SOCIETIES LECTURER

Members of the college faculty and staff are invited to attend a lecture titled "The Quest for Extra-Terrestrial Life" to be given Friday (May 9) evening by John A. Russell, chairman of the Department of Astronomy at University of Southern California. Co-sponsored by the campus chapter of Phi Kappa Phi national honor society and the Cal Poly Sigma Xi Club, the program will take place in SciN-215 beginning at 8 p.m.

Friday evening's lecture program is being planned in conjunction with a dinner meeting of the two organizations, which is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the Staff Dining Room. Reservations are required for the dinner and tickets priced at $2.90 per person may be obtained by calling either John H. Applegarth or Wayne T. Williams (both Biological Sciences Department).

SALE OF TICKETS FOR WOMEN'S CLUB LUNCHEON ENDS TODAY

Today (Tuesday, May 6) is the final opportunity for women planning to attend the annual Spring Luncheon of the Cal Poly Women's Club to purchase tickets. Priced at $2.50 each, they may be purchased by contacting Mrs. John L. Merriam (543-8939), Mrs. David W. Cook (543-0491), Mrs. Richard I. Leach (543-2267), Mrs. Vance D. Lewis (543-6326), Mrs. Glenn W. Rich (543-3293), Mrs. Donald W. Hensel (544-0130), or Mrs. Leon F. Osteyee (543-2158).

Scheduled during the annual luncheon event, which will take place at the San Luis Obispo Country Club starting at 1 p.m., are presentations of the club's Honor Award and Honorary Life Members and installation of its officers for 1969-70.

DATE FOR SPRING SOCIAL ANNOUNCED BY STAFF CLUB

May 23 is the date for the annual Spring Social of the Cal Poly Staff Club, according to an announcement received last week. Dinner and dancing is planned for the event, which will take place at Cassera's Restaurant in Morro Bay, beginning with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. The menu includes a variety fish dinner. Tickets for the affair are priced at $7 per couple for staff club members and $8 per couple for others.

REFRESHER COURSE FOR NURSERYMEN SLATED MAY 20-21

"Youth -- Young Management" is the theme for the 21st annual Refresher Course for Nurserymen to be held on campus May 20-21. About 200 nurserymen from throughout California are expected to attend the two-day session in the Cal Poly Theater.

In conference sessions and workshops the nurserymen will review trends in agriculture and the nursery industry. Joseph Howland, assistant to the president of O. M. Scott and Sons, Inc., Marysville, Ohio, will speak to the theme when he discusses "Young Management -- A State of Mind." Discussion sessions will cover such general topics as urban agriculture, human relations and the checkless society. Technological topics include merchandising, landscape work, nursery certification, instant turf, and telephone selling.

MAY 30 WILL BE SCHEDULED WORK DAY FOR FACULTY, STAFF

May 30 (Memorial Day), is a scheduled work day for faculty and staff of Cal Poly. Since Memorial Day is a state holiday, employees who work on that day automatically will be credited with eight hours of compensating time off (CTO). Employees who wish to be absent on May 30 should submit the appropriate leave request form through the usual channels.

STUDENT GROWN MUMS BEING SOLD AT O H UNIT

Student-grown Chrysanthemums will be sold at the Ornamental Horticulture unit flower shop beginning today (Tuesday, May 6) and continuing through Friday (May 9). Howard Brown (Head of the Ornamental Horticulture Department) says the mums, which have been chemically dwarfed, would make excellent Mother's Day gifts. They are available in three-inch pots for 59 cents and in six-inch pots, five plants to the pot with a high bud count, for $3.50. The flower shop is open from 2 to 5 p.m.

NEW TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED BY N S F

The National Science Foundation has established the Pre-Service Teacher Education Program (UPSTEP) to improve the academic programs of undergraduates planning to become elementary or high school science teachers. It will emphasize a balance between knowledge of subject matter and the art of teaching, greater skill and experience in developing and testing course materials, and early direct involvement in teaching.

Four year colleges and universities that have, or are actively planning, elementary or secondary school teacher programs in the sciences will be eligible to submit proposals. A brochure containing suggestions for submission of proposals will be available about June 1, 1969, from the Division of Undergraduate Education in Science, National Science Foundation, 1800 "G" Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20550.

O H BANQUET WILL BE MAY 19

Outstanding students of the Ornamental Horticulture Department will be honored at the department's annual banquet in the San Luis Obispo Elks Club May 19. The outstanding senior, junior, sophomore and freshman will be named and recipients of 10 scholarships designated for ornamental horticulture majors, as well as recipients of general scholarships, will be recognized. Ornamental Horticulture Department faculty members and officers of the departmental club will make the presentations.

The Cal Poly Report is produced by the Office of Information Services, Administration 210. Material should be submitted in writing prior to noon on Friday.
