NEW COMPUTER SCIENCE, STATISTICS UNIT WILL BEGIN OPERATION JUNE 9

Establishment of a new Computer Science and Statistics department has been announced by Clyde P. Fisher (Dean of Applied Sciences). Curtis F. Gerald (Mathematical Sciences Department), a member of the Cal Poly faculty for the past five years, will head the department when it begins operation June 9, according to Dr. Fisher. Dr. Gerald has already begun the task of selecting new faculty and making other arrangements for the department to begin functioning.

Among functions of the new department will be administration of the new computer science program, which the college announced last fall. First students are expected to enroll in that curriculum when the Summer Quarter opens next month. The Computer Science and Statistics Department will also offer courses in statistics, philosophy, and computer science to meet other degree and general education requirements for the entire Cal Poly student body. A degree program in statistics is being planned to begin in 1972.

Courses in philosophy and courses leading to concentrations in computer science and statistics have been offered for the past several years by the Mathematical Sciences Department headed by Milo E. Whitson. Initiation of the new department will result in change of the math unit's name to Mathematics Department, Dr. Fisher said.

A graduate of Iowa State University, University of Cincinnati, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, from which he received his Doctor of Science Degree, Dr. Gerald will be joined by several other members of the Mathematical Sciences Department teaching staff on the new department's faculty. They are Robert A. Bentley, A.C.W. Bethel, William O. Buschman, Thomas V. Cahill, J. T. Culbertson, Mrs. Joyce R. Curry, Robert H. Dourson, Kenneth Fuller, John E. Groves, Reino Hannula, Wilbur C. Hogan, Y. Leon Maksoudian, Joseph B. Stefanac, and Daniel T. Stubbs.

Prior to assuming his duties at Cal Poly, Dr. Gerald worked in various teaching and research capacities with MIT, University of Cincinnati, Universal Oil Products Company, University of Washington, and El Paso Natural Gas Products Company.

TRADITIONAL TALK BY PRESIDENT KENNEDY SLATED FOR STAFF CLUB LUNCHEON

President Robert E. Kennedy will address the final Cal Poly Staff Club luncheon program of the academic year Thursday (May 29). The event is slated for 12 noon in the Staff Dining Room. The talk will continue a Cal Poly tradition of many years standing in which the college president addresses the club's final luncheon meeting of the year.

Cal Poly Report is produced by the Office of Information Services Administration 210. Material should be submitted in writing prior to noon on Friday.

SOLOISTS LISTED FOR LITTLE SYMPHONY CONCERTS

Two college teachers and a college student will be the featured soloists for the two concerts of the Cal Poly Little Symphony Orchestra. Allan Hancock College music faculty member Christopher Kuzell, Ronald Ratcliffe (Music Department) of the Cal Poly faculty, and Cal Poly home economics senior Judy Tate, are the violin, harpsichord, and flute soloists for Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 5 in D Major, which will be featured during concerts on Thursday (May 29) and Friday (May 30).

Scheduled for the Hancock College's Performing Arts Center in Santa Maria and for the Cal Poly Theater in San Luis Obispo, respectively, the identical concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. Admission will be free, according to Clifton E. Swanson (Music Department), who is conductor of the Little Symphony.

Active in chamber music throughout his career, Kuzell was a member of the Indianapolis Symphony and the University of Southern California String Quartet. He plans to complete advanced studies soon. Ratcliffe, also a talented pianist, has concertized extensively throughout the Los Angeles and Central Coast areas, and Miss Tate appeared with the Cal Poly Little Symphony twice last year as a soloist.

On the program with Bach's concerto are Haydn's Symphony No. 104 in D Major and Cal Poly instructor John G. Russell's newly-composed Contrasts for Small Orchestra, which will receive its premier performances during the concerts. Written for an ensemble the size of the Cal Poly Little Symphony, the piece by Russell (Music Department) is in two movements, both evolving from a germinal theme stated early in the work. Swanson says that Contrasts reflects the free-flowing, lyrical, and musical qualities of all Russell's works, many of which have been published.

Both of this week's concerts will be under the baton of Swanson, now in his second year as conductor of the Cal Poly Little Symphony. He holds that post in addition to his music teaching duties. A graduate of Pomona College and the University of Texas, Swanson has appeared as a conductor in both Texas and Oregon.

KREJSA, WILLIAMS, FITTS WILL RECEIVE R C LEAVES

Three members of the School of Applied Sciences faculty have been granted research and creative activity leaves for the Fall Quarter. They are Richard Krejsa and Wayne Williams (both Biological Sciences Department) and James Fitts (Social Sciences Department). Their leaves are part of a total of nine scheduled for members of the Cal Poly faculty during the 1969-70 academic year. Three each are also planned for the Winter and Spring Quarters. Information about the leaves for research and creative activity may be obtained from the Research and Development Office, Adm-311.

CAR RENTAL DISCOUNTS AVAILABLE FOR OFFICIAL BUSINESS

Twenty percent educational discounts on auto rental are being made available by the Hertz and Avis car rental companies for use by college employees when they are on official business, according to information received on campus this month. Donald S. Nelson (Director of Business Affairs) suggested this week that employees inquire about the discounts when they find it necessary to rent cars. The employee card issued by the Personnel Office, Adm-111, may be used for identification.

SENIOR WEEK ACTIVITIES LISTED

Degrees and certificates will be conferred on more than 2,000 Cal Poly students during 63rd annual Commencement ceremonies Saturday, June 7. Scheduled for 4 p.m., the traditional event, honoring all students who have completed their degree studies since last June, will take place in Mustang Stadium.

George L. Brand, director of the Office of Public Information of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and editor of the San Luis Obispo Telegram-Tribune, will give the commencement address. He will be introduced by President Robert E. Kennedy.

Senior Week activities will officially begin Sunday (June 1) at 2 p.m., with the Pushing Hubby Through ceremony honoring the wives of graduating students. Final event of the week will be the Senior Ball, slated for the evening of June 7. The Senior Week activities calendar includes:

CONSTRUCTION WILL IMPEDE TRAFFIC

Work on a construction project scheduled to begin June 16 will conflict with traffic along the south side of the campus throughout the Summer Quarter, according to E. Douglas Gerard (Associate Dean, Facilities Planning). The project is expected to provide additional sanitary sewer capacity for handling the building load on the south side of the campus through the master-planned enrollment of 12,000 full-time-equivalent students.

Gerard said the contractor for the project, O'Shaughnessy Construction Company of Goleta, has promised to keep disruption of traffic flow to a minimum throughout the work period. A representative of the company indicated it expected to progress along the job, which roughly parallels South Perimeter Road, one block at a time.

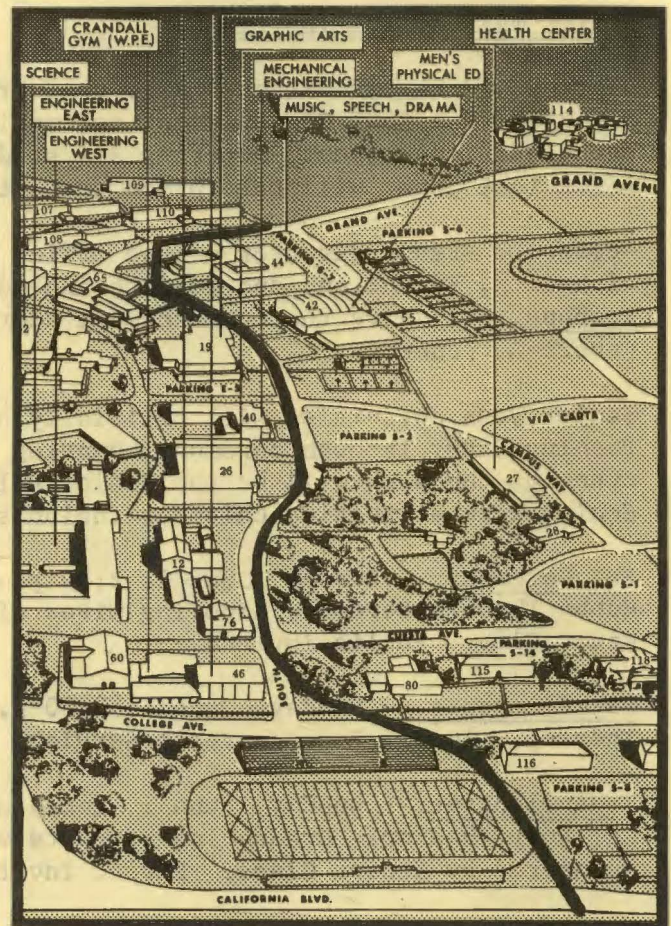

Work on the project, which will be done under a $77,995 contract, is scheduled for completion by Oct. 1, Gerard said. He explained that although it could not begin until after Commencement programs of both the college and San Luis Obispo Senior High School, which are planned for June 7 and 13, respectively, in Mustang Stadium, work on the job in that area should be completed well in advance of football season activity in and around the stadium, and in time for turf to be completely restored.

General route and limits of the sewer development, indicating the areas in which traffic will be affected, are shown on the accompanying map. Work is expected to begin in the California Blvd. area and progress westward as completion nears.

BARBECUE HONORING ATHLETES SLATED TOMORROW EVENING

Neal R. Stoner (Physical Education Department), Cal Poly's new head basketball coach, will be the featured speaker during the 1969 Spring Athletic Awards Dinner tomorrow (Wednesday, May 28), at Poly Grove on campus. The dinner, to which the public is invited, will begin at 6 p.m. Tickets are $3.50 each and are available at the Associated Students Office located in the Temporary College Union Building.

Athletes from the four Mustang spring sports teams will be honored guests and the outstanding athletes in baseball, golf, tennis, and track and field will receive Clarence Brown Awards. Letterman awards will also be presented to members of those teams who recorded the required amount of minutes of playing time for the respective sports. Cal Poly's Rally Club is staging the affair which will feature a barbecue menu.

BALTIMORE COLTS WILL PRACTICE AT CAL POLY IN AUGUST

John Unitas, Tom Matte, John Mackey, Willie Richardson and Earl Morrall will become familiar faces at Cal Poly when the Baltimore Colts set up shop on campus in August. Joe Harper (Athletic Director) announced last week that plans had been finalized and the contracts signed for the National Football League defending champions to use Cal Poly facilities for training and practice Aug. 4 through 14.

Baltimore's Harry Hulmes, general manager, and Steve Rosenbloom, assistant to the president, met with Cal Poly officials and toured the facilities last Wednesday (May 21). The two Colt officials expressed pleasure with the facilities available and the climate of the area. The Colts will stage their workouts in Mustang Stadium. They will also utilize two classrooms. The 60-plus payers, 20 coaches, and other officials will be housed in Tenaya Hall and will eat in the College Dining Hall.

Colt rookies will open training July 13 and the veterans will report to the Western Maryland College campus in Westminster, Md., July 20. The team will fly to San Diego for a pre-season game Aug. 2 before arriving in San Luis Obispo on Aug. 4. The Colts will conduct workouts in preparation for an Aug. 9 pre-season contest in Oakland against the Raiders. They will return to and stay on the Cal Poly campus until Aug. 14 when they will depart for Houston to play another pre-season game.

REMINDER ON RETURN OF KEYS ISSUED BY M O OFFICE

Steadily increasing key losses over the past few years have prompted a reminder regarding return of keys for offices, classrooms, and other facilities that have been issued to students, faculty, and others who may be leaving the college with the close of the Spring Quarter. Keys should be returned to the Maintenance and Operations Office located in the Maintenance and Receiving Warehouse so that individual and departmental key records can be cleared. Doing so now will greatly reduce the difficulty of completing the key inventory later in the year. Questions regarding keys and their return may be referred to Maintenance and Operations, 546-2321.

JAPANESE SCHEDULE SUMMER SEMINAR AT CAL POLY

A pamphlet bearing the names of Oregon State University, University of Hawaii, Hong Kong Baptist College and California State Polytechnic College, but otherwise entirely printed in Japanese, aroused some curiosity when received at Cal Poly recently. President Robert E. Kennedy wondered, "What are they saying about us?" Glenn Rich (Foreign Student Adviser) solved the problem by locating Masaomi Masuda and requesting a translation.

Masuda, 28, an architecture major from Nobeo City, Japan, identified the document as a flyer describing forthcoming summer tours sponsored by the International University on Current Affairs Association and Japan Airlines.

The page dealing with Cal Poly lists an itinerary beginning in Tokyo July 25. The trip, for 25 Japanese interested in architecture, includes a bus trip to San Luis Obispo on July 26, a tour of the college campus July 27, and participation in an Architecture Seminar from July 28 through August 15. The group will leave San Luis Obispo August 16 for sightseeing in Los Angeles and Honolulu before returning to Tokyo.

MUSTANG THINCLADS REPEAT AS C C A A CHAMPIONS

A strong individual effort by Mathyas Michael was the high point of a strong team effort that saw Coach Dick Purcell's successfully defend its California Collegiate Athletic Association track and field championship in Los Angeles last weekend. A freshman from Ethiopia, Michael turned in times of 4:11.6 and 1:50.6 to win the mile run and the 880-yard run, respectively. Both marks were new Cal Poly records.

The Mustang thinclads tallied a total of 98 points to establish a new CCAA record for total points scored in the championship meet. They finished far ahead of the rest of the field, which included Fresno State College (74), California State College at Long Beach (35), San Fernando Valley State College (30), California State College at Los Angeles (28), Cal Poly at Pomona (27), and California State College at Fullerton (5).

Next action for the Cal Poly cinder team will come June 13-14 when it will be in Ashland, Ohio, to defend its National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division national championship. Members of the team who qualify will compete in the NCAA University Division championship meet in Nashville, Tenn., the following week.

Some 1,800 fans were in Mustang Stadium Saturday (May 24) evening to see Head Football Coach Joe Harper's 1969 varsity team run through an intra-squad game that climaxed its spring practice. The Green squad, composed of the offensive and defensive first teams, used a come-from-behind-effort in the second half to chalk up a 28-21 victory over the Green squad, which included the offensive and defensive second teams.

The strong ground game and rugged play on both offense and defense by both squads left many of those who were on hand talking of a strong showing when the Mustang gridders return to action in September. First home contest of the season will be Sept. 27, when Western Washington College will provide the opposition.

R O T C PROGRAM RECEIVES SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

The Reserve Officers Training Corps received strong support from President Robert E. Kennedy during the 14th Annual President's Review in Mustang Stadium. Dr. Kennedy, addressing over 400 cadets in one of the largest voluntary ROTC units west of the Mississippi River, pointed to the role of ROTC in providing integration of civil and military points of view in the United States Army. He attacked the hypocrisy of the "some young revolutionists who say they hate war and love peace."

President Kennedy said, "They have within themselves all the hate necessary to use violence for their own purposes. These are the same destroyers of democracy who accuse others of hypocrisy but use violence to oppose law." Conceding that national security is not rooted in armaments, the Cal Poly President said, "Rather the root of our security is in men's minds and hearts: a combination of rationality and compassion. And that combination is best preserved in our armed services by the men educated in the nation's ROTC programs."

Thirty-two cadets received awards during the ceremony, along with a member of the Cal Poly Kaydettes, a women's auxiliary of the Cal Poly unit. Awards were presented by San Luis Obispo officials and civic leaders, Cal Poly educators, and officers of the Military Science Department.

DEADLINES AND DATELINES

Monday (June 2) will be pay day for the May pay period. Warrants will be available in the Business Management Division Office, Adm-114, throughout the day and may be picked up there. After that time they may be picked up at the Cashier's Office Window located across the lower level lobby from Adm-114.

Prescheduling for all students planning to attend classes during the Summer Quarter will be held at 11 a.m., Thursday (May 29). Students are requested to check their department bulletin boards for departmental prescheduling program locations.

Requests for purchase (Forms 5) for supplies and/or equipment which can be ordered on local Sub-Purchase Orders must reach the Purchasing Office by Friday (May 30). Additional information or clarification for the procedure for use of Sub-Purchase Orders may be obtained by contacting the Purchasing Office, Adm-117, 546-2231.

June 6 will be the last day for instructors to report graduating seniors who are failing course work to the Registrar's Office, Adm-219. Spring Quarter grades for all students are due in the Registrar's Office from instructors by 5 p.m., June 10.

PERSONNEL OFFICE LISTS VACANCIES FOR COLLEGE SUPPORT STAFF

Four openings on the support staff of the college have been announced by Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). Clerical Assistant (Stenography) II-B ($446-$543). Placement Office, Student Affairs Division. Typical tasks include taking dictation and transcribing shorthand notes, typing correspondence, and acting as office receptionist. Applicants must have passed the General Clerical Test, take dictation at 90 wpm, and type 45 wpm.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Lezlie Labhard (Home Economics Department) is author of a paper titled "A Radio-Active Tracer Technique to Detect Synthetic Sebum on Fabrics," which was published in the February, 1969, issue of Textile Research Journal. Research for the paper was conducted at University of California at Davis while Miss Labhard was studying in its Master of Science Degree in textile science program.

R. C. Carlston (Welding and Metallurgical Engineering Department) attended the Western States Corrosion Seminar held at the Voorhis Campus of Cal Poly at Pomona, early this month. Dr. Carlston accompanied Martin Delahanty, a student who attended the special program on a scholarship provided by the West Region of the National Association of Corrosion Engineers.

Donald S. Nelson (Director of Business Affairs) has been appointed to membership on one of three committees of the National Association of College and University Business Officers named to conduct special studies for that organization. Nelson is a member of the Personnel committee, which is working under the chairmanship of Thomas A. McGoey of Columbia University.

Marcus Gold (Audio Visual Department) and Paul Fountain (Crops Department) were among those honored during the annual Awards Parquet of the Associated Students, Inc. Gold received the Charles E. Plath Memorial Staff Award for his service to ASI above and beyond his normal responsibilities. Fountain was named faculty advisor of the year for his work as advisor of the Crops Club. Harry Henderson president of the Mustang Boosters Club for the past two years, received the honorary Mustang Award for his work as a supporter of Cal Poly intercollegiate athletic programs.

Dennis Potter a graduate student in education, has been selected to receive the National Defense Education Act Fellowship for advanced study at Utah State University. The three-year grant is worth $8,000 in tuition and fee waivers and will carry Potter, who received his BS degree in industrial technology from Cal Poly last June, through completion of his master's and doctor's degree programs at Utah State. In addition to his studies, Potter is presently working as a part-time member of the Industrial Technology Department faculty.

Mrs. Helen Kelley (Journalism Department) took part in the annual convention of the California Press Photographers Association at Lake Tahoe recently. A highlight of the event, according to Mrs. Kelley who teaches courses in photography, was a press conference with comedienne Phyllis Diller.

Mrs. Erna Knapp (Education Department) has a one-man exhibit of drawings in the Ryder Gallery, La Cienega. The showing of work by Mrs. Knapp, who teaches art at Cal Poly, is scheduled to continue through the end of this week.

Spelman B. Collins, who retired from the Animal Husbandry Department faculty last September, was named an honorary member of Boots and Spurs Club during the annual banquet of that organization recently. He was cited for inspiring many students to careers in the Sheep industry during his 28 years on the Cal Poly faculty. The club represents the 450 students who are enrolled in the animal husbandry major.

W. E. Bowls (Head of the Physics Department) attended the annual meeting of the American Physical Society, which took place April 28-May 1, in Washington, D.C. While at the conclave, Dr. Bowls interviewed some 35 potential candidates for future positions on the Cal Poly faculty.

PUBLISHERS, EDITORS OBSERVE MUSEUM DEDICATION

The formal opening of the Shakespeare Press Museum was observed Saturday in conjunction with the 1969 Editor's Workshop sponsored by the Journalism Department. Events of the day included workshop sessions featuring Howard B. Taylor, editorial consultant of the Copley Newspapers and James Vestal, photography editor of the Sacramento Union.

Co-hosts John Healey (Head of the Journalism Department) and Rod Carruthers (Head of the Printing Technology and Management Department) presided over the events which included an address by J. Hart Clinton, publisher of the San Mateo Times and president of the California Newspaper Publishers Association. Clinton paid tribute to Charles Palmer, donor, through the CNPA, of the Shakespeare Press Museum which is housed in the Graphic Arts Building.

The day's events concluded with a dinner meeting of the Central California Coast Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, presided over by chapter president Gene Lee of the Ventura Star-Free Press. Those attending heard an address by Miss Marlen DeVries, visiting lecturer from Argentina from the Cal Poly School of Architecture, on the topic, "The City -- Problems in Design."

During the luncheon meeting which heard Clinton's address Cal Poly President Robert E. Kennedy welcomed guests to the campus and James B. McLain, business manager of the San Luis Obispo Telegram-Tribune, introduced four Cal Poly students who were awarded scholarships by the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

ALTERNATE DATE FOR GOLF TOURNEY COMPETITION SCHEDULED BY COMMITTEE

Those who are unable to compete in the Cal Poly Staff Club's Spring Golf Tournament, which is planned for June 7, because of other commitments may compete for the event's low net championship the following (June 8) day, according to an announcement from George Davies (Admissions Officer) and Edward Jorgenson (Physical Education Department). It will be necessary, however, that those planning to play on the alternate day notify the committee so that appropriate arrangements for including scores in the tourney tally can be made.

Regular play in the tournament is slated to begin at 8 a.m., June 7, on the San Luis Obispo Country Club course and should allow participants plenty of time to complete their rounds and still take part in Commencement activities that afternoon. Calloway handicaps will be used and a large number of prizes should assure plenty of fun for all players, according to Jorgenson and Davies who are co-chairmen of the committee. Reservations will be needed and can be made by calling 546-2546.

MEMORIAL DAY RECOGNITION SCHEDULED

Musical selections and brief spoken messages on the campus public address system are scheduled to be heard on Memorial Day (Friday, May 30) in recognition of the annual observance. The brief programs of approximately six minutes each will be heard on the hour from 10 a.m. through 1 p.m.

SECOND EDITIONS OF TWO HENSEL TEXTS PUBLISHED BY HEATH

Second editions of two popular history textbooks by a Cal Poly faculty member have been issued by the publisher. Donald W. Hensel (Associate Dean, Academic Planning) is the author of Study Guide to A History of the Western World, 1715 to the Present second edition, and joint author of the companion work, Study Guide to A History of the Western World, Ancient Times to 1715, second edition. The books are published by D.C. Heath, Boston, and are used in college and university European history classes throughout the nation, with 28 adoptions on the West Coast.

MEMORIAL DAY WILL BE SCHEDULED WORK DAY FOR FACULTY, STAFF

Memorial Day (Friday, May 30) is a scheduled work day for faculty and staff of Cal Poly. Since Memorial Day is a state holiday, employees who work on that day automatically will be credited with eight hours of compensating time off (CTO). Employees who wish to be absent from their work Friday should submit the appropriate leave request form through the usual channels.

ANNUAL FAMILY BARBECUE OF C S E A SLATED THURSDAY EVENING

The annual family beef barbecue dinner of Cal Poly Chapter 97 of the California State Employees Association, will take place beginning at 6 p.m., Thursday (May 29) in Cuesta Park, San Luis Obispo. Tickets for the event are priced at $2 for adults and $1.50 for children and are being sold by CSEA members. A list of those selling the tickets appeared in last week's issue of Cal Poly Report.

COFFEE HOUR WILL HONOR RETIRING FOUNDATION EMPLOYEE

A Coffee Hour planned for Thursday (May 29), starting at 4 p.m., in the Staff Dining Room, will honor Thomas J. Hart (Foundation Maintenance Department), who will retire that day after having been an employee of the Cal Poly Foundation for 19 years. All members of the college faculty and staff are invited to attend and take part in bidding Hart a happy and eventful retirement.

ANNOUNCEMENT ON SUMMER RECREATIONAL SWIMMING PROGRAMS SLATED NEXT WEEK

The Natatorium which is part of the Crandall Gymnasium complex will close at the end of the recreational swimming period Sunday (June 1) afternoon and will remain closed until June 24, when the summer swim programs commence. Robert A. Mott (Head of Physical Education Department) said the schedule for instructional and recreational swimming programs for the summer months will be announced next week.
