FALL QUARTER ENROLLMENT TOPS 7,200

With records for the late registration period, which ended yesterday (Sept. 27), yet to be counted, student registration for the San Luis Obispo Campus, for the first time, has substantially topped the 7,000 mark. A breakdown of students registering during the regular enrollment period, released last week by Registrar Jerald Holley, shows that a total of 7,218 signed up on September 18 and 19.

Three of the campus' instructional divisions showed significant gains with the Engineering Division's 2,194 students still largest. Totals for Applied Arts Division show 2,168; Agriculture, 1,630; and Applied Sciences, 1,226.

Largest enrollment of the college's 31 instructional major departments was in the Architecture and Architectural Engineering Department, where 724 students enrolled.

Other departments with over 400 students enrolled in study majors included Animal Husbandry, 422; Electronic Engineering, 485; Home Economics, 468; Business Administration, 476; Social Sciences, 544.

The total enrollment figure of 7,218 represents a 5 percent increase over last year's registration figure on a comparable date and it is estimated that final enrollment may possibly reach 7,270.

Men continue to outnumber women by about a three-to-one margin in the student body. Included in those registering last week were 5,321 men and 1,897 women. Registration in one of the class groups topped 2,000 for the second time in history of Cal Poly when 2,238 freshmen enrolled. Other class totals included 1,512 sophomores; 1,367 juniors; 1,668 seniors, and 128 graduate students. Another 305 persons signed up for limited study programs.

NEW RULES CONCERNING ON-CAMPUS SALES, ADVERTISING, HANDBILL DISTRIBUTION

President Julian A. McPhee has issued a directive required to implement new regulations adopted by the California State Colleges Board of Trustees concerning on-campus sales, advertising, distribution of handbills, and related matters.

The full text of the directive is available at the College Security Office, the Office of the Business Manager, and the Office of the Associate Dean, Activities.

RHINESTONE PIN FOUND DURING RECEPTION

A women's rhinestone circle pin, found at the home of President and Mrs. Julian A. McPhee following the President's Reception there last Tuesday evening, may be identified and claimed at the Public Relations Office, Room 216, Administration Building.

REMINDER ON HANDLING OF MEDICAL EMERGENCIES ISSUED

Attention was called to procedures for handling medical emergency cases through a statement issued last week by Dean of Students Everett M. Chandler. Commenting that questions on such procedures arise near the start of each year, Dean Chandler outlined the procedure and policy for such cases:

"If a student, faculty or staff member, or a visitor is injured or appears to be seriously ill, (1) notify the Health Center, ext. (546) 2151, and/or (2) notify Campus Security, ext. (546) 2281. Since the college does not have an ambulance and has no other ready means of transporting ill or injured persons, the doctor at the Health Center or security officer will call an ambulance if one is needed. It is suggested that individuals not call an ambulance except in the rare case that it is impossible to contact a Health Center doctor or a campus security officer and it appears essential that an ambulance be called.

"If the situation appears serious, the injured or ill person will ordinarily be taken to the closest general hospital where emergency facilities are available. If the situation does not look too serious, the person will normally be taken to the campus Health Center, if he is a student. Staff members and campus visitors may be taken to the Health Center for emergency treatment only," the dean's statement concludes.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG CONCERT ON CAMPUS TOMORROW NIGHT

With only a few hours left to purchase tickets, the Louis Armstrong concert, scheduled for tomorrow (Wednesday, Sept. 29) evening in the Men's Gym on campus, appears certain of drawing a large crowd. All reserved seats are sold, but according to Robert Spink, graduate manager for the Associated Students, Inc., several hundred general admission tickets are still available.

According to the sponsoring student College Union Assemblies Committee, general admission prices for students have been set at $2.00, and for others, at $2.50. Tickets may still be purchased at the ASI Offices on campus through tomorrow afternoon, and will go on sale at Men's Gym ticket windows beginning at 6:30 p.m., prior to the concert tomorrow evening.

Armstrong's nearly 50 years in show business are what seem to make the greatest impact on the public. However it is his highly-expressive singer-comedianship, which will undoubtedly be on display here tomorrow evening, that people seem to enjoy most about the famed musician. Featured in the supporting "cast" during the concert will be six other musicians whose talent and versatility has won them fame. All members of Armstrong's well-known All-Stars, they are pianist Bill Kyle, drummer Danny Barcelona, bass violinist Arvel Shaw, trombonist Russel "Big Chief" Moore, vocalist Jewell Brown, and clarinetist Buster Bailey.

STAFF CLUB COFFEE HOUR FOR NEW, OLD MEMBERS WILL BE SUNDAY

The patio of the Motel Inn in San Luis Obispo will be site of the Staff Club's annual coffee hour for new and old members, Sunday (Oct. 3), from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. New members of the college faculty and staff are especially invited to attend and old members are urged to be on hand to welcome them. A table of snacks with coffee and tea will be available.

"CLYDE" EARN $3,500 FOR FIVE STUDENT OWNERS

Five students of the Animal Husbandry Department are busily trying to figure out how to best utilize nearly $3,500 following sale of their Hereford steer "Clyde," which won the Grand Championship at the Los Angeles County Fair, last week. Richard Anderson, Alfred DeRose, Jr., Edward Boteilho, Jr., Thomas C. Irwin, and John Vanzee are faced with that problem after the steer, which they owned in partnership, was sold during the sale which climaxed the fair. Von's Markets of Southern California paid them $3.55 per pound for the 1,000-pound animal.

"Clyde" topped all beef entries in the Los Angeles County livestock show. He was a product of Cal Poly's commercial steer herd, having been purchased by the student partners about February 1st of this year as a calf. Bred and raised on the college farm, he is one of 15 head of cattle owned by the partnership. Their venture into livestock production is being financed by the college's Agricultural Enterprise Program.

"Clyde's" victory at the Los Angeles fair gave Cal Poly student-owned animals two consecutive Grand Champions at that show. Another Herford, "Sam," also owned by a group of five animal husbandry students and weighing 1,095 pounds, brought $2.25 per pound at the sale.

NEWS FROM THE KELLOGG AND VOORHIS CAMPUSES

Department head additions and changes at the Kellogg Campus announced recently included Dr. Ramiro Dutra, Foods and Nutrition; Max Epps, Chemical Engineering; Frank Lansford, Physical Education; Fred Heath, Social Sciences; and Dr. Jack Fulbeck, Language Arts; who have been appointed acting department heads by President Julian A. McPhee. Dr. Dutra and Epps both head new departments, while Lansford, Heath, and Dr. Fulbeck replace Barney Annoshian, Don Pflueger, and Dr. Ben Siegel, who all return to full-time instruction. . .

Several construction projects will begin at the Kellogg Campus during coming months. They include the $2.5 million Men's Gymnasium, targeted for completion in February, 1967, addition of air conditioning to the Business Building and the Science Building, and landscaping of the Engineering Building addition. . . Howard Boltz and Owen Peters, both members of the Kellogg Campus' Landscape Architecture Department's faculty, have been elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Southern California Council of Landscape Architects and O. A. Batcheller, Ornamental Horticulture, has received notification of his appointment as a member of the American Society for Horticultural Science's Education Committee.

VARSITY GRIDDERS JOURNEY TO SAN DIEGO; FROSH HOST U C S B

After dropping a close 10-7 decision to Linfield College in their home opener last Saturday night, Cal Poly's football varsity will journey to San Diego, where it will open its California Collegiate Athletic Association Schedule, this Saturday (Oct. 2) night. This week's contest will be broadcast in the San Luis Obispo area by Radio Station KVEC, beginning at 7:45 p.m., Saturday.

In the meantime, Coach Ed Swartz' freshman gridders will open their 1965 campaign when they host University of California at Santa Barbara's freshman eleven in a game scheduled for 2:30 p.m., Friday (Oct. 1), in Mustang Stadium on campus.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

John V. Stechman, Animal Husbandry, is completing a rangeland resource survey of Montana de Oro State Park, which he began last summer, for the Division of Beaches and Parks. He recently participated in a County Range Improvement Association control burn on the Avila Ranch.

Dr. A. Z. Rosen, Physical Sciences, took part in a National Science Foundation Research Participation Program, held at University of Colorado, last summer. His work was at the university's cyclotron and involved a study of the scattering of prot from deuterium.

Glen Rich, Agricultural Engineering, was a featured speaker on the program of the annual Fall Meeting of the California Cooperative Cotton Gins Association, September 8-10, in San Francisco. His topic was "Technical Training in Cotton Ginning at Cal Poly."

Fred L. Klogston, Biological Sciences, has received notification of completion of his work for the Doctor of Zoology degree from the University of Washington. He expects to receive the degree by mid-December.

STAFF CLUB WILL NOT HOLD LUNCHEON MEETING THIS WEEK

Postponement of the luncheon meeting planned for Thursday (September 30) and announcement of Dr. William Alexander, a member of the Social Sciences Department faculty, as speaker for the club's October 7 luncheon meeting, were reported last week. Dr. Alexander, who recently returned to campus following a year of study in India, will speak on "Adventure in India."

RECENT KESEY NOVEL WILL BE SUBJECT OF "BOOKS AT HIGH NOON" REVIEW OCTOBER 5

Sometimes a Great Notion, a recent novel by Ken Kesey, will be reviewed during the Books at High Noon luncheon meeting being planned for next Tuesday (October 5) beginning at noon, in the Staff Dining Room. Michael O'Leary, a member of the Social Sciences Department's instructional staff will be the reviewer.

Kesey's first novel, One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, was widely acclaimed, according to O'Leary. "His mix of earthy tragic and comic situations makes Sometimes a Great Notion a major recent American novel. He has written a big-scale novel about a ruggedly individualistic family in Oregon's western lumber country. He takes his title from Leadbelly's song, "Goodnight, Irene," and favors his prose with pungent fragments from popular and Western music," O'Leary concludes.

LIBRARY INSTALLS RENTAL TYPEWRITERS, REDUCES XEROX RATES

Five new rental electric typewriters, including both elite and pica type, are now available for use in a room located off the Periodicals Room of the campus Library. Rates are $.10 per 20 minutes or $.25 per hour for the coin operated machines. At the same time, rates for micro-film and Xerox duplication have been reduced from $.15 to $.10 per page. This service is also available in the Periodicals Room.
