HEART FUND DONATIONS WILL HONOR FORMER HEAD OF CROPS DEPARTMENT

Donations to the Heart Association's fund have been requested in lieu of flowers in memory of Paul Dougherty, former head of the San Luis Obispo Campus' Crops Department who was buried following a private military funeral in San Francisco Friday (Oct. 15). Dougherty, who was head of the department until his retirement in 1955, died early last week.

Those desiring to make contributions to the fund in memory of Dougherty may do so by addressing their check to Security First National Bank, Marsh and Morro Streets, San Luis Obispo, 93401; Attention Mr. Lamas, Treasurer, Heart Association. Name and address of the donor, name individual in whose name donation is being made, and address of family of person in whose name donation is being made should all be included.

F F A GROUPS SCHEDULE CAMPUS ACTIVITIES THIS SATURDAY

The Cal Poly Agricultural Education and Young Farmers Club will host some 125 Future Farmers of America members from San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties during an annual field day, scheduled for Saturday (Oct. 23) on campus.

Visiting FFA members will be taken on tours of the college's Food Processing Department and observe demonstrations including fitting and showing of beef cattle and sheep staged by the Animal Husbandry Department. The Agricultural Education Club will host a contest to determine the "best informed" FFA chapter in the two-county region and conduct an initiation for new members of the nationwide organization for farm youth.

The program will begin with a general assembly during which J. Cordner Gibson, assistant dean of agriculture here at the San Luis Obispo Campus, will welcome the guests. After his address, the visitors will be divided into two groups. The tours and demonstrations are then scheduled to begin and will be followed by the initiation of new members.

INFORMATION REGARDING LUNCHEON RESERVATIONS REQUESTED

Members of the college faculty and staff who hold reservations for either the Wednesday or Friday luncheons sponsored each week by students in the Home Economics Department's Meal Management course were asked last week to cancel their reservations in advance when they find it impossible to attend the luncheon/s.

Waiting lists have been established for both luncheons, and when vacancies come up those on the waiting list for the particular luncheon/s are called and given an opportunity to attend. Changes in reservations or additions to the waiting lists may be made by calling (546) 2289.

COLLEGE HOUR CONCERT WILL FEATURE BAROQUE ERA MUSIC

Music of the Baroque Era will be featured during the College Hour Concert being planned for Thursday (Oct. 21) morning at 11:00, in the Little Theater on campus. Sponsored by the Music Department, the program will be directed by Ronald Ratcliffe, a member of the department's faculty. Participating in the program along with Ratcliffe, who will also play the harpsichord, will be Mrs. Irvin Kogan, featured on the cello; Sandra Chapman on the flute; and Eric Poole, baritone singer. Both Miss Chapman and Poole are members of the campus student body.

First selection on the program will be the Bach aria, "Bist Du Bei Mir," followed by "Prelude and Fugue in C-Minor" from "The Well-Tempered Clavier, Vol. 1," also composed by Bach. Other selections include the "Sonata in G-Minor for Flute and Continuo" by Handel, and "Les Fastes de la Grande et Ancienne Menestrandise" by Couperin. The program will conclude with three songs by Purcell -- arias from three of his early operas. The entire company will participate in the rendition of the final number, "Here Let My Life."

Thursday's program begins the third year of the monthly College Hour Concerts series which is presented by the Music Department and is open to the public. Next program will be Nov. 18 and will present the Polystrings and the Cal Poly Little Symphony under direction of Emmanuel R. Heifetz, also a member of the Music Department faculty.

AMERICAN FICTION SINCE WORLD WAR II WILL BE "BOOKS AT HIGH NOON" TOPIC

Chairman Ena Marston will give a special report, "American Fiction, the Postwar Years, 1945-1965," during the Books at High Noon luncheon meeting being planned for next Tuesday (Oct. 26), beginning at noon in the Staff Dining Room.

The report will be taken from an article which appeared in Book Week, a special section of the Washington Post, for Sept. 25, 1965. The editor of that article asked writers, critics, editors and professors to list the authors who have written the most distinguished fiction during the period 1945-65; to specify the works of fiction most likely to endure; and to add general comments on the state of fiction if they cared to. In all, 119 responded, and about half of them added general comments.

SALE OF TICKETS FOR "INSTITUTE ON GOVERNMENT" BEGINS

Sale of tickets for the California State Employees Association-sponsored Institute on Government, planned for November 4, on campus, has begun and is being managed by Owen Servatius, head of the Business Administration Department, who announced last week that sales would be handled by individual departmental representatives. The one-day meeting has been endorsed by Governor Edmund G. Brown, who has authorized state agency heads in the Central Coast Area to permit their employees who desire to attend it during their regular working day, insofar as it is consistent with the operation of the agency.

Patterned after similar meetings that have been held by CSEA for several years throughout the state with approval of state government officials, next month's institute here will include discussions of taxes, civil service employee motivation, natural resources, fringe benefits and CSEA services to employees. It is being sponsored by CSEA chapters in Region XVIII, which includes all chapters in San Luis Obispo County and Santa Maria.

Tickets for the event which will admit the purchaser to all general and discussion sessions are on sale at $2.00 each. Tickets that include a luncheon in the Staff Dining Room, as well as admittance to the general and discussions sessions, are priced at

SECTION MEETINGS TOP WOMEN'S CLUB'S SCHEDULE

Meetings of seven of the Cal Poly Women's Club's special interest groups top that organization's schedule for the next several days. Sections and groups with meetings planned include the Bridge; Book, Art and Music; Newcomers; Sewing; Walking; Home and Garden; and Beginners' Bridge Sections.

The Book, Art, and Music Section will meet tomorrow (Wednesday, October 20) evening at 8:00 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Loren Nicholson, 103 La Entrada, San Luis Obispo. Topic for the evening, presented by Loren Nicholson, will be "Art and Architecture in the Interesting Life of Julia Morgan." Julia Morgan was architect and designer of Hearst Castle. Those desiring further information about the meeting may obtain it by calling Mrs. David Montgomery (544-1736).

Monday, Nov. 1, is date of the next meeting of the club's Bridge Section. The meeting will take place in Room 129, of the Library Building, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

The Newcomers Section's next meeting, scheduled for Oct. 27, will take place at the San Luis Obispo County Museum in San Luis Obispo. Mrs. Louisana Dart, curator of the museum, will discuss "Historical Places in San Luis Obispo." Refreshments will be served following the meeting at the home of Mrs. William Armentrout, 348 Lincoln Avenue, San Luis Obispo.

Next gathering for the beginners' bridge group will be Thursday (Oct. 21) at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. C. H. Gregory, 213 Albert Drive, San Luis Obispo. Members of the women's club interested in learning to play bridge are invited to call Mrs. Gregory (543-5672) or Mrs. Roger Bailey (543-5616) for further information.

The walking group meets Thursday (Oct. 21), at 10:00 a.m., also in the Gregory home, 213 Albert Drive, San Luis Obispo, to organize. Everyone interested is welcome and may call Mrs. Gregory (543-5672) for further information.

Tuesday, Nov. 2, is the date of the Sewing Section's next meeting. Planned for the home of Mrs. Bert Fellows, 208 Hathway Street, San Luis Obispo, the meeting will begin at 2:00 p.m.

The Home and Garden Section plans its next gathering for tomorrow (Wednesday, Oct. 20) at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Kennedy, 1385 Cazadero, San Luis Obispo. The meeting, which will begin at 9:30 a.m., will feature Mrs. Maxine Howell of the Gabby Book Store, San Luis Obispo, as guest speaker. She will discuss new books on gardening, interior decorating, and antiques. CPWC members interested in joining this group may call Mrs. Harold Hayes (543-2115) for information.

Next general meeting for the women's club will be Tuesday, Nov. 2, at 8:00 p.m., in the Little Theater on campus. Mrs. Virginia Stanton of Carmel Valley will be the guest speaker on that occasion and will discuss entertaining at home. Mrs. Stanton, recognized as one of the nation's most expert and successful hostesses, has many unusual theories about painless party-giving. Due to the limited seating capacity of the theater, attendance at the meeting will be limited to CPWC members, campus home economics students and faculty, and home economists in homemaking.

CAMPUS CHAPTER OF A C S C P WILL MEET TONIGHT

The campus chapter of the Association of California State College Professors will meet tonight (Tuesday, Oct. 19) at 7:30 p.m., in Room A-12 of the Science Building. ACSCP plans for the current academic year will be outlined and opened for discussion during the gathering. All faculty members are invited to attend.

DEADLINE FOR ARTICLES APPEARING IN NEXT WEEK'S STAFF BULLETIN IS FRIDAY NOON!!

PLACEMENT OFFICE REPORTS 6,500 INTERVIEW OPPORTUNITIES DURING 1964-65

Students at the San Luis Obispo Campus had more than 6,500 opportunities to interview for post-graduate employment during 1964-65, according to a report issued recently by the Placement Office. Placement Officer Eugene A. Rittenhouse, whose office administers the campus' placement opportunities program, said that 459 representatives of 271 employers, including military, banking, department store, school, agricultural, oil, accounting, engineering, and other concerns, made 333 visits, meeting appointments on 326 interview schedules during last academic year.

They made 4,409 individual student contacts and an additional 2,000 interview appointments were available to students on campus, but not utilized, according to the report. Additional employers, totaling 41, would have visited Cal Poly had interest in their particular types of employment opportunities been sufficient. The number of confidential folders provided for public and private school officials for teacher candidates by the office totaled nearly 1,400, compared with 989 provided during 1963-64.

Looking ahead into the 1965-66 year, Rittenhouse said that 177 employers have already reserved 310 dates to interview prospective employees among the San Luis Obispo Campus students for post-graduate jobs.

Also included in the report were figures on the numbers of students who worked on a part-time basis for the college and its related agencies during last year. Broken down, these figures show that 900 worked for the college itself for a total income of $461,707. Among the related agencies, 1,356 students earned $251,698 working for the Cal Poly Foundation; 25 working for El Corral College Bookstore earned $14,000; innumerable students working for the Associated Students, Inc., earned $19,450.

Off-campus job requests filled by students during 1964-65 totaled 1,100 and included, in many cases, more than one student working for firms or individual residents of the San Luis Obispo City and County areas. The variety of such off-campus, part-time jobs ranged from accounting, baby sitting, camp counseling, clerical and stenographic, drafting, engineering, entertaining, and gardening jobs, to opinion surveying, photography, private tutoring, translating, and bronc busting.

90 BULLS SOLD DURING ANNUAL SALE ON CAMPUS

The ninth annual Cal Poly Test Bull Sale of Hereford bulls took place on campus yesterday (Monday, Oct. 18), in the Livestock Pavillion. The 90 head of bulls consigned and sold during the sale represented cooperators in the college's "bull testing" program and the Tri-County Hereford Breeders Association.

Animals for the sale were graded Sunday, preceding the sale, by judges Ray V. Parker of the Agriculture Extension Service's Kern County office; Wilbur Dennis, Dennis Cattle Company, Ducor; and Dale Carithers, Mission Hereford Ranch, Mission San Jose.

Consignors of the 60 test bulls that had been tested on campus since last December, and for which full records of performance were available, included Acehi Ranch, Porterville; Dudley-Parker Ranch, Gazelle; E and K Farms, Watsonville; Diamond Ranch, San Luis Obispo; Tejon Ranch, Bakersfield; Layous and Sons, King City; Orvis and Sons, Farmington; Stanley J. Phillips, Watsonville; and Sambrailo and Sons, Watsonville.

Consignors of the other 30 animals, all members of the Tri-County breeders group, included Cal Poly; Triangle-One Ranch, Buellton; Joughin Ranch, Santa Ynez; Schuyler Brothers, Lompoc; and Dos Pueblos Ranch, Goleta.

C S E A LUNCHEON MEETING WILL VIEW FILM ON STATE WATER PLAN

Those in attendance during the initial 1965-66 luncheon meeting of Chapter 97 of the California State Employees Association, scheduled for tomorrow (Wednesday, Oct. 20), beginning at noon, in Section B of the Staff Dining Room, will view the recently-completed 30-minute, color motion picture, California's State Water Project.

Beginning with construction scenes, the film explains graphically the state's need for moving water from north to south, giving estimates that by 1975 the California population will be 27 million persons. It moves from upper Feather River tributaries to huge Oroville Dam and then traces the route of the water project down the state to the San Luis Dam, over the Tehachapi, and to the Castaic and Perris Reservoirs. All members of the college faculty and staff, regardless of whether they are CSEA members or not, are invited to attend.

NOTES FROM THE KELLOGG AND VOORHIS CAMPUSES

Poly Royal, the famed three-year-old liberty "movie horse," again headed the cast of 12 outstanding performers when the Kellogg Arabian Horse Show opened its 40th consecutive season at the Kellogg Campus, October 10. This season will be the 17th under Cal Poly auspices. The weekly, Sunday afternoon performances at 2:00, and again at 3:30, are held in Kellogg Arena, through May, with exception of December. . . Popular acts in the show, which plays to an average audience of 800 each week, include the new Canadian surrey and specialty roadster acts, cutting horse and trick acts, in addition to the jumping, three-gaited, dressage, fine harness, and the ever-popular Shetland Pony hitch. . . Admission-free passes are available to members of the college faculty and staff and may be arranged by contacting the San Luis Obispo Campus Public Relation Office. Admission prices for the public are $.25 for children and $.50 for adults.

DR. ALEXANDER'S STAFF CLUB LUNCHEON PROGRAM RESCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY

The "real" Dr. William Alexander will stand up and be heard during the regular luncheon meeting of the Staff Club, scheduled to start at noon, Thursday (Oct. 21), in the Staff Dining Room. After two delays caused by the recently-concluded 1965 World Series of baseball, Dr. Alexander will present "Adventures in India," an account of some of his experiences in investigating village government in India while on leave last academic year. His talk will be illustrated with colored slide photographs taken during his trip.

VARSITY, FROSH GRIDDERS CONTINUE HOME STAND THIS WEEK

Cal Poly's varsity and frosh footballers, both losers in last weekend's action, continue their current home stands this Saturday. The Mustangs, who played inspired ball while dropping a 20-14 decision to nationally-ranked Fresno State College, hope to balance their season record at 3-3 when they meet California Western University in a contest scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m., in Mustang Stadium on campus.

The Colt eleven follows its 41-21 loss to Hancock College's varsity with what will undoubtedly be the first of a long series of hotly-contested "cross-town" battles with the fledgling Cuesta College Cougars. That game is planned for a 1:00 p.m. kick-off, also in Mustang Stadium. The Colts now own a 2-1 record for the season.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

Dr. Dan Lawson, associate dean, activities; James McGrath, head of Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Engineering; J. Cordner Gibson, assistant dean of agriculture; and Dr. Dale W. Andrews, dean of the college, have all been re-appointed to membership on the Advisory Commission of the Associated Students, Inc., by President Julian A. McPhee. Their terms on the commission are for the 1965-66 academic year.

Starr Jenkins, English and Speech, had three of his articles published during recent weeks. The articles and publications in which they appeared are "Down with Yosemite City," in the August edition of San Francisco magazine; "Helitack Fire," in the summer issue of Air BP; and "Frogman Ambush," in the May edition of Our Navy. The latter article is about an adventure of Willard Pederson, head of the English and Speech Department.

Wilfred E. Cawelti, an alumnus of the Crops Department ('55), has been appointed farm advisor in the Antelope Valley for the University of California's Agricultural Extension Service. He moved to his new headquarters in Lancaster recently.

Frank Fox, Animal Husbandry, and Oswald Falkenstern, Mathematics, have been re-appointed faculty advisor and assistant faculty advisor, respectively, for the Poly Royal Board of the Associated Students, Inc. Named to those positions by President McPhee, their appointments are for the 1965-66 academic year.

Mead Johnson, English and Speech, attended the Technical and Industrial Communication Institute, held at Colorado State University during the summer.

John Healey, Technical Journalism, has been reappointed to membership on the Publications Board of the Associated Students, Inc., by President McPhee. His new appointment is for the 1965-66 academic year.

VISTA REPRESENTATIVES WILL VISIT CAMPUS NEXT WEEK

A recruitment team will be on campus next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (Oct. 26-28) to inform members of the college student body, faculty, and staff about the VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) Program and its unique role in the war on poverty. VISTA has over 1,300 volunteers already at work on Indian reservations, in migrant camps, city slums, rural areas, and wherever poverty exists.

Volunteers will serve in the 50 states and District of Columbia, the Pacific Islands Trust Territory, the Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico. Typical assignments are: organizing communities to undertake projects, bring the poor into programs that help them, tutoring or teaching the fundamentals of literacy, teaching skills to the mentally retarded and aiding in their rehabilitation; and teaching homemaking and health practices.

The VISTA representatives will be available in the Snack Bar area and, in addition, will be available to present five-minute classroom presentations on invitation. Arrangements for the classroom presentations may be made by calling the Placement Office, (546) 2501. A 15-minute film, "Small Miracle," describing what a VISTA volunteer can do, is also available for showing to groups on request. It will be available during the representatives' campus visit in the Audio Visual Department's Service Office, Room 9, Business Administration and Education Building.
