CONVOCATION, LUNCHEON SCHEDULED AS HIGHLIGHTS FOR FOUNDERS DAY

Finalized plans for activities connected with Founders Day, scheduled for next Tuesday (March 8), on the San Luis Obispo Campus, have been completed. Part of a six-month-long series of special events planned to observe Cal Poly's 65th Anniversary, a campus-wide convocation and a luncheon honoring President Julian A. McPhee and other special guests are both included on the day's program.

Announcement of plans for the day, which falls on the 65th anniversary of signing of the law which established California Polytechnic School, forerunner to Cal Poly, came last week from William Troutner, chairman of a combined student, faculty, and staff committee which is responsible for planning anniversary events.

First event on the Founders Day schedule, according to Troutner, will be the Convocation for members of the student body, faculty, and staff, planned to begin at 10:30 a.m., in the Men's Gymnasium. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Louis Heilbron of San Francisco, an attorney and member of the Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges. Also on the convocation program are welcoming remarks by both George Soares, president of the campus' Associated Students, Inc., and Dale W. Andrews, recently-appointed vice president of the San Luis Obispo Campus.

The luncheon, which will honor President McPhee, is being planned for the Staff Dining Room on campus and will follow the convocation beginning at noon. It will be an invitation only affair.

VICE PRESIDENT URGES CONVOCATION ATTENDANCE; CAMPUS SERVICE WILL BE CLOSED

An announcement which urged all members of the campus student body, faculty, and staff to attend the Founders Day Convocation next Tuesday (March 8) morning, also revealed that classes will be dismissed and campus service agencies closed during the historic occasion.

The statement, issued by Vice President Dale W. Andrews said instructors would be asked to dismiss their classes no later than 10:15 a.m., to allow their students and themselves time to be seated in the Men's Gymnasium by 10:30, when the convocation will begin.

In addition to dismissal of classes, the announcement also said the Library, Snack Bar and other coffee bars, Health Service, and all campus administrative offices would be closed except for skeleton operation. (Other information regarding the convocation and a special luncheon, being planned also for Founders Day, may be found in an additional article which appears elsewhere on this page.)

CALENDAR FOR NEW SUMMER QUARTER, SUMMER SESSION FORMAT ANNOUNCED

Details of a new calendar for the San Luis Obispo Campus' forthcoming Summer Quarter were announced last week. Part of provisions of plans for intensified year-round operation adopted by the Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges, the revised calendar calls for campus students attending classes this summer to be able to exercise several options in their selection of courses and dates.

The forthcoming summer program will consist of a full 11-week State supported Summer Quarter and two consecutive 4-week self-supported Summer Sessions. Within the usual academic load restrictions, a student may attend any or all of these summer programs.

Those planning to attend the Summer Quarter will register and begin classes on June 20-21. Final examinations, scheduled for August 30-Sept. 2, will close the revised quarter. Calendar for the Summer Session calls for students attending the first term to enroll June 27. Classes begin the following day and will conclude with final examinations July 23. The second term will open with registration and start of classes July 25-26, and end with final examinations August 19.

Fees for students attending the Summer Quarter will be same as those charged for other quarters of the academic year at Cal Poly. Costs for the Summer Session will be $12.50 per quarter unit, plus normal incidental fees.

The revised summer format replaces the split four- and six-week terms which have been in use at the San Luis Obispo Campus during the past several years. Summer programs on campus first began operation on an academic Summer Quarter basis in 1947. The Kellogg Campus, located near Pomona, has operated its summer program on a continuous 11-week calendar for the past four years and is scheduled to continue use of that format.

1966 FOUNDERS DAY WILL BE SECOND IN CAL POLY HISTORY (Continued)

Music for both the convocation and the luncheon will be provided by student groups from the college's Music Department. The Concert Band, conducted by J. Martin Baum, director of bands, and the Men's Glee Club, directed by Harold P. Davidson, will both perform during the convocation. Vocal entertainment for the luncheon will be by the Collegiate Quartet.

Troutner, a member of the San Luis Obispo Campus' Crops Department faculty, said that special guests, including several trustees and presidents of the state colleges, members of the state legislature serving this area, and elected officials of the City and County of San Luis Obispo had been invited to take part in the day's activities.

Interestingly enough, next week's observance of Founders Day will be the second in Cal Poly history. The first took place on March 3, 1906, when California Polytechnic School, then a high school, was five years old. Guest speaker that day was Assemblyman Warren M. John of San Luis Obispo, who had been instrumental in securing passage of the legislation which established the school. Documents available in the archives do not record such an event having taken place since that time.

(See additional article located elsewhere in this edition of Staff Bulletin for information regarding operation of classes and other campus services during Founders Day events.)

PLANS FOR AG COUNCIL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED; C A T A GROUP WILL HOST SPEAKER

Judd H. Rose, advertising manager for the Best Fertilizer Company of Lathrop, has been scheduled by the student Agriculture Council as guest speaker for its meeting being planned for Monday (March 7), at 7:30 p.m., in the campus Little Theater. He will also be an honored guest during a dinner meeting of the California Agriculture Teachers Association's Region-at-Large, scheduled for earlier that same evening, on campus.

"Expanding Horizons in Cryogenics" will be Rose's topic. A relatively new term, "cryogenics" relates to the production and effects of very low temperatures. Rose's talk is expected to discuss the use of low temperatures in the processing and packaging of meats, fruits, and vegetables.

Rose has been in the advertising business since 1953. He was an account executive for an agency in Boise, Ida., where he specialized in agricultural equipment accounts. A native of that area, Rose grew up on a farm near Boise, and moved to California when he began his present duties in June, 1961.

The CATA dinner meeting, scheduled for 6:30 p.m., in the Staff Dining Room, is also being planned to honor Dale W. Andrews, recently appointed vice president for Cal Poly's San Luis Obispo Campus, and Emile LaSalle, who recently began his duties as regional supervisor for the state Bureau of Agricultural Education with offices on campus. Reservations for the dinner gathering may be made by contacting Glenn Rich of the Agricultural Engineering Department.

FELLOWSHIPS IN RELIGION AND HUMANITIES ANNOUNCED

The Frank L. Weil Institute for Studies in Religion and the Humanities has announced availability, again in 1967, of eight summer fellowships of $1,200 each. The summer fellowships are available for post-doctoral faculty members to work on publishable papers in the humanities (literature, art, history, philosophy, etc.) dealing with religion. Papers dealing with either religion only or the humanities only will not be considered by the committee.

Application forms may be secured from the Weil Institute, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, 3101 Clifton Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio 45220. Final date for submission of an application is Oct. 1, 1966. Awards will be announced in Nov., 1966.

OVERMEYER WILL ADDRESS STAFF CLUB LUNCHEON MEETING

Philip H. Overmeyer, a member of the Business Administration Department's faculty, will be the guest speaker when the Staff Club holds its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday (March 3), beginning at noon, in the Staff Dining Room. Title of his remarks will be "Future Economic Controls."

A member of the Cal Poly staff since 1958, Overmeyer's experience prior to that time included five years spent as an administrator in economic controls for the federal government. During World War II he controlled wages and labor disputes in the Western lumber industry as acting wage stabilization director of the West Coast Lumber Commission of the National War Labor Board. The Korean crisis found him serving as a public member of a tri-partite Regional Board of the National Wage Stabilization Board and again working with the labor industry, along with other duties. He later worked with the Office of Salary Stabilization and as a special commissioner working with violations of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

OPENINGS ON CAMPUS STAFF ANNOUNCED

Vacancies on the staffs of three Business Management Division departments were announced last week and applications are being received by the Personnel Office. Included among the positions to be filled are an intermediate clerk, custodians, and an intermediate account clerk. Permanency in the San Luis Obispo Area is desirable for all of the positions.

The Accounting Department is looking for an intermediate account clerk with bookkeeping and/or bookkeeping machine operation experience and knowledge of procedures used in those skills, while the Custodial Department has openings for several custodians.

Pleasant personality and ability to handle public relations matters effectively are basic requirements for the position of intermediate clerk, which is open on the Personnel Office's staff. Also desirable for the position is a knowledge of state payroll and personnel procedures.

Those interested in either learning more about any of the positions or filing applications for them are invited to contact the Personnel Office, Room 117, Administration Building, (546)2236.

CAL POLY WOMEN'S CLUB NEWS

General Meeting - The regular monthly meeting of the general membership of the Cal Poly Women's Club will take place next Tuesday (March 8), at 8:00 p.m., in the Little Theater on campus. Entertainment for the evening will be provided by the combined Women's and Men's Glee Clubs.

Bridge Section - Room 129 of the Library Building on campus will be the scene of the next meeting of the CPWC's Bridge Section, beginning at 8:00 p.m., Monday (March 7).

Walking Group - Walks in two different areas of San Luis Obispo County have been planned for forthcoming meetings of the women's club's Walking Group. The meeting of March 8, scheduled to begin at 9:00 a.m., when members gather at the home of Mrs. Loren Nicholson, 103 La Entrada, San Luis Obispo, will find them taking a stroll to the tree line of San Luis Mountain. One week later, on March 14, they will meet at the foot of the County Pier in Avila Beach for a walk in that vicinity, beginning also at 9:00 a.m.

Travel Section - The next meeting of the club's Travel Section will be held in the home of Mrs. Harry West, 384 Albert Drive, San Luis Obispo, beginning at 9:30 a.m., March 9. Jewelry used to show how different gems and pieces of jewelry tie in with the culture and customs of foreign lands will be displayed during the program. Members are invited to bring any "foreign gems" they might wish to share with the group to the meeting.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY WILL BE CAMPUS GUEST

William Ketchum, candidate for the California Assembly in the forthcoming primary election will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the student chapter of the California College Republicans. Members of the college faculty and staff are invited to attend the meeting, which is being planned for tomorrow (Wednesday, March 2) evening, beginning at 7:30 p.m., in Room E-45 of the Science Building.

VIETNAMESE NEWSMAN SCHEDULES CAMPUS ADDRESS

Tran van Dinh -- chief Washington correspondent for the Saigon Post and former acting ambassador of Viet Nam to the United States -- will give an address the evening of March 9, in the Little Theater on campus. Planned for 8:00 p.m., the program during which he will speak is being sponsored by the student College Union Forum Committee.

Few observers of contemporary Asia have the depth of knowledge van Dinh has acquired in his studies and personal experience. He is the son of a Vietnamese scholar who taught him Chinese literature and ideograms and was educated at Quoc Hoc College and Hanoi University. He considers himself, besides a journalist and diplomat, a poet and artist and is an accomplished linguist.

Tickets for the forum program, during which van Dinh will speak, will be sold at the door and will be priced at $.50 for students and $1.00 for the public.

MUSTANG BASEBALLERS WILL HOST PASADENA NINE

A baseball doubleheader, during which Coach Bill Hicks' Mustang varsity will host Pasadena College's Crusaders, beginning at 12:30 p.m., Saturday (March 5), on the baseball field, highlights the campus sports schedule for this week. Also on tap for home fans are other events featuring Cal Poly's golf, tennis, and freshman baseball teams.

First home action of the week comes tomorrow (Wednesday, March 2), when the tennis squad hosts University of California at Santa Barbara in a dual match, planned for 3:00 p.m., on the campus courts. Thursday (March 3) will find the golfers playing host to San Fernando Valley State College in a match scheduled for San Luis Obispo Country Club, starting at 1:00 p.m. Only local action Friday (March 4) has the frosh baseball nine meeting Cuesta College's Cougars in a game billed for 2:30 p.m., on the campus diamond. Winding-up the week on Saturday are the varsity baseball twinbill vs. Pasadena and the gymnastics meet, which will find Coach Vic Bucolla's charges hosting the Kellogg Campus, starting at 7:30 p.m., in Men's Gym.

Also in competition away from home this week are the freshman baseball, swimming, varsity baseball, and varsity track and field teams.

BIBLICAL FANTASY "NOAH" WILL CONCLUDE RUN THIS WEEKEND

Noah, an entertaining three-act play by Andre Obey which opened a run of five performances on campus last weekend, will close with final performances this Friday and Saturday (March 4-5) evenings. Curtain time both evenings will be 8:30 p.m., in the Little Theater.

Staged and sponsored by the English and Speech Department and directed by Murray Smith, the play's story is essentially the same as that of the Bible's Old Testament story of Noah. Not a literal interpretation of the Bible story, the play is a fantasy complemented by music and portrays the story of Noah, the Ark-builder, his task, and his accomplishment, as well as his trials, faith, and a promise fulfilled.

Tickets for the final performances are on sale at several San Luis Obispo locations, as well as at the Associated Students, Inc., offices on campus. All seats will be general admission and are priced at $1.25 each for adults, and $.75, for students.

DEADLINE FOR ARTICLES APPEARING IN NEXT WEEK'S STAFF BULLETIN IS FRIDAY NOON

PEDERSON'S REVIEW WILL BE LAST OF QUARTER FOR "BOOKS AT HIGH NOON"

Today's (Tuesday, March 1) Books at High Noon luncheon program, featuring the review of Vladimir Nobakov's Lolita by Willard Pederson, head of the English and Speech Department, will be last of the Winter Quarter, according to Ena Marston, chairman for the weekly book review series.

Miss Marston said the Staff Dining Room sections normally used for the group's meetings will be used in connection with Founders Day activities next Tuesday (March 8) and that since the following week was so near time for final examinations, further programs for the series would be delayed until start of the Spring Quarter.

DUO-PIANISTS SLATE COLLEGE HOUR CONCERT

Duo-pianists Rosalie Davidson and Ronald V. Ratcliffe will be the featured artists during the College Hour Concert scheduled for Thursday (March 3) morning, beginning at 11:00 a.m., in the Little Theater on campus. Programmed during the concert are compositions by Bach, Schumann, and Milhaud.

Mrs. Davidson is wife of Harold P. Davidson, head of the Music Department, while Ratcliffe is a member of that department's faculty. Both are accomplished performers and Thursday morning's concert is a return engagement for them as far as the College Hour Concert series is concerned.

JANUARY ISSUE OF "C S C REVIEW" WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

Copies of the January, 1966, issue of the California State Colleges Review are presently available on campus and will be distributed this week. Since the number received is not adequate to distribute CSC Review as an attachment to Staff Bulletin, as the practice has been, copies will be sent to individual campus departments for further distribution to members of the faculty and staff. Copies will also be available in the Faculty Reading Room for those who are unable to secure them otherwise.

VICE PRESIDENT

STAFF BULLETIN - SPECIAL NOTICE

GOOD FRIDAY DECLARED ACADEMIC HOLIDAY

Good Friday, April 8, has been declared an academic holiday, according to information released by the office of President Julian A. McPhee late last week. Establishment of the date as an academic holiday on the Spring Quarter academic calendar followed President McPhee's recommendation of the change and ensuing approval from the office of California State Colleges Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke.

The calendar change will affect members of the college faculty working on "A" assignments. Operation of college offices and services will not be affected, however.

The statement from President McPhee's office did not mention the 12:00 to 3:00 p.m., Good Friday period, which has been declared a legal holiday for all employees of the college in recent years. Establishment of that period as a holiday is dependent upon a proclamation to that effect by Governor Edmund G. Brown, which has not yet been announced for this year.
