SEPARATION OF CAL POLY CAMPUSES BECOMES FINAL

The 18th college of the California State Colleges was officially established effective immediately last Thursday (October 27) when the Board of Trustees of the college system separated the two Cal Poly campuses into distinct colleges. The separation was authorized by the California Legislature during its last session and was recommended by CSC Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke.

Official names for the two colleges are now California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo and California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis.

In other action taken during the two-day meeting, which took place in Los Angeles, the board voted the honorary title "President Emeritus" on Julian A. McPhee, former president of Cal Poly; named Robert C. Kramer, vice president at the Kellogg Campus since last November, first president of the new college; increased the material and service fee for the state college system's 170,000 students from $76 to $90 a year effective with the 1967-68 academic year; and approved a preliminary master plan for initial development of the new 350-acre campus of California State College at Dominguez Hills.

"A Parting Between Brothers"

Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo Vice President Dale W. Andrews, who delivered a "State of Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo" message to the trustees during the meeting, called the separation of the campuses "a parting between brothers." He said, "while all problems are not solved, the climate for progress at San Luis Obispo continues to be conducive to advancement in every area appropriate to a major polytechnic institution. I can assure you that it is the intent at San Luis Obispo to continue a high degree of cooperation with Kellogg-Voorhis in accordance with the intent of the State Legislature as expressed in Senate Bill 45."

"We do not look on this separation as a divorce -- it is more analogous to a parting between brothers who share a mutual respect, each for the other -- who will continue to exchange letters and information about family affairs -- and who will form a united front in times of stress -- but nevertheless, brothers, who are not displeased with the increased freedom of operation which such parting provides," Dr. Andrews concluded.

Dr. Kramer joined the college administrative staff after serving 17 years as a professor and administrator at Michigan State University. While there he was program leader for all marketing work in the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service for six years and in 1960 was appointed director of agricultural marketing for the extension service.

CHANCELLOR DUMKE ISSUES CALL FOR SUPPORT OF PROPOSITION 2

Chancellor of the California State Colleges Glenn S. Dumke issued a strong plea for support of Proposition 2, the State Higher Education Construction Program Act of 1966, to members of the college system's faculty and staff earlier this month. Dr. Dumke's remarks read:

"With just a few weeks remaining before the November 8 general election, I can not stress enough the vital importance Proposition 2 holds for the future development of the California State Colleges. With enrollments skyrocketing (225,000 students expected by 1970), we are at the crossroads in keeping pace with our physical plant development. A major responsibility of educating the public on the relationship between Proposition 2 and continued educational opportunity for all qualified students rests on the shoulders of the administration, faculty, and students. I urge every one in his capacity as a citizen to lend assistance to this end.

DISTRIBUTION OF NEW "COLLEGE GUIDE" PLANNED THIS WEEK

A new publication entitled College Guide will be distributed to faculty and staff members through campus mail this week, according to an announcement by Vice President Dale W. Andrews. The publication will include basic information which in the past has been available in the Employees' Handbook. The new guide, however, will present this information much more briefly and in an easier-to-read style.

Included in the College Guide will be sources such as the Employees' Handbook, Education Code, etc., so that persons desiring more complete information on a specific topic may know where it may be found readily.

The Employees' Handbook is to be continued, Dr. Andrews said, with updated copies available for reference as needed by faculty and staff members in departmental and other college administrative offices.

ORIENTATION MEETINGS ON NEW "A T S S" TELEPHONE NETWORK SLATED

Discussion of the new Automatic Telecommunications Switching Services leased line network designed to help familiarize members of the college faculty and staff with use of the new system will take place during two orientation sessions being planned for tomorrow (Wednesday, November 2), at 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., in Room 123 of the Agricultural Engineering Building.

A new system designed for the state, ATSS was established on campus during the summer and became available for use in late-August. An orientation meeting for the faculty was delayed, for obvious reasons, until after start of the Fall Quarter. All members of the faculty and other interested personnel who were unable to attend the meeting held earlier are invited to take part in one of the meetings being planned for tomorrow.

Explanation of the ATSS leased line network system and instructions on how to use the network efficiently and economically will be presented during both meetings by Mrs. Maybelle Anderson, chief service advisor for Pacific Telephone Company.

MUSTANG FOOTBALLERS WILL HOST CAL STATE L A IN "BAND NIGHT" CONTEST

An added attraction when Cal Poly's Mustang grid varsity hosts California State College at Los Angeles Saturday night (November 5) in Mustang Stadium, will be "Band Night" activities featuring high school bandmen from throughout San Luis Obispo County. For Coach Sheldon Harden's charges, the game which is billed for an 8:00 p.m. kickoff, is a must. They must best the CSLA Diablos if they are to balance their record for the season, now 3-4 after last weekend's loss to California State College at Long Beach.

If sports fans need any encouragement to attend Saturday night's festivities, the "Band Night" activity should provide plenty. William V. Johnson, director of the Marching Mustangs Band, reports that some 385 bandmen from five high school bands are scheduled to perform during halftime ceremonies. The Cal Poly band will be featured during pre-game activities.

STATEWIDE ACADEMIC SENATE RESOLUTION ON COLLECTIVE BARGAINING ANNOUNCED

Initial ground work for a simultaneous, systemwide poll on issues of collective bargaining for members of the faculty was laid by the Academic Senate of the California State Colleges during a meeting of that group held in Los Angeles last month. Responding to an inquiry on the statewide group's action, Edgar A. Hyer, head of the Farm Management Department and a member of the senate, called it an effort to show members of the faculties of the California State Colleges that something concrete was being done by an officially recognized representative organization.

The Academic Senate's resolution made provision for the following:

- "1. That the Academic Senate (CSC) will conduct simultaneous, systemwide election(s) on the issues of collective bargaining during the current academic year;
- "2. That the Ad Hoc Committee on Collective Bargaining (of the senate) be directed to prepare an issues and answers booklet for presentation to the Academic Senate (CSC);
- "3. That the faculties be advised that such a booklet will be distributed to the campuses prior to the election;
- "4. That the Academic Senate (CSC) strongly encourage the local Senates and Councils to oppose the holding of local elections on their campuses in the interim;
- "5. That the Ad Hoc Committee on Collective Bargaining (of the senate) be directed to prepare and present a sample ballot at the next Academic Senate (CSC) meeting."

The statewide group, which is expected to further consider the entire matter of collective bargaining at its next meeting, November 17-18, in San Francisco, also referred the job of developing the questions which should be asked on the first ballot to its Ad Hoc Committee on Collective Bargaining; directed its Executive Committee to prepare a position paper on collective bargaining for senate consideration; and requested its Executive Committee to study the desirability of retaining the services of an outside agency to conduct the election(s).

SENATE, ASSEMBLY CANDIDATES WILL BE CAMPUS GUESTS

Senator Fred S. Farr and Assemblyman John C. Williamson, both candidates for positions in the California Legislature, will be guests at two campus functions being planned for Thursday (November 3) afternoon. They will first appear as speakers during the regular Staff Club Luncheon meeting, which will take place beginning at noon, in the Staff Dining Room, and will also be guests at an informal coffee and cookie hour, which will follow immediately after the luncheon meeting and last until 2:15 p.m., also in the Staff Dining Room. Sponsor of the coffee hour will be Chapter 97 of the California State Employees Association.

Members of both the Staff Club and CSEA are invited to attend and meet Senator Farr and Assemblyman Williamson at either or both events.

HAUGAN FAMILY EXPRESSES APPRECIATION TO CAMPUS COMMUNITY

The husband and daughters of Mrs. Lois Haugan, a long-time member of the college General Office staff who died earlier this month, have expressed their appreciation for the gift sent the family by members of the college staff at the time of her death. Their note reads:

"To all the Dear Friends and Co-Workers of my wife, Lois:

"Thank you for your gift, also for your kindness while she was at 'Our College.' Your kind expression of sympathy is deeply appreciated and gratefully acknowledged."

/s/ Alf Haugan and Daughters"

PLANS FOR STAFF CLUB GOLF TOURNEY ANNOUNCED

Word is out that now is the time to start lining up foursomes for the first Staff Club Golf Tournament of the year, being planned for Veterans', November 11, at Atascadero Golf Club, according to William Armentrout, chairman of the club's Golf Committee. Dr. Armentrout said last week that tee-off times for the tourney would begin at 8:00 a.m., and that special greens fees for the day would be $2.00 per golfer.

NEW SIGMA DELTA CHI GROUP WILL MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

A Freedom of Information panel will highlight the second organizational meeting of the newly-formed chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism society, for the San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, and Ventura Counties area. Paul Veblen, executive editor of the Santa Barbara News Press and temporary chairman of the new chapter, announced last week that the meeting would take place Friday (November 4), at Montecito Country Club. A social hour will begin at 6:00 p.m., and will be followed by dinner at 7:00 p.m.

Present and former members of Sigma Delta Chi are invited to attend the meeting. Those from campus who wish to attend are invited to contact Healey (546-2191) to arrange transportation, etc.

DEANS MC CORKLE AND LA BOUNTY RESIGN FOUNDATION BOARD POSTS

Two long-time members of the Board of Directors of the California State Polytechnic College Foundation submitted their resignations during the meeting of that organization which took place on campus recently (October 20). Their resignations became effective October 21 and the board elected two new members to fill the unexpired terms of the retiring board members.

Dean C. O. McCorkle, who will retire from his administrative position with the college later this month after 35 years of service, had been a director and officer of the foundation almost continuously since its establishment in 1942. Dean Hugh LaBounty, administrative dean of the former Kellogg-Voorhis campus, had been a director of the foundation since November 8, 1962. Elected to fill their terms on the auxiliary organization's board are Everett M. Chandler, dean of students at the college since 1951, and Donald S. Nelson, business manager at Cal Poly since 1943.

The resignation of Dean McCorkle from the Cal Poly Foundation's board was made necessary by his retirement from his duties with the college, while Dean LaBounty's resignation was directly related to the separation of the Kellogg-Voorhis Campus from the San Luis Obispo Campus. A newly-formed non-profit corporation known as the Cal Poly Kellogg Unit Foundation, Inc., has been established at the Pomona campus and will operate auxiliary enterprises at the new California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis.

Dr. Dale W. Andrews, vice president and chief administrative officer of Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo was elected vice president of the Cal Poly Foundation board, the post previously held by Dean McCorkle. Dr. Robert E. Kennedy, administrative vice president of Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, is president of the foundation Board of Directors, having been elected to that position upon retirement of Julian A. McPhee, who had held that position continuously from 1942 to 1966. Executive Dean Harold O. Wilson is the secretary-treasurer of the board and Harold P. Hayes, a member of the Mechanical Engineering Department's faculty, is the sixth director of the non-profit corporation which operates many of the auxiliary enterprises of the college. Eugene Brendlin is the full-time manager of the Cal Poly Foundation.

REVIEW OF ENGLISH DRAMAS SLATED FOR BOOKS AT HIGH NOON LUNCHEON

Reviews of three plays seen in London during the past summer will be featured during the Books at High Noon series luncheon being planned for next Tuesday (November 8) beginning at noon, in the Staff Dining Room. Clyde Hostetter, Instruction Materials Program coordinator on the Audio Visual Department's staff, will be the reviewer and may use slides to illustrate his remarks.

Of the three plays Hostetter is expected to discuss, Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream is the best known. The reviewer saw it appropriately performed outdoors in Regents Park. He also saw, and is expected to discuss, Sardou's Let's Get a Divorce and G. B. Shaw's You Can Never Tell.

On today's (Tuesday, November 1) program, Robert J. Huot and James J. Peterson, both members of the English and Speech Department faculty, will interview their colleague, Robert P. Hansen, author of the recently-published novel, Glimpse of Canaan. Starting time and place are both the same as those announced for next week's Books at High Noon Luncheon.

FORMATION OF COLLEGE UNION ADVISORY BOARD BEGINS

Formation of a College Union Advisory Board to be composed of representatives of the student body, the Faculty-Staff Council, and various college administrative functions began late last month. Motivated by a memorandum from Vice President Dale W. Andrews asking for formation of such a group, the new CUAB would be a continuation of an advisory activity begun last year.

Dr. Andrews' memorandum to the chief officers of the various organizations and administrative groups involved in function of such a group also formally approved a recommended membership which includes the College Union Program Board chairman of the Associated Students, Inc., and four other students; a representative of the Faculty-Staff Council; the dean of students; the Cal Poly Foundation manager; the college building coordinator; and the college business manager as voting members. The graduate manager of ASI would be a non-voting member of the new board.

Among the CUAB's duties would be reviewing working drawings for the College Union as they are being developed. Present indications are that they will be completed prior to end of the 1966-67 academic year.

C S E A CHAPTER SCHEDULES DISCUSSION OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

The pros and cons of industrial collective bargaining in public service will be discussed during luncheon meeting being planned for noon, November 9, in the Staff Dining Room. William Grimm, a program consultant for the California State Employees Association who recently conducted a thorough study of that subject will be guest speaker for the program, which will be sponsored by Chapter 97 of CSEA. Recent concern over unionization in public service should make the program a timely one and all members and non-members are urged to attend, according to Howard Rhoads, chapter vice president.

INSTRUCTIONAL DEPARTMENT HEADS COUNCIL ACTIVE

The Instructional Department Heads Council, which functioned on campus for the first time last year, is again active, according to an announcement received recently from its chairman, Owen L. Servatius, head of the Business Administration Department.

Servatius, who was elected during the council's initial meeting of 1966-67, said the major purposes of the department heads group was to review and submit recommendations on existing and proposed policies and procedures which affect instructional departments; to propose such policies and procedures; to improve horizontal communications among department heads; to provide a means of uniform interpretation of policies and procedures; and to provide a means for department heads to express a coordinated viewpoint on philosophy, policies, and procedural matters which affect the instructional departments.

Composed of three representatives from each of the instructional divisions, present members of the council include Marie Pflieffer, Home Economics; J. M. McRobbie, Technical Arts; Servatius; James McGrath, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Engineering; Millard J. Fotter, Industrial Engineering; Fred Steuck, Electronic Engineering; Dr. Milo Whitson, Mathematics; Gene Smith, Social Sciences; Glenn Noble, Biological Sciences; Logan Carter, Soil Science; Corwin Johnson, Crops; and Harmon Toone, Dairy.

Registrar F. Jerald Holley last week issued a reminder to members of the college instructional staff regarding deadline for withdrawal from courses. Holley's reminder read:

"Except for college recognized emergencies, no withdrawals from a course will be permitted after the end of the seventh week of instruction. It is important that the instructional staff be aware of this deadline, 12:00 noon, Saturday, November 12, 1966."

C. F. Gerald, Mathematics, was among 15 representatives of colleges and junior colleges who attended a Seminar on the Roles of Analog and Hybrid Computers in Education, held October 21, at San Fernando Valley State College. Discussion during the seminar centered on ways in which analog computers can be used in mathematics and engineering courses.

Clyde Hostetter, Instruction Materials Program coordinator, is author and photographer for a series of six filmstrips with recorded narration which will be released by a national producer of instructional films early in 1967. The filmstrips were produced during a two-month trip to the British Isles during July and August. During the trip Hostetter visited and photographed various typical British families, as well as such traditional sites as the Tower of London and the White Cliffs of Dover. The series will be used in the social studies curriculum of the upper elementary and junior high school grades.
