PRESIDENT TO CONFER WITH MANY CAMPUS GROUPS

President Robert E. Kennedy will begin today (Tuesday, May 9) a series of meetings with students, faculty, and staff members which will occupy most of his time until conclusion of the Spring Quarter. Of this series of conferences, Dr. Kennedy says, "I am determined to carry through what I believe is an absolute essential in my own immediate reorientation to the scope of our operation and to the better understanding of the aspirations of our academic community.

"Essentially, I intend to ask only one question: 'What could we build if we worked together?' There will be variations on this theme and the dialogue may lead to other questions," he continued.

Meetings now tentatively arranged on this schedule of presidential conferences are as follows:

Tuesday, May 9, 9:00 a.m.	-- School of Applied Sciences Department Heads
Wednesday, May 10, 10:00 a.m.	-- Student Personnel Division Department Heads
Thursday, May 11, 9:00 a.m.	-- School of Agriculture Department Heads
Tuesday, May 16, 9:00 a.m.	-- School of Engineering Department Heads
Tuesday, May 16, 11:00 a.m.	-- School of Engineering Student Council
Thursday, May 18, 9:00 a.m.	-- School of Applied Arts Department Heads
Tuesday, May 23, 9:00 a.m.	-- Business Management Division Department Heads
Tuesday, May 23, 5:00 p.m.	-- School of Agriculture Student Council

President Kennedy hopes during the meetings just listed to arrange for meetings with the personnel of the departments.

VACANT ADMINISTRATIVE VICE PRESIDENCY FILLED ON ACTING BASIS

Harold O. Wilson, a member of the Cal Poly faculty and administrative staff for 26 years, has been named acting administrative vice president effective May 2, it was announced today by President Robert E. Kennedy. In recent years Wilson has held the position of executive dean and has had long experience in administrative operations of the college.

This interim appointment was authorized by the office of Chancellor of the California State Colleges Glenn S. Dunke and was made in accordance with procedures followed in making previous "acting" administrative appointments. Procedures for filling the administrative vice president position on a regular basis are now being studied and it is anticipated that both the Faculty-Staff Council and the Executive Council will be involved in recommending procedures for reviewing candidates for regular appointment to a vice president position, President Kennedy stated.

Wilson's appointment to the position does not affect the position held by Dale W. Andrews, which is the academic vice president position.

INCREASED NONRESIDENT TUITION FEES ESTABLISHED

Increased nonresident tuition fees, to become effective with start of the Summer Quarter, have been established through an executive order issued last month by Chancellor of the California State Colleges Glenn S. Dumke. The new schedule of fees for students residing outside of California is covered in Executive Order 42, dated April 27, which was issued by Dr. Dumke following action taken by the Board of Trustees on the matter last fall.

The new schedule of fees for nonresident students is divided into sections for residents of other states and residents and citizens of foreign countries. Under the quarter system, the new charges will be:

	Per Unit	15 Units or More
		Quarter	Academic Year
Nonresidents	$16.00	$240.00	$720.00
Citizens and Residents of Foreign Countries	5.75	85.00	255.00

Lew Christiansen is the choreographer of "Filling Station" and George Balanchine created "A La Francaix."

Tickets for the performance are priced at $2.00 each for the general public and $1.00 each for students. They are presently available at Brown's Music Store and the County Museum in San Luis Obispo and at the Associated Students, Inc., Office on campus. MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Cal Poly's newly-appointed president, Dr. Robert E. Kennedy, last week expressed his thanks to members of the college's faculty, staff, and student body who sent messages of congratulations to him and Mrs. Kennedy following his appointment as chief executive of the college. His comments, included in a message addressed to the entire college community, read:

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the hundreds of Cal Poly faculty, staff, and students who sent messages of congratulations to Mrs. Kennedy and me following the announcement April 27 of my appointment as president of the college.

"As I said publicly on several occasions during Poly Royal and since, it is, indeed, a great honor and a responsibility which I shall strive to fulfill. Thousands of talented, dedicated, and conscientious people who have been part of Cal Poly as students, faculty, staff, and alumni deserve credit for working together to make Cal Poly what it is today. I know that in Cal Poly's future there are thousands more who will play an important part in helping make this college's name one that will be known and honored throughout the world--wherever men of good will gather to discuss outstanding accomplishments in high education and the learning process.

"I like the question recently posed by U Thant, secretary general of the United Nations, who asked, 'What could we build if we worked together?' In the next few months I am going to devote every hour that I have to meeting with faculty, staff, and student groups. My main question to each of you about Cal Poly's future will be, 'What can we build if we work together?' I hope that I can be a catalyst in the process that can make Cal Poly a great institution."

/s/ Robert E. Kennedy

PANEL TO DISCUSS McLUHAN-FIORE BOOK

The Medium is the Massage, the book on modern communications by Marshall McLuhan and Quentin Fiore, will be discussed by a panel of campus instructors during the luncheon meeting of the Books at High Noon series being planned for next Tuesday (May 16), starting at noon, in the Staff Dining Room. Members of the panel will be John Heinz, chairman of the Audio Visual Department; James Simmons, a member of the English and Speech Department faculty; and Loren Nicholson, a member of the faculty of the Technical Journalism Department.

By telling his readers that the world of the 1960's has been imperceptibly changed by its communications media without their knowing it, McLuhan has considerably unsettled many members of the older generation who had been assuming that it was the younger generation that was "different." According to McLuhan, its largely the media that have influenced the younger generation.

On today's (Tuesday, May 9) program, Miss Ena Marston of the English and Speech Department's faculty will review Willard Price's Innocents in Britain. Both the starting time and the place for today's meeting will be the same as those announced for next week's.
