The Cal Poly Organic Farm Ranked Among 20 Best University Farms in America by Best College Reviews

The 11-acre production farm in the College of Agriculture, Food & Environmental Sciences' Horticulture & Crop Science Department is certified organic by the California Certified Organic Farmers. The Cal Poly farm is managed by students, faculty and staff and provides a place for undergraduates to immerse themselves in Cal Poly's Learn by Doing philosophy in organic and sustainable farming practices. Dozens of varieties of produce are grown each year — including broccoli, squash, kale and carrots — and sold at farmers markets, to local vendors and restaurants, and on the Cal Poly campus. Unsold produce is donated to the Food Bank Coalition of San Luis Obispo County. The organic farm also serves as a classroom and laboratory to other Cal Poly courses and research programs. Best College Reviews is an editorially independent college review website focusing on college rankings and reviews of college features.

Faculty & Staff

Grants Available for Faculty Members to Develop New Global Programs

The Cal Poly International Center is accepting grant proposals for the 2015-16 academic year, including summer 2016. The grants will fund up to $3,000 to support a faculty member's international travel to develop a new Cal Poly Global Program: a study abroad program led by a Cal Poly faculty member. Grants can help fund visits to single sites or multiple sites within a country or world region. The deadline for emailed proposals is March 15. For more information, including proposal instructions, eligibility information, qualifying expenses, and competitive priorities for funding, visit the International Center's Program Development Grants page.

University Store Accepting Textbook Adoptions for Spring Term

The University Store is accepting textbook adoption requisitions for spring quarter. Submissions are requested as soon as possible. Early textbook adoptions allow the University Store to obtain more used and rental textbooks, which saves students money.

To submit textbook adoptions:

- Order through the Textbook Adoption website, or
- Email courseware@calpoly.edu with the following information: ISBN number, author and title of courseware, and whether the book is required, recommended, optional, or a study guide, etc.

For more information or assistance with textbook adoptions, contact a courseware representative at ext. 6-1171.

Career Services Launches 'Candid Career' Online Resource

Using Student Success funding, Career Services recently added another 24/7 online resource to help students explore careers and land a job. Candid Career includes a video library with thousands of informational interviews featuring industry professionals sharing their career experiences and giving advice on how to prepare for their career fields. It also includes career advice videos on topics such as resume writing, interviewing, networking and more. Candid Career can be accessed from the Career Services website by clicking the 24/7 Resources tab. Career Services' online resources can be incorporated into curriculum and class assignments in a variety of ways. For information and suggestions on how to utilize these resources in courses, faculty are invited to consult with career counselor specialist for the respective college.

Finance Dashboard Workshops to be Held Feb. 18

The Administration & Finance (AFD) Business Connection (ABC) will offer a workshop on the use and navigation of dashboards to effectively manage financial resources. The workshop will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 18. Dashboards are the official reporting system for end-users of the university's financial system. Attendees must have security access to the dashboards to take the class. Those who do not have access must fill out a CMS Access Request and allow five business days for approvals and implementation. Each workshop will be limited to 12 participants. The maximum number of attendees for this group has been met. For more training dates and other classes, visit the ABC training calendar. For more information, email abc-afd@calpoly.edu.

The Center for Teaching, Learning & Technology (CTLT) invites faculty and staff to the Winter Instructional Innovation Showcase from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 25, in the Advanced Technology Laboratories (Building 7). Faculty will share experiences and innovative practices for eLearning pedagogies. Three presentations will be offered. Scott Kelting will present "An Online Year in Review." Ann DeLay will present "A Beginner's Perspective of the Flipped Classroom." Franklin Gaudi will present "Online Problem Sets: Improving Exam Scores through Active Learning." Discussion will follow the presentations. Hors d'oeuvres and wine will be served. For further information, go to the CTLT website.

Faculty Applications Available for Cal Poly Global Programs, Summer and Fall 2016

The Cal Poly International Center invites faculty from all colleges to apply to teach in Cal Poly Global Programs during 2016. The programs are led by faculty with strong teaching records who can offer general education or specialty courses appropriate to the specific program. The summer intensive offerings include programs in England, Spain, Peru and Thailand; there is also a fall term offering in Spain. For applications and information regarding qualifications and deadlines, visit the Faculty tab on the Study Abroad website.

Grants Supporting Faculty Scholarship Extended to Lecturers

The Research, Scholarly and Creative Activities (RSCA) Grant Program, supported by funds from the Provost's Office, is intended to help faculty remain engaged in their disciplines beyond the classroom and to contribute new knowledge through robust programs of scholarship focused on strengthening California socially, culturally and economically. The annual funds are intended to provide more internal resources to help faculty pursue a broader array of professional activities. The deadline to submit proposals for awards of mini-grants, assigned time, and additional compensation for 2015-16 is 4:30 p.m. Monday, March 16. The RFP has been updated to allow lecturers the opportunity to apply. For application and submission instructions, visit the Office of Research & Economic Development website or call at ext. 6-5153.

Kennedy Library Announces New Faculty Award

A new faculty award, the Learn by Doing Scholar Award, has been established to acknowledge and inspire formal scholarship and research into Cal Poly's signature pedagogy, Learn by Doing. The inaugural awards will be given in two categories to create an inclusive process that encourages fully-realized as well as emerging scholarship. The Published Research category ($2,000 award) recognizes completed research that has been externally reviewed and shared through publication or presentation. The Planned and In-Progress Research category ($1,000 award) recognizes promising research proposals or research in progress and supports faculty in completing and sharing their findings. Open to all Cal Poly faculty, the awards are sponsored by the Information Services advisory board. Applications will be accepted from Feb. 15 to March 20. Recipients will be announced in spring 2015. Application procedures and criteria for the award categories are available on the Kennedy Library website.

Cal Poly Corporation Board Seeking Faculty Member

The Academic Senate is seeking nominations from tenured faculty to serve on the Cal Poly Corporation board of directors for the 2015-18 term. A description of the board member's responsibilities is available on the Academic Senate website. Interested faculty should complete an Expression of Intent and Willingness to Serve form available on the site. The completed form must be received by the Academic Senate office by Tuesday, March 10. Search Committees Encouraged to Use Diversity & Inclusivity Lists

The Office of University Diversity & Inclusivity (OUD&I) keeps an updated list of faculty and staff from the diverse faculty and staff associations who have agreed to speak with prospective employees about working and teaching at Cal Poly and provide insight about finding community in San Luis Obispo County. This initiative is beneficial in helping to attract diverse candidates to Cal Poly. OUD&I encourages search committees direct applicants to the website to express Cal Poly's commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus community. The list can be found on the OUD&I website under the "Faculty and Staff Resources" tab. For more information about this resource and other efforts from OUD&I, email diversity@calpoly.edu.

Career Services to Host Careers in Wellness Technology Event Feb. 11

Career Services will host professionals from the emerging industry of wellness technology (comprised by markets such as wearable devices, biometric data, fitness apps, and online wellness tracking and management systems.) The event will be held from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, February 11, in the ATL. Speakers will include representatives from Mindbody, StrengthPortal and Platinum Performance, who will discuss their career paths, how the industry is expanding and changing, and advice for students interested in entering this field. Following the panel, attendees will have the opportunity to network and engage in informal discussion. This event is the latest in an ongoing series, which is part of the Emerging Markets Project. Through this project, Career Services seeks to connect students with new and expanding areas of employment and facilitate collaboration and dialog across campus and between students and professionals. This project is made possible by Student Success Fee funding. For more information, contact Career Services at ext. 6-2501 or careerservices@calpoly.edu.

Workshop on Collaborative Advising for Student Success to be Held Feb. 17

University Advising and Academic Programs & Planning are sponsoring a series of workshops designed to create goals and a shared vision for advising across campus. The first in the series will be held from 8 a.m. to noon Tuesday, Feb. 17, in the Performing Arts Center Pavilion. The workshops are open to the campus community including campus leadership, the advising community, faculty, staff and students. Don Maruska will facilitate the event. He is an entrepreneur, business coach, speaker, and author of the books "How Great Decisions Get Made" and "Take Charge of Your Talent." Over a five-month period, participants will create a shared vision and compelling goals for Cal Poly advising, examine critical issues that need attention, identify options to promote student success that require development and evaluation, and define the direction for a coordinated approach to advising. Seating is limited to 150 people and maximum capacity has been met. For more information, contact Beth Merritt Miller at ext. 6-5709.

Financial Planning Seminar to be Held Three Times on Feb. 18

Human Resources is offering a seminar on investment planning three times, from 11 a.m. to noon, noon to 1 p.m. and 4 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 18, in the Administration Building, Room 133. Presented by Valic Financial Advisors, the seminar explores different aspects of sound financial planning. Participants will leave with simple action steps that they can start using immediately to reach their financial goals. The investment planning seminar including how to determine risk tolerance and time horizon, develop an investment strategy, diversify investment, and plan portfolio reviews to ensure proper allocation. To register, visit the Valic website and use code 4116SAN11AA.

Seminar on Savings Plus to be Held Three Times on Feb. 19

Human Resources will present a financial planning workshop from Savings Plus. The same 45-minute workshop will be led by Ralph Hoskins, certified financial planner, at 11 a.m., and 12:30 and 3 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 19, in UU 216. The workshops, titled "Put Savings Plus to Work For You," demonstrate the benefits of saving for retirement, how Savings Plus can help you reach your financial goals, and details about how to enroll, invest, and prepare if you are near retirement. The Savings Plus program is a long-term savings program designed by the State of California to supplement employee retirement income. There are two deferred compensation plans available for eligible employees: a 401k and a 457. Both plans offer convenient payroll deductions on a pre-tax or after-tax basis, and other benefits. To be eligible to enroll, employees must be a state CalPERS member. No pre-registration is required. To register, call 805-459-2005, email ralph.hoskins@aonhewitt.com, or visit the Savings Plus Program website. Kennedy Library to Host Talk on Geospatial Data Feb. 12

Jon Jablonski, head of UC Santa Barbara's Map and Imagery Laboratory, will present "Where Does All Geospatial Data Go?" from 11 a.m. to noon Thursday, Feb. 12, in Room 111-C in the Kennedy Library. Jablonski works with the management of large bodies of worldwide spatial information and practical applications of geodata. He will discuss the status of building geospatial libraries for storage, discovery and access in academia — specifically UCSB's efforts to spatially enable the new Alexandria Digital Research Library. He will also describe his research on how people form "information places" — informal, ad hoc grounds for information seeking and transfer — for example, Chinese youth using mobile communications technologies for personal freedom and, in turn, political friction. For more information, go to the Cal Poly News website.

'Vagina Monologues' set for Feb. 13-15; 'Los Monologos de la Vagina' to be Feb. 21

The Gender Equity Center will present the 12th annual production of "The Vagina Monologues" and the first Spanish production of "Los Monologos de la Vagina," a play about empowerment, sexuality, and women's experiences. The English production will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 13, and Saturday, Feb. 14, and 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15, in the Performance Arts Center. Tickets are $20 for the general public and $15 for students and are available at the Cal Poly Ticket Office. "Los Monologos de La Vagina," will be at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 21, in Chumash Auditorium. Tickets for the Spanish production will be sold at the door for $10. Proceeds will benefit the Gender Equity Center; Rise, a nonprofit that provides crisis intervention and treatment services to survivors of sexual and intimate partner violence; and the new San Luis Obispo chapter of Girls Circle, an extension of Youth in Action. For more information, contact the Gender Equity Center at genderequitycenter@calpoly.edu or ext. 6-2600.

Western Bonanza Junior Livestock Show Set for Feb. 13-15

Cal Poly's annual Western Bonanza Junior Livestock Show — the largest student-run exhibition of its kind on the West Coast — will run from Friday to Sunday, Feb. 13-15, at the Paso Robles Event Center. Western Bonanza began as a senior project in 1985 and has grown to be one of the largest and most successful student-run jackpot shows with more than 500 exhibitors and 2,000 entries. This year exhibitors from Arizona, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho will show their animals in four categories: beef, swine, sheep and goats. A management team of 30 Cal Poly students and more than 100 committee members hosts the junior livestock show. The free event is open to the public and livestock enthusiasts. Exhibitors, ranging in age from 9 to 19, show off their prized livestock in hopes the judge will choose their animal as champion. For more information about Cal Poly's Western Bonanza and a full show schedule, visit the Western Bonanza Junior Livestock Show website. Find "Cal Poly's Western Bonanza Junior Livestock Show" on Facebook, or for up-to-date news during the show weekend, follow the group on Twitter at @westernbonanza.

Engineering Student Council Hosts Events Feb. 17-20 for National Engineers Week

Feb. 24 Talk to Feature Dominican History as Revealed in Submerged Caverns

Archeologist John Foster will present "Touching the Taino Underworld: Archeological Explorations of Submerged Caverns in the Dominican Republic" at 7 p.m. Feb. 24, in the Business Building (No. 3), Room 112. Foster will discuss how within a few decades of contact with outsiders, the Taino language and culture were destroyed as a result of conquest, slavery and disease, with only a few details of their existence remaining. A retired senior state archaeologist with the Archaeology, History and Museum Division of the California

Department of Parks and Recreation, Foster has worked as adjunct faculty at Indiana University, teaching and assisting in the university's archeological research in the Dominican Republic. Foster will discuss brief Spanish accounts, the archaeological efforts occurring in the Dominican Republic, and the discovery of elaborate rock art deep within the country's limestone caves that is believed to depict central elements of Taino cosmology, world renewal and origins. For more information, visit the CLA website.

Wind Bands' Pops Concert Set for Feb. 28

Cal Poly's Winter Band Concert featuring the 65-member Wind Ensemble and 70-member Wind Orchestra is set for 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, in Harman Hall of the Performing Arts Center's Christopher Cohan Center.
