Cal Poly's 13th Annual Construction Sciences Forum is April 7

SAN LUIS OBISPO - The Cal Poly student chapter of the Construction Specifications Institute will host the 13th Annual Construction Science Forum on Wednesday, April 7 on campus in the Berg Gallery, Room 105.

The forum serves to educate students about the construction industry, new industry products, methods and ideas. The event provides students an opportunity to interact with industry professionals and to better understand career expectations.

This year's forum "SPECulating the Future" focuses on the future of industry specifications in the rapidly changing world of design and construction.

Forum events include:

11 a.m. to 4 p.m. - Product and Firm Show

6 p.m. – Dinner with Professionals (Santa Maria style barbeque) and roundtable discussion

The event is open to the public. The Product and Firm Show is free. Tickets for the dinner are $30 for professionals, $15 for faculty and $7 for students. Tickets can be purchased from Cal Poly CSI members prior to the event or at the door.
