Chief Crazy Horse Great-Great-Grandson To Speak on American Indians, Popular Culture at Cal Poly Jan. 28

Michael White Bear Claws, great-great-grandson of Chief Crazy Horse, will speak on "Images of American Indians in Popular Culture" at 4:10 p.m. Jan. 28 in Room E-27 in the Science Building on campus.

White Bear Claws, a member of the Cheyenne River Lakota tribe, was raised in Minneapolis and on the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. He is a member of the Los Angeles County Commission on HIV Health Services and is a co-founder of Sacred Circles, an American Indian gay and lesbian group.

He was featured in the book "Spirit and the Flesh" by Professor Walter Williams and in the Smithsonian Institution's documentary "Gender, the Enduring Paradox."

The free public talk is sponsored by Cal Poly's College of Liberal Arts and Ethnic Studies Department. For more information, call 756-1707.
