Polish students continue sit-in

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Thousands of Polish university students took over classrooms across the country yesterday despite a decision by the new government to grant Lodz sit-in strikers an independent student association.

The student strikes meant continued trouble for the week-old government of Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, who took over as premier with a plea for 90 days without strikes. The Soviet media, meanwhile, stepped up attacks on Polish strikers and urged them of challenging the government at the instigation of the West.

Strike leaders said the new wave of student strikes would continue until student groups had a chance to evaluate an agreement reached by government negotiations to end a 38-day sit-in at Lodz.

On the labor front, Solidarity union leader Lech Walesa announced an agreement was near to end the "Independent Student Association," called a student workers in Rzeszow.

"We will continue until student groups have a chance to study and vote on the agreement," said a Lodz strike leader.

Walesa announced an agreement was near to end the "Independent Student Association," called a student.

The government had already agreed to grant Lodz sit-in strikers an independent student association.

Reagan heralds economic plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan announced today that he had approved the agreements which would slash federal spending by $41 billion next year and save a middle-income family of four nearly $1,500 in taxes by 1984.

Declaring "interest rates have reached absurd levels" while despair dominates the lives of 8 million unemployed Americans, Reagan rejected decades of New Deal federalism and pressed for a program of government austerity aimed at stimulating growth and jobs in the private sector.

He claimed his blueprint would halve inflation, to 5 percent, within two years. And he vowed that the poor can "rest assured that the social safety net of programs they depend on" will not be cut.

U.S. hostage agreement OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department announced today it has approved the agreements negotiated with Iran by the Carter administration for the release of the 52 American hostages.

Nonetheless, department spokesman William Dyess said the Reagan administration would have not negotiated the hostage issue with Iran. He added that future acts of "state-sponsored terrorism against the United States will meet swift and sure punishment."

But he refused to say whether that meant military force would be used.

Dyess announced the administration's decision after a four-week review of the complex agreements, which led to the release of the American captives on Inauguration Day after 444 days of captivity.

Exports, thermostat order mixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan revoked an executive order Tuesday that prohibited American companies from exporting hazardous products whose use is banned or restricted in the United States.

He also lifted a 18-month-old order requiring that thermostats in commercial and industrial buildings be lowered in the winter and raised in the summer.

The order restricting hazardous exports was put in force by President Carter only five days before he left office. He said it would show other countries "that the United States is a responsible trading partner and that they can trust goods bearing the label 'Made in the U.S.A.'"

Later Peterson, Carter's consumer adviser, said it would provide protection to consumers around the world. Reagan, a persistent critic of government regulations on industry, abolished it with a one-sentence order.

In lifting the temperature restrictions, Reagan said: "Although restrictions on building temperatures may result in reduced consumption of fuel, I have concluded that the regulatory scheme designed to accomplish that objective imposes an excessive regulatory burden and that voluntary restraint and market incentives will achieve substantially the same benefit without the regulatory cost."

Reagan's economic plan, the release of the American captives, and the revocation of executive orders, were the major highlights of the first full day of Reagan's new administration.

McKone nets 20 in Poly victory

BY VERN AHRENDES
Sports Editor

There is only 120 minutes left in the regular season for the Cal Poly men’s basketball team to determine whether it will wallow in post season oblivion or be one of the chosen.

Only three games stand in between the Mustangs and a berth to the West Regionals and two of them are scheduled on the road this weekend against Cal Poly Pomona and UC Riverside.

The Mustangs share the lead with Pomona in the California Collegiate Athletic Association with a 9-2 mark. Friday night’s slightest down south will go a long way in determining the CCAA’s representatives in post season play.

The Mustangs, under head coach Ernie Wheeler, took a giant step in determining their own future as they blasted the Cal Davis Aggies, 80-59, in a non-conference tilt Tuesday night in the Poly gym.

The win pushed the Mustangs’ overall record to 19-5 but more importantly it gave Poly an emotional lift before Friday’s league showdown.

A polished defense and a high-flying offense powered the Mustang victory. The defense, which is the top ranked defense in Division II, forced Davis to commit 23 turnovers and kept it out of its normal offensive pattern.

While the defense was controlling the tempo of the game, the Poly offense was scoring at a torrid 61 percent clip from the floor.

The Mustangs, after witnessing a 17-point first half lead evaporate to four at intermission, outscored the Aggies 44-27 in the second half to lock up the win.

The No. 44 had double meaning for the Mustangs against Davis as it was the number worn by 6-6 senior forward Rob McKone. Big Mac is back, from a shooting slump and coach Wheeler is relieved that the offensive sparkplug has regained his touch.

Rob is back. He is a good shooter and all good shooters have their slumps,” Wheeler said. “The last two or three games he has been getting his touch back.”

McKone wasted no time in finding his favorite spot against Davis as he picked up right where he left off in the final minutes of the Northridge game last Saturday.

The Mustangs, under coach Kathy Barthels, was the preseason favorite to win their third straight SCAA conference championship but UC Santa Barbara has thrown Poly a curve ball.

The Gauchos of Santa Barbara have coasted through the dual meet portion of the season with a perfect 5-0 mark. The Mustangs and Cal State Northridge follow at 3-2.

The dual meet records will be thrown out of the window next weekend when the six conference teams face off at East Los Angeles College for the SCAA Championships.

The Gauchos have thrown into the favorite role after dealing the Mustangs an 86-62 dual meet loss last weekend.

The Mustangs had a number of outstanding individual performances led by junior Jody Jennison. Jennison added the 1,650-yard individual medley to her list of events to swim at the AIAW Division II National Championships.

Jennison had already qualified in the 50-, 100- and 200-yard breaststroke events.

The Mustangs had one more national qualifier as Loreta Baldecchi placed fourth in the 200-yard freestyle event with a 2:36.02 timing which was good enough to earn the national berth.

Poly squares off with rivals for CCAA lead

His patented 20-foot rainbow jumper was right on the mark against the Aggies as he hit seven of them on route to a 20 point night.

He connected on two of his bombs to key a 13-point run in the opening minutes of the game pacing the Mustangs to a 17-6 lead.

Poly looked unstoppable in the first 10 minutes of the game. The offense was running smoothly and fluently. While McKone was keying the long range game, Pete Neumann was dominating the inside game. Neumann muscled in five points on great passes from Jim Schultz and Kevin Lucas to aid the 13-point run.

The defense fueled the offense as Poly built up a 17-point lead, 27-10, behind four straight steals.

Davis was down but not buried as senior reserve guard John Kirk scored eight points in the final five minutes sparking a 16-0 rally to cut the lead to four, 36-32.

It was all Cal Poly in the second half as Lucas scored 10 points to finish the game with 18 points. After scoring 13 first half points, Ernie Wheeler set the pace and Neumann added 12. Schultz contributed 14 assists and Neumann hauled in six rebounds.

Lucas finished the night with a perfect 4-4 showing at the free throw line to extend his streak to 21, four straight steals.

Kevin Lucas 7-4-18, Rob McKone 10-0-20, Pete Neumann 6-4-12, Ernie Wheeler 6-4-16, Keith Wheeler 0-2-2, Alex 3-0-0, Scotti Aldstrom 1-0-2, Mike Burns 0-0-4. Totals 33-14-18-80.

It seems as if a part of the Pride of the Pacific is sinking.

Slap in the face

Secretary of the Interior James Watt, President. Ronnie Reagan’s newly appointed environmental hit man, is on the verge of giving many California conservationists and government officials an insulting, and environmentally disastrous, slap in the face.

He has proposed to put back up for bid huge areas of Northern California for oil and gas drilling — areas his predecessor, Gail Andrus, deleted from Lease Sale 53 after weighing our need for resources, the damage such drilling would cause and “the preferences and well-being of the affected people.”

Opinions to drill in the four basins — the Eel River, Bodega Bay, Point Arena and Santa Cruz, which contain 700,000 acres of ocean floor beyond the three-mile state limit — have included Gov. Brown, the state Coastal Commission, the boards of supervisors for all eight counties involved, numerous environmental groups, and several members of Congress, including Rep. Don Clausen (R-Crescent City) and Rep. Leon Panetta (D-Carmel Valley), who have both introduced bills designed to make the areas national reserves.

Even Assembly minority leader Carol Hallett (R-Atascadero) has changed her tune — she is now publicly against it.

Watt is treating California with arrogance and disregard for local wishes — as Sen. Alan Cranston put it, “like a colonel.”

In a letter to Brown, Watt said he made his proposal because Brown “never had the opportunity to comment officially on the deleted basins.” In fact, Watt knows well the state’s opinion — the state government has told the Interior Department 13 times in the last six years that it opposes leasing in those regions. Most recently, Brown wrote Andrus on Dec. 24 and to Watt on Feb. 1 saying that the four basins should be exempted.

Also, Watt is required by law and his pledge made during his Senate confirmation hearings to strike a balance between the development and protection of our natural resources. This illustrates the most insane part of Watt’s proposal: endangering threatened species, entirely sensitive coastal environments, air quality, tourism and fishing industries may all be in peril for the sake of enough oil to keep the United States running for 10 days. Is this truly striking a balance between the expected gains and the risks involved? No.

In fact, Watt has not even considered some of the risks: numerous studies which will state the effects of drilling have yet to be completed; the environmental impact statement for the lease sale accounted for gas drilling alone in the Eel River Basin — now oil is thought to be there, yet the impacts of this have not been assessed.

During his presidential campaign, Reagan promised a big say for the states and local governments in matters directly concerning them. He also promised to increase deomcratic process. He should find a better compromise than allowing his interior secretary to propose a low-resource potential, environmentally disastrous drilling program that California is clearly against.

Banning guns won’t ban killing

Editor:

It is unfortunate that the Concerned Cal Poly Faculty and Staff have not been able to present convincing arguments against nuclear power and Diablo Canyon is a persuasive, forthright and professional manner. The appeal to emotion and abuse is not acceptable.

Demonstrations such as you laud and advocate in your editorial of this editorial’s three words to the University are an unwarrented manipulation and interference in student affairs.

The Concerned Faculty et al represents only a part of that body. It is unfair to imply that those who chose not to demonstrate or hold an opposing view are afflicted with apathy. I think, rather, it is unprofessional and unworthy of their high calling to intimidate others by demonstrations of this sort. They especially intimidate students at a time when these students are most vulnerable in their careers; at a time when they should be getting a grounding in logic and reason; yes, and the difference between truth and propaganda. They intimidate and alienate fellow faculty who hold an opposing view. They engender dismay in the taxpayer who has instution they pay for as being a sounding board for a particular point of view.

We are not activists

Future in San Luis Obispo City and County is threatened by the ignorance and insensitivity of would-be activists like Mike Curb. If Curb wants to open his campaign for governor at Cal Poly and SAM is willing to provide him the platform to do so be it. That’s his and their choice. But he should not, as Reagan once did, expect immunity by coming to a politically apathetic campus.
