

Our relationship with the natural world has been in the dumpster for quite a while.

Gary Dwyer uses his photographs to investigate our relationship with nature by looking at what we think is a GARDEN.

He lived at the garden of Claude Monet for quite some time.

He is only a passing acquaintance of Saint Sebastian.

