SAN-JUAS OBISPO, NOVEMBER 9, 1923

LABOR DAY

November 1 was Labor Day for C. P. S. On Labor Day, the entire student body works with "will to clean," according to Mr. Peteler. Mr. Peteler pointed out that the town has different groups of foremen, and each foreman did things very thoroughly and accomplished much. With a smaller force, it was thought that more would be accomplished this year than last. The boys went on an street-cleaning and worked just the same. Cooperation with a good will was shown by all.

At three o'clock an assembly was given sponsored by the girls who did the work. It was added by recent statistics that he admired the spirit of fine work and cooperation taken by all.

Fifteen cheers were given for "the team."

Miss Chase then broke the glad news by saying that ice cream would be served after assembly. Miss Chase stated that the ice cream, ice cream and a trip to the Point Concepcion lighthouse, would be given in their honor. The Senior class met that brain and brawn, the cooperator, Kae Mayhall, Bello Tomasini, Dorothy Husc, Dorothy Persons, Miss Chase, and Mrs. Gill at Porterville, Mrs. Gill, who has been playing tennis all through the season. The Senior class also made the Senior class. The Senior class included the entire football team, the Senior class, the Senior class, and the Senior class. The Senior class proved that they will come to the bears at the end of the game. The Senior class proved that they are the stars of the Senior class. The Senior class proved that they are the stars of the Senior class. The Senior class proved that they are the stars of the Senior class. The Senior class proved that they are the stars of the Senior class.

A speech was given by Mr. Agosti. Mr. Agosti read the names of the Senior class and gave them the Senior class. Mr. Agosti gave a story of how he had been an interesting trip from San Simeon to Monterey. Mr. Agosti gave a story of how he had been an interesting trip from San Simeon to Monterey. Dorm Doings

Virgil Wimmer returned Sunday from a business visit with his brother at Concepcion, near Santa Barbara. There he enjoyed a quail hunt, and a trip to the Point Concepcion lighthouse. The dormitory football team is making great headway. Under the able leadership of its captain and quarterback, they are developing an eleven that is sure to do credit to the football spirit of the dormitory. They were playing the dormitory football team. This team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing. The team is known for its playing.

Mr. Agosti read the names of the Senior class and handed them the Senior class. It was stated that cooperation was brought out by the community work of the Colonial days and a number of successes were named that were used on the same idea.

As was stated, the assembly would stop at 3 o'clock and an assembly would be held on Labor Day. The assembly was held on Labor Day. The assembly was held on Labor Day. The assembly was held on Labor Day. The assembly was held on Labor Day.

Mr. Peterson gave a story of his trip back east last summer. He said that California had all places beat for agriculture. The Grand Canyon interested him more than anything else. He experimented to be continued at the next assembly.

ASSEMBLY OCTOBER 31

Mr. Riccardi opened the assembly. A Freshman meeting, a meeting of the Amapola Club and an assembly were announced.

Mr. Riccardi then brought up the subject of the report. He stated that those who were unsatisfactory grades, caused by lack of work on the part of the students and some caused by unsatisfactory cooperation, would be used. The opportunities were offered by a vocational school. He also stated that students receiving one or two in effect, even with lower grades in accomplishment, would not be sent out, but given a chance at another vocational or to receive some individual attention.

Mr. Riccardi announced the school calendar. On Thanksgiving school will be closed on noon November 29 and will be opened on the following Monday. The Christmas vacation will begin December 11, ending January 2.

Burt Harris led the student body in the sky-rocket and C. F. T. Harold Truneful led his experiences on an interesting trip from Santa Ynez to Monterey last summer via the hiking route along the proposed highway.

Announcements have been received in the area of the arrivals of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Gill at Porterville. Mrs. Gill, who will be remembered as Laura Phillips, was a member of the class of 1922 and was Poly's editor during her senior year. Carl Gill was a member of the Gill class and was president of his group.

Is Poly's Best Asset

San Jose Teachers

Poly's Victims, 14-0

Poly's football squad proved their mettle last Saturday when they defeated Stanford's College 14-0. Capt. Pettit played the regular old hard fighting game. He went through the line on defense; he was in full 5 yards behind San Jose's line. Rieh, at tackle, played his regular old hard fighting game. His kick off was down 50 yards and over them. The backfield could always depend on finding "a-hole" at Black's place.

McCreary went in in the first quarter and played a good game all the way through. Johnnie Carroll was at his regular position at end and he played his regular game. Johnnie bellows for his men.

Pettit played a good game while he was in. He played the first half. A new place has been found for H. Pettit. He played until Pettit for Flugger the second half and he certainly did the job justice.

Harris went in for a short while at the end of the game. All in all it was the best game of the season so far. San Jose has a pretty team and they are check-full of fight. The teams were about evenly matched as to weight.

San Jose came close to scoring once.

Let's hope that some day Poly will win the honor of torturing San Francisco team as nice as they did us. There was someone attending our boys at the Poly game. If the boys wanted anything they needed to do was ask for it. They certainly treated the like gentlemen and left the hope we can return the courtesy sometime.

A number of the Dorm boys are indisposed as a result of the strenuous trip to Palo Alto last week-end. Harvey Smith has been confined to the dormitory by illness for several days.

Strange and curious sounds were heard issuing from one of the upper rooms the other evening. In great consternation we rushed to the scene of action, but found it was only Pfeiffer and McAlon having another verbal combat.

The "eleven o'clock kids," Ernest, Walter, and Rudolph, have been having many interesting adventures in and about the city of San Jose. Lack of space prevents us from going into detail, but they will be glad to narrate their experiences to anyone interested.

Mrs. Word: "I wish you wouldn't stand on the steps so long with that young man when he brings you home.

Margaret: "Why, I only stood there for a second last night!"

Mrs. Word: "Is that all? I really thought I heard a third and fourth."
Why Poly Students Should Trade With Merchants Who Advertise in the Polygram

When a football team supports school traditions, it naturally expects return support from the school. When the United States Army supports the honor of this country in battle it naturally expects return support from the people of this country. When a horse supports a man's needs by working all day, he expects support in the form of good care in return. So when the merchants of San Luis Obispo support the "Polygram" through advertisements, they naturally expect trade support in return.

The football team receives its "student" support. The Army receives its "patriotism" support. The merchant expects return support from the school. When a school expects support, it naturally expects return support from the people of this country.

CHANGES MADE IN POLYGRAM STAFF

You will notice in this issue that new members have been added to the staff or have taken the place of some other. The students released from the staff are credited for their good work, but other duties are taking up their time.

The new athletic editor is Leslie Oldham, taking the place of Walter Lusby. The former has taken keen interest in school activities and feels confident that he can hold down his responsible position.

Allan Mori, who has been a very faithful business manager, resigned his position because of too much other duties to look after. George Crowell has taken over the responsibility and will carry on the work which Mori started. His assistant has not been chosen.

Any fast writer who has been added to the staff—none other than Ernest Pachett. His duties are to write up all athletic trips, etc., and we are confident that his column will be of interest to everybody.

RALLY OCTOBER 25

The rally of October 25 to give the teams a send-off for their San Jose Teachers College game was held on the lawn in front of the Administration Building, disregarding the keep-off-the-grass signs.

Burt Harris had charged and fourteen rousing cheers were given for the team.

Various members of the team gave their versions of playing their respective positions on the team and were greeted with much applause.

The coach said he thought the Poly team would put it over on the San Jose bunch.

Prossert Reed showed that he was a 100 per cent Frosh—bashful and flustered.

Crowell declared that San Jose brought back plans to play and that the more could be obtained at the conclusion.

THE GO-GETTERS

Everything comes to him who waits. But here is something slicker:
The man who goes after what he wants.
Gets it a darn sight quicker.

"Why, this room reminds me of a prison."

"Well, sir, it's all a matter of what one is used to."

Lumley (in Chemistry): "What did you do in lab today?"

Wold: "I experimented on hydrachic acid.

Wold: "Two holes in my pants and a headache."

"Fred, that fellow was a prohibition agent/*

Lumley (in Chemistry): "What
did you do in lab today?"

Wold: "I experimented on hydra-
chic acid.

Lumley: "What results did you get?"

Wold: "Two holes in my pants and a
headache."

"He: "For the last hour I've been watching for a chance to steal a kiss from you."

"She: "Indeed? Perhaps I had better look around to see if one of my brother's cousins is about."

"He: "Why, what do you mean?"

"She: "He's an adventuress, you know."

"He is interesting!"

"She: "No! All he does is sit at the end of a sofa and talk."

IN ELECTRIC SHOP

Senior: "Hey, young fellow, don't stand on that bare wire; you're liable to get a shock."

Freskman: "Oh, that's all right; I wear rubber heels that absorb the shocks."

"We should bepure this joke"

"What is the load-factor of your ohms?"

"About 7 per cent, but it doesn't bother me."

"Miss Mayhall," said Mr. Davis,
"you are a very handsome young woman."

"Oh," said Miss Mayhall, blushing.

"You dress neatly and you have a well-modulated voice; I might add that your department is above reproach."

"You shouldn't pay me so many compliments."

"Oh, that's all right," said Mr.
Davis; "I merely want to put you In a cheerful frame of mind before tak­ing up the matter of your punctuation and spelling."

The way to keep a baby quiet is to give it something to make a noise with.

Anna: "That war on your head must be very annoying."

Robert: "Oh, next to nothing, next to nothing."

Mr. O'Donnel (in U. S. History):
"Thomas Jefferson rode up to the White House on his mule and tied his horses to the fence."

Mr. Cunningham: "Late again.
Wimmer."

Wimmer: "You said you didn't like students who watched the clock."

Dorothy H. was visiting her aunt in the country. It was the joy of her life to hunt eggs in the barn. One day she brought in a very small one, presumably laid by a bantam.

"Ayott," said Dorothy showing It.
"The hen that laid that egg didn't have the right recipe."
The line-up against the Stanford Freshmen on November 5 was as follows: Young, center; Hodges, guard; Langenbach, guard; Reich, tackle; Morrison, tackle; Carroll, end; H. Patchett, end; R. Patchett, quarter; Lamley, full; Ewell and Hardy, halves.

Our boys went into that game with the determination to put up their best fight, and they did. They showed good grit and passed the test all the way through the game.

Taking into consideration the scores the Stanford Freshmen have made against some of the other teams, Poly did well. It is an honor to have held them off. It seemed as if when one man got up a sweat they put some one else in his place.

During the second quarter Poly gave them a scare that made the roosters yell "Hold that line." Poly received a punt and ran the ball back to the 50-yard line. By good hard linemen Poly ran the ball down to Stanford's 10-yard line. Stanford then began to work together again and Poly lost the ball on Stanford's 10-yard line.

The new men who went in during the third quarter for Poly were McChesney, Harris, McMahon, Moreno, Westan and Pugger. They were all of them in only a short time but they put up a good scrap while they were there.

In the last quarter Lamley sprained his ankle and had to be taken out. He was replaced by Reed. Reed finished out the game and he played exceptionally good football. He intercepted a pass just before the whistle blew and it looked for a minute as if he would get away for a touchdown.

Now let's just say a few words for Stanford's hospitality. They made all of the boys feel welcome and at home. They also extended their welcome to us in the future and surely we all appreciate it.

While at Stanford the boys had the opportunity of seeing the Stanford varsity play the Olympic Club. This game ended in a score of 40 to 7 in favor of Stanford.

From Exchanges

The students in dramatics at Fresno High have organized a Dramatics Club, according to the "High Times," the school paper. The purpose of the club is to produce plays for the school children of Fresno in the high school auditorium Saturday afternoons.

According to the "Manuscript," school papers across the country, "If the Kansas City, Mo., a conference for high school newspapers will be held at the University of Kansas on November 16 and 17. These conferences have been conducted by the journalism school for the last five years.

Sacramento High held a tag day which proved very successful. It showed that the school was not lacking in spirit and some registrations sold out at 100 per cent. The total sum taken in was $172.40.

Students of the French Club, an organization at Santa Maria High, are competing for a prize which will be offered at the end of the year for the best French program presented. The club has been divided into two social departments and it is hoped that this plan will develop competition and create and sustain the interest of the members.

Members of the Dramatics Club of San Mateo Junior College have decided to produce "A Successful Calamity" for presentation for the first part of this month. It is a comedy in two acts from a script and guaranteed to be full of action.

"That was a tip-top dinner, waiter. You know what that means?" "Yes, sah. It's one that you top off with a tip."

Miss Chase (in history): "What can you tell about the Caucasian and Egyptian races?"

Carlos B.: "I didn't go. I went to the automobile races instead."
