SCANDAL!

The next issue of the Polygram will be the "Raspberry Edition." If you know your Poly, follow our hints on any peculiarity of some one of our student body, be sure and write it up. If you only have a small idea but a large imagination, let your conscience be your guide. The only thing we ask is that you have your write-ups in by January 21 and the article must be written on both sides of the paper. Put all articles in the box just outside Room 6, or hand to the editor.

Senior Meeting

A meeting of the Senior Class was held in Mr. Knott's room Tuesday, Jan. 16, by President Oldham for the purpose of discussing subjects of general interest. Some of the matters considered were class rings, class cards, and the selection of class mottos, a class flower, and a class tree. The chair appointed two committees, one to consider the possibility of inter-class basketball, and the other to select the motto, flower, and tree. Those being on further business, the meeting adjourned.

Burton Cranford to Davis

Burton Cranford, son of Dr. and Mrs. Cranford, returned to Davis last Sunday to resume his studies. Burton Cranford, who was on leave of absence since the holidays, and accompanied by a group of delegates selected to introduce Davis to the Western Students Council, was very favorably impressed by the student council. He became very popular in a very short time here, and everyone regretted to see him leave.

New Students

Among the new Poly students, the student body is the following. Percy Hayford, from San Luis Obispo, is a new Poly student, Vernon Gill, last week enrolled at Oceano, who is now living at Pismo, is back again and will specialize in mechanical drafting.

Mr. Matisse Preston from Santa Barbara, is the first Poly student that has been enrolled in the student council. Robert Aschenbach, who has long been a familiar figure on the campus, turned after a semester's absence to finish his mechanical typing course. Frank Crandall, of Davis, has enrolled as an Agriculture student and will attend the school next fall when accompanying his brother, Burton, who was an Agricultural student at the University and has decided to become a Polyte.

Another Co-ed

Miss Alta Greens, a well known San Luis Obispo girl, is taking a post graduate course at Poly.

NEW YEAR

This is the beginning of a new year. Perhaps a year is not much, considering the years that are past and the years that are to come but in each one of us a year can mean a great deal. Probably we have not had much to do what we pass on of the years hereafter and the mark we may make on the years to come may not seem much in comparison with other marks and records of years. Time may not seem long for what little we do.

It is unnecessary for us to worry about the things going to or our accomplishments few provided we do our best and use most of the time we give. What if everyone does not seem to pass you by? Someone must be last and that is no dishonor providing you have not lain down on the job. New Year is a time chosen to make resolutions governing our actions throughout the coming year. The idea is all right, but let every day be a New Year's day in this way.

It is not really necessary to make a resolution. Just say to yourself, "I will." If you mean it of your life you will. It is not a question of trying or of breaking resolutions why make them. If you have a habit that is bad of break it or you have not a habit you wish to acquire why prohibit to the world that you freely resolve to do or not to do this, that, and the other thing. Does not this seem as though you were admitting a weakness? That you doubt if you can succeed in doing this resolution, or not, that you fear you will break.

New Year resolutions you even think there is a possibility of your breaking them. If you have a habit that is bad of break it or you have not a habit you wish to acquire why prohibit to the world that you freely resolve to do or not to do this, that, and the other thing. Does not this seem as though you were admitting a weakness? That you doubt if you can succeed in doing this resolution, or not, that you fear you will break.

Why not step forward and say, "I will." You are doing yourself an injustice of harm though you may not realize it at the time. Time to avoid this crime of breaking resolutions why make them. If you have a habit that is bad of break it or you have not a habit you wish to acquire why prohibit to the world that you freely resolve to do or not to do this, that, and the other thing. Does not this seem as though you were admitting a weakness? That you doubt if you can succeed in doing this resolution, or not, that you fear you will break.

"Like a child entering a dark room who declares he is not afraid to go in and becomes angry if told he is afraid but when he really begins to be less hesitant as he nears the door. Why does he not express it as he tell you as to entering the door say, "I will," and thereby doubt prove his courage?" The child has not the reasoning powers of his mind developed but for us there is no such excuse.

Do not make each step an hour (if possible and say to yourself, "I will."). If you mean it of your life you will. It is not a question of trying or of breaking resolutions why make them. If you have a habit that is bad of break it or you have not a habit you wish to acquire why prohibit to the world that you freely resolve to do or not to do this, that, and the other thing. Does not this seem as though you were admitting a weakness? That you doubt if you can succeed in doing this resolution, or not, that you fear you will break.

POLY CHATTER

Bill Roper has been writing letters on pink and blue stationery. Also writing letters and has a far-away look in her eyes. Pay has been using her stamped envelopes to write to someone else.

Ruth Smith borrowed Albert Call's car to take Jack Hallock for riding. Albert is such a trusting boy, but then love is blind as Jucily is.

Prescott Reed and Ribel and Herbert Skick and KenW were standing ahead of the front of the church Sunday night. McKew and his partner came inside.

Arthur Call is such a charming looking youngster. It is too bad that he is not a model boy in church. Arthur is also a good handball player.

Red Patterson goes automobile riding every day. While in France. It is too bad that he is not a model boy in church also.

"It is the atyle around Poly now to wear a sheepskin coat, no hat and take hand to get out of drill. With uniform regulations and a military drill, why is it there seems to be no regulations? Sweaters, coats and caps are the deviations from the regular O. D. uniform. We heat no much about "in the good old days. Let's see them back again." Jack Haas went out for basketball the night after he started school. It was also noticed that he carried a physics book around the next day.

Mr. Agostil has a new car. That is fine. He can now haul the team from place to place for athletic engagements. We all like the color uncme, only the car is a trifle too dark.

Heavy spends all of his time in darting from the girls to the girls in classes. It is all right if when Mr. Williams comes back he does not get jealous.

Chester told us in assembly what the reason is why Walter left Monterey. He could not stand it to stay at home. There is something wrong with Fred Louis. In the surveying class he has not been asking enough questions. Mr. Knott had time enough one period to ask two questions.

Some people say that they will not wear the class emblem of their own classes, but emblems of former years may be seen about the persons of those who have kicked.

The class of '35 has always been the champion in rifle shooting. The class of '34 doesn't seem to do much except to point out the honors from this class. Has class spirit died?

Poly Cagers Win Game

The Poly basketball team started their 1939 season off right by winning the first game of the season over the experienced San Luis Athletic Club quintet. The score, 28 to 26, it indicates that the game was hard fought and close. It was hot and flu

Interclass Basketball

There has been discussions at the Senior Class meeting and around the campus as to the possibilities of an inter-class basketball schedule of some sort. The writer sees no reason why a satisfactory schedule could not be arranged and played out. It will, I feel, start a little school spirit which seems to be lacking now. At the same time, it will ruffle up a little exciting class competition. Although the boys' basketball season is not in condition, due to the fact that one of the goal posts was blown down, the girls' court could be used. If these games can be arranged, we will see some hot competition.

While we are on the subject of interclass athletics, track and field competitions would not be out of order since they provide the hottest and most exciting inter-class competition of the year. The rivalry is keen and the events are looked forward to months ahead of time with premeditated dope being aired throughout the campus. The leather trophy presented to the winning class, in possession of the present Senior Class, will surely give them competition a higher pitch than ever before. It seems that in the past at Poly, the interclass track and field games are held towards the beginning of the season rather than at the opening of the season, like it is arranged at other schools and colleges. This year we hope to have the real honest to goodness inter-class track and field meet at the proper time of the year. The different classes should take the subject of inter-class basketball up immediately and start things rolling.
