Students Test Dairy Herds

The students at the University of San Luis Obispo, after President Hilt, have been doing some real testing of dairy herds in the vicinity of San Luis Obispo.

In the employment of the San Luis Obispo County Cow Test Association they are handling fourteen herds, ranging from twenty to fifty head each, and are testing them regularly about a month. The test is for the butter-fat production of each cow, on the basis of which the owner is paid. The work of the Poly students has been very satisfactory, and the department, and several have been heard to make very favorable comments concerning them.

Hydraulic Class Goes Riding

Mr. Kent took his Hydraulic Class around town in his car last Monday morning to inspect the Poly water system. They visited the several main lines of Poly, as well as the reservoir north of the town. When a flow is supplied with water, it distributes itself through all the branches throughout the state. —

The Ags, remembering their defeat by the Ags, were still not satisfied by the scores of 24-15. The Ags vs. Atascadero game ended with the score of Poly 31, Atascadero 24.

New Students

A number of new students have been enrolled in the Poly Technic School since the beginning of the new semester, and most of them have already become familiar figures about the campus, it might be well to give their names a little publication.

We have three new co-eds: Charlotte Wilton, of San Luis Obispo; Lila Wilson, of San Luis Obispo, and Evelyn Christiansen, of Arroyo Grande.

The new boys are: Carroll Watson, of San Luis Obispo; Ralph Watson, of Los Angeles; Byron Barnes, of Long Beach; Francis Munford, of Tucumcari; and Roy Rosenberg, of San Luis Obispo, is a Freshman student.

To Attend Auto Show

Mr. Strobel, the Auto Shop instructor, and several of his pupils, devoted an entire Saturday afternoon to visiting the Jimmie, left Tuesday night for San Francisco, and was going to make a return to the Coast Auto Show. They expect to return Wednesday night.

Party at Dr. Wilder's

Several of the Electrical students spent a very enjoyable evening at Dr. and Mrs. Wilder's residence on Los Osos Road last Friday evening. Dr. Wilder provided a very interesting entertainment by showing magic lantern slides from photographs taken during his travels in Europe, after which refreshments were served.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Strobel, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Findley, Mr. and Mrs. Hilt, Mr. and Mrs. Oldham, and Mr. and Mrs. Cramblit.

Jimmie

Jimmie was a very bad little boy. He displayed his mother in one way or another for the swimming pool situated right back of the Poly. He was seen more and more frequently subroutine the water by swimming pool, and was finally carried out of the pool, and Jimmie was carried to the hospital by Mrs. Wilder.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

School spirit or patriotism, whichever word you may prefer, is the backbone of your school life and determines not only your school's rating but yours also. When you come right down to it, what is the difference between school spirit and patriotism except, the general use of the words themselves? Patriotism, Webster tells us, is "love of one's country." What is school spirit but the gauge of love of one's school? These two words are one and the same and should be looked upon as such. Though our country and state come first let us not forget the school.

It should be our pride to uphold these institutions to the limit, as ability no matter what appears to be wrong with either. Before the United States entered the World War, there were many people who believed the worst thing this country could do was to go to war. We were not to go to war. When we finally did go, did the truly patriotic people realize that this was annulling all of their words?...When a man is called for the army, does this of former belief of his? If he did not, but put forth his energy because of his duty then why should we, as a country, no matter if it seems unwise to you, do our best for our country at the war?...Question the action, if you wish, but after it is over whether in the cause, get in and help put over what the major's desire. Give Polus your support, fellow, it won't cost you a cent but it will mean something if the people's feeling of satisfaction you will enjoy after it is all over will be a reward for the effort you have put forth.

We all had a good share of slackers during the last war and to mistake a fellow by the closest forms of humanity. Slackers flourish thicker in time of peace than in time of war because this very public sentiment is not aroused against them until the very last minute. Their parents were practically all in favor of them before the war, it should be. It is necessary to destroy the slander of the lazy, as we must destroy any facts. We must destroy this slander of the workers.

The ball-ovett skill in life is merely a habit, and so it must be destroyed, while the slacker is purely the frame of mind of a few of us. To get out of the army is not necessary to destroy the slander as it is not a habit, but set us all on examining ourselves carefully and if it is true to the slacker, to bring them in our duty, eradicate it completely.

Poly appears to have her share of these slackers this year and it is our duty, not to cast these fellows out but to exhaust their brains and help correct them.

If our patriotism is nowhere steeped in teaching and so it must be destroyed, while the slacker is purely the frame of mind of a few of us. To get out of the army is not necessary to destroy the slander as it is not a habit, but set us all on examining ourselves carefully and if it is true to the slacker, to bring them in our duty, eradicate it completely.

POLY CHATTER

Have you noticed how straight the stake are out in the olive orchard? Of course, more grain can be planted in a crooked row.

Since Miss Wilson has been taking poultry at Poly the course has become exceedingly popular. John Ives spends most of his time explaining incubators to his interested juniors.

Some say that there is lot of energy in Iona Pulwider. There ought to be, he never uses week-end for anything but to show them their mistakes and help correct them.

More boys are leaving all of the time, also more girls are coming. Soon Poly will be a genuine co-educational school.

As spring approaches the thoughts of young people turn to love. That is all right, but some of them must remember their studies.

Allen Stafford could not be initiated into the Block "F" club. Now he is being initiated into a greater club.

Prescott spends more time studying now than he was wont to do of yore. We wish Prescott lots of success.

The Dormitory boys now spend their evenings gathering on the gentle slopes of the Poly hills in pursuit of will-o'-wisps.

If Varian would spend more evenings at Poly instead of Ocean he would be better off.

The interclass track season has opened. Pfieffer is training hard. Give a week he runs around the track.

Our well-known Skylark goes out regularly for track. He does this to gain weight as a pound of flesh is worth a great many ducats.

Avery Clements went south and spent the most of his time explaining incubators. They wear their leather puttees all the time, anyway.

Lomay could not stay away from the Poly hills in pursuit of will-o'-wisps. O'Grady well-known Shuckle goes out regularly for track. He does this to gain weight as a pound of flesh is worth a great many ducats.

The Dormitory phone is always out of order between six-thirty and seven-thirty. The boys line up to use the phone and while they are changing Mary uses it.

The students of the English class are greatly disappointed in the public speaking class. Here we have a perfectly good class on the subject, but instead four fortunes from the English class had to arise and discuss their ignorance before a class so learned in the subject. We trust this will not happen again.

No Hero After All

He risked his life to rescue the fair maid from a watery grave, and of course, her father was duly pleased.

"Young man," he said, "I can never thank you sufficiently for your heroical act. You whatever you replied the amiable lady-say, "I am already married."

Belle: "Why does Langemack refer to you as his baby girl?"

Rosalind: "Because I keep him up late at night."
Taylor: "I see that there are quite a number of San Francisco boys on campus.
Miller: "Yes, I know, but our greatest trouble is ground squirrels."

The Lost Time
"Why don't you attend church?"
"I'm not going to attend church.
"Well, you'll tell me, sir. The first time I went to church they poured water in my face, the second time they told me he woman I've had to keep away since.

BROUGH HAHLES
Yours truly Trojans' faces
That launches a thousand ships
Yours to Venus slender grace—
No Cheops't pyramid.

Yours to unnumbered fires of youth,
Yours to golden trees.
And I shall herself you will have the truth,
Don't you know I shivered.

Margaret: "Are you an athlete?"
Anselmo: "No; I'm a Swede."

Jack: "How does my hair look?"
Bobbie: "Fine; but there's a crease down the middle."

Bobbie: "That all will remain of me a lucky road."
Dolly: "How's that?"

Dolly: "She needs a sniggle."
Perry had depressed ainkle in the my opinion.

Central: "Number please."
"Number be darned, give me your name."

Flanagan (after his first ablaze): "How much will hat he?"
Barber: "One dollar and a half."
Flanagan: "How's that?"
Dollie: "I had to hunt for them."

Irwin takes a tough night: "Where are you going with that apple?"
Flannery Sullivan enters suddenly. "You boys bade, I'm just going in a billiard taxi.

Herb: "Didn't I see you going down the street with an apple in your hand?"
Bobbie: "This time not, you sissy; just pleasuring myself."

Bobbie: "We can't go on a daughter's account."
Dolly: "Are mine the only lips, you dainty."

Dolly: "Yes, dear; and they are for you alone."
Dorothy H.: "Did this affair with Twelfth come to a climax."

Bobbie: "Well, enough would be a better word."

Bulfinch: "Pardon me, may I have this dance?"
Margaret: "No; I'm too danced out."

Bulfinch: "Oh, I don't think so; you stand—just pleasantly plump."

I'm dreaming of my first love, Through day and night I remember The loss who was my first love, In an unnumbered November. I'm longing for my first love, With the magic of desire And the soul of me is burning With a breath of flaming fire. I'm yearning for my first love, She was the one that was dear to me Though she got the best that I possess And now she's through with me—California."

Watson: "Are you afraid when you are alone in the dark?"
Belle: "I've never had the experience."

Earl: "Did Margaret blush when she should have looked rough?"
Albert: "I didn't notice."

Absent-minded Professor (who is walking with one foot on the curb): "Beau, I don't know I didn't knew when I left home."
Miss Chase: "Are you sure this thing is original?"
La Verne: "Well, you may find a few of the words in the dictionary."

Walter: "Will you have some pie?"
Walter: "No; just pumpkin."
I offer a drug at the punch: "Will we sit this out?"
She: "No; let's walk it off."

Lumley: "Is there anything in the old stable of an ass degluing himself to a brum's end?"
Potter: "Yes, but your sheepskin will do just as well."

Lumley: "What's the difference between netting and cooking?"
Dorothy P.: "I don't know, I don't cook."

Dr. Cranfield: "I hear that Reynolds was held up on the way home last night."
Oldham: "Yes, that's the only way he would have got here."

Judge: "Are you guilty of this horrible crime?"
Law: "I'll have to hear the evidence first."

Young: "I understand that your lawyer intends to kill me off the porch the next time I come down."
Jack: "Oh, don't mind that; father's putting in."

Jack: "I'm going to kiss you."
Dolly: "Do you want me to cry for help?"
Jack: "No thanks, I can manage it myself."

Supping the Demand
"I believe in supplying people with what they want, said the retail business man."
"That's right," agreed the chronic borrower. "You don't—er—happen to have a spare ten-spot about you, do you?"

Jean: "Will you give me your father's address?"
Dolly: "Yes, if you won't give him mine."

Hard to Bear
She: "My husband certainly does enjoy smoking in his den. Has your husband a den?"
Other She: "No, he grows all over the house."

Short But Long
She: "George, why don't you propose?"
Other She: "You're more a substitute than a substitute."
He: "You can't bring myself to do it. Mabel."
She: "It's only a short sentence."
George: "No; it's a life sentence."

Basketball Season Closed

Our basketball season closed several weeks ago. We did not play all of our schedule as previously planned, because of the illnesses of two of our best players, Walter Lumlery and Morris White. Considering our facilities and the amount of practice the boys received, Poly’s basketball team was successful. Our team cleaned up on all its opponents in the Central Coast League. Only the State Teachers Colleges presented us with a challenge. The reason is apparent when one learns of the much greater amount of practice and experience these teams have under their own roof. Each one has a regular gymnasium of its own in which to practice. Because of this they are able to practice all the year round and have more time to practice during the season while ours. While our boys are out for football and track, some of our opponents are practising shooting baskets. And then they usually have four years of high school experience behind them. It is no wonder the State Teachers Colleges present such stiff competition. But it is just this competition that makes better teams. No doubt since Poly’s entrance into the conference all her athletic teams were the better for it. The athletes themselves are all the better for it too. When it is easy to win with little effort a sport loses one of its greatest attractions. Of course this does not mean that it is not good to win. When an athlete gives all he has and fights hard to win, that win gives him the feeling of satisfaction.

Basketball Season On

Our track season has opened and is getting into full swing. New track and field equipment is here and the Freshman with the help of a few upper classmen have put the track and jumping pits in pretty good shape. A good many have joined the scullery crew and are out to bring home honors to their class. The interclass track meet is easily arranged in this meet by the various classes is very great. The track will be run in competition throughout. The dope is simply in favor of the seniors to win this meet. But you never can tell. The seniors have elected Walter Lumlery as their track captain, the Juniors have chosen Hill Tantil, the Sophomores picked Pete Trainer, and the Freshmen voted for Frank Watson to lead them. We will see what we will see March 24th. This event will add more points towards the silver loving cup, which will be presented to the interclass athletic champions, than any other sport.

When this meet is over a number of fellows will not come out any longer, for perhaps no real reason at all. And then there are some who will not even come out to uphold their class’s honor. What Poly’s track means is more of the old Poly spirit that shows more often than not, thinking more like the one who counts on for the rest of us than the other. We know that he has no chance to win a better because of his physique.

Interclass Basketball

The valiant Sophomores emerged as champions in interclass basketball, largely a product of the enthusiasm shown off, on the girls’ basketball court. The game was decided by a close margin between the Seniors and Juniors. The Sophomores showed the greater determination in this game, and were on top throughout. Both teams were confident of winning themselves. Finally when the last whistle blew the Seniors were 2 points ahead, 11 to 9. Then the Sophomores and Freshmen drove the Juniors to a greater amusement to the spectators than any that they have been. The closest of any of the games, too. The Freshmen were not at all sure of themselves, but the Sophomores and Juniors determined to whet the interests of all. This was the best played game of all. The Sophomores showed their stuff by downing the Juniors in April to 4 score.

Interclass Handball

The Sophomores emerged as victors again. This time they grabbed of the interclass handball championship. The Sophomore team defeated the girls in a game that was much loved by all. The following handball schedule were played:
